The loss York Democracy is so numerous fy hat it cannot seemingly be contained in one organization. From a time out of mind Tammany Hall has aled the Democratic roost. Naturally its power is corrupt. Then it was overarown and younger organizations con-colled the party for a brief time. But Tammany, purified, has arisen to its necient power and is the prevailing Democratic organization in the city. But It does not prevail with Mayor Hewitt, The men who control it are clean and orable; but the mayor does not like to be controlled. Doubtless its leaders found it more comfortable to keep clear of the lively and irrascible mayor, who was as secretain in his striking out as a Ken-sky mule. But he has the faculty of always striking straight, and hitting the bell every time he shot, so that he has become a prime favorite with the New York m, who laugh when he tramps on the toes of the big political boss and dances upon the prostrate forms of milignant editors. He is apparently ng enough to be elected mayor again his record. He may have the aid to himself; and Tammany Hall is wise if it will give it to him. The Indian Bargalu. If we do not manage to buy those Inlan lands very toon there will be more is in driving a bargain, for the seches of the chiefs at the conference win session show that they are learnhow to get the most for what they all. Poor Lo's untutored soul has naped the value of the mighty dollar, at he wants to know why he cannot his land as the Great Father at Washon sells it, for $1.25 an acre. He obats now to a treaty that only gives him conts an acre, though even that price an enormous sum total. s very well that he can not hold his acts of fertile land, and even his notions of justice can hardly tion the propriety of an arrange-that gives each Indian several acres to hunt over when thousof white people want a few to cultivate. He knows that must sell, and that within years, because the railroads are wonderful vigor, but he also knows at the United States must buy and that and an avoidance of wars The rising generation strongly repre-sented in the Indian training schools has learned these things as thoroughy as anything else, and we will be asked to pay more for the lands with every postpone-ment of settlement that may be made. Chief Grass seems to have voiced the general sentiment when he said that he believed that this was the last treaty, and he wanted to make as much money out of it as possible.

As to the effect of the treaty and the granting of lands in severalty upon the Indians themselves there is room for grave doubt. It may prove very difficult to drive the savages to abandon the old system of tribal ownership and to make a living from the land, but the experiment seems worth trying, and in any case it cannot be much worse failure than many other attempts to civilize the Time to Retire. We fear that Judge Kelley has survived his usefulness as a representative. It is no reproach to him that the inevitable weakness of old age has come upon him; but he knows that there is a day when men are no longer able to be public servants. Congress has fixed an age of retirement for the officers of the army and navy, and congressmen might be expected to think that there was an age at which they themselves had better retire. Judge Kelley has served efficiently for fourteen terms, but can hardly be very useful in a fifteenth. We pote that the investigation which he caused to be made in the conduct of Congressman Stahlnecker, as chairman of the library committee, has not only resulted in the vindication of that gentleman, but has shown that there was no fair cause for accusing him. We note again that when Judge Kelley was nominated in Philadelphia for Congress he caused the announcement to be made from the clerk's desk, which was a mark

MR RANDALL has been unanimously enominated for Congress, and will probably continue to be the only Democratic representative from Philadelphia, with whose protective sentiment he is in sympathy. No one will question that in his rejuctance to yield to the measure of tariff reduction which his Democratic colleagues in Congress demanded, Mr. Randall honestly represented his immediate constituents, and that is generally the representative's duty.

ALBERT P. BEND has been appointed postmaster at Cordells, this county.

BELVA ANN LOCKWOOD has been married twice, is a graduate of two colleges, and has twice run for the presidency. Hon. James L. Black, of Chambers-burg, who died on Tuesday, was buried on Thursday. He was an associate judge of the district from Dec. 1, 1857, to Dec. 1, 1862, REV. GEO. WOLFF, D. D., of Myerstown, who has served as a minister for for over forty years, was stricken with apoplexy while holding services and is in a critical condition.

ARCHBISHOP IRELAND, of St. Paul, recelved the palliam on Thursday. Bishop Mariy, of Dakots, celebrated pontifical mass, and Bishop Keane, of Richmond, Virginis, preached the sermon. The pallium was conferred by Bishop Grace. THOMAS L. JAMES, ex-postmaster general of the United States, in an interview in London on Thursday, said he believed that in the near future a postal rate of 2 cents on letters and 1 cent on newspapers would be established between Great Britain and Americs.

GENERAL JACOB M. CAMPBELL died in Johnstown on Wednesday, aged 61 years. He was a native of Somerest county, was surveyor general of the state in 1865 and a member of Congress in 1880 and 1882. In 1887 he was chairman of the Republican state convention. During the war he was colonel of the Fifty-fourth Pennsylvania Volunteers.

Dr. H. D. Cooswell, of San Francisco, who gave Boaton a drinking fountsin for her common, is tarrying in Medway, Mass., at present, and called on the mayor of Boston the other day to know why the conditions under which Boston accepted his gift are not lived up to. The doctor also tried to "donate" one of his fountains to Philadelphis, but the authorities dodged the gift. He has now given to San Francisco a polytechnic college, with James G. Keunedy as president of the institution, which has opened with a hundred students of both sexes, and is expected soon to have a hundred more.

Edward Jordan Teils a Good Story. Edward Jordan, solicitor of the United States treasury during the administrations of Abraham Lincoln and Andrew Johnson who, as we have announced, will vote for Cleveland, says: "I have given the tariff aubject great consideration, and have been forced to my present conclusions. I know many other Republicans that feel as I do and will vote as I propose to vote, and I have heard of and know persona'ly a number of manufacturers in New Jersey and New Engiand who are not frightened by the free trade cry and propose to cut loose from their old party. They are in favor of free raw material, and believe it will extend the market for their goods. The people are being educated up to the tariff reform standard. The more they consider the question the less objection they see to the reform. Dresden Table Linen at bargain prices! About as strange as gold dollars at a shave. The wonderfully fine and beautiful Linens that every lady hopes some time to have. There is just one thing that drags this lot of these famous Linens to lower prices-the patterns are a bit large. Maybe you won't think so. Dresden doesn't. Some people do, and we drop twenty-five per cent. rather than argue the question. They would cost you more at the loom side. Tablecloths, with 56, 34, and 36 Napkins to

All the other Table Linens-Irish, Scotch, German. Got where they were made; patterns picked from the choicest.

Here's a German Damask 60 inches wide. Bleached, clean, clear yarn without roughness or bark or knots, and the price 56 cents! Napkins to match, $1.10.

All through Linens we give the same advantages as in Damasks. South Wicker of coutre.

Many of our Blankets are the same from year to year. We know them as well as one friend knows another. The 6-lb, all-wool Blanket we sold last year for $5 we sell this year for $4. It was a famous Blanket at $5; it is sensational at $4. The weight doesn't come from sogginess. Light, fluffy, yet firm and full of body. A big, generous Blanket, wide enough to tuck in and leave you room to turn and roll about.

We hear of $4 Blankets in here and there a store. Carry one in your mind and lay it beside ours. That's enough. There isn't a spark of doubt which Blanket you'll buy.

There's a price shrinkage all through our Blanket stock. We always make sure that prices are right. All your thought can go to size and style. Near Women's Watting Room.
