A POOR RELATION. Demanding both lodging and rations, With boundless permission to drink and

He's one of my wife's poor relations. He hasn't a sign of a toolh in his head, And mumbles whatever he'd utter, From the time of his advent all comfort has

He's thrown the whole place in a flutter He came without even a suit to his back,

But they've given him all he has wanted; There's nothing he ca'ls for the fellow must Yet his qualities loudly are vaunted By the whole of the house except me. He's ar oal, The cause of all our perturbations; Day and night he does nothing but guzzle and loar— This one of my wife's poor relations.

And yet he's already the ruler of all, Though he came but along in the summer; I protest, but am crushed with a force to appall When I growl at this arrogant bum ner.

And, in fact, I'm afraid that the spell is on There come to first fancies negations -And something that's mightly taking I see
And this one of my wife's poor relations.

Contrary to what most every one said, a little more than a year ago, that we would do no business where we are, we are proud that we can say we done more than we expected, and increasing daily. From basement to third floor every inch is occupied with goods that represent bargains, that we have hardly room to turn around. Low prices has been the secret of our success thus far. "Tail Casks from 1 title Acorns Grow." We have planted the acorn. It sprouted, it is growing. With an experience of almost 19 years, and with strict attention to business we mean to develop it, and we see in the not far distant future the neighty oak. It is our aim and purpose to build up a trade second to none. Starting at the bottom of the ladder, we are siming for the top, but only step by step. For want of room in our present quarters we cannot carry some lines of goods that we would like to. Our reputation on Floor Oil Cloth is established. Our Underwear is moving faster than we expected. Our Low Frices are doing it. Our Dress Goods Department is in better shape it has ever, with better value than anything ever sold at the price. Our All-wool Henriett ist 57%c, 40 inches wide, are the best value in the city. All. Wool Cloths, It yards wide, only 5%c. Our price on the best Feathers is lower than you can buy them anywhere else.
