George Relmensnyder, John E. Maione, and John A. The citizens of the town had their houses decorated beautifully. The ladies in this section are deeply interested in this campaign, and they turned out last night by the hundreds to grace the occasion, and Colerain, the banner township of the county, have much to be proud of in their meeting of last night.

MINISTER SACRVILLE TOLD BY THE PRESIDENT TO VACATE BIS OFFICE.

o Gattible Englishmen's Contin Washington no Longer Acceptable-Groungs of the Administration's Action Stated in a Report By Storotary Savard.

By direction of the president the secretary of state on Tuesday informed Lord Saville that, for causes heretofore made known to her majesty's government, his continuance in his present official position in the United States is no longer acceptable to this government, and would consequently be detrimental to the relations between the two countries.

The grounds of this sction on the part of the United States are stated in a report of the secretary of state to the president, dated the 29th instant, which is as follows:

WASHINGTON, October 29, 1884.

TO THE PRESIDENT: The undersigned has the honor to submit for your consideration the following statement with a view to receive your direction thereon:

On the 4th of September last a letter purposting to be written by one Charles S. porting to be written by one Charles S. Murchisco, dated at Pomona. California, was sent from that place to the British minister at this capital, in which the writer solicited at this capital, in which the writer solicited an expression of his views in regard to cer tain upsettled diplomatic questions between the United States and Great Britain, stating at the same time that such an expression was sought by him for the purpose of determining his v te at the approaching presidential election. He stated that he was a naturalized citizen of the United States, of English birth, but that he still considered English d the motheriand, and that this fact led him to seek advice from the British representative in this country. He further stated that the information he sought was not for himself alone, but to enable him to give certain assurances to many other persons in the same situation as himself, for the purpose of influencing and determining their political action as citizens of the United States of English blott but who still reserved their crisisal. birth, but who still regarded their original obligations of allegiance as paramount. The letter also contained gross reflections upon the conduct of this government in respect to questions now in controversy and un-settled between the United States and Great Britain, and both directly and in-directly imputed insincerity in such con-

To this letter the British minister at once replied from Beverly, Mass, under date of the 13th of September last. In this reply he stated that "any political party which openly favored the mother country at the present moment would lose popularity, and that the party in power is fully aware of that fact," sad that in respect to the "questions with Canada, which have been unfortunately reopened since the rejection of the fisheries treaty by the Republican majority in the Senate and by the president's measures must, therefore, be made for the political situation as regards the presidential election." The minister thus gave his assent and senction to the aspersions and im-To this letter the British minister at once sent and sanction to the aspersions and im-

This, under his correspondent's assurance of secrecy, in which the minister con curred by marking his answer "private," he undertook to advise a citizen of the United States to exercise the franchise of presidency and vice presidency of the United States, and through him as the letter suggested, to influence the votes of many others. auffrage in an election close at hand for the

Although ample time and opportunity have been afforded his attention was called personally by the undersigned, yet no such disavowal or modification has been made by him through the channels in which his statements first

The question is thus presented whether it is compatible with the dignity, security and independent sovereignty of the United States to permit the representative of a foreign government in this country not only to prove and engage without disapproved. eive and answer without disapprove and confirm by his repetition, aspersions upon its political action, but also to intertere in its domestic affairs by advising per

Therefore it will not be contended, nor was such contention ever admitted by us, that citizens of the United States of British origin are subject to any claim of the country of their original allegiance.

The undersigned also has the honor to call attention to the provisions of section 5,335 of the revised statutes of the states, by which severe penalties are visited upon the citizen of the United States who, without the authority or permission of this govern-ment, "commences or carries on any verbal ment, "commences or carries on any verbal or written correspondence or intercourse with any foreign government or any officer or agent thereof," either with an intent to influence the action of such government or its agents, in relation to any disputes or controversies with the United States, or with an intent "to delest the measures of the government of the United States."

The undersigned respectfully advises that the attention of the atterney general of the United States be directed to these enactments, in order that an investigation may be made with a view to ascertain present case by the correspondent of the British minister.

By your direction the attention of the British government has in a spirit of comity been called to the conduct of the minister as above described, but without result. It therefore becomes necessary for this govern-ment to consider whether, as the guardian of its own seif-respect and of the integrity of its institutions, it will permit further intercourse to be held through the present intercourse to be held through the present British minister at this capital. It is to be observed that precedents are not wanting as to the question under consideration. It is a settled rule, essential to the maintenance of international intercourse, that a diplomatic representative must be parsona grata to the government to which he is accredited. If by his conduct he renders himself persona non grats, an announcement of the fact may be made to his government. In the present case all the requirements of comity have been duly communicated to her majesty's government, with an expression of the opinion of the government in regard thereto.

Respectfully submitted. T. F. BAYARD.

M. J., has written the following communication to the editor of the Hightstown Independent:

"Why to I vote for Cleveland?"

The above question is frequently saked and I will endeavor to answer through your columns. I approve the president's administration and wish it continued for another term. His foreign policy has been just toward weaker as well as stronger states. There has been no bravado, but American rights have been secured. The civil service, while not faultiess, has been more impartially administered under him than at any time within my memory. His treatment of the sliver question and of the dangerous surplue has been admirable. He has worked far harder at his deak than a common clerk and has impressed me as a man who bas a genius for administration and who does consider office as a "public trust." On three points only has he been seriously criticised even by his opponents. Let us consider thest:

First. His pension vetoce have been greatly denounced, and an effort made to array all soldiers against him on that issue. But soldiers have a greater interest than any others in keeping the pension roll clear of improper and unworthy names, and I have seen no veto that did not appear abundantly justified. Most private pensions are not even read in Congress, but passed by title only, and some great abuses have crept in. One man enlisted, got his bounty and descried before leaving the state, never seeing a day of service; yet the law which Cleveiand vetced would have put him on frauds or impostors on the roll of those who receive the nation's honor and bounty. The dependent pension bill was false in principle and badly drawn. The Grand Army will never urge it in its old form. Cleveland has signed more pensions than any other president, and I doubt not that he will sign all that he believes to be worthy. I hope that he will continue to veto all that are unworthy.

Boond. He has been criticised for loaning money to national banks without interest are unworthy.

Second. He has been criticised for loaning money to national banks without interest instead of reducing the debt by the whole amount of the surplus. But all the bonds due were paid. To have used all the money in the treasury to buy undue bonds would have run the premium on those bonds, already high, to an enermous figure, and he already high, to an enermous ngure, and ne would have been condemned for wasting the people's money in that manner. What he did was best. Some of the surplus was put in banks to avoid a stringency in the money market, and bonds were bought steadily, as fast as they could be had, at reasonable premium, walle Congress was asked to reduce the surplus by lowering taxation.

message more than that it exactly expresses my own sentiments and thus affords an additional reason why I should vote him. But my strongest reason I have reserved But my strongest resson I have reserved for the last. I think the Republican party ought to be defeated. Its present position is politically dishonest. In the West it strives o keep alive the passions of the war : in the East it strives to win by persuading the workingmen that high tariffs are in their workingmen that high tariffs are in their interest and not in those of monopolists and trusta. It lies directly across the track of temperance progress, holding together liquor desiers and temperance men by the bond of common memorits and traditions brought down from wartimes, and thus keeps Prohibition in the background. If it can win on this line we will have just the same battle to fight over again in four years; but if defeated, it will be obliged to one of two things, exchange dead issues for live ones, of which temperance is easily chief, or give way to some other party, as Whigs gave way to Republicans. Either of these courses would clear the ground for asquare fight on temperance, which is just what temperance men want.

These considerations—especially the last—will show friends why I expect to vote local Prohibition ticket, but at the sa time prefer Cleveland to Fisk. 1 helped the Republican party to elect all its presi-dents, and watched its birth in 1854 with intense sympathy, but when it becomes a bindrance to national progress I cannot be controlled by a mere name.

WILLIAM PITTENGER, A FIZZLE AT EPHRATA.

The "Last Republican Rally" at Ephrata Not

Last evening was the time set for the last grand Republican raily at Ephrata and the affair was expected to eclipse anything of the kind held in the upper end. There were not three hundred men in the parade although three times that number was expected. The industrial display was a dismulfailure, it consisted of one wagon with bricklayers and another with two men flailing wheat. The decorations and illuminations by both parties in the town were very by both parties in the town were very

The meeting after the parade was called to order by Martin S. Fry, who introduced W. K. Selizer as president. The latter made a few remarks and then made way for that political hustier A. B. The speaker made a few rambling remarks, becoming more and more mixed up the further he went. He really distressed the sudience, and they were renewed when he stopped. This was Mr. Hassler's second appearance in Ephrata this season. Mart Fry was censured for bringing him there the first time, and he will only get into more trouble for the

LIGHT-WEIGHT TRIPLETS.

FORNY MENTZER, BILLY BROWN AND EDDIE GILBERT MAKE "SPEECHES."

Enlivened by the Prothonotary, Who Knows "Sourands of Democrats Dat Will Wote for Harrison."

For the past week "Butch" Miller, Bob McDonneil, Billy Deen and the other shining lights of the Republican party have been making the most active preparations for holding a parade in the Seventh ward, where they all reside. Last night the affair took place and the clubs that marched were those of the Second, Third, Fourth, Seventh, Eighth and Ninth wards, the Young Republicans and the darkies. The Keystone Watch Factory club, which is the star organization of the party in this city, did not participate, as they intend reserving themselves for York on next Friday. These organizations, headed by the Iroquole band, marched all over the ward, through streets and alleys, and finally stopped at Ed. Delsiey's hotel, at Duke and Middle streets. Here a meeting was organized, and the first speaker was J. W. Brown, a lawyer of vast experience, who told what a failure Grover Cleveland was at the bar. [About that time there were men at Deisley's bar who were great successes.] Following Brown came Edwin Gilbert, another new lawyer. Mr. Gilbert knows little about national politics, as he has confined himself to looking after the interests of Lew Hartman, and getting the office of solicitor at the prison since he made interests of Lew Hartman, and getting his little debut. Everybody knew that he was a poor speaker, but no one had any idea that he would make the miserable failure "NOISE" BREAKS HIM UP.

Everything was quiet when Mr. Gilbert mounted the stend, and he began very timidly. It soon became apparent that he was becoming badly "rattled," and great lumps began to gather in his throat. He began to grow white and his legs weakened. He stopped speaking and told the audience, who were as noiseless as tombstones, to keep quiet. He tried to resume, but said it was no use. The crowd insisted upon keep quiet. He tried to resume, but said it was no use. The crowd insisted upon his going on, but the speaker pleked up his overcoat and said: "It is no use, I won't speak," and left the stand. The crowd could not understand the speaker's strange action, but the truth is that he was too much frightened to speak. This is the first time that Mr. Giltert has faced a Lancaster audience and before he does so again he will take some nerve food. After Gilbert had retired from the platform the managers of the meeting began to look around for another speaker. John W. Menizer was found in the crowd and he did not need a second invitation to make a speech. For some time past the enemies of Mentzer, in his own party, who are speech. For some time past the enemies of Mentzer, in his own party, who are jealous of him, have been making an effort to get him on the stump in Lancaster city n order that the citizens could learn

JOHN GIVES JOHN CREDIT. Last night was the first time an opportunity was afforded and "Butch" Miller succeeded in placing the old rivat of his friend Hartman before the Lancaster people. John spoke for some time, tut unlike Mr. Gilbert he could not be "rattled." He told the old story of his trip to Chicago, and of the many speeches he made this campaign. He predicted the election of Harrison which he said will be largely owing to his efforts in that candidate's behalf. The problemeters graw red in the face as he prothonotary grew red in the face as he yelled "I know sousands of Democrats in lis county dat will wote for Harrison and l feel it in my heart and bones dat he will be elected." The darkies misunderstood the speaker when he said "bones" and thought he said "bones." They all began laughing, but John regarded this as encouragement and spoke until he was compelled to withdraw from sheer exhaustion. At the and as he passed from the stand he was heartily congratulated by the darkies. One of the number promised to give him a chance in some of the debates in the colored church in Faegleyaville the coming winter. During Mentzer's speech a crowd of Hartman Republicans stood some distance away holding their sides with laughter at the efforts of the speaker. One of them said: "Revenge is sweet. We have been trying to get Mentzer, to do this for some trying to get Mentzer to do this for some time past and only succeeded to-night. Hartman should not kick about his defeat

He was only confined to bed for a week. He leaves a wife, a sister, Mrs. Jacob Buch, of Akron, and three brothers, Dr. Gershom Wenger, and Barton Wenger, of Reading, and Eliwenger, of Gap. His funeral will take place on Saturday morning. Rev. Samuel Harley will efficiate, and the interment made at Meizler's cometery.

On Friday last a young man named Hen-ham engaged boarding at Joseph Wolfers-berger's boarding house, on South Prince street. He claimed to be an agent but did not do any work, remaining in the house nearly a!! the time. On Tuesday be exipped out and two chairs belonging to Mr. Wolfensperger were found at a second store where Benham had sold them. The agent also stole a suit of clothes. A description of the this has been furnished to Constable Barnhold, and he is on the look out for him.

She Was Deceived.

It will be remembered that a few weeks ago the marriage of Miss Virginia Knex, of Pittsburg, to the Count Da Montcalleri was celebrated in that city with great eclat. Now European dispatches have a pitiful story of the brutal treatment of the American bride by her Italian busband. They were notified to leave the Hotel Bellevue in Paris because of the disturbance raised by the count's abuse. The counters said she had been thoroughly deceived in her husband. She believed him to be a man of means, but learned too late that he was not only penniless but an inhuman brute. To morrow will be the first day for rabbit shooting and a large number of gunners are making preparations to be in the field at the opening. It is believed that the day after the election will find many out guaning.

Painter Eberlein Suffering From Wounds Received in a Fall in Wrightsville.

Columbia, Oot. 31.—The accident which happened on Toesday morning to Samuel H. Eberlein, of this piace, is of a very serious nature. He was employed by Samuel Morrison, of Wrightsville, and was painting a house at that place. He had almost completed his work and instead of moving his ladder he reached along the side of the house. He lost his balance and fell about fifteen feet, landing on a grape arbor. He struck on his atomach and received very serious internal injuries. He was brought to his home on Locust street where Dr. Lineaweaver is attending him. The exact state of his injuries cannot yet be determined. He is as well as can be expected this morning.

Plamed Knights Come High.

Plumed Kuights Come High. The Republicans of Wrightsvillo had a parade last night which was attended by the Piumed Knights of York. Some series Republicans of town thought it would be a good idea to bring the "Knights" to Columbia and have a parade. After some work the York company agreed to come if their transportation, amounting to come if their transportation, amounting to $20, was paid. This amount was secured, and then the fact of the parade was adver-tised. The builtetin in the $79 window stated that 500 Plumed Knights would be in town, and every person expected to see something wonderful. About 10:30 p. m. the music of a drum corps heralded the approach of the parade down Locust street. When it passed Second and Locust street; there were exactly 50 men in the ; the other 450 failed to not less streets the other 450 failed to put in an appearance.
