COL. JAMES DUFFY DEAD.

ONE OF LANGASTER COUNTYS MOST PROMINENT CITIZENS.

A Native of Marietta Who Rose to a High Pince in he Social and Business Ofreies of the Country-One of the First Farmer to Grow Tobacco Here.

A telephone message received in this city from Marietta at 8 o'clock Thursday evening brought the sorrowini intelligence of the death of Ool. James Duffy at 7:30 p. m at his residence in that town. The cause of his death was a general breaking up of the system. Col. Duffy had been in lil health for six or eight months past. He went some months at Clifton Springs, New York, during the summer and fall, and only came home two weeks ago. Although it was believed by his many friends here that he could not survive long, the announcement of his death was a surprise to all.

1800. His father was a contractor and con-structed coveral turnpikes in this county. James was born in Marietta on September 16:b, 1818. He spent the days of his childhood in that town and attended the schools of the neighborhood, the educational ad-vantages of which were somewhat limited. When a young man Mr. Duffy pro-cured occupation on the Susquehanna river and soon rose to the rank of pilot, He followed the river up to 1846 and during the following year made a visit to Europe, Some time after returning he engaged in the lumber business with James Mehaffy which partnership existed until 1865. In 1861 Mr. Duffy became a member of a firm sugaged in the transportation of government supplies to forts of New Mexico and the West. This enterprise involved a vast amount of money, and over thirty a vast amount of money, and over thirty thousand exen were employed in the work. For seven years he was engaged in that business and then retired baving become quite wealthy. He was the owner of a great deal of property in and about Marietta, and was constantly adding to it. During the remainder of his life he devoted his attention principally to farming, which he car-ried on very extensively. He was one of the first men to engage in the culture of tobacco and grew it in tremendous quantities. He took a great deal of interest in his farms, of which he had good reason to be proud, as they were among the finest in the state. In 1877 Mr. Dufly became interested in the Marietta Hollow-ware and Enamelling company in which he owned the controlling y in which he owned the controlling pany in which he owned the controlling interest. In 1875 Mr. Duffy was appointed one of the state fish commissioners and was always deeply interested in the culture of fish. The stream in his beautiful park was stocked with trout.

In politics Mr. Duffy was a Democrat and was a delegate to the state convention that nominated Buckslew for governor in 1872. He was a member of the Catholic church, although be was always willing to con-tribute to other denominations. Mr. Duffy was married on September 8th, 1863, to Miss Martha Park, daughter of John Park, of Marietta, who survives him. He leaves four children, the eldest of whom is Miss Josephine, a popular young lady in society. The other children are James, Donald Cameton, Thomas Bayard and MEN WERE HIS FRIENDS.

Dol. Duffy, in his various operations as government contractor, constructor of public works and manufacturer, made very extensive acquaintance with the public men of the country and with that eminent class of American citizens who are engaged in the management and direction of the great ratiway corporations and other transporta-tion interests. He was the life-long acquaintance and friend of Gen. Simon Cameron and of the late Senator James A. Bayard, father of the present secretary of state. Through them he made the ac-quaintance and secured the friendship of quaintance and secured the friendship of many of the most famous politicians of the country. These he was went to entertain at his June meeting of the famous Farmers' club and of all the monthly gatherings of that convivial organization, issuing through many years, none was awaited with such interest or atlended so largely and by so many famous men as the Duffy dinner, always held when the weather permitted in the "park" on his fine farms.

Generals Grant, Sherman and Sheridan were his personal friends and occasional Generals Grant, Sherman and Shoridan were his personal friends and occasional guests; thatfamous wit and bon vivent, the late Larry Jerome, was his close personal friend, and when these two and General Cameron were in Europe in 1887, they had much hospitality and entertainment from Lord Randolph Churchill, whose wife was a nices of Mr. Jerome, and a wide circle of foreign friends. Among the many other distinguished citizans of this country who were the friends of Col. Duffy and frequent distinguished citizens of this country who were the friends of Col. Duffy and frequent guests at his banquet board are to be recalled such eminent editors as Chas A Dana, of the New York Sun, and Gao, W. Childr, of the Philadelphia Ledger; Senators Cameron, Edmunds, Hale, Wade Hampton, Butler, Plumb, Blackburn, Beck, Sewell, Gordon and probably a third of the members of the body. In third of the members of the body. In the House his acquaintance was almost as general, and President Roberts and the entire corps of efficiers of the Pansylvania railroad, John Hoey and other magnates of the Adams Express company and leading representatives of nearly all the great material interests of the country were his guests. Col. W. B. Fordney, of this city, S. H. Reynolds, eeq., and Hon. John A. Hiestand and many other citizens of Lancaster and of this county were accustomed guests at his banquet board. As an entertainer he was unsurpassed and his fame was not confined to this country. His keen wit and direct practical speech sparkled in the after dinner discourse, and none who the after dinner discourse, and none who ever participated in the many gatherings at his house and grounds will fall to recall the host's leading part in the brilliancy of the POLITICAL NOTES.

Charles Kern asserts that a large majority of the Germans of Illinois will vote for Cleveland and Palmer. A. C. Hessing says that Cleveland will get 75 per cent, of the German vote in Chicago and Cook county.

the German vote in Chicago and Cook county.

The Damocratic canvasa of the state of Ohio shows that Cleveland will have a plurality of 13,000 votes. The Republican estimates show a plurality of 25,000 for Harrison. It is expected that $40,000 votes will be cast, an increase of 55,000 over 1884.

Both parties have virtually closed the active canvasa in Illinois. The Democratic state committee's latest canvasa places the piurality of General Palmer, for governor, outside of Cook county, at from 5,000 to 7,000 votes, and the committee claims a piurality of 5,000 in Cook county. On the other hand, the Republicans say their poil of the state warrants the prediction of 25,000 plurality for Fiter outside of Cook county, and claim that he will have 10,000 plurality in Cook county.

Stewart Parnell, will address a meeting in favor of tariff reform at Bordentown this evening.

C. H. Nevins, Ten Mile Run, near New Brunswick, N. J. a Republican of many years standing, is out for tariff reform. A New Brunswick paper said his conversion was because factories would close and he could get farm hands obesper if President Cieveland were re-elected. Mr. Nevins is deeply indignant at the misrepresentation, and declares that his party has deserted him and not he his party on the question.

A San Francisco dispatch to the New York Herald says: "Mr. Cieveland will receive a big majority in this city. Business men here believe in his administration, and wage workers thoroughly appreciate his anti-Chinese policy."

Colonel George H. Highble, president of the Murray iron works, at Burlington, Iowa, and a large employer of labor, announces his intention to support the Democratio national and state tickets. He says that if he is no longer in harmony with the Republican party on the tariff question it is because that party has changed front. Following close upon the desertion of Thompson McCosh, General Giosgor, Captain McCall, Charles Starks and other leading business men, Colonel Highble's card has created consternation among the Republicans of Burlington and the First Congressional district.

It is expected that 75,000 Democratic

TO YORK THIS EVENING.

A: | Preparation Mede To Visit Our Reighbors This Evening.

The last parade of the Democrats will take place in York this evening and the indications are that it will be a great success. Clubs from the county as well as the city will participate and thousands of uniformed men will be in line. In return for the kindness of the York needs on the covarient of Language. will participate and thousands of uniformed men will be in line. In returnfor the kindness of the York people on the occasion of Laucaster's parade recently, cur people will go over in large numbers this evening. Arrangements have been made with the Pennaylvania railroad company to sell tickets for the round trip at the low rate of 70 cents, which is len cents cheaper than the rate the Republicans charged last evening. The special train will leave this city at 6:15 this evening, but tickets are good on all trains. Quite a large number of people went over this afterneon, and will participate in the parade. There is no reason why the crowd should not be large, as those who go will have an opportunity of seeing the last big parade of the campaign. Among the organizations that will go over from Lancaster is the Citizens' club, an entirely new organization, which is composed of business men and others. They will take quite a crowd, and their uniforms will consist of high hats, badge and white gloves. Each member will carry and white gloves. Each member will carry a cane. The badge to be worn by the club is very pretty. It is made of cream colored astin ribbon. Across it are the words, "Citizens' Democratic Club of Lancaster, printed in red. At the top is a red rose. This organization will make a fine appear-

On Wednesday morning John K. Miller, while walking along the railroad a short distance below the bridge south of town, and near the creek, found a basket in close proximity to the water, which contained a regular peddier's cutfit, consisting of nine pairs of new stockings, about fitteen yards of lace, thread, pins, needles, hooks and eyes, bluing and various other articles. A woman carrying such a basket was seen around town the day previous, and it was supposed by many that she might have met with foul play or had committed suicide by jumping into the creek, which at this piace is about 10 feet deep. A party headed by Constable Kieffer and our reporter went to the place and dragged the creek, but failed to discover anything suspicious, except the recovery of some more articles, and at one place on the side of the railroad stope which reaches to the water's edge, found evidences of a struggle, or as if some one had failen down. Mr. Miller has the articles in his possession and the owner, if living, can gain information of them by calling on him. Big Rewards Offered by a Democratic Committee to Catch Quay's Heelers.

A card addressed to the voters of the city of New York was published to day signed by many leading Democrats and giving a warning against a conspiracy that has been hatched to Quay and his lieutenants to capture the state. It is signed by Delancey Nicoli, Frederick R. Coudert, Ex-Judge Nelson J. Waterbury, William B. Hornblower, Samuel R. Burbeck, Cewald Ottendorfer, August Belmont, William Steinway, Joseph J. O'Donahue, Rourke Cockran, E. Ellery Anderson, Eugene Kelly and others. The statement makes these direct charges: "Quay is concentrating all his efforts to cut into the naturally big Democratic majority in New York city; he is using a vast amount of money collected in Pennsylvania and other pisces to accomplish this by means of bribery at the polis, and up on the success of this plan the Republicans base all their hopes to capture the state." The official organ of the Knights of Labor, the Journal of United Labor, says the following resolutions were unanimously adopted on Tuesday evening by Belmont Assembly, No. 126, of Philadelphia, and indicate a plan of action which should be carried out by every local in Pennsylvania:

Whereas the Senate of Pennsylvania has, for sixteen years, obstructed all attempts to enforce the state constitution and has legislated in the interest of powerful corporations and against the public interest; and Whereas the illegal combinations of capital which control that body have taken advantage of the overshadowing influence of the present presidential contest to divert attention from the election of state senstors; and add that the fund that has been husbanded for New York city is many times greater than could be used for legitimate expenses. The statement continues as follows:

"Although the operations of the Republicans have been conducted with the utmost secrecy, it is now known that the entire city has been can vassed by the Republican managers for the purpose of carrying out their scheme. By this means, and through a general intimidation of employes in certain establishments, they hope for the success of their astional ticket."

In view of this scheme, these gentlemen offer rewards of from $500 to $100 to pursons who shall be first to lay before the committee information leading to fastening the crime of bribery on Quay's heelers. These rewards will be paid to an unlimited amount, whether convictions follow or not. It should not be supposed that there is any tors; and

The first importation of Brown Swiss cattle to this section of the country has just been made, the animals having just arrived by the steamer Switzerland. The herd which is a comparatively small one and includes two bulls, which are exceptionally fine animals, are imported by Messra. Edward T. Steel, C. W. Henry, Justus C. Strawbridge, Clement A. Griscom, Dr. Strawbridge and Samuel Emlen, their aim being the improvement of the dairy stock of this county. The three breeds of cattle which for dairy purposes far outrank any others are, it is said, the Frieslan, commonly, though erroneously, called the "Hoisteins," the Jerseys and these brown Swiss. Mr. Steel said yesterday that the merits of this particular strain of cattle came to the knowledge of the gentlemen associated with him through an elaborate report of the state department on the dairy of fun, were induced to go along free of charge.

They not only furnished tickets to the members of the marching club, which they are now working as an advertisement, but also paid the fares of a large number of female employes of the factory as well as many ununiformed men. The watch factory people went over in style; they had the first cars of the train specially reserved and along the sides of the cars had large strips with the name of the club, &c. In the afternoon people began to leave for York and the rush continued until the 7:35 train. The whole number of excursion tickets sold during the entire day for York was 1,436. They are of a mouse or of a fawn color, but their chief peculiarity is their large size. Besides their yield of milk, their size adds to their value when considered as beef. Mr. Sicel says the herd has been on the Alps all summer, and that they have been brought over at this time in has been on the Alps all summer, and that they have been brought over at this time in the hope that they may be better fitted to stand the heat next summer, than if they were introduced at once into a warm climate. The cattle coat from $250 to $300 a head, which prices, less the freight, are what are paid for them by the Swiss peasants. For nearly the same prices in this country very fair Jersey stock can be had. Mr. Steel says that while great improvements have been made within the last generation, this country has the poorest ort of dairy stock, and he has strong hopes that the present experiment of introducing as the present experiment of introducing so members were dark suits and high hats and looked well. There were three bands of music on the trip.

The Young Republicans wanted to be hoggish last evening and when they left here they had a band and drum corps. This led to some trouble and is front of the club room, as the men were forming, Lew Hartman took occasion to tell Harry Schroyer, the commander of the young men, what he thought of him. He said the conduct that he was guilty of in managing affairs of this kind was doing the party more harm than good. Lew wanted more music for some of his 'boys' and he was determined to have it. The quarrel was renewed at the station without any serious result. This little fracas was enough to make Schroyer mad, but he boiled over when he found that he could not seconipany the boys to York, being obliged to remain here in the interest of his party at the meeting of the school board.

The excursionists did not arrive from the city of the White Rose until between 2 and 3 o'clock this morning.

The parade in York was a large affair and the Langaster clubs looked well. The Captain Kennedy, of the British ship Creedmoor, from Manils, reports in New York, that on September 9 he sighted the York, that on September yee signed the British ship Ardenespie, from which he took the captain and part of the crew of the ship Earl Wemyas, which had been in collision with the Ardenespie, and which sank immediately after, carrying down sixteen persons, including the captain's wife and three children. wixteen persons, including the captain's wife and three children.

The rescued captain was very ill when brought on board. "I went on board the Ardeneaple," Captain Kenneday says, "and found her in a very dangerous condition. Captain Guthrie mustered his crew, who decided to leave the ship, and some of them came on board the Creedmoor. Captain Guthrie said he intended to stay by his ship, and as he has determined, I went Guthle said he intended to say by his ship, and as he has determined, I went aboard the Creedmoor and proceeded on my course. The next day I took account of my stores, and finding them short, I put all hands on short silowance, and kept the ship away for Barbadocs, where the wrecked crews werelanded."

2 and 3 o'clock this morning.

The parade in York was a large affair and the Lineaster clubs looked well. The Ninth ward, under whose auspices the excursion was run, were placed ahead of the other Laneaster ward clubs. The members of the Seventh ward club and others were very angry at this and there was much bad feeling. The York Gazette says: "Everything passed off pleasantly. Only one drunk was arrested, a Laneaster man who was left by his companions lying at the entrance of Spahr's store. He was hauled to the lockup by several of our officers."

Thomas C. Wiley, of this city, was chief of staff in the parade. By the York Daily account there were 3,525 men in line, so that the parade was not as large as either of those held here recently. The Daily says: The Keystone Watch Company club of Laneaster presented a fine appearance. The ladies of York presented them with a splendid floral basket. The Laneaster clubs received much applause at different places along the line. They marched well and looked well. The Young Men's Republican club of that city were the guests of the West End Plumed Knights, who entertained them at the Farmer's market house. Their tasty uniforms and fine bearing won them many friends. At the regular meeting of the Lancaster Bicycle club the following officers were elected: President, D. F. Grove; vice president, C. A. Sauber; secretary and treasurer, H. B. Ammon; captain, D. H. Miller; neutenant, Aivin Reist; bugler, John B. Miller; color bearer, George H. Walton; executive committee, D. H. Miller, S. B. Downey, E. G. Eicholtz, John A. Burger, H. B. Ammon.
Although this club is quite young it already has forty-three memoers, including the best wheelmen of this city, and its condition is very flourishing.

Offering to Bribe Indiana Voters,

It is understood in well-informed political circles in New York that the $125,000 sent to Indiana by the Republican national committee was furnished upon the express condition that it should be supplemented by an equal contribution from Indiana Republicans, making a round quarter of a million deliars, to be used in an effort to buy the state for Harrison. This contribution, taken in connection with Republican National Committee Treasurer Dudley's letter, of the authenticity of which there is no longer any question in all unprejudiced minds, indicates that the "boodie" campaign of 1880 in the Hocaler state will be duplicated in all its corrupt and centurable features.

minds, indicates that the "boodie" campaign of 1880 in the Hocaler state will be duplicated in all its corrupt and censurable features.

Thursday morning, after a vain attempt to clude the reporters, Colonel Dudley was caught outside of the Everett house and asked if he had any more to say about the matter. "No, I have not," he replied. "I will only repeat that the leiter as published is a forgery." "And you still decline to indicate what part of it is forged, or to say whether or not you sent out any letter of a similiar character?" "I do. The whole matter is in the hands of my lawyer, Colonel George Bilse, and you must see him about it." All attempts to clicit any sort of information falled.

It is said that Col. Dudley had purchased his railroad ticket and secured a berth in a sleeper, and that he intended to leave New York for his home in Indians on Saturday next to cast his vote for the Republican national ticket. It is probable, however, that he will not make the trip, as it is understood that he was advised by Colonel Bilse Thursday morning that it would be safer for him to remain outside of Indians for the present.

The Indianapolis Sentinel on Thursday editorially announced that it will, despite Colonel Dudley's threat of prosecution, publish his letter delily until the election. The Sentinel adds:

This Dudley letter gives evidence of the most infamous attempt to corrupt the bailot that has ever been made in this country. It is the sot of a man high up in his party organization—the treasurer of its national committee. More than that, he is the personal representative upon this committee of the party's presidential candidate, and was his first choice for chairman of the committee. Can the party and the candidate escape responsibility for the letter by any means short of a prompt, sweeping and thorough repudiation of Dudley? And, again, will either the party or the candidate dare to repudiate him? The people of this country have an interest in the answers to these questions which rises above all party consideration.

The following is an extract from a letter which appeared in the Indianapolis Journal of May 5, 1881, written by S. P. Conner, chairman of the Republican central committee of Newton county, Ind.:

Being chairman of the Republican county central committee, I was invited to the inner council at Indianapolis, and witnessed the "expediting" process by which the Republicans captured the state. I conversed freely with John C. New, his secretary and all his clerks, and there met Joe Gray, the licutenant of Senator Dorsey. After learning from Gray how double tlokets were voted and counted, and being fully instructed, I was ushered into the presence of Senator Dorsey, who was secretary of the national central Republican committee. I was presented to Dorsey by John C. New, the chairman of the Republican state central committee, and after being introduced Mr. New withdrew and left me.

Senator Dorsey demanded of me 600 majority in Newton county. I told him we could not do it. He then said he would give me morey to help us, and that, being on the Illinois line, we could colonize from Illinois and make the 600 mejority. I told him frankiy I was not zealous enough in on the Illinois line, we could colonize from litinois and make the 600 mejority. I told him frankly I was not zealous enough in the cause to engage in such disreputable business. As autocrat he seemed greatly incensed, and dismissed me from his sugust presence to see me later. I met him again at an appointed hour, and he gave Jo Gray a plece of paper and waved us from the room.

a piece of paper and waved us from the room.

I was led into an adjoining room by Jo Gray (all this was in the New Denison hotel at Indianapolis), and there I met an old gray-headed man and a middle aged man. Jo Gray gave them the paper he had received from Dorsey, when the bankers retired to an adjoining room and returned in a few minutes with a package of bilis just printed for the business of carrying indiana. I was informed that, my county being small, I must be content with a haif a thousand. I learned that targer counties received from 1,000 to 5,000 of these new £1 and £2 bills just printed to carry Indiana. and $2 bills just printed to carry Indians for Porter and Gardeld.

HARRISBURG WANTS MEN.

fering to Pay Republican Clubs to Come.

On Saturday evening next the Democrats and Republicans of Harrisburg will hold the last parades of the campaign. The rivalry between the two parties is very great there, and each one is striving to have the largest turnout. The Republicans are very anxious to get the clubs of that party in this city to participate. Yesterday an agent was sent to this city to find out what he could do. He distributed circulars setting forth that tickets for the round trip would be sold to Republicans on Saturday evening. Before leaving the agent offered to pay the fares of several clubs, but he met with a rather cool reception, as the Harrisburgers refused to come to Lancaster at the last minute recently. Several of the clubs of this city have promised to go to Rohrerstown on Saturday, and the energetic agent at once set affoat a fering to Pay Republican Clubs to Come, and the energetic agent at once set affoat a story that the parade in that village was off. This was promptly denied in the Republi-can evening papers and the Harrisburg man went away disgusted.
