BANCASTER, NOVEMBER 2, 1868,

An Houest Chairman's Trouble. Under the guarantee of both parties the active aid of the police authori-New York city ought to have a very election this year. The police have sthing like a thousand warrants ady to serve on charges of false regison; and the Republicans declare that have been all over the city three parate and several times, and have very unlawful voter spotted, and every oter marked with his appropriate slitical shade. Supervisor Davenport, the has been doing the work, knows just the vote will be and makes that Harrison will have 115,000 s and Cleveland little majority, if y; which the state will come down han overwhelming majority to wipe and bring Harrison in winner with Since Chairman Quay has New York Successful fixed it will be in order or him to take a look at Indiana, and note that his committeeman for that state has promised to the Indiana workers If the money they can use in securing the floating vote of the state and sying the expenses incurred in dividthem into sections of five, er the charge of a Republican worker who I; made responsible for their votes.

The evidence that Mr. Dudley gave his instruction to the Indiana comeman is seemingly sufficient to perade to protest so ardent an advocate of pure election-in New York-as Chaira Quay has lately been. We should hear from Colonel Quay promptly. It offer to Indiana as much as it wants of money which he has collected from the respectable and pious Republicans of Philadelphia and elsewhere, with intruction that it shall be used in aying the floating vote for Harrison. rman Quay will desire to explain that the money contributed to his comlittee can only be paid out upon his proval; and that it is impossible that can approve such use of it as Col. Dud. or, national committeeman for Indiana, proposes for that state. He will wish to discover to the public how Dudley got so far wrong as to suppose that he could get all the cash from him that he asked for. to use as a corruption fund in Indiana. dently there is abundant occasion in the Juniorances for a public explana-Chairman Quay; who will see that while Dudley says that his letter has been parbled, but fails to print the correct ersion, the conclusion is fair that all the parbling that has been done has not been terial; and that he stands convicted, on theevidence, of advising the wholesale hase of votes in Indiana.

And it is clear that as Chairman Quay stares his burning desire to be for an conest and fair election in New York, he must want the same in Indiana; unhe is not as honest as he pretends to bs; which may be a safe conclusion. He nover was esteemed honest in Pennsylvania; and it is only since he has been in New York that he has shown any desire to be so considered.

A Victory of Courage.

Mr. Blaine, having made a speech on be eve of the presiden't dismissal of Sackville in which he predicted that he would not dismiss him, now makes nother speech after the event, in which se gives Sackville sympathy because he is the victim of the administration, tend of the conspirators who got him into the trouble ; and he abuses Bayard, and charges that "Mr. Cleveland's administration deliberately weighed Sackville against the Irish vote and started

It is well for one who aspires to be a leader among men to keep up at least a emblance of fairness, and to take care that he does not earn the repute of being common scold. After Mr. Blaine had sclared that Sackville should be sent me, and had prophesied that the presicent would not send him, it is awkward for him to condemn him again and to dere that the Irish vote persuaded him. The had thought the Irish vote so poential why did he think that Lord Sack-

But Mr. Blaine hardly puts on even a estence of honesty and fairness. He maintain. He would be a thoroughly ptible character but for his posiof influence over the Republican of to-day; but will hardly occupy place again, so disastrous does its feet promise to be in the coming election. We see nothing to disturb our inion that the administration of Cleveland will be continued power. It has been undeniably clean and good, and had earned high been no incident to challenge its suboldly the policy of tariff reform that was made needful by the growing treas. ery surplus. It has been said that but for this issue he would have had a walk-over for re-election; and it may be so; em from friend and fair foe. There nacy since the president inaugurated at it must be remembered that the ncteristic courage which forced him out in the lead of his party has made him my friends and admirers, and that the policy which he advocated has proved illy grateful to the agricultural secion of the West, that has hitherto been slidly Republican, and now promises to solidly Democratic. There is hardly Western state that Democrats are not d enough to claim, even including

We do not look for a close result, but a Republican Waterloo that will er the party under its present leaderis. A successful party cannot be so usly led as the Republican party is day. Its leaders do not command reeither for their virtue or their secity. When a second-rate man like on achieves the nomination, a stentious fraud like Blaine proits doctrine and a low politician Quay is in its lead, the Republican is ready for its death and burial.

The Parnell Inquiry.

committee investigating the against Parnell is making good s and though the Times has spared ise and secured the best of legal its case has already developed surweakness. Their most vaunted c, Captain O'Shea, who has the friend and political follower of Parnell, seemed to take delight in representing the great leader as a sneak of the meanest type who would speak slightingly of his closest friends, and engage in important political trans actions unknown to them. He pronounced the signatures to the famous letters those of Parnell, and displayed all the bitterness of a traitor, but he was forced to admit that Parnell had not, as the Times has 'contended, undertaken without condition to put a stop to the outrages in Ireland. He had simply offered to use his influence for that purpose if he was aided by the passage of the act wiping out twohopelessly insolvent tenants. An interesting disclosure made by O'Shea was that the Right Hon. Joseph Chamberlain had secured time as a witness for the Times: and the yet more startling statement was made by him on cross-examination to the effect that documentary evidence had been burnt by him Sir William Harcourt having told him that Mr. Gladstone so desired. Credit will not generally be given to this testimony. The switness is one of the kind of people who consider themselves of much more consequence than they are,

and his testimony is likely to have the same characteristic of seeming to be more important than it is. It is very improbable, indeed, that he had the intimate confidence of great men, such as he claims.

WE have received with the compliments of "The State Board of Health and Vital Statistics of the Commonwealth of Penn-sylvania," Benjamin Lee, M. D., secretary, a handsome and heavy volume of over a thousand pages, embracing the second annual report of the state board of health vital statistics, transmitted to the governor, December 1, 1886. A note appended stated that the delay in publication was due to the fact that legislative permission was not accorded until near the close of the session of 1887. A survey of the index should satisfy any one of the perma-nent value of a part of the matter embraced in this official report. Here are published a great number of papers read before the state sanitary convention on various matters affecting public health, and one can hardly lock upon the table of contents of this volume without a feeling of awe at the sublime impudence of disease in venturing to molest a community so thoughtfully cared for by learned men. Seriously there is much of value in this handsomely printed book but we doubt whether many will have the patience to search it out.

ME. DEFEW says that he has been all over European art galleries and never saw an angel that resembled Grover Cleveland.
P.rhaps not. Perhaps Mr. Cleveland don't resemble an angel, even as slightly as Mr. Depew or Mr. Harrison, but his chances for eventually seeing genuine angels are pro-bably as good, and we need not worry about his resemblance to the European toy

A CORRESPONDENT who forgets to sign his name, and thereby condemns his letter to the waste basket, suggests that the parading clubs of Lancaster of both parties enter upon a novel wager. If Cleveland and Thurman win the Young Men's Democratic club to have the right of the line, to be followed by the Young Men's Republirotation, making a grand display, If Harrison and Morton win the Young Republi-Young Democrats following, and the ward clubs of both parties in similar order. The suggestion is not altogether charm ing, but if it could be carried out would undoubtedly have a beneficial effect upon public feeling and tend to lessen the bitterness of the struggle. It would be a very impressive and edifying speciacle, this marching of defeated ward clubs in the ranks of their opponents; an evidence that they bowed to the will of the majority and would support the government regardless of party feeling. Unfortunately, however, the voters of Lancaster are human and the disappointment of the marching clubs of the defeated party will be staggering in its effect. They will hardly be able to march home and sleep, and as for marching in a combined triumph and funeral procession that would be a miracle beyond their power. Much as we should enjoy the spectacle' we cannot endorse s suggestion that promises so much cruelty to "our friends the enemy."

Prophet Blaine.

Mr. Blaine said at Albany, "Neither Mr. Bayard nor the president (I make this prediction while there is a week left of the diction while there is a week left of the campaign) will done to send Lord Sack-ville home. Mr. Phelps, the American minister in London, as we get news over the cable, is dining out at Hatfield with Lord Salisbury to see if Lord Salisbury will not relieve Mr. Cleveland and Mr. Bayard by recalling Lord Sackville." (This speech was made a few hours before Sackville's dismissal.) Mr. Biaine also predicted a Republican victory.

victory.

Mr. Blaine said on Thursday: "Now I must say that Mr. Bayard put himself in a were a wicked conspiracy of wicked Hepublicans to entrap Lord Sackville into writing at imprudent letter, these conspirators ought to have been punished; but instead of that he punishes Lord Sackville."

A Return to Daty.

This is always desirable, and the speedier it takes place the better. Doubly welcome is it in the case of those usually industrious little organs, the kidueys, which, when they go on a strike—so to speak—and drop work, seriously imperil health in more than one way. First and foremost, their inaction begets their disease, which is hydra-headed, including such dangerous maladies as Bright's disease and diabetes.
Next, when inactive they fail to assist in removing from the blood impurities that beget rheumolism, gout and dropsy. Third, their inaction weakens the bladder. All this is preventable and remediable by the pleasent promoter of organic action, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, at once a tonic and a regulater. This gently but effectually impels the kidneys to return to duty, and strengthens them and the bladder. Upon regulating and invigorating influence, and it
