ANOTHER GUNNING ACCIDENT. One Man Accidentially Shoots Another in the Face on Friday. The gunning season has opened with avery prospect of success to the newspapers. Already they have been called upon to bronicle several serious accidents, one of which was fatal. On Friday, Edward Botallick and Stephen Dittus, were out gunning in the country just east of the railroad bridge across the big Conestoga creek. They wirred up a rabbit which took refuge. bey stirred up a rabbit which took refuge They stirred up a rabbit which took refuge in a pile of the that were lying along the railroad tre V. Rotallick went to one side of the pile and Dittus to the other to look for the animal. The former stooped down and was looking through the ties when Dittus discharged his gun at hunny. Part of the load passed between the crevices of the ties and struck Retailick. A grain of shot entered one of his eyes and it is feared that he will least the sight of it. Another passed will lose the sight of it. Another passed entirely through his cheek and struck against his teeth where it was flattened out. Several were lodged in different parts of his face where they yet remain Dr. McCormick is attending the wounded man. Retailick

BILL IN EQUITY FILED.

lives on Church street and Dittus on Mid-dle street.

A Dispute Between the Members of the Fairfield Circulating Library. Brown & Hensel, attorneys for W. F. McSparrap, J. C. Heim, Laura Penny, Ellaworth E. Gregg, S. C. Finley and W. S. Hastings bave filed a bill in equity against S. J. Boyd, E. W. Gregg, John S. Brown and Fred. Hensel. The bill of plaintiffs sets forth that a co partnership was satered into on January 1, 1888, as members of the Fairfield circulating library of bers of the Fairfield circulating library of age of Fairfield, Drumore township, for the purchase, acquisition and use of books, that no settlement of the accounts and property of the partnership, that all the accounts and property is in possession and control of defendants and they refuse to permit an examination to be made by plantiffs. They therefore pray that the partnership may be dissolved and a re-ceiver appointed. The court appointed W. B. Hastings as the receiver of the partner

The Republican Boys Parade. The Republican boys of the city held a parade last evening. There were per-baps a half-degen clubs in the line and while some of the uniforms were pretty, while some of the uniforms were pretty, there were many very curious ones. Little shavers, some of whom were not yet out of their dresses, plodded all over the town. When the line was forming an incident occurred which threw something of a damper on the affair. The Ninth ward boys, who have a very pretty uniform and make a fine appearance, were put behind the Seventh ward coon club. The captain of the former organization said The captain of the former organization said "We don't march behind niggers," and he took his club from the line. They then had a parade by themselves. A big feature of the parade was Charley "Guttersnipe" pounding a bass drum almost as large as a negation and painted like a circus bill. There were twelve boys in the darkey club and they carried axes on their shoulders and razars in their pockets.

A Funny Election Wager. Miles Frankford, a Democrat of the Ninth ward, and George Fox, a Republican neighbor, have made a novel election wager. Near the deserted Chicago beet market, on North Mulberry street, there is a large willow tree. It has been decaying of late years and in one side there is an opening large enough to admit a good street. opening large enough to admit a good sized may. Fox has promised if Cleveland is elected, that he will stand inside of the tree for an entire day without once going out for anything to eat or drink. In case Harrison is chosen to the office of president Frankford will have to take to the tree. There have been many novel election wagers this year, but this one beats them Money Talks Every Time. The Democrats of this city are feeling very good to-day, and are willing and anxous to bet on their favorite candidate for president. Several prominent Republicans were made take the water after they had done a great deal of blowing. The Republicans started off with a big lot bluffing a week or more sgo, and seemed to think that the Democrats had no money. In this they were mistaken, however, as Grover's backers are very plenty and they are well supplied with crisp notes that "go" every time. The Republicans are aston-lahed at the amount of money the Demo-crate have and they don't know what it

Provisions Stolen. From the New Holland Clarton,

On Thursday night burglars broke into the ceilar at the residence of Jacob Musselman, a short distance southwest of town, and made a heavy haul upon his provisions, carrying oif sixty pounds of butter, two hams, about fifty pounds of fresh beef, a lot of ples, a large butter plate, lot of small plates, a strainer bucket and other articles. They got into the ceilar by boring a number of holes into the cellar by boring a number of holes into large enough to reach in, when they pushed back a large bolt and unlocked asmali lock. How this was done is unknown, as the key was up in the house.

Hand Injured. Mise Laura Zahm, living at 31 West Gorran street, who is employed in the weave room of No. 3 cotton mill, met with an sect dent this morning. She was cleaning some machinery when she had her hand caught in the gearing. The fingers of her right hand were terribly lacerated and she was taken home to receive medical attention. I is not known whether the fingers will have to be amputated.

Two More Cancelled. On the play bills used at the opera house during the engagement of Mrs. McKee Rankin the announcement was made that Jennie Calef, the souhrette, would appear here on the first three days of next week and "The Magic Talisman" with Alf Misco the last three. These companies have wisely concluded not to come, if they were ever booked at all, and the first three nights of the week will be given up to that chestnut entitled "Ten Nights in a Barroom." Quite a number of companies have made themselves big winners by carefulling their dates in this city as bust has been bad. On the play bills used at the opera house

The Republicans at Little.

The Republican parade and meeting at Little yesterday, afternoon and evening for which the most extensive preparation had been made did not turn out as well as expected. The meeting in the afternoon in point of number was smaller than that of the Democrats a week ago. Although extra trains were run from Lancaster, Ephrats, Landavida and other places the number in the parade was a great disap-

Big Shooting. J. C. Hartman, Graybill Long and A. C. Smith were gunning in the vicinity of Concetogs Centre on Friday. They snot 57 rabbits. The cotton tails seem to be very pienty and many other gunners had good luck.

Will Secolve Election Reterns.

Milton B. Weidler has leased the King street theatre for election night. The wits of the Western Union Telegraph company will be run into the building and the returns auguated as fast as received.

DON CAMERON WALKED

Conducted Who Would Not Allow senstor to Ride on the Pintform, Senator J. Donald Cameron lives on a beautiful farm overlooking the Susquebanna, close to Harrisburg. The electric rallway runs near the senator's house. The other day Mr. Cameron got on one of the cars. It was pretty well crowded. The senator remained standing on the platform. The conductor, in his efforts to carry out the orders of the company, told Pennsylvania's representative in the United States Senate to go inside.

"But I prefer to remain where I am," replied the senator.

piled the senator.

"You will have to go inside or get off,"
was the conductor's order.

"Then, I will get off," and the senator suited his actions to his words, and the car went on. He then walked the remainder of the distance to Harrisburg.

The conductor, when told who the gentleman was, merely repiled that his orders were to treat all passengers alike and enforce the rules. The senator is a stockholder in the motor company and has since holder in the motor company and has since remarked to a friend that be admired the conduct of the conductor. Every stock-holder on this road must pay his fare.

Wells Replies to Blaine,

David A. Wells, whom Mr. Blaine in his speech in Norwich, Conn., on Thursday publicly challenged to name the Republican who gave his party $100,000 during the esempaign of 1884, said on Friday. "Mr. Blaine and I have been and still are, so far as I know, the best of friends. I reiterate my former statement, but I cannot betray the confidence reposed in me, and name the person. Should I do so, his name would be heraided from one end of the country to the other. Mr. Blaine knows perfectly to whom I refer. If there are so many men who gave the stated amount, and he does not know the exact one, it will be only necessary to inquire of his old friends, Steve Eikins or Tom Platt. They know. I probably ought not to have made the stateprobably ought not to have made the statement, but as I did I will stand by it. Mr. Blaine's object in arraigning me was bluff. That was it exactly—mere bluff. Do you think for a moment that Jay Gould, Andrew Carnegle and such men did not give as large an amount to the Republican party as $100. an amount to the Republican party as $100,

Mr. Urban's Funeral. The funeral of Ames S. Urban took place from his late residence No. 414 South Queen street, this afternoon at 2 o'clock. George H. Thomas post 84, of the Grand Army sent n. Thomas post St, of the Grand Army sent quite a delegation, and among the others that attended were members of Inland City lodge, K. of P., and Lancaster assembly A. O. M. P. The Sunday school of St. Paul's M. E. church, of which deceased was the librarian, attended in a body. The funeral service was conducted by Rev. Roads and interment was made at Woodward Hill.

Mr. Abram Bitner desires a correction made of the statement published that the "management of the watch factory furnished tickets to the members of the marching club, which they are now working as an advertisement." He denies that the management have had anything to do with the organization or running of the club. He admits that he bimeelf bought tickets to York for those who could not afford to pay for them.

Has Taken the Engle. Harry Myers to-day took possession of the Engle hotel, at Orange and North Queen strests, which until recently was kept by A. C. Rahter. Mr. Myers is a well-known hotel man with lots of experience, and he will undoubtedly make the place a success.
