COLUMBIA, Nov. 13 .- The Democrate of COLUMBIA, Nov. 13.—The Democrate of his piace took the wind from the sails of so Republicans last night by having a big Sait River" parade. The Republicans are born making extensive preparations hold a big parade on next Saturday night and intended to take the Democrats up latt River. A few prominent Democrats deained that they could go "up the river" could my help from the Republitor last Saturday night, which held at the headquarters in Bank y and all the details for the parade aringed. The plan was thought an exfig known to the Republicans. At fig last night the parade started from lank alley and went over every street in lown. The parade was headed by the stropolitan band and was about four cares in length. The paraders carried brellss and valisos and were ready for elr trip. A number of banners were ntaining the inscription "We'll be back in four years"; Cleveland in 1892;" "Boodle in 1888, Brains in 1892!" ad many others. There were a large number of paraders in fantastic costumes, and Bol. Zeamer's ox was in line drawing the "baggage wagon." Three wagens conrear. The parade was an immense success

Fishburn, presi-dent of the conference. The exercises today will be according to the programme published last night. A children's meeting will be held this evening, when the exercises will consist of singing, addresses, d bringing of missionary envelopes. On Wednesday the conference will be opened with devotional services led by Rov. M. Republican Parade.

The Republicans of this city will hold shelr jubilee parade to-morrow evening, and, although the Lancaster clubs will all isely turn out, the number from the county is not expected to be large. The reason for this is that the time for parades is about ever and people of both parties are sick and tired of them. Thomas C. Wiley will be chief marshal to-morrow evening and Al-derman A. K. Spurrier chief of the staff. The order will be almost the same as in the last parade and the route is : Form on East King ; East King to North

Ring, to Mary, countermarch to South Queen, to Woodward Hill cemetery, counermarch to East King, to Marshall counnarch to Centre Square and dismiss. The Young Republicans and Keystone marching clubs have had another difficulty over this parade. The latter will not know until after their meeting to-night whether they will take part in the parade.

The Republicans of York held their parade last night, and in size it was a great disappointment. A number of Democrats turned out in line to pay election bets. There were no obnexious banners to cause ill-faeling.

A number of school teachers of the kind who think a Harrison and Morton pole should be in every school yard, held a ting last evening and resolved to turnout in the Republican parade to-morrow

The Ow: Did Not Hout.

Over a week ago circulars were spread deast over the city announcing that s seper called the Owl was to be issued in this city weekly. The first number was to have appeared last Saturday, and it was od that it would contain all the setyscandais that could be learned or mantured. At the last moment the men he were to put the paper out weakened and became atraid to engage in the busiss. The slily girls and boys of this city were greatly disappointed at the non auce of the sheet.

They Put Smiles on Them. Yesterday the Republicans of the Ninth pard took in their banner to repair it. While they had it down their artist underok to put smiles upon the countenances of he two successful candidates so that they ald laugh at Tom Wiley's parade toorrow evening. They did not make a ig success of it. The banner is so badly rinkled that it is difficult to tell whether the plotures are those of men or not. The partnership which has been existing between H. R. Jacobs and F. F. Proctor, in numerous theatrical enterprises for several years past, was dissolved in Albany several days ago. The only theatres now held in common by them are the Griswold opera house, at Troy, and the Utica opera house. As soon as the present leases of their several theatres throughout the cir-cuit expire, each will go his particular way in supplying the public with amusements. Each manager controls more theatres and traveling companies than any other in the country. Mr. Proctor is one of the lessees of Falton opera house, this city.

The Grape Hotel Sold. The sale of the Grape hotel property on Monday evening attracted a large crowd, among them a number of Lancaster's prominent citizens. The property was offered in two parts by Auctioneer Haines, No. 1 being the hotel proper and No. 2 the new addition on the south, or what is known as the barroom. No. 1 was started at $19,000, but for No. 2 no bid could be ob-tained. The property was then offered as a whole and started at $20,000. There were only a few bidders, and the price was slowly run up to $22,940, at which price it was knocked down to B. F. Montgomery, esq., who represented Philip Lebzelter. It was bought for an investment, and it is not vet known whether it will be kept as a notel or converted into a business house.

Republican Ox Roasts. The Republicans of the Ninth ward would like to have it understood that some of their members want something from the incoming administration. They have not been doing all of the hard work during the campaign for nothing, and it will not end with the parade to-morrow evening. They will hold an ex roast in Griel's brick yard on Saturday afternoon next.

To-day an ox roast for the benefit of Jacob Witmer, hoter-keeper, is being held at Mountville, A number of persons went up from this city.

The Wheelbarrow Fiends. The wheelbarrow Democrats who made wagers to baul their Republican friends through the streets if Harrison was successful, have not yet completed their tasks. Last night they were out in force and in-side of an hour no less than four wheelbarrow loads were landed at the monument One party had their barrow trimmed with Chinese lanterna, When the wheeler reached the square he turned the barrow over and upset the rider. The lanterns caught fire and the crowd of bystanders was amused

Will Apply for a Cuarter. Some people have been busy since the election starting a report that the Young Men's Democratic club was about to disband. Such is not the case, however. The organization stands well financially, and at a meeting of the directors held last evening it was resolved to make application to court for a charter on Saturday, Dec. 12.
