fract made with the commissioners by Mr. Falton in which it is set forth that the sty sgreed to pay him as a commission 25 per cent of all the money he recovered back from the state. The amount paid back was over $20,000 and Mr. Fulton's claim is a trifle above $5,000. In the event this contract was voided plaintiff's claim was for the same amount as due compensation for services rendered.

The defense cifered no testimony, but argued that the contract was illegal because of the time of its execution. Mr. Fuiton was county solicitor, receiving a salary of $500 for all services rendered the county and that he could recover nothing.

Folton to prove that his claim was not exbitant was Judge Waddell, of the Chester unity court, and a dezen members of the ter county bar. Plaintiff was reprecounty by H. M. North, E. K. Martin and County Solicitor Shenck.

—Judge Fathey charged the Jury there could be no recovery for services rendered as malaried county solicitor, but left to the jury to determine what was due compensa-tion, under the evidence, for Mr. Fulton's services after his term expired. The jury was out about three hours and a dispate received by Brown & Hensel at 2 p. m. from their client inform them that about noon the jury returned a verdict for Fulton against the county for $5.083.

MEETING OF THE BOARD OF TRADE. The New Holland & Lancaster Ratiroad

On Tuesday evening the Board of Trade held their regular monthly meeting with a rather slim attendance. Dr. Wickersham being in the chair, called for the reports of committees and receiving none from the committee on railroads referred again to the matter of a ratiroad from New Holland to Lancaster discussed at the last meeting. He said that the committee had returned from their interview with the officials of the Pennsylvania railroad convinced that the New Holland road would be built. They had said that it would be necessary to change the name of the road to the Downington & Lancaster railroad, and he had noticed that this change had already been made. The coat, they said, would be $300,000, and they propose to mortgage the whole road for that sum and offer bonds at 4 per cent for sale. They saked whether a portion of these bonds could be placed in Lan-

Mr. Hager explained that the Pennsylvania railroad officials said that they would not guarantee the bonds, but that the interest would be paid by them and the road operated by them, which would be virtually the same thing.

Doctor Wickersham called the attention of the municipal committee to the condition of the municipal law. Mr. Hager said that as Dr. Wickersham was thoroughly familiar with the matter he should be placed upon the committee.

Mr. Houston suggested that it would be better to have several member of the old committee meet with the new also, that the new committee should profit by the experience of the old. He said that he understood that preparations had been made to bring suit to test the law on at least one point, and that the committee should see to repairing such defects in it. Mr. Heger accepted these suggestions.

Dr. Wickersham said that he had felt thoroughly discouraged by his experience on the former committee; when he had worked hard for the best interests of the city and received very little credit. He asked to be excused from again undertaking work of the kind, and thought the municipal ommittee could do all that was necessary. Councils had been invited to the proposed meeting at Harrisburg to consider this bill and not boards of trade.

Finally it was suggested that a special committee of three be appointed and on motion of Mr. Michael Kline Mesers. Wick ersham, Hager and Broslus were made a committee. Mr. Kline reported that the rooms of the board had been leased when nos in use to a teacher of languages and Dr. Wickersham presented an invitation to the world's exposition of the three Americas. The treasurer's report showed a balance of 51 46 on hand.

Evans, both of whom reside on East King street, between Lime and Shippen, the parade will go out East King to Lime, to Orange, to Shippen, to East King, thereby avoiding this square. Sign of the Big Skate. Our readers will remember the big skate

Our readers will remember the big skate which Reilly Bros. & Raub exhibited at the recest county fair and which caused thousands to guess at its weight. It was considered one of the most novel and attractive of exhibits, and those who remember it there will recognize it in the sign which now hangs over the pavement in front of Reilly Bros. & Raub's hardware store next door to the posteffice. The skate is in gold and has on it the word "Hardware" in black letters. It hangs from a large sign board which contains the firm name in letters of gold on a black ground, and is the work of George Haiz.
