I am not fickle, good old bed of mine:

I am not changeful in my honest love,
Absent from the:, for thy embrace I pise,
Warmer thy bosom than the brooding dove.
My heart is never cold, old bed, to thee,
As oft thy snowy sheets have been to me.

What though I linger when the night is free, and lotter when the starry hours wane, and midnight pauses ere I come to thee, Throbs thy white breast with any counter

Too of I am a trush from the nest Which of my weary head with joy ha

when the rosy fingered hours of dawn Touch with prismatic colors all the sky, Ob, how I love thee! When the night is gone
How sweet upon thy restful heart to lie.
And map and dose and snooze till, peal on

Pings the third bell for morning's cheery Ah, then, how can I leave thee, gracious bed? Health peace and quiet rest I find in thee; Wrath and defience buri I at the head That would pronounce divorce twist thee me;

My love for thee, cold as the stars at n'ght,
Surme like the August sun at morning's light.
