Proceedings of the Searing of the Fortility Flour Nut.

A rather curious scoident in which a young man almost lost his lite, coourred on Seturday at the large flour mill of H. B. Groff, at Fertility postoffice, on Mill creek. In Wetnel is an apprentice at the mill, and it was he who came so near losing his life. He went upstairs to clean the purifiers and the eleeve of his right arm caught in the cor wheels of the shatting. The cog wheels of the shafting. The a shoulder, causing intense pain. His mt and shirt were torn to shreds. His his neck that he was almost choked and was unable to call for help. The young man was possessed of great nerve, however, and with death staring him in the face, he coolly drew his pocket knife from his pocket and cut the suspenders from his neck. He then called for help. E. F. Groff, the was down stairs in charge of the mill, card the cries and without waiting to learn the cause stopped the mill. He then ran up stairs and found the trouble that young Wetsel was in and extricated him.
The young men was severally injured. He seeived a cut seven inches in length under the left arm and another of four mehes on the right shoulder. Dr. H. E. imberg, of this city, was sent for and record the wounds. The life of the young man was saved in a rather peculiar way. When his clothing was saught in the clogs is clogged them up so that they were thrown out of gear. Had this not occurred he would have been killed in a few moments.
