A Dig in the Ribs,

If on the right side and lower part of the disphragm, though playfully meant and delivered, is calculated to evoke protanity from a chappy whose liver is out of order. When that region is sore and congested, pokes seem flendish. Look at a man's countenance ere you prod him under the ribs. If his skin and eyeballs have a sallow tinge, you may infer also that his tongue is furred, his breath apt to be sour, that he has pains not only beneath his ribs, but also under the right shoulder-blade. Also that his lowests are irregular and his digestion impaired. Instead of making a jocose demonstration on his ribs, recommend aim to take, and steadily persist in taking. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters, the thost anti-bittens and attentive medicine artisat. Incomparable is it, also, for dyspopela, rheumitism, nervoussess, kidney tipuble, and lever and ague.

A Word About Catarrh "It is the mucous membrane, that wonder ful semi-fluid envelope surrounding the delicate tissues of the air and passages, that Catarrh makes its stronghold. Once established, it case into the very vitala, and renders like but a long-drawn breath of misery and discase, duiling the sease of heuring, trammelling the power of speech, destroying the faculty of smell, fainting the breath, and killing the refined pleasures of tasts. Invidiously, by orcepting on from a simple cold in the head, it seemults the membraneous lining and envelopes the bones, esting through the delicate coats and causing inflammation, sloughing and easts. Mething short of total sendication will secure health to the patient, and all alleviatives are simply processimated sufferings, leading to a fail termination. Saryone's RADICAL CURR, by Inhalcates and by Internal administration, has never failed; even when the disease has made frightful increade on delicate constitutions, heaving, smell and taste have been recovered, and the disease thoroughy drives out." RAMPORD'S RADICAL CURS consists of one bot-tie of the Radical Curs, one box of Ca-tarshal Solvent, and one improves invalue, nettly wrapped in one package, with full di-rections; price, $1.
