

Intelligencer. A Question of Harbors. From the account of our correspondent, who is an expert upon the subject of harbors, it is all a question of whether the jules of the Panama will be a question of hard or soft head. It is a matter of common knowledge, with which even the commonest court may be charged, that an apple tree, or all the fruit trees, or all the wine newly exported from the French, will not intoxicate. man companies so active in the islands recently, were no doubt encouraged by the belief that the Fatherland meant to hold Samoa when the stream of commerce should come rushing through between the two Americas. There is a theory about this operation that the French will hardly be pleased with when they come to realize that their millions spent upon the Panama ditch for the glory of DeLesseps and France, were really encouraging Germany in schemes of conquest against a brave little island away off in the Pacific. And supposing the canal finished and Germany in possession of Samoa, the first act of the great nation on the new commercial highway, would not the French be wrathful to think that they had labored so hard for the benefit of the hated Germans. Things may now turn out very differently, however, and it is hoped that Bismarck will be sharply taught the difference between hectoring and bullying at home and the same policy abroad, and that the final piercing of the isthmus will lead commerce past the neutral and peaceful islands of Samoa.

more important signs appear than ever. His complexion is spotted as a "Widow's Black" skin. GENERAL CHARLES F. HERRING died in Philadelphia on Thursday of paralysis. Mr. Herring was colonel of the One Hundred and Eighteenth Pennsylvania Volunteer Infantry, and brigadier general. He was aged 82 years. PRESIDENT CHEVREUIL gave a reception to the diplomatic corps Thursday evening. The president of the University of Pennsylvania is receiving by the Bayard, Mrs. Fairchild, Mrs. Endicott, Mrs. Whitney and Mrs. Dickinson. SENATOR WASHINGTON entertained the following Pennsylvania farmers at the following evening, taking them afterward to the diplomatic reception at the White House: George W. Childs, James B. Roberts, Frank Thompson, A. J. Cassatt, C. A. Griscom, Judge Biddis, Judge Green, Judge Fell, Frederick Frisley and E. P. Wilber. Those who accompanied the party to dinner were James G. Blaine, Secretary Whitney, Senators Quay, Butler and Farwell. The President of the University of Pennsylvania has thrown light on the smoke cloud that overhangs Lancaster. He says it contains no less than 60 tons of solid carbon and 500 tons of water vapor. This is, of course, based on the amount of coal burned in the city and carrying on its industries. The waste is estimated at $13,000,000 each year, while the loss from damage to property is put at $1,000,000. It is not possible to estimate of the loss from damage to health. The field is not an open one to devise some way of utilizing or preventing waste in heating, lighting and running the machinery of our large towns.

PAINE'S CELESTIAL COMPOUND. MY POOR BACK. That's the common explanation of those suffering with rheumatism or kidney troubles. In either disease Paine's Celestial Compound will surely effect a cure, and there will no longer be any cause to complain of "poor backs." Hundreds of testimonials like the following confirm our claims for that grand old remedy, Paine's Celestial Compound. "Two weeks ago I could not sleep more than an hour at a time any night, was constipated and kidneys did not act, and had a good deal of pain in the back. Since I took Paine's Celestial Compound the pain left my back, and I can sleep like a child." James Sanders, West Windsor, Vermont. "Having been troubled with rheumatism for five years, I was almost unable to get around, and was very often obliged to my bed for weeks at a time. I have used nearly all medicines imaginable, besides outside advice, but to no advantage. Having seen Paine's Celestial Compound advertised, I gave it a trial. I have used only one bottle and am perfectly cured. I can now jump around and feel lively as a boy." Frank Carroll, Eureka, Nevada. Price, $1.00. Six for $5.00. SOLD BY DRUGGISTS. J. B. MARTIN & CO. CLEANING UP ODD LOTS. Cleaning up the Odd Lots, and you will see on our counters the bargains of a month ago with the prices out in halves and quarters. Heavy Damper that were fast sellers during the Fall have been added down to one, two and three pairs, and we don't want them taken in our inventory. The result is the $10 and $12 Silk Oblong Curtains are now $5, $7 and $8, the quality making the price. Lovely Patterns for Portiere Drapery in the lot. The mild winter has made Ladies' and Children's Coats "store loungers," and to give them activity the prices must take a tumble. We mean to "Turn the Season Out," and the Best Plush Coats we advertised so extensively a month ago at $30 are now $22.50. Others in proportion. Modjeskas, Raglans, Fedoras and Jackets are also "in the soup" and the prices are all out. A lot of Ladies' and Children's Coats have had a transformation "some take place on their ticks, and the former prices appear with a line of red ink across their face, and their successor half-price is marked below in plain figures. All the books carried over from Christmas have been reduced, you have a chance to fill your library at 50c on the $1.00.

Ex-Governor CURTIN has written to Mrs. Sheridan warmly commending the personal memoirs of General Sheridan as a book "designed to take its place among those fortunate books that mankind delights to read and cherish." This is a reminder of the extravagant praise that followed the publication of General Grant's memoirs, which were warmly received and live in history as have the Gallic commentaries of Julius Caesar. No doubt the memoirs of Grant and Sheridan will prove in the long run most enduring specimens of our war literature and both will be well known long after many a world famous work of romance and poet of the day has been forgotten. They are written in a simple and graphic style of great events, and it is not surprising that Curtin should enthusiastically exclaim of Sheridan's work "It should be in the hands of every American who loves his country and is proud of her heroes." But the time is coming, and not very slowly, when the rights of the general in his practice of parts of the civil war will fall upon the public taste, and the best of patriots will only care for a concise and easily remembered narrative of the whole struggle in the compass of one handy volume. Libraries have been written on the French revolution, and every year adds to them, but the length of history and the shortness of life make the readers of long memoirs few.

THE AMERICAN SOCIETY OF CIVIL ENGINEERS held a meeting in New York, on Thursday, and elected for president Max J. Becker, of Pittsburgh, but of German birth. Mr. Becker was warmly opposed at first, because some thought that a native American should be chosen for the office. One of his supporters volunteered to prove that the candidate was not a foreigner. He told how he came here from Germany, being ordered to leave there on account of political troubles, and went to work teaching an onion patch on Staten Island for 4 months and his board. Then he went up to Dutchess county and worked on a farm. He had worked his way up to the charge of 1,500 miles of railroad and had grown rich. "There," he confidently declared, "nobody but an American could ever have done that."

THE INDIAN LEGISLATURE is making a great noise over what is going to do for the purification of the ballot, the suppression of the White Caps and the smashing of trusts. For the first named purpose no less than nine bills have been introduced and the White Caps are threatened by a law against "riotous conspiracy" with a four-year penalty of imprisonment attached, while persons agreeing to prevent free competition or anything leading to create a monopoly are threatened by another bill with $10,000 fine and five years in prison. By and by we will learn how much of this shouting is for effect and how much means business.
