e is no doubt that Harrison is very it to take Blaine, as he does not like m and knows that he cannot trust him.

Ith Allison he would be enaly comfortable, knowing him to a decent and honest man. With such setten rescal as Blaine about him, he be ever on the anxious bench. He never be safe in accepting his si, which he could never rely upon as which he could never rely upon as seed and wise. Nevertheless it is believed that he intends to invite into his sensel this unsafe and treacherous coundlor. It is supposed that the harmony his party requires him to put Blaine to his cabinet because he has been be party's leader. His claim to lection upon this ground is unsationabled. His appointment is fursafer recommended by the suggestion hat he will be less hurtful inside than a kicker outsile, and if he is taken s kicker outsi ie, and if he is taken will be upon this consideration. Mean-tale Harrison has demonstrated with the greatest clearness his unwillingness appoint him, by his long delay in extending the invitation. A man in Blaine's position as the foremost leader in his sarty, would have had the first call into consultation with the party's presidentiation, if he had been anything less than abhorrent to him. And Blaine's humiliation will be great in accepting a cabinet to the consultation now. itation now. Wild Times in France.

Boulanger has triumphed to the cry of Long live the Republic! Dissolution! tevision!" and cautious patriots in se and much fear in the last words of It is always hard for outsiders to form correct estimate of the political health a foreign country but most students of French affairs are agreed that though Scolanger and many of his followers may e sincere in their protestations of fidelity the republic, their popular support is of kind that will not enable them to exeas the radical reforms that theydemand. push it will drive them with headlong seed to the overthrow of the presen ent. When a constitutional conis called, a very large portion of so for him or for the republic part of his ion cry. The imperialists, royalists and enemies of the republic will have tht in the rush. To our eyes the gen mal appears a desperate and unscrupuous demagague, and the enormous majorby he has secured in Paris would indicate bopeless depravity in the people if we aid not know that many of his votes ere not cast for him, but for the revision of the constitution, which a great number of good citizens feel to be necessary.

As a soldier Boulanger is chiefly dis-inguished for defiant disobedience of ers, as a statesman for his shameful stempt to bully the venerable Floquet as a duelist for his failure bit that cool old gentleman. In the short political struggle just ed he was caught lying about letter to the Duke d'Aumale, which he aled having written, but which was ablished in fac-simile, aside of his feedal; and marvelous to relate, his friends admitted and defended the falseand. This is Spartan morality. There is of for fear that that with his immense ity he may have a personal followog large enough to defy those who have ly supported him for the sake of revin, but all who wish well to France fill hope that he may soon come down the the rocket stick, leaving a clear sky shind him.

The Samon Question.

The German side of the Samoan story ers widely from the American version, nat even by their own account they are bown to have been in the wrong. The aptains of the German men-of-war represented as conferring and resolvupon the disarmament of the ns, without a word to the Ameran and British consuls. A strong armed force was sent to effect the disarmament of the king's forces. There is no reference whatever to the facts detailed in all the other accounts, as to the killing of a chief d many of his followers, before Matafa's men returned the German fire.

The facts as they are detailed in the stest reliable reports received here show hat the captain of the German war vesof Olga notified the warring natives to aliver their arms aboard the ship, ich as this would be the best ntee of peacefulness between the ive factions; and warned them, that the arms were not surrendered by a in hour their town would be fired The natives did not comply with demand; their town was fired on, and ards burned by the Germans; and res the origin of the complication : h has been further added to, by the set that several of the houses burned ed to Americans and were marked the national flag flying from them. harred remains of one of these flags es just been received at the state department through the mail. Under this statement of the facts, there been in the wrong, provided this suarry intends to maintain its claim at the Samoan government is to sampacted and maintained by foreign ions and that we are to have the same r and privileges in Samoa as the most and privileges in Samoa as the most and nations. If, on the other hand, many has taken possession of Samoa sequeror, as she and other nations teem in the habit of doing with the question arises whether we may mediretanding is that as to Samon no agreement with Germany.

Greaty and England have ovenanted together that neither should eal more than the other from the Samoans.

The United States expect to come in under the terms of this agreement, which shows that Samoa is not a purely German conquest. The captain of the Olga evidently thought that it was none of the business of the United States how he treated the offending Samoans so that England was satisfied; and this is the question in the case; and it is for Congram to decide.

Some Republican journalists, of heads as weak as their hearts are malevolent, are charging Secretary Bayard with lack of backbone in not declaring the policy of the nation in this matter; and this though all the fact are hardly yet at hand and when Congress is in session and has received from the president all the infor-mation he had, as soon as it came to hand. It is clearly the duty of Congress to de-clare the national policy in the matter. There is no question of the Monroe doctrine in these distant islands; and there is absolutely nothing in the case except an assault by Germany upon the Samoan government; unless the burning of the homes and flags of citizens of this country constitutes an assault upon it; or the failure of Germany to admit the United States to like privi to admit the United States to like privi-leges with England makes a casus belli. In any case executive action must wait upon the declaration of Congress, while that body is in session, since there does not seem to be any established policy to govern the case.

City Road Damages.

The new municipal bill provides that the expense of opening streets in the city shall be borne by the citizens without any help from the county. A provision of this kind was in the original draft of the former municipal bill but by the vigorous exertions of Lancaster menit was removed; but there is great danger that it will remain a part of the present measure. There is little doubt that such a provision would have an ill effect upon the development of the city, as the people can hardly be expected to favor projects for the opening of streets for the benefit of the whole county, but for which only the city would have to pay.

It may be that, under the other arrangement, streets are opened for which there is no urgent demand, but as the expense falls lightly on the whole county, and a measure of public benefit is assured, it seems much better to run the risk of this abuse than to submit without protest to legislation that is injurious and unfair to the city. No sufficient reason can be given why the county should pay for roads and streets in townships and villages and not in cities, where people are equally taxed for county purposes and where the county secures a larger revenue because of the greater value of the property; and so is compensated for the greater damages it has to pay for property taken for roads.

In the French Chamber of Deputies member cracked a grim joke at the expense of Premier Ficquet, which may be realised if Boulanger in power proves as dreadful a fellow as his opponents believe him to be. M. Lemarzelle remarked that M. Floquet's predecessors were more liberal in their views, and he created much laughter at M. is called, a very large portion of Ficquet's expense by saying: "At your ger's following will have no further age Robespierre had already been guil-

On Saturday at least a dozen men were fastened to a buge chain, and the abject humility pictured upon their countenances as they passed cut East King street was painful to behold. Men, women and chil-dren haited in amazament and watched the manacled unfortunates struggling towards the Baetile. It was simply a disgraceful scene. Sheriff Burkholder must feel very uncomfortable bringing up the rear of the procession. The trifling cost of using the "Black Maria" would not distress the taxpayers. That vehicle has served its purpose during the administrations of Burkholder's predecessors, and the discontinuing of it is not halled by the community as a "reform,"

HOOD'S SARSAPARILLA.

THE PLAIN TRUTH

Is that Hood's Sarsaparilla has cured thou-sands of people who suffered severely with rheumatism. It neutralises the lactic sold in rheumatism. It neutralises the lactic acid in the blood, which causes those terrible pain and aches, and also vitalises and enriches the blood, thus preventing the recurrence of the disease. These lacts warrant us in urging you, if you suffer with rhoumatism, to give Hood's faresparilia a trial.

CARPETS.

If you would step into the pholstering room on the third floor of the store you would meet, ten hours in the day and oftentimes in the evening, a busy throng of workpeople. This has been the busiest January in our carpet business since the store's birth, and all the carpets sold and to be laid by us less it is a positive fact, that there are parlors in this city, containing the finest quality of carpets, that have been fitted and laid down by people who have never learned the trade, not even served an apprenticeship, and the result can be seen in ridges at the seams, the ill-fitting border especially at the fireplace and bay window, the heavy cross joins, the reversal of the nap, &c. Our head upholsterer is the highest salaried man in the store, and his duty consists of matching the carpet and border to its best advantage, so that the customer is not compelled to pay for extra waste; after that, to mitre the border correctly and then to distribute the sizing on back of carpet so that when laid it does not wrinkle. The carpet then goes to the sewers, and a complicated little sewing machine, by the way the only one BARGAINS, in this city, is run along the seams and does the work quickly and thoroughly, completely outdoing hand sewing. This patented carpet sewer has been adopted by all the largest carpet houses throughout the country. Next appearance of the carpet is at the customer's house in charge of the carpet layers. The first thing these industrious people do is to empty a paper of carpet tacks in their mouths, and the lightning rapidity a tack is plucked from the mouth, stuck into a carpet and driven home with a hammer is a modern wonder. Tap, tap, tap, all around the room, and when the job is completed there DRAP DE' ALMA is not a show for a word of comtime try is to turn out best of plaint. No puffs here and no puffs there, no nap reversed, not drawn too tightly, but perfect. The carpet has gone through the hands of thorough mechanics, from the fitting to the laying, and perfection must
