PROPOSED SHIRT FACTORY.

STEPS TO ESTABLISH A NEW INDUSTRY IN COLUMBIA.

Thousand Dollars Subscribed and Four Hundred—A Caucus to Be Made to Secure the Necessary Capital—A Visit for Mr. Kay's Novelty Works.

COLUMBIA, Feb. 6.—A meeting of those interested in the proposed shirt factory was held this evening. E. T. Graves, superintendent of the Standard shirt factory, Potts[illegible] was present and explained the workings of a factory of this kind. A representative of the Wheeler & Wilson manufacturing company was also present and gave an estimate of the machinery required. A committee on subscriptions will make a canvass among the citizens, and their report at a meeting on Monday evening will decide whether the industry will be started. Pledges amounting to $6,000 have been secured, and if this amount can be raised to $10,000 the shirt factory will be started.

Messrs. J. A. Meyers, H. F. Bruner, J. Minich, J. Rothchild, James Perrottet, [illegible] Rothenheimer, Frederick Rucher and [illegible]. B. Given left this morning for Mount Joy, where they will examine the novelty works of that place. The proprietor desires to locate in some other place and an attempt will be made to have him come here.

Edwin Boyle's thumb was mashed and Thomas Christian Stoner's ankle was sprained yesterday.

Miss Gemke, an elocutionist of Philadelphia, will recite at the Musurgichor concert this evening from "School for Scandal" and Bret Harte's gipsy tale.

The ladies of the Presbyterian Church Aid society will give a 5 o'clock tea in the basement parlors of George Crane on Friday, February 22.

A SUCCESSFUL ENTERTAINMENT.

Prof. Thorbahn's Scholars Appear in a Concert in Trinity Chapel.

Last evening the first grand concert under the management of Prof. Carl Thorbahn was given in the chapel of Trinity Lutheran church. The musicians were young scholars of the professor, nearly all of whom reside in this city, and the orchestra was made up as follows:

First violins, Miss Edith Metzgar, Messrs. Frank Loeb, Hopkins and Weichanez; second violins, Misses Fahnestock, Best, Ruth and Ollison; violas, Messrs. Morris Loeb, Walter Mellenkey and Royer; bass violin, Mr. Fred. Hess; cornets, Messrs. Welrick, Metzger and Ursprung; flutes, Messrs. Thomas McCaskey, Mohn and Sensenig; clarionets, Messrs. Bowman and Byerly; piano, Thomas Thorbahn; trombone, Mr. Kelly; drum, Mr. Long; piano, Miss Fannie Thorbahn, with Prof. Thorbahn director.

The programme was as follows:

PART I.

Overture—"Reception," Orchestral School, Hungarian Dance" (Liled Chas Worth), Orchestral School.

Piano Duo—"Rhapsodie-Hongroise," Misses Mary Bowman and M. Mae Byerly, of Millersville.

Violin Solo—"Carnival of Venice," Miss Edith Metzger.

Piano Solo—"La Traviata-Largo del Finale, No. 19," Miss M. Mae Byerly.

Clarionet—"Rondo No. 21," Edith Metzger, Miss Fahnestock, Frank Loeb and Harry Hopkins.

PART II.

Overture—"Sylvester," Orchestral School.

Violin Solo—Weber's Lestzter Gedanke," Mr. Frank Loeb.

Piano Solo—"Sonata 8, op. 13," Miss Mary Bowman.

Clarionet Solo—Mr. Carl Thorbahn.

"Chansonnette," Orchestral School.

"Rival Medley," Orchestral School.

The concert was a great success, and the scholars showed the effects of their careful training by their instructor, to whom much credit is due. One of the best features of the concert was the imitations by the professor of a beginner on a clarionet.

The next concert will be given in April.

A Fire Scare.

There was a fire scare at the house of William Snyder, who keeps a saloon on Lemon street, last night. Mr. Snyder placed a newspaper in the top of a self feeding stove, and then left the room. Part of the paper burned, but the remainder did not. The result was that the room was soon filled with smoke. This led the family to believe that the house was on fire, and preparations were made to extinguish the flames and save the children and household goods. There was great excitement for a time until the true state of affairs became known.

The Cold Weather.

There has been a great change of weather in the past twenty-four hours, and, although the icemen feel somewhat better, they are by no means confident. The rain of last evening was followed by a snow, which did not last long. A cold northwest wind then began blowing, making the air very raw and chilly. This morning at 7 o'clock the thermometer was down to 12 degrees above zero at Zahm's corner and at noon it was 28 above. The creek is not yet frozen over, although there is ice along the edges. The weather is fast making ice on the ponds, however.

Prisoners Taken to the Penitentiary.

The sheriff of York, with five deputies, went to Philadelphia this morning on Harrisburg Express. They had six prisoners in charge and were taking them to the Eastern penitentiary.

This morning Deputy Sheriffs Armstrong and McLane went to Philadelphia, taking Henry Watson, the Welsh mountain desperado, and Wallace Walker, of Marietta, convicted of killing his brother, to the penitentiary.

Handsome Harness.

To-day the pair of heavy horses of Shoffstall & Brother, dealers in oysters, &c., made their appearance on the streets in a new set of heavy harness that are very pretty. They are brass mounted, and the initial "M" is seen at different places. On the side of the housings are the names of the horses. The harness attracted a great deal of attention as the team passed through the streets.

Assessor Removed From Office.

The county commissioners have removed William M. Albright, of West Hempfield township, from office, for failure to perform his duties. Reuben M. Fridy has been appointed to fill the vacancy. As it will be necessary for Mr. Fridy to make a new assessment, the day of appeal has been changed from March 14 to April 16.

Only Five of Them

The mayor had five cases this morning, although the weather was pretty rough for tramps. Charles Weaver and Charles Moore, two dirty looking bums, who would rather beg than work, were sent to the workhouse for 10 days each. The other lodgers were discharged.

An Actress Gives a Supper.

Miss Emma Frank, of the dramatic company playing "Dot," gave a birthday party and supper to her company and friends at Hotel Penn in Reading last evening. Among the guests present were Oscar Kenney and Sam Buch. The lady received many handsome presents.

Released on Habeas Corpus.

Emma Atchey, colored, committed to jail for drunkenness and disorderly conduct, was taken before Judge Patterson on writ of habeas corpus on Wednesday afternoon. She was discharged on account of illness.

A Donkey Party.

After the meeting of the lodge of Sons and Daughters of America last evening, a donkey party was held. There was a great deal of fun.

Sprained His Wrist.

Jacob Keich, of Millersville, fell on the ice Monday and badly sprained his wrist and [illegible] arm.

IN COMMON PLEAS COURT.

The Cases Disposed Of and on Trial the Past 24 Hours.

The jury in the suit of Oliver P. Brubaker vs. David S. Thomas, executor of Christian L. Bausman, tried before Judge Patterson, rendered a verdict in favor of plaintiff for $97 61. B. F. Davis for plaintiff; D. McMullen for defendant.

The suit of N. N. Bender vs. Lititz National bank was attached for trial on Tuesday afternoon. Plaintiff claimed that in April, 1887, he made two deposits of $150 each at the Lititz National bank. One he made himself and the other he sent to bank by a messenger. Some time afterwards he gave a check which was dishonored, although he claimed that he had more than enough money in bank to meet the check.

The defense was that there was not sufficient money in bank when the check referred to was presented for payment; that there was only one deposit of $150 made the day Mr. Bender claimed he made two. The bank made a tender of $45.00, the amount in bank to his credit when his check was protested, but the amount plaintiff declined to accept. On trial.

BEFORE JUDGE LIVINGSTON:

The jury in the suit of Samuel Shaeffer vs. Baron Wasson, found in favor of plaintiff for $24 47. James M. Walker for plaintiff; George A. Lane for defendant.

The suit of John Feagley vs. Jacob H. Norbeck and Jacob Miley was attached on Tuesday afternoon. This was an issue to determine the amount due on a judgment given by defendants for $10,000, as collateral security. Plaintiff testified that the amount still due on the judgment is $2,607 25. The defendants did not call any witnesses or offer any testimony and the jury found in favor of plaintiff for $2,607 25. Wm. Leaman and H. M. Houser for plaintiff; J. Hay Brown and W. H. Roland for defendants.

The suit of Jacob M. Frantz vs. John W. Charles, David Martin and B. W. Charles was attached for trial late on Tuesday afternoon. This was a suit to recover the balance due on a promissory note given by defendants in 1879 to John Eshbach. Half of the note was paid by Martin to Eschbach, who transferred his interest in balance to Jacob M. Frantz.

The defense was that Martin paid his share of the note to Eshbach with the understanding that he was not to be held for any further sum. The statute of limitation now prevents the collection of the claim from Charles. On trial.

CURRENT BUSINESS.

The tavern license of David Mengle, American house, was transferred to John Britton.

The court made an order for the opening of Pearl street.

Isabella Kemper, of Ephrata township, was declared to be a feme sole trader.

A New Book Case.

The county commissioners have made a much needed improvement in their office. The registry books accumulate very fast and they have had no suitable place for storing all of them until now. Along the western side of the room they have had a very large book-case built, which has a capacity for holding 1,000 books. In it the books of fifteen years have been placed. Those of the past three years, which are often referred to, are kept in the old cases along the south wall.

Diphtheria Defeated.

The Paris Figaro says that two professors connected with the Pasteur institute have succeeded in identifying the generative microbe of diphtheria. The discovery of a preventive of this disease by means of vaccine virus is expected to follow.

The President Goes to New York.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 6.—The president, his wife and Col. Lamont quietly left Washington for New York last night on the 11:20 train.

Meat For the Poor.

Charles E. Hostar, hotel proprietor, has given 102 pounds of meat to the soup house.

The Great Lecturer.

Col. Wm. R. Aylett, of the Virginia supreme court, and grandson of the illustrious Patrick Henry, who lectures in Fulton opera house, on March 4, is the gentlemen who sent a wagon load of roses from the Patrick Henry homestead, at Aylett's Court House, near Richmond, to decorate the graves of the Northern soldiers, buried at Richmond. It was noticed in terms of praise by the press of our country. No one who can possibly secure a ticket should fail to hear this eloquent Virginian tell of Hancock, Meade, Reynolds, and the thousands of private soldiers, who fell at Gettysburg. Philadelphia's Academy of Music rang with cheers when he was there in May last. Tickets should be secured early, and no lover of true eloquence should miss it. A rare treat is in store.

Miss Lockwood's Lecture.

Miss Belva Lockwood, the distinguished orator and late candidate for president of the United States, will lecture in the Court House, under the auspices of Post 84, G. A. R., on Thursday evening next. The Fulton Journal says of her in the lecture she will deliver here: "An interesting lecture, well delivered by a remarkable woman, is the verdict of all who heard Belva Lockwood lecture on 'Social and Political Life in Washington,' in Fulton Opera House last Wednesday evening. We will venture to assert that not one of the audience but held a better opinion of Belva Lockwood after than before the lecture."
