It is the wooderful increase in Ballate the wooderful increase in Ballate the wooderful increase in Ballate by grain trade has already resulted a very remarkable development. Mr.
late, general freight agent of the Pennlyania milroad, appears to tell the story
a very frank way of how this thing ame about. He says that he discovered, fout the end of November, that the latimete & Ohio railroad was taking m the Northwest for Baltimore dan the prescribed rate of 22 cents dred pounds from Chicago. This see Baltimore three cents advanover New York and Philadelphia. is conceded for some reason that ies the trunk lines; perhaps because re ha little town whose competithey do not fear, or perhaps because could not do better and have peace. may to see that the Pennsylvania managers are content with the ment, because they have a line to re and it suits them about as well it does the Baltimore & Ohio to have ntage in grain carrying over their tors to the port of New York. are is a lovely unity between the two ore railroad lines in Baltimore's shalf. But this unity, according to Mr. apoe, was broken toward the end of per and remained broken until the isth of December; on December 17th it

But in the fortnight of its dissolution here was a wonderful exhibition of se energy. So much grain was bought, that the Pennsylvania railroad was kept busy, for six weeks after the purchases closed, transporting the grain. It hurried it to Baltimore in such quantity as to flood its elevators, and to fill its icks with grain cars almost from Baltimore to York; and now has started a regular line of steamers to take the grain to Europe.

Evidently it contemplates further inexceptions of the entente cordiale bewhich may occur whenever there is a great pile of grain in the Northwest await-ng shipment and plenty of B. & O. & P. R. B. cars hungering for it. We may assome that there was not much grain in rasks after the last active purchasing ald of a fortnight's duration.

The inter-state commission will doubt ion rejoice to find these two great rail-road companies on such pleasant relations with each other. It only took them two weeks to find that they were doing wrong; and then they quit instantly. It Bolen goods; of course no one could expect hem to carry the grain back again, for the purpose of giving the other railroads the fair chance at it of which they had heated them by dropping the carrying gree to twenty cents. But they are serry they were so naughty, or say they e; and repentance is a good thing.

It is just the commonest thing for men so seek wealth, without regard to the th they take, during the years needed late it, and to become very reestant and plous during the remainder their lives. It is a very nice arrangement-first cash and then glory. So these railroads get their dividend and then get

There are some few things that can not be controlled by rules and among them the rising and setting of the sun. We amend the fact to the thoughtful attention of the official of the Pennsylvania railroad who is responsible for the management of the gates at the railroad crossing on North Queen street. At six o'clock those gates quit work and the harmless citizen who has been educated to reliance upon them drives upon the track with a feeling of security in his heart, and in his mind a store of blessings on the kindness of the high and mighty corporation that storped to these measures for the care of lite and limb. Unless Providence is kind the citizen who does this may be killed quite as effectually as if the gates had never been erected. It is pretty rally known that the gates don't work at night, but if they are not kept working waile daylight lasts they will be little better than no gates at all. There no reason visible why the night ratchman should not work the gates tendity all night long, and we fail to see why lives should be imperiled because of the lack of orders or rules to supply the lace of intelligence and sense of duty on the part of a railroad employe.

Young Republicans.

We see by the elaborate accounts of our emporaries that the Young Republicans had a supper. It seems to have been marked by a deluge of soup and water ; the orators were Emory Smith and Marriott Brosius; it was a very liquid supper indeed, without having any beverage noted in the bill of fare stronger than coffee and tsa. They had turtle soup and they had Swrapin soup ; and little else to eat that was good save Smith and Brosius. Now Smith and Brosius are good-for talk. Brosius may be styled the ice cream of the occasion; and Smith the Saratoga chips. They were both served cold, but riott was the colder. Neither was highly seasoned, but Smith was the saltier

And they gave the Young Republicans the full flow and vigor of their eloquence. Tiey talked long and wildly. Mr. Smith stought a Republican was personified purity, and Blaine was peerless. This guaranteed to hold until it pays to get out a new edition.

Mr. Brosius got on Gibraltar. Mr. socius has a happy habit of mounting desta's, and does the act with grace not than Mary Anderson's. Lancaster Paradise, according to Brosius, beside ring Gibraltar. Gibraltar consequently was the Garden of Eden. Just how a we rock in the sea can be conceived to the Garden, we do not clearly see, Auxious inquirers are respectfully re red to Brosius. We are not me but that he makes out that nai's burning summit" is in this omty. He lugs it in around about m's sanctuary" in his speech, and so are sure that he located the sanctuary our soil. We should really like to er can flad out from him.

THE INTELLIGENCES published some ago as secount of the finding of eggs with powder in a York county barn, Balg a bere leganding fice have been so frequent. A dispatch from Baltimore gives the following description of another incendiary device used by the same mirroreasts: "The instrument usually used in setting fire to the barns is about the size of two fists, and covered with wet phosphorus. In the centre of this ball was an opening about the size of an egg, and filled with powder, in which was stuck a quill for the parpine, it is thought, of preventing absorption of moisture, and thus keeping the powder dry. This device is placed in some secluded place, and when the phosphorus dries ignition follows and an explosion of the pawder, which completes the work."

This is evidently a development of the erg ides. It is estainly very strange that any one should take so much trouble and risk with no other motive apparent than indiscriminate destruction of property. The most starming thing about the fires is the evidence given of the power of a very few careful Anarobists to terrorize a whole vigilant community. It begins to look as though we were slowly approaching a state of society in which the man with a knowle ige of chemietry and a little ingentity may defy justice and practice oppression as effectually as the mail olad mounted barons of media val days.

A Terrible Misfortune. It is a calamity of the direst kind to feel that one's physical energies are failing in the p of life—to feel more nerveless, more dispirited, weaker every day. Yet this is the unhappy lot weaker every day. Yet this is the unhappy lot of hundreds who surround us. A source of renewed strength which science approves in behalf of which multitudes of the debilitated have and are every day testifying, and which, in countless instances, has built up constitutions sapped by weakness and infirmity and long unbenedited by other means, surely commends itself to all who need a tonic.
