An Inlant With a Mead Weighing Forty five

Dartmouth Medical college, at Han-The Dartmouth Medical college, at Han-over, N. H., has found a most startling case of chronic hydrocephalus, or, in plain English, water on the brain, and already the medi-cal fraternity are pussling their brains over the strange human fresk, whose head weighed forty five pounds and its bodyonly seven pounds. No similar case has ever been known to reach such enormous dimen-tions. The child has just died, aged 22 months.

Two physicians connected with the medical college had the child's photograph taken for use in a medical work on the subject. At birth the child's head was of normal size, but in about two weeks it began to enlarge. When 28 months old the child weighed fifty-two pounds and the head was estimated to weigh forty to forty-five pounds.

The child was never weened, and, after the first two weeks of a welling was unable to support that tremendous weight alone or hold its head erect. The only symptors of intelligence ever given in the little sufferer were after the head had so enlarged as to draw up the lower lids and almost close the eyes, when he would lift his hand at dattempt to draw down the tightened akin, that he might be able to see his mothe? The terrible deformity did not aftect the tender cars of the mother for this unfortunate child, and he received every stiention that could have been bestowed upon the most favored.

Sympathy is best shown when practiced in its application. Therefore when you sympa-thize with your suvering baby, show it prac-tically by using Dr. Bull's Raby syrup, and thus cure your child. Price 25 cents a bottle. Sold everywhere. The salest, surest and cheapest remedy yet discovered for that disordered condition of the liver known as "billousness" is Laxador. Price 25 cents.

Empure cure guaranteed by Dr. J. B. Mayer, 881 Arch street, Philadelphia. Ease at once, no operation or delay from business, attested by thousands of cures after others fall, advice free, send for circular. mario-lydaw
