not forbidden; and upon this ex-Chief Justice Agnew and intelligent men, who cannot get of man must be respected be law, feel themselves able approve of a law which of intoxicating liquor. It is mania fine point to rest upon, since hat a man cannot make or buy he obsuity cannot use. But, they reply, he may it outside the state. And this at is so; but if every outside counsuld prohibit its people from makand selling intoxicating liquor, it not be had by Pennsylvanians that those who prohibit its acture here, and admit that use cannot be forbidden, rely upon the greater respect for be rights manifested by other counto maintain their position that they rightly forbid the making and the ing by the people of Pennsylvania of they may not rightly forbid their ion. And it is clearly a very position to take. That this law wil ot be effective in suppressing the use toxicating liquor is demonstrated the liberty given the citizen buy such liquor outside the and bring it into it as his property. The most that can be exrestrict the consumption of intoxicating liquors, just as the high license aystem is expected to do. The radical fact in the working of the policy is that does not give the state the opportunity upervise the consumption of intoxiants, as the license system does; and semore it deprives the state of the high license fees, as well as the tax upon he property used in the manufacture of beverages ; to say nothing of the in-ridual loss inflicted upon those engaged

Is does seem that no friend of tempersee can be enchanted with the idea of the unrestrained use of intoxicating ors, imported into Pennsylvania from states; it is very hard indeed to say how any intelligence can be persuaded that the result will be favorable to tem-It will cause a wholesale purthese of liquor by the consumers; the ral result will be its wholesale con-

It will not matter to the fanatic that a large industry has been driven out of the state and given to its neighbors. Pennsylvania will be, thereby delivered, they will my from a great sin ; and her greater plory will be full compensation for her

But what have the farmers to say about it, who are free now to make wine from their vineyards and cider from their orchards? They underof course, that this new ion will deprive them of their privilege of making any beverage that may intoxicate. The solid form is the easy one in which intoxicants can be taken. They may eat their apples and sir grapes, their corn and their rye; and they may eat their fermented and disd juice, if they first solidify it; as they may do in winter, very cheaply rhaps, by freezing it. We undertand that frozen intoxicants will be free, since they are clearly not beverages And we note, as the result of the success of this prohibition amendment, that the vending of solidified liquor will blosom out into a great business in Pennsylvania to the great detriof the citizens' stomachs but to the contentment of the doctors, the undertakers and the untaxed venders of the cold collation. We do not estand that the frozen stomach may not be promptly relieved by a hot beverage, that is not intoxicating; and we se for that troublesome member of he human economya succession of hot and old shocks that will try it severely, and seduce it to a chronic state of dyspepsia, that is guaranteed to be a sure cause of stal irritability, and that may be elied on to cause more murdering and wife - beating than even the liberal ount now charged to the sale of liquid intericants.

So that our latter end will be very apt to be worse than the first, between the free importation of wholesale lots of in-toxicating beverages by social clubs and the sale of solidified intoxicating liquor by unlicented dealers.

Brain Cavilles.

It is popularly supposed that a man thinks with his brain and a pig may be osed to do his limited amount of thinking with the same organ, but a particularly intelligent and thoughtful that was slain and examined the er day in Freehold, New Jersey, had no brain at all; ergo, the brain is not mary for thought! Whatever may thought of this conclusion it has never a proved that size of brain had much do with ability, for though Daniel ebster and other great men have had go brairs, many very able men have ad ordinary, or even small brains. It has been argued by those who doubt immortality of man that without brain to think with there can be no rught, and the proposition seems at signes strong enough until the quesnes, why can not the power that es through the brain work through seathing else, through something too abile and impalpable for our coarse Science tells us that nerves cenin the brain, but of the capacities of force that is at work there we can may judge by results. We can not even necessariate as to its mysterious method of gration. Some citizens, for example, do or pel tical thinking with the memory distrated accestors. There are stateswto think with their party', lawwho think with their authorities; and s, who think with their lungs, and mailty the late wise pig of Jersey herethetrila should have been. At events, his pigly thought was to some dorn a tale; for his life was spared a line and his lack of brain reproves who are always doubting mysterauths because they can not deive the them and his lack of brain reproves who are always doubting mysterauths because they can not deive the them and the how and why.

WARRINGTON'S birthday appears to be reviving as a holiday, and it may be cale-brated hereafter by a great annual fox chase. Young George was an ardent follower of

The highly ornamental City Troop of Philadelphia will not go to Washington for the inaugural parade. They say that they cannot stand the loss of prestige which they would suffer by taking second place in the line, because they have always had first place at presidential inaugurations and while finding no fault with General Harrison's choice of his old regiment for a body guard they decline to imperii their ancient guard they decline to imperit their ancien prerogative. All this is very magnificen on the part of the City Troop but it will hardly be likely to save the impartied preregative. People will ask why they were ever selected for this distinguished considers ien and be-yond the fast that their ranks have been recruited more or less from toe first families of Philadelphia, there is no answer. Being men of wealth and owners of blooded stock, they have always been able to make a peculiarly forcible impression of military magnificence, but cur presidents are men of the people, and are supposed to have no taste for regal pomp, and as the bonor is to the escort, rather than to the one escorted, it would seem proper to select for this distinction some-thing more honorable than clothes and horses and blue blood. It is time that this fistiering of aristocratic vanity should stop play be given in turn to the permanent cavalry organization of the army, whose records bear the name of many an unsung Balaklave.

FACETIOUS conservative member of the Canadian Parliament suggests that Canada should buy the Eastern states of this republic. This is in burlesque of the American talk of annexing Canada, and assuming her national debt. It might be a good thing for the country to let New England go at a fair price, as her population is now said to be largely of foreign birth, and the barren soil is not worth much. The Yankee stock has drifted to other parts, and the Western Yankee is now the most valuable variety. The transfer would also relieve us of Blaine, but his

THE American men of-war in the harbon of Ville Franche, near Nice, celebrated the birthday of Washington in grand style, a: d an account is cabled to the Herald of the salvos of saluting cannon in memory of Washington and in compliment to the reach flort which dropped into that little Mediterranean port to see what all the moise was about. When the French ad-miral saw the bunting on the American vessel there, he remembered that it was Washington's birtiday and with true French politeness he ordered his vessels to sea again and when the fleet appeared again in half an hour; all the veucle were gally decked with bunting, with the stars and stripes on the mainmast. The British training ship Mercury sent a crowd of boys to visit the Lancester, probably as an interesting historical relic of obsolete menof-war. It is pleasing to find that our old navy can at least be ornamental.

THE New York Sun in an article based on the report of the state board of charities of New York, says that nearly 500,000 people, or about one-twelfth of the population of the state, obtained charitable assistance from state institutions in the past year, the expenditure aggregating $3,315,000 Yet the immense sums expended privately should be added to the above and, besides the many unrecorded gifts of aims by the well-to-dc, it must be remembered that the poor themselves are perhaps the most liberal heipers of one another. It is also noted that of the sum noted above as expended by the state, $1,800,000 was for salaries and wages of the employes of the lastitutions.

No wonder that the Sun exclaims : " The extravagance of charity is appalling and it When De Tocque ville wro e his memorable essay on A merica, it was to the bonor of our country that there was no abject poverty and beggers were rare. The poor were without servility and every one showed preper self respect. Now we have become very much like the rest of the world and find ourselves confronting this same old problem of quarity. There was a time not so very long ago when an American would have felt insulted if offered pay for doing what he was hired to do, but now in the cities and at summer resorts of wealth and fashion tipping has become so firmly established that it is reckoned as a part of the wages-It can hardly be counted as charity, but it is given and received as something for nothing, and so helps to educate people to indiscriminate charity and professional beggary. State charity does not replace private charity, but only seems to drive it o other channels, and to stimulate careless and harmful giving, and the truest and least harmful of all charity is that of the poor to the poor. It is not only the increase of extravegance in charity that is appelling, but the increase in extravagence of all

JAMES RUSSELL LOWELL received many congratulations on his attaining his roth anniversary on Friday, not only from noted Americans, but from Gladstone, Tennyson and other prominent foreigners. Mr. Gladstone said: "I cordially join in the proposed congratulation to Mr. Lowell, and i trust that America may, for a long time yet to come, be adorned by his living character and genius, as she will in after years cherish his fame."

BISHOP TEMPLE, of London, relates that when he was once worshipping in the East Ead church, where a hearty musical service is a distinguished feature, he joined in the anging to the best of his ability. At the conclusion of the second years of the hymn the patience of a workingman on his immediate left seemed fairiy exhausted. Not recognizing the diguitary beside him, the p or man, in sheer desperation, gave the manop a snarp dig in the ribs, and the latter, on turning around for an explanation, was thus addressed in subdued but distinct tones: "I say, gub'ner, you dry up; you're spoiling the whole show."

WHISKY SELLERS EXCITED.

Licenses in Wilkesbarro Raised From Three to Five Hundred Dollars. The liquor men of Wilkesbarre are greatly excited. The county treasurer nogreatly excited. The county treasurer notified them on Friday afternoon that they would have to pay $500 for their license. Last year they paid only $500, and they were under the impression that that was all they would have to pay this year. The county solicitor, W. L. McLean, so ruied. He claimed that Wilkesbarre was governed by a charter of its own, and did not come under the recent decision of the supreme court regarding the classification of cities. The county treasurer, however, in order to make sure of his position, wrote to the sudder general of the state. The latter official sent word back that Wilkesbarre came under the ruiling of the supreme court, and liquor licenses would be $500. To strengthen his position Attorney General Kilpatrick inderesd the views of the sudder solicitor.

More than seventy of the applicants for licenses residing in the outer wards now say they will not take out a license, as they cannot afford to pay so much money. Those who do pay it will do so under protect. The attorney general bases his opinion on the decision of Judge McPherson, of Lebanon county, who rules that Lebanon is a third class city and the license fee must be $500. Therefore if Lebanon, with 20,000 population, is a third class city, Wilkerbarre, with a population of 45,000, must be one, too.

Russian Colors Fired Upon.

The report that a Franch cruiser had hombarded Bagailo, where the Cossack expedition under M. Aschineff had settled temporarily, killing or wounding five of the expedition and capturing the remainder, is confirmed. The bombardment was the result of the refusal of M. Aschinoff to lower the Russian flag which he had hoisted at Bagailo.

lower the Russian flag which he had hoisted at Segallo.

This is probably the end of Aschinoff's romantic expedition. He and his Cossachs started to establish Russian colonies in Abyssynia, and the scheme was interesting because they are the only white men whom King John, of Abyssinia, has received on a friendly footing since his trouble with Italy began. Priests of the Greek church are in Asohinoff's present party, and, according to began. Priests of the Greek church are in Assolincit's present party, and, according to his story, they were specially invited by King John to enter his country and arrange for a union of the Coptic and Greek churcher. Both France and Italy have been dublous about the effect this Russian enterprise was likely to have upon their interests, and the fact that the party landed upon French territory seems to have been made a pretext for breaking up the expedition.

acv. Wm. H. Chapman, paster of M. E. church, Georgetown, D. C., wrote us: Having had an opportunity to test the excellent qualities of Dr. Bull's Cough Syrup, I hesitate not to say, it is the best remedy I have ever used in my family." For croup and whooping cough it is a sure oure.

Idleness Is a Dangerous Fault In the kidneys. When inactive they speedily fall into disrepair. Those obstinate and fatal maladies, Bright's disease and diabetes, ensue with terrible certainty upon the inaction of the organs affected. Catarrh of the bladder, enuresis, gravel and strangury are also to be enuresis, gravel and strangury are also to be apprehended from a partial paralysis of the hladder, of which weakness and sluggishness are the causes. Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is a fine tonic and promoter of activity for the renal organs, and one which can be relied upon to afford them the requisite stimulus without exciting them—an effect to be feared from the unmedicated alcoholic excitant of commerce. A further beneficent effect of the Bitters, by renewing activity of the kidneys, is to canble them to drain from the blood in its passage through them, impurities productive of rheumatism and dropsy. Nervousness, fever and ague, constipation and dyspepsia are conquered by the Bitters.

MCLANE'S LIVER PILLS.

THE GENUINE DR. C. McLANE'S

LIVER PILLS. Intemperance a Disease.

-CELEBRATED-

When the celebrated Dr. Hush declared that was the creation of the same councisted a frunkenness was a disease, he enuncisted a truth which the experience and observation of medical men is every day confirming. The many apparently insane excesses of those who many apparently insane excesses of those who induge in the use of spirituous liquors may thus be accounted for. I he true cause of conduct, which is taken for infatuation, is very frequently a diseased state of the Liver. No or gan in the human system when deranged, produces a more frightful catalogue of diseases. And if, instead of applying remedies to the manifestations of the disease, as is too often the case physicians would prescribe with a view to the original cause, fewer deaths would result from diseases induced by a deranged state of the Liver. Three-tourths of the diseases onumerated under the head of Consumption have their seat in a diseased Liver. The genuine Dr. C. McLane's Liver Pills, prepared by Figuring Eros. Pittaburg, Pa, are a sure cure.

Mr. Jonathan Houghman, of West Union, Park to, Illinois, writes to the preprietors, Fieming Brothers, of Pittsburg, Pa, that he had suffered from a severe and protracted attack of fever and ague, and was completely restored to health by the use of the genuine Dr. C. McLane's Liver Pills alone. These Pills unquestionably possess great properties, and can be taken with decided advantage for many diseases requiring invigorating remedies, but the Liver Pills stand pre-cunionat as the means of restoring a disorganized liver to healthy action; hence the great celebrity they have attained.

FOR SALE BY All Druggists and Fancy Goods Dealers fiverywhere. SPIRITE OF INITATIONS

PRILADELPRIA, Saturday, Pob. 58, 189. The cream of the White Goods Exposition, which is now all over the store, is not all in the prices-but much of it is.

You may find a lot of White Silk Neckwear at the Chestnut street front. Men re of minor account in a White Goods Show, but there is a bit of a bargain for them here, however. Four-in-hands of satin and corded silk, made up Scarfs of corded silk in several popular forms, white and cream in both. They bear the name of a great English firm, and the price is 25 cents-down from 50 cents. The name is worth the price.

Of all White Goods, what more tempting than Hamburg Embroidery? Nothing, of course, but when the spice of a bargain is added, it becomes irresistible.

227 pieces pass under the readjusting process, and will be ready for you this morning at prices variously reduced. Yesterday they ranged from 80 cents to $4.75 a yard, to-day they are 50 cents to $3. The highest are 23 pieces at $3; they were nearly all $4.75. The Embroidery is 31 inches deep -sumptuous enough for a Princess.

Nothing more the matter with them than with the last "pretty Swiss" that came down from the Invoice Room this morning with the treshness of ocean breezes and Customs supervision upon it. Why then mark them down? Simply because the sets of widths are broken. Much to us, but nothing to you, except that you buy cheap-buy cheapest.

A companion bargain is 100 pieces White Pique (you will persist in erroneously calling them Piques), All-over Embroideries, various figures, and several qualities, the lowest normal price of any $1, some much more. Your choice at 50 cents, and edgings to match, 6 inches wide, with 2 inches embroidery, at 12 cents.

Piques again, plain—only they are Weltings—ecru, 40 pieces, 20 cents to 10, 25 cents to 15, 38 cents to 20. Do you want durable Dress Stuffs and cheap? Here they are.

Perhaps the cream of the lot are the Cream Voiles—if you care for novelty effects. Beauties. Embroidered, figured and stripes.
