THE OTT OF THE BOAD

They do not ther plight mer wed.
In the city of the doad,
In the city where they steep away the hours
But they lie while o'er them range
Winter blight and summer change,
and a hundred happy whisperings of flower
Ho, they not her wed nor plight,
and the day to like the night,
For their vision is of other hind than ours.

They do neither sing nor sight in the burgh of by and by.

Where the streets have grasses growing so and long;

But they reat within their bed,
Leaving all their thoughts unsaid,
Desming stonce better for them sob er song.

No, they neither sigh mer sing.

Though the rebin be a-wing.

Though the isaves of autumn march a million street.

There is only rost and peace In the city of surcease From the fallings and the wallings

sun;
And the wings of the swift years
Beat but gently o'er the biers,
Making music to the sleepers, every o
There is only passe and rest;
But to them it reemsth best,
For they lie at ease, and know the done.

THE MEADING INCH PATLURE. Only 8800,000 Latt of the $1,050,000 Capt

The report of the sppraisars of the Reading iron works, which was presented to the creditors at their meeting on Thursday, in Philadelphia, put a more dismai appearance upon the failure than was at first expected. As made up by the officers of the company, the statement of assets and liabilities showed a surplus of assets of $501,000, but the appraisars find a surplus of only $515,787.83. This is all there is to show for the $1,050,000 invested in the company's capital stock.

The creditors were in a sesion for nearly three hours. The appraisar's report showed.

large deductions in almost every item from the valuations made up from the books.

The furnesse were appraised at $225,000 instead of $313,750; the Scott foundry at $300,000, instead of $357,728; the sheet mill at $150,000, instead of $300,578; the steam forge

Joseph Wharten suggested that the best way to wind up the company's affairs would be to have a receiver appointed, and John G. Johnson argued in support of this idea. George F. Baer, one of the directors, opposed it, and declared the plan would not be ecceptable to the board. After much discussion it was decided to appoint a new committee on reorganization, the gentlemen discussion it was decided to appoint a new committee on reorganization, the gentlemen appointed at the first meeting having declined to serve, and Meens George de B. Keim, Comly B. Shoemaker, John H. Craig, S. R. Seyfert and W. C. Frick were desired to take this matter in hand. They will issue a circular to the creditors, which all are expected to sign or disapprove of, and the result will be made known at the meeting of creditors next week.

Swept by the Tide of Popularity To the topmost pinnacle of success, Hostet-ter's Stomach Bitters stands a shining proof of what genuine merit, backed by the living force of proven facts, can attain. The North and South American continents, Europe Australia, the West Indies, Guatemala and Mexico have all contributed wide patronage Mexico have all contributed wide patronage and testimony of the most favorable kind—but unsolicited—to swell the reputation of this sterling remedy. Among the maladies for which the most convincing public and professional testimony proves that it is a benign curative, are chills and fever, billious remittent, dumb ague and ague cake, dyspepsia, liver complaint, nervousness, debility, hidney and bladder complaints. It mitigates the infirmities of age, hastens convalescence, has a tendency to prevent ill consequences from exposure and exhaustion. Persons of sedentary habits and laborious occupations will find it an ever useful tonic.
