President Wells, of the International company of Maxico, which is accused of starting the gold fever in Lower California to boom its real estate, declares that this is not true. He says is is not now a country for the comanner, but that it invites the prolucer. He thinks that the man who goes there without some means will not fare well; and declares that he has not taken enough lateres: in the present gold excitement to telegraph for special news about it. Mr. Wells seems a somewhat unduly calm about the matter.

The grants acquired by the company conta a seven apositions to be fulfilled under penalty of forfeiture in case of is 1 ire. The sixth is to settle 100 families on the lands within two years, and the seventh is to extite 3 000 families (and a few more) on the lands within the years from receiving his ms. A California paper supplied by the company states that all but the seventh requirement is completed, the the agreement will not expire until Jime 2. He3. Apro one of the snapicion that the gill excused the state, this from the Illustrated Pacific States is interesting?

"It seems impossible there should be a failure to fulfiil this condition (the seventh) in so long a time yet to clapse. * * 11, he waver, spite of all probabilities to the contrary, the Industrial company, after doing so much, should yet fail to do the rest and so forfeit its rights and lone its im nense cutlays in the past, what then? An it the property and all the rights of the company would revert to the government without any claim for indemnity," &a.

The Lower Californian, a weekly paper published at Emenda presumably in the interest of the company, has been devoting considerable space to the gold diggings recently.

Swept by the Tide of Popularity To the topmost plunacle of success, Hostet-ter's Stomach Bitters stands a shining proof of what genuine merit, backed by the living force of proven facts, can attain. The North and South American continents, Europe Australia, the West Indies, Guatemala and Mexico have all contributed wide patronage Mexico have all contributed wide patronage and testimony of the most favorable kind—but unsolicited—to swell the reputation of this sterling remedy. Among the maladies for which the most convincing public and professional testimony proves that it is a benign curative, are chills and fever, bilious remittent, dumb ague and sque cake, dyspepsia, liver somplaint, nervousness, debitiv, kidney and bladder complaints. It mitigates the infirmities of age, hastens convalescence, has a tendency to prevent ill consequences from exposure and exhaustion. Persons of sedentary habits and laborious occupations will find it an ever useful tonic.
