

FOUR ALLEGED RIOTERS.

THE SALUNGA QUARTETTE NOW SITTING BEFORE A JURY.

How the Young Men Misbehaved in the Store of J. Hestand Stauffer on the Night of February 9.

Wednesday Afternoon.—When court met at 2:30 o'clock the jury in the several cases against Thos. Costley, preferred by Horace Dorsey, acquitted him of felonious assault and battery and carrying concealed deadly weapons, and convicted him of simple assault and battery. He was sentenced to pay a fine of $10 and costs.

The trial of John Sentman and F. W. Baum was resumed, and testimony was given to prove that Sentman was at home the night it is alleged the turkeys were stolen. At the conclusion of the testimony the commonwealth abandoned the case in its entirety.

George B. Kreiner pleaded guilty to being the father of Annie K. Way's illegitimate child, and the usual sentence was imposed. A verdict of not guilty was entered in the case of commonwealth vs. John F. Miller, of York, indicted for seduction, on complaint of Annie K. Way.

The district attorney stated that the case could not be made out. The suit for the paternity of the child was amicably settled by the parties.

Henry Green, of the Welsh mountain, who is not yet 21 years old, was tried for entering from home, for immoral purposes, Sarah Green, 14 years old, whose home is in Beggar Row. The commonwealth proved that the girl disappeared from home in December, was seen in company with Green on the road leading to his home and that she made her home at Green's house for several weeks, until her whereabouts was discovered, and she was taken back to her home.

The defense was that the girl and accused were engaged to be married, that she went to his home of her own accord, and a denial by defendant that he had ever been criminally intimate with the girl. Jury out.

GRAND JURY RETURNS. The Grand Jury returned a bill of indictment against Thos. Anderson, et al., for larceny; Christian Showalter, rape; Wm. H. Joranta, maintaining a nuisance; Henry D. Noyes, and William Rogers, negligence as railroad employees.

Ignored Bills: Samuel Johnson, carrying concealed cutting weapons; Andrew C. Wiedman, malicious mischief; George H. Schmidt, encouraging gambling at his hotel, with Joseph Parks, prosecutor, for causing a disturbance; violating liquor law; Percival Bero, embezzlement.

CURRENT BUSINESS. Counsel for George S. Boone filed a remittitur of all above $1,200 in the suit against Col. James Boone's estate, in accordance with the opinion of Judge Patterson, filed last Saturday.

The tavern license of Rosanna Sturges, Litz, was transferred to Augustus Enck. Kate S. Gerhart has been awarded a divorce in divorce from her husband, Levi L. Gerhart, on the ground of desertion.

GIVING FISH AWAY. Horrering Are Two Pleasure—Immense quantities of herring are being taken from the Baltimore Sun.

There are more shad and herring now running in the Susquehanna river than was ever known before at this early date. Mr. Robert Seneca, mayor of Havre de Grace, as he stood yesterday in his fishing establishment looking out with a spy-glass on the river, said that the herring were in the season commenced early and developed suddenly. The first shad was caught about the middle of March by Capt. Willoughby, of Havre de Grace, and since that time there has been a steady increase of the run of fish.

The gillermen as well as the seine-haulers are happy, and the gill of herring is so great that many of the small seines cannot be hauled. The seine-haulers have been obliged to take out their herring mesh so the herring may run through the net and leave the seine in their hands. Even with this arrangement the meshes are large enough for the herring to swim through without touching the net 50 barrels or more of herring are taken out each day. They are so thick in the water that they cannot get out of each other's way in time for them all to get through the meshes before the seine is hauled.

Geo. W. Carver & Co. have had as high as 1,000 barrels of herring in their net at one haul, and it is estimated that they will catch as much more rope, and take in a scope of about four miles. It is landed on Spanish Island, about five miles below the mouth of the river, and is carried to land such a seine when full. It would pull the bottom out of the seine. On the occasion referred to the cork line was lowered and the seine hauled in. The seine was full of herring and the seine out and haul four or five times inside it with a smaller seine. As it was their first haul, they had plenty of room to sail down the river, and they were not crowded and therefore saved them all. But since that time, not having a paying market for fresh herring nor room to strike them with salt, they have been crowded out of their seine at the rate of over 1,000 barrels daily. It is the same with the other floats. All are catching more herring than they can sell, and the market is so glutted with loads of herring are daily given away, so the premises may be cleared for shad and rock fish, which have a ready sale for hundreds of barrels.

The floating net about twenty-five cents per hundred. Shad net about $18 per hundred, and herring net about $12 per hundred. The shad and herring are being taken out of their seine at the rate of over 1,000 barrels daily. The floats catch about 2,500 shad each daily, fully 50 per cent. more at this season than last year. To make a good haul, the most encouraging of the head of the bay has had for many years. The abundance of fish this year and last season, in the opinion of the Maryland and the United States fish and game commissioners, is the best ever known. The fish are being taken out of their seine at the rate of over 1,000 barrels daily. The floats catch about 2,500 shad each daily, fully 50 per cent. more at this season than last year. To make a good haul, the most encouraging of the head of the bay has had for many years. The abundance of fish this year and last season, in the opinion of the Maryland and the United States fish and game commissioners, is the best ever known.

The Maryland and the United States fish and game commissioners, is the best ever known. The fish are being taken out of their seine at the rate of over 1,000 barrels daily. The floats catch about 2,500 shad each daily, fully 50 per cent. more at this season than last year. To make a good haul, the most encouraging of the head of the bay has had for many years. The abundance of fish this year and last season, in the opinion of the Maryland and the United States fish and game commissioners, is the best ever known.

The fish are being taken out of their seine at the rate of over 1,000 barrels daily. The floats catch about 2,500 shad each daily, fully 50 per cent. more at this season than last year. To make a good haul, the most encouraging of the head of the bay has had for many years. The abundance of fish this year and last season, in the opinion of the Maryland and the United States fish and game commissioners, is the best ever known.

DOWN COMES THE WALL.

THE SOUTH SIDE OF JNO. F. HEINITZ'S PAINT STORE DISLODGED.

Workmen Undermine the Wall in Digging a Foundation for John L. Arnold's New Building.

One of the most destructive wrecks in the shape of a fallen building that has been seen in Lancaster since the Northern market fell in some years ago, occurred Wednesday evening at the paint store of John F. Heinitz, No. 14 North Queen street.

In the rear of the store proper Mr. Heinitz erected an annex 26 feet long in April and this is the part of the building that has been greatly damaged. Next to the paint store, on the south side, John L. Arnold is erecting a new building and it seems that the men engaged in digging out the foundation removed too much of the dirt. It was believed yesterday that some moon a corner of the rear of the Heinitz building gave away, tumbling into the foundation of the Arnold building. The men working in the latter place were apprehensive lest something would happen, and they kept away from the wall.

The crash came between 11 and 12 o'clock at night. The whole south side of the old building fell with a large portion of the old, fell out with a great noise, startling everybody in the vicinity. A great many persons soon gathered and found what had happened. The wall tumbled into the foundation of Mr. Arnold's building, and it looks like a pile of bricks. The roof of a part of the building went crashing into the street, and the front of the store has not been broken the whole building has been very badly shaken up. Between it and the Russel building on the north side there is a large crack and there are others in different parts. Harry Schroyer occupies part of the building as a flower store, but he suffered no damage.

About 200 pounds of calamine, a lot of alabaster and in fact most of the goods on the south side of the building went tumbling out with the wall, and were scattered in Arnold's cellar. The loss to Mr. Heinitz on goods will be about $2,000 and it will cost at least $1,500 to repair the building. This expense will be met by Mr. Arnold, and he has promised Mr. Heinitz to have arranged everything.

Clifton Evans, the architect and builder, with his wife and child, lives on the second story of the building, and had but recently moved out of that part under which the roof fell. They were in the kitchen when the accident occurred, and were saved by the cracking of the roof as it gave away. They ran out of the building and then saw what had happened.

Mr. Evans supposed for some time that the wall would give way. For that reason he moved out of the rooms over the store, about a week ago, taking his quarters on the second floor, immediately above the store. Although the accident occurred last night, Mr. Evans heard the building cracking, and he and his wife left their room for that reason.

The accident was due to several causes. The foundation wall of the Arnold building was dug about four feet lower than that of Mr. Heinitz and the ground has been frequently heavy rains.

Had the walls fallen in the daytime when the workmen were digging in Arnold's cellar, they would undoubtedly have been crushed to death.

Mr. Heinitz was not dismayed in the least by the accident, and bright and early this morning he had a large force of men cleaning up the ruins and straightening the goods.

Mr. Arnold's building is being erected by McLaughlin & Gesell. When spoken in regard to the accident Mr. Gesell said that the principal cause of it was the very old condition of the wall. Although it was not old in the sense of being made of small stones. Some time ago ten barrels of oil leaked away for Mr. Heinitz in his cellar. The oil ran into the ground along the wall and that is supposed to have affected it also.

Mr. Heinitz moved the stock that was not damaged into the ground house, on North Queen street, and he will conduct his business there until his building is repaired. This afternoon a large force of men are at work on both the Heinitz and Arnold buildings.

CANDIDATES FOR OFFICE. A Full List of Those to Be Voted For by the Republicans.

Yesterday was the last day on which candidates for the offices to be voted for at the coming Republican primary election could be announced. Following is the complete list of the candidates.

District Attorney, H. R. Fulton, G. C. Kennedy, A. C. Reinhold. Directors of the poor, James Collins, Coleman; William Good, East Earl; David C. Keady, Manor; Isaac Leaman, East Lantz; A. C. Leonard, city; Michael E. Steigerwald, West Earl.

Prison Inspectors, Isaac S. Bear, Manheim township; Henry Dorn, East Lantz; Samuel S. Hess, Elizabeth; Milton Wike, Columbia; John N. Woods, Leacock; Samuel Worst, Salisbury. County surveyor, F. G. Harple, Upper Leacock; Frank M. Trout, Bart.

Delegates to the state convention: City district, John McLaughlin, A. P. Shirk. Northern district, H. W. Herchelroth, Ephrata; Isaac H. Hildebrand, Earl; Henry Hiphart, Columbia; Jacob W. Landis, Ephrata; Amos Ziegler, Donegal. Southern district, Amos Gilbert, Eden; Thos. McGowan, Sadsbury; David E. Mayer, Sadsbury township; Dr. J. M. Witter, Conestoga.

DOSE IN SELF-DEFENSE.

THE CORONER'S JURY SETS MRS. FIELDS' VERDICT.

Following are full particulars of the tragedy at Butler, Pa., on Wednesday:

At 3:30 in the morning John A. Fields was shot by his wife and so badly wounded that he died shortly after 7. An inquest was immediately held and the coroner's verdict cleared the wife and justified the shooting as done in self-defense. These are the facts publicly known and would indicate an ordinary affair, but a few incidents which are not included in the evidence show the murder or homicide to be a remarkable one.

Mr. and Mrs. Fields were married over twelve years and have two children of 8 and 11 years. Their married life had been most happy and their neighbors say that not the slightest disagreement or quarrel had ever occurred between them till Tuesday night, Mrs. Fields is a woman of large appearance and her husband was large and good looking. He was interested in oil, and much of his time was passed away from home, and on the evening of Tuesday night he was in his home. A few days ago they concluded to join the Presbyterian church, and were to become members on Tuesday night.

Tuesday night they were seen on the streets walking arm in arm, as usual, and after going home Mrs. Fields played cards with her husband. The cards were when all retired, save Mrs. Fields, who suddenly expressed a strong desire for reading. She read until after 2 o'clock, when she went to bed.

Then a strange succession of events followed. According to Mrs. Fields, Mr. Fields began quarreling with her, but of the nature of the quarrel she knows not. A short time he began to beat her terribly. Mrs. Fields sprang from the bed and warned her husband to desist and not follow her into his bedroom. He refused to do so, and she struck him upon her face. She caught up her revolver in her flight and, cooking it, faced about and came to a stand, once more warning her husband to desist. He then struck her again, whereupon she fired and after striking her twice again, he fell fainting upon the floor with a bullet in his head.

Realizing what she had done Mrs. Fields contemplated self-destruction, but was restrained by her oldest child, a girl, who had been aroused and came upon the scene. The neighbors rushed in, doctors were summoned and Fields recovered consciousness and began telling over and over to his wife in case she should be brought to trial for his murder. The physicians examined the body and found that he died in a few hours. A justice of the peace was summoned and the following statement was written and signed and witnessed:

That I, John A. Fields, being duly sworn, to depose and say that I did cause my wife to do this, that I shot me, by aggravated assault and battery, and so to the death, and I am fully exonerated that she did the shooting in self-defense.

JOHN A. FIELDS. Shortly after a friend called and asked him what the quarrel was about and expressed his surprise that they should quarrel. In answer to which he said: "I was studying and reading myself."

The studied disposition of both husband and wife to keep back all the facts in the case has naturally given rise to much gossip. Why the wife should do this, and why Mr. Fields was a question frequently asked. And why did Mr. Fields, who never drank and always had an even temper, quarrel with his wife and children? But in spite of the intentions the most diligent inquiry fails to disclose any suspicious in the life of Mrs. Fields which could positively be affirmed. The previous good reputation of husband and wife but adds to the interest in the affair.

A CRAZY SON'S DEEDS.

He Kills His Age-Father and His Sister.

SPRINGFIELD, Mass., April 18.—At West Farms, 5 miles from Westfield Centre, this morning Joseph King, a wealthy well known citizen, 78 years of age, was shot and killed by Edgar King, his eldest son, and the house fired and burned. Edgar then shot and killed himself about twenty rods from the house, and he is supposed to have been in an unbalanced mind caused by disolute habits.

The murder was committed in presence of the young man's mother, and no attention was paid to her pleadings. His two aunts were also in the house and the young man intended to kill them, but the floor of the house was so rotten and he was unable to effect an entrance. The women safely escaped from the house, when it was found to be burning. Edgar's wife procured a divorce from him six years ago on the ground of drunkenness.

A few days ago he gave to a friend a sealed manuscript, telling him to open it on the day of his death. The papers were opened to-day and revealed the determination of Edgar to kill his aunts and himself.

ROSS DOSTER AGAIN ARRESTED.

Ross Doster, the bootblack, went on a spree yesterday and last evening became very disorderly near the Pennsylvania Hotel, and was arrested by Constable Burt and taken to his assistance. He still resisted so vigorously that it required the further assistance of several citizens to place him in a wheelbarrow. That scheme would not work and he was finally taken to the station house on a wagon.

He was only in the cell a short time when he broke every window and demolished the water close pipe. To prevent him from doing further mischief his hands were cuffed behind him. This morning he was committed to jail for a hearing by Alderman Pinkerton.

His Watch Was Stolen.

A colored man by the name of Kirk went to the station house last night and said that he had been robbed. He said he stopped near the court house and a man came up to him and asked him for a check of scraps. He was about giving it to him when the man snatched the watch and threw his arms about him stole his watch from his pocket. Kirk could not give the police a sufficiently good description of the man to enable them to search for them. The stolen watch was a Waterbury and the thief may think he is the loser.

Left For Europe.

Dr. J. P. Wickersham and his daughter Lillian, who sail for Europe, were here yesterday. They were accompanied by Mr. William B. Henshaw, who goes to New York to see them off. John B. Warfel went with them as far as New York. A large number of the doctor's friends, including members of the Grand Army, gathered at the station to see him off, and Mrs. S. S. Spencer, their daughter and Miss Sue Eberman, who sail on the same steamer, will go to New York to-morrow.

Water Rent Appeals.

The water committee was in session today hearing appeals from the assessments of water rents as made for 1888. A number of persons appeared before the committee and had corrections made in the assessments.

A FINE BUILDING.

THE ASTRICH BROTHERS OPEN THEIR NEW PALACE OF FASHION.

Description of the Commodious structure, Which is Stocked With Fancy Goods and Millinery.

The Astrich Brothers, two of Lancaster's most enterprising business men, took possession of their new store at Nos. 115 and 117 North Queen street, today. Since morning they have had a rush, and a great crowd of people have been passing into the building all day. The store is one of the largest and best in the city, and it is doubtful whether there are any prettier or more convenient ones in the state. It is a credit to the city and its occupants to have so good a store of its kind. This property, as is well known by nearly everybody, was formerly owned by John A. Snyder. By him it was sold to Edward Eberman, who purchased it for the purpose of making a good store for the Astrichs.

The contract for making the change was given to John A. Burger, and work was begun on February 28th. The rear of the building was extended all the way back to Christian street, and the store room is now half a square in length. The front of the building was torn entirely out and one that is very pretty put in.

The front windows are of tremendous size, being almost as large as some houses. They are 24 feet in depth and ten feet wide. The glass runs to the top of the second floor. The arched entrance is very high and makes a fine appearance. The vestibule is 24 feet in depth and 12 feet wide. The store room has been fitted up entirely with the best work having been done at the millinery department. There is a wide staircase leading up stairs, about the middle of the store, and there are several large openings in the ceiling.

ARRANGEMENT OF THE COUNTERS. The first counter, in the middle of the floor at the entrance, is the jewelry department. The next one has worsted goods, silks and cottons on the one side, and buttons on the other. The third has notions and toilet wear. At the first counter on the right hand side are linen collars and handkerchiefs, and at the second are lace goods. The third has lace and embroideries, the fourth trimmings and ladies' dress goods, and the fifth silks and satins. On the left side of the room the first counter has gloves, the second hosiery, the third underwear, the fourth muslin goods, and the fifth corsets and parasols. The whole rear of the store is the millinery department. In the center is a counter with flowers and feathers. On the right side are the ribbons, and on the left are ladies' unfinished hats. In the extreme rear is the ladies' hat department. It is beautifully fitted up with Brussels carpet on the floor and there are large mirrors everywhere.

ELECTRICITY IN USE. In the middle of the store room is the cashier's desk. It is connected with every part of the store by Lanson's new cash system, which is very convenient. A connection cable is kept running constantly and to this the boxes containing the money are attached. They fly around at a very lively rate, making turns and everything else. This apparatus is run by an electric motor in the cellar, which also supplies the elevator power.

The elevator is in the left hand corner of the store in the front. It was put in by A. C. Williams and is of the latest design. It is a beautiful piece of work and is easily managed. It runs to the third floor and can be set to stop at any floor. In case of any obstruction to the car it will stop. The elevator will, no doubt, prove a great convenience to the customers.

The second floor of the store is devoted entirely to the sale of ladies' and children's clothes, boys' suits, jerseys, and all the kind of goods that are in demand. A ladies' clerk or waiting room will shortly be fitted up in the front. On the third floor the reserve stock is kept. The whole building is heated by steam, the apparatus for which was put in by John L. Arnold with the exception of the boiler, which John Best put in. There are four boilers for raising a supply of hot water, and they will be worked by the electric motor also.

MANY VISIT THE STORE. Although the work of changing the store was done very rapidly it was done very well. The work of removing the large stock of goods from East Queen street was done in a couple of days and the store is now ready to accommodate the people, who came in droves.

To-day the store is decorated with flowers and rare plants, and over the entrance hangs an immense ball made of roses and other flowers.

Some idea of the business done by this store can be learned from the fact that they have no less than seventy employees. Their business has increased wonderfully and they now have a beautiful room in which they can accommodate everybody.

Boomers Killing Each Other.

WICHITA, Kans., April 18.—The first serious affray among the boomers occurred yesterday about the north of Wichita. Two boomers claimed a certain quarter section, and one named George Kramer undertook to put the other, Charles Heide, out of the land. Both men drew revolvers and Kramer was shot and instantly killed. Heide was shot through the groin and may die.

Oklahoma Harry Hill, one of the oldest boomers in Kansas, left for the territory from this city last Friday and has not since been heard from. He was expected to return on Sunday and his disappearance is most mysterious. The last heard of him was from Purcell. He left that village on Sunday evening, saying that he would ride over to Oklahoma City. Monday noon his body was found shot through the head. A reward of $500 has been offered for his discovery.

Cowboys to Itun Street Cars.

ST. LOUIS, April 18.—Forty-one cowboys from ranches near Garden City, Kansas, left Kansas City this morning for Minneapolis to make the place of the striking street car men of that city.

ST. PAUL, April 18.—A car was started on the West 7th street line this morning guarded by four patrol wagons filled with policemen and ten mounted officers. The procession started off amidst hoofs and derisive cheers from a large crowd, which had assembled. Very little opposition was encountered from the strikers. A man named Sledky was arrested for throwing fire crackers under the horses' feet.

A Contract Awarded.

The contract for the erection of a new wooden bridge across Mill creek, at Bradford's mill, to take the place of the one burned recently, was awarded to Samuel Stauffer, of York, to-day. His bid was $1,500.

Sent to the Workhouse.

Andrew Duerst was the only inmate of the station house last night for the mayor's court. He said he had spent the winter in George Brown's, their foreman, with a gold bucket and chain. Frank Sanson made the presentation speech to his Mr. Brown replied.

DANA'S HUNGRY COMMITTEE.

Decide a Bet and Are Invited to a Dinner by the N. Y. Tribune.

On the evening of March 13 a party of well known citizens dined together at the Hoffman house by invitation of William M. Fliess. Besides the host there were present Charles A. Dana, the editor of the Sun; Herman Oelrichs, the North German Lloyd ship owner, and member of the Democratic national committee; New York; Judge R. H. Martine, Daniel Dougherty, Judge H. A. Gildersleeve, Colonel Robert G. Ingersoll and other prominent men. After the lighting of the cigars a discussion arose between Judge Truax and Mr. Oelrichs about Rhine wines. Each maintained that he had a superior knowledge as a connoisseur, the debate soon attracted the attention of the company. When it had reached its height Mr. Oelrichs spoke of a case of Steinberger Cabernet of 1862 which he had bought at the Tilden sale last fall. Judge Truax insinuated in an elegantly sarcastic way that Mr. Oelrichs was well mistaken, and asserted that no one but the expert could distinguish between a declaration of Rhine wine of no value setting was resorted to and the discussion resulted in a bet between the two which was reduced to writing. On Mr. Oelrichs' part it was that he had bought such a case of wine as described at the Tilden sale, Judge Truax on the other hand, offered to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet. Mr. Oelrichs, however, refused to give a dinner to the party present, Charles A. Dana, William Fliess and John Hoey were selected as the committee to decide the bet.

SEVERAL BILLS SIGNED.

THE GOVERNOR APPROVES THE ESTABLISHMENT OF A NAUTICAL SCHOOL.

An Amendment Made to the Revenue Bill Which Senator Cooper Says Will Kill It.

HARRISBURG, April 18.—In the Senate today Mr. Ratan's bill laying a one mill tax for the relief of indigent soldiers and sailors and the indigent widows and children of soldiers and sailors was negatively reported. Bills were passed finally as follows: House bill authorizing borough councils to require the grading, paving, curbing and unsealing of streets; House bill authorizing writs to be issued upon liens filed for work done or material furnished by the board of health or any municipal corporation.

A message was received from the governor announcing his approval of the following bills: To establish a nautical school in Philadelphia; authorizing ship building corporations to increase their capital stock to $5,000,000; repealing the act limiting the amount of damages to be paid by counties for the purchase of bridges by counties; authorizing water passenger conveying companies of other states to hold real estate in Pennsylvania.

The general revenue bill was taken up on a special order. Mr. Lane moved that the provision exempting debts bearing interest from the three mill tax be struck out of the committee on finance be restored. This amendment was discussed at length and adopted.

Senator Cooper, after having stated that the amendment killed the bill, had further action postponed. The bill giving tricycles and bicycles right of way on public highways was passed finally.

In the House the following bills passed finally: Senate bill for the incorporation and government of street railway companies to constitute a naval battalion of the national guard; Senate bill providing for the appointment of librarians for the libraries to validate private sales of the estate of decedents for the payment of debts not of record. Senate bills fixing the limitation of criminal prosecution for corruption by administrators, etc.; increasing the limit on real estate and personal estate which may be held by religious and charitable corporations.

A YOUNG MAN KILLED.

John H. Swift, Who Killed His Wife.

HARTFORD, Conn., April 18.—John H. Swift, 21 years old, was hanged in the jail yard here at 10:16 o'clock this morning. He had been sentenced to death for the murder of his wife. Swift was married when only nineteen years old to a woman two years older than he, but his idle and dissipated habits forced his wife to leave him. Meeting her on the street one day returning from the shop where she worked he asked her to stop her dress, and upon her refusing he shot her dead.

After Swift's sentence to death had been confirmed by the supreme court the Legislature was petitioned for a commutation or imprisonment for life. A resolution making the commutation passed both branches, but was vetoed by Governor Bulkeley. The Legislature then passed a resolution to commute the sentence, but the House sustained the veto.

The condemned man walked to the gallows between two priests. He looked pale but walked firmly. When on the scaffold the priests offered prayer. The prisoner's legs were then pinioned and at 10:16 the black cap was slipped over his head and he was dropped instantly. There was no sound of the body, but it fell like a dead weight to the extreme length of the rope. The legs were spasmodically drawn up three times and there was slight twitching of the hands and then the body hung motionless.

Instantly Killed.

New York, April 18.—While engaged in removing wires and poles this morning Michael Early and Hugh Reilly, linemen, were dragged from the third story window of a building on West 14th street and fell to the falling pole