NATURE DOES HER LEVEL BEST

ALL THE CHURCHES, MORNING AND EVENING, THRONGED WITH WORSHIPERS.

More Lutherans Partake of Communion on Sunday Than Ever Before on Easter-Fine Music and Decorations.

Easter dawned like the spring mornings the poets talk about, and in the graveyards and the churches found the usual floral greeting in better harmony with the season than is usually the case. An early spring and late Easter came well together this year. Early flowers were up and the trees budding, but hothouse flowers were in strong demand and as beautiful as ever, while the children had fine times hunting Easter eggs indoors and out, and indications are that the rabbits were unusually active. This great Christian day of prayer and re-joicing is always observed with a spirit and exmestness that forms the best refuta tion of the ancient lament that the religion of the cross is waning. The reading of that wonderful story of the passion and death, so simple, vivid and sublime, works as powerfully as ever upon the best of human pature and the visits to graves and attendance at churches on Sunday proved

Below will be found a report of the observance of the festival in the churches.

FOLLOWERS OF LUTHER. The Number of Communicants at Trinity Very Large.

The exercises at Trinity Lutheran church on Easter Sunday morning were opened with the authorn "Christ Our Passover," fellowed with the full Easter ritual. tween the Epistle and the Gospel, Dudley Buck's Te Deum was rendered. At the offertory a solo entitled "The Resurrection" was rendered by Mr. John Smaling. with a full chorus accompaniment. After a short address by Rev. C. J. Cooper, of Allentown, communion followed, and the number of communicants was the largest in the history of the church. The catechumens communed in a body.

In the afternoon there was a children's service, and the members of the infant school received gifts.

In the evening there was also a communion service and the musical selections rendered were "Lloyd's Easter Anthem," O Sing Unto the Lord" and "Glorious The soloists at morning and evening services were Misses Carpenter, Musser, Rohrer, Heinitsh, Baltzell and Mesers. Smaling, Drennen and Prangley. On Tuesday evening there will be spe cial Easter exercises in which the participants will be members of the Sunday school. There will also be addresses by young men connected with the Sabbath

The musical programme was under the direction of Mr. Walter Bausman. The decorations at this church are very elaborate. The centre piece in the pulpit ference, just in the height of bloom. This is surmounted by variegated paims, with a cluster of Easter lilies at the top. The breast of the pulpit is filled with hydrangeas and lilies. Exquisite ferns, tastefully arranged, add greatly to the decorations. Some of them are thirty inches in length. Around the galleries at stated distances are various tropical exotics, conspicuous among which were two sago palms.

Christ Lutheran. At Christ Lutheran church there were communion services on Easter morning, and a sermon by Rev. E. L. Reed from Mark xvi., 1 to S, and his subject was "The Resurrection." The number of communicants was larger than on any other occasion since this mission church was instituted. At this service the choir sang Lloyd's Te Deum, with Mr. Peter Winower

The decorations consisted of the pulpit being ornamented with cala lilies and cut flowers, and around the altar tropical plants were tastefully arranged. The Easter offerings, which amounted to a handsome sum, are devoted to general benevolence, In the evening Rev. Reed preached a special sermon to the members of the Sunday school.

Grace Lutheran. A special effort at decoration was made at Grace Lutheran church, and the parties in charge can congratulate themselves on the great success of their work. A handsome design ornamented the altar and the motto "Christ is risen to-day," formed part of the chancel decoration. This motto was formed by each class presenting a letter. There was communion in the morning and in the afternoon the Sunday school celebrated the great festival. In addition to the motte formation there was an object lesson in the forming of a cross in sections and recitations by Miss Bessie Hartman and Miss Henninger. Rev. Houpt preached an Easter sermon in the evening to a large congregation.

St. Stephen's Lutheran. The attendance was large at St. Stephen's Easter Sunday. The altar was tastefully descrated with flowers, but no attempt was made at a big display in the way of flora desorations. At the morning service, after an anthem by the choir, prayer and Scriptural readings, Rev. Emil Meister preached from St. Mark xvi., 6: "And he saith unto them, be not affrighted, ye seek Jesus of Nazareth, which was crucified; He is risen, He is not here. Behold the place where they laid Him." After the sermon the holy communion was administered. The catechamens confirmed on Palm Sunday and Good Friday took communion never before partook of the consecrated

In the evening special Easter services were held by the Sunday school. The liturgical services were conducted by the pastor, after which there was singing of Easter carols, recitations and a sermon by Corinthians xv., 20, "Now is Christ risen from the dead, and become the first fruits of

On account of the communion service there were no decorations on Easter Sunday. The morning sermon was preached 8., after which there was communion and a larger number partook than at any time since Mr. Mayser has been the pastor of this church. The catechumens, 33 in number, received their first communion. The music was very fine and among the selections rendered by the choir, under the leadership of Prof. George Benkert, was on the Altars. The Easter festival was appropriately observed at all the Catholic churches of the city. At St. Mary's church at the 8 o'clock mass there was a large number of commusang Haydn's Kyrie, Gloria and Agnus Dei, Millard's Credo and Lambilotte's Hallelujah. Rev. Dr. McCullagh preached a sermon from the gospel of the day as found in the 16th chapter of St. Mark, on the resurrection. At 3:30 Millard's vespers was sung. The solo parts at all the ser-vices were taken by Misses Annie Lowell and Mazie Malone, soprano; W. O. Frailey, basso, and Frank B. McClain, tenor.

Haydn's Third Mass was sung at 10 o'clock on Easter morning by the choir, and the Te Deum at the conclusion of that service. This mass was celebrated by Pather Kaul, and he also preached a ser mon appropriate to the day. At the early mass the communicants were the young people of the church. The sodalities attended in a body. In the af-ternoon verspers were sung. The soloists of the day were Ferdinand Weber, Joseph Albert, Mrs. Richard McGrann and Mrs. John Hiemenz.

At St. Joseph's Church. Father Schmitt celebrated the 8 o'clock mass at St. Joseph's church, and the number of communicants was large. At the 10 o'clock mass' Millard's mass was sung by the choir. Father Christ celebrated mass, and Father Schmitt preached the sermon. In the afternoon Fiske's vespers was sung. At the offertory in the morning service "Jesu Vive" was finely rendered. Edward Powell, Harry Weber, Misses Kate Winkler and Mary Burger were the soloists. The decorations at all the Catholic churches consisted of finely arranged altars.

which, when lighted with the numerous candles placed on them, made a handsome Father Schmelz celebrated mass at St. Joseph's hospital, and the number of communicants was much larger than is usua The Moravian Church. The first service on Easter Sunday at the Moravian church was at 6 o'clock, when the Easter morning liturgy was read. It was introduced by the old Moravian chorale, played by the trombone choir. After the recitation of the liturgy the choir sang an authem and the pastor, Rev. Dr. J. Max Hark, read the story of the resurrec-tion. This service closed with the doxology in the form of the liturgy.

At 10:30 o'clock the service was opened with a special Easter litany and during the offertory the choir sang "Christ Our Pass-over Sacrificed for Us." After the rewling of the lesson of the day Rev. Dr. Hark preached from the text, "Because I live, ye shall live also." This service closed with the singing of Thomas' Te Deum. The solos were taken by Misses Bessie Diffenderffer soprano, Ella Arnold alto, Will Annem tenor and Mr. Shindle, the leader,

At 7:30 o'clock in the evening the children's festival opened with a processional tymn, the children singing as they the church. This service consisted of the singing of Easter carols, recitations and responsive Scriptural readings. The singers were accompanied by the organ and an orchestra under the leadership of John Dougherty. After this service the infants were presented with satin covered eggs.

The decorations were very elaborate at this church. On the altar was a rock work mound covered with flowers and greens, surmounted by a memorial cross and above the cross was a memorial star. The pulpit and reading desk were also decorated with

At St. James Episcopal church the decorations this Easter were very fine. On the baptismal font was a large floral memorial cross sent by Mrs. Richard Jenkins, over the lecturn an arch of roses and on the chancel a cross of roses, the memorial gift of Col. B. Frank Eshleman; white field daises, cut flowers and red geraniums were tastefully arranged on the altar.

The full Easter service was conducted by Rev. Mr. Hooper and Mr. Wm. Dorwart, of the New York theological seminary.

The musical programme was under the direction of Prof. Carl Matz, and his male choir sang well. The solo of Mr. Daniel H. Sensenig at the offertory is worthy of special notice. Following was the musical programme: Processional, "Christ is Risen, To-day"; Venite, Mannington; Te Doum, Hodges; Credo, Tour; Kyrie, Mendelssohn; Offertorium, Easter Gospel,

At 5 o'clock in the afternoon there was a children's service, which was participated in by the children of St. James and the mission Sunday school. It was entirely a musical entertainment.

St. John's Episcopal St. John's Episcopal church was handomely decorated on Easter Sunday. Over the altar there was an arch, in which was the inscription in large white letters: "I have risen." The chancel, pulpit and reading deak were tastefully decorated with cut lowers and potted plants.

There was communion service in the morning and a sermon by Rev. J. E. Pratt from Revelations i., 18. In the afternoon the Sunday School festival was celebrated, at which Rev. Pratt delivered an address. In the evening there was a regular Easter

Chasing Train Riders. Early Sunday morning Railroad Officer Roy received a telegram stating that there were three men on board of the train going east, which was due here at 2:20. Roy with Watchman Krantz went to the station to capture the train riders. While they were looking after them in the first car the young fellows jumped off further back. The men were young and well dressed, and they did not know the reception that was in store for them until one heard Roy say something to Officer Samson about arresting them. They then started on a run down North Queen street, followed by Samson, who did not know what they were wanted for. He kept blowing his whistle and threatening to shoot, but the boys turned out Orange street and ran down Christian street and out Grant, right past the station house. Several police officers and Turnkey Miller, who had heard Samson's whistle, joined in the chase, but the boys were too fleet of foot and they got Death of an Old Hotel-Keeper. Jacob Summy, aged 79 years, of Manheim, died at the home of his son, J. M. Summy, proprietor of the American hotel, in that borough, on Sunday, of pneumonia. He had been sick for five weeks. He was born near Neffsville and at one time worked at milling at Sellers station. He retired from that and went into the hotel business, keeping at Sporting Hill, Manheim and the Black Horse, on the Harrisburg turnpike, between this city and Landisville. His other son is S. G. Sammy, proprietor of the Summy house, and he has two daughters. His funeral takes place on Wednesday morning at 10 J'clock.

Crueity to Animal. Isaac and Benjamin Bottnecht, two Russians charged with cruelty to animals, were heard by Alderman Barr on Saturday night. These men were complained against for cruelty to a horse that was too weak to pull the wagon to which it was hitched Benjamin was dismissed, as there was no testimony to connect him with the offense. Isaac was given the option of paying the costs or going to jail. He paid the costs.

THREE REPUBLICANS TO CONTEST FOR DIS-TRICT ATTORNEY NEXT SATURDAY.

Indications Point to a Big Fight Between Major Reinchl and G. C. Kennedy-The Short Tickets.

tightly drawn between Reinoehl and Ken-When Kennedy was announced as a candidate, the politicians considered the announcement a shrewd political move for nomination three years hence. It was thought that Kennedy would not make any great effort, but would be content with being a good second. Before he was in the field long it was discovered that he was a bustler and was making inroads on Reincehl's strength. To-day knowing politicians say he has a fair chance of winning. He has been by far a better worker than the great disadvantage of being confined to the house by illness for the past week or ten days. While he was at home his younger competitor was travelling all over Reincell's close friends do not apprehend any trouble in nominating him. They argue that it is his turn, that the two daily Republican papers are for him, and the latter fact alone ought to put him through, but in addition that he will receive the solid vote of the Bull Ring faction.

RENNEDY'S CLAIM. Kennedy's friends admit that the Era and Ecaminer will make Reinocht a few votes in some quarters, but claim that he will lose in others, because the Republicans of Lancaster county do not want to be dietated to by the papers in the choice of any

It is conceded that Major Reinochl will not receive by many hundred the majority he had in this city three years ago, or that his vote will be as large as it was in Columbia, but his friends expect that he will make up this loss by gains in districts which went heavily for Weaver. Kennedy's friends do not concede any serious loss in the Weaver strongholds, The contest parrows itself down to a faction fight; and the question is, which one is on top at the present time? The Hog Ring faction have at present in office the prothonotary, sheriff, two commissioners and coroner, and the Bull Ring the register, recorder, and treasurer. In addition the latter controls the poor and prison boards, so that it is a toss up as to which is the strongest, and it is also about a toss up as to who will be the district attorney

The distribution of patronage under the Harrison administration is a factor in the fight. If Congressman Brosius is of opinion that to the victors belong the spoils, and it is thought he is, for he has been in a great hurry to decapitate good Democratic officials, he owes nothing to the faction running Major Reinœhl. The Bull Ring faction, however, say that Brosius will trea their recommendations fairly and the other fellows say that the appointments in Lancaster county will be made upon their recommendations solely.

THE DELEGAT

An effort was made to agree upon a list of delegates for the next Republican state convention, but it failed and each faction has set announced. All are apparently for Boyer for state treasurer, but each faction wants the credit of naming the delegates, The factions are also divided upon poor

Among the candidates named for poor directors is William Good. He has been in the board three years and is entitled to credit for the faithful performance of duty. When the question of publishing the poor directors' report came up in the board be advocated the publishing of a full and complete report showing where every dellar of the county's money was expended. He was seconded in his efforts by Jacob S. Strine, but these two stood alone in the position they took. On the score of its being too expensive the board outvoted these two directors, and the result was the publication of a report which gave no satisfac-tion to the officials themselves or the public, who had a right to know how their money

A BIT OF HISTORY. Three years ago a combination was made by which A. J. Eberly, then district attorney, J. Hay Brown, Senators Mylin and Stehman, ex-Sheriff Strine, John A. Hiestand and both Republican dailies supported Reincehl for district attorney, and Stehman for senator. Nevertheless W. D. Weaver's splendid personal canvass, backed by Sam. S. Martiu-who has come to be considered one of the shrewdest political wire pullers of his party-John W. Mentzer and others, caused Weaver to win. Stehman made a narrow escape; and only the weakness and unpopularity of his opponent saved him.

The chagrin of the Reinchl men when they found they had been used as cats' paws to draw out the Stehman chestnuts was intense. At first they refused to be comforted with anything short of a declaration of Reinœhl's election, and in order to secure this they got the Stehman men to join with them, three years ago, in throwing out the vote of Warwick township, which would have elected Reinsehl, with out defeating Stehman. On the face of the returns in 1886 Stchman had 3,873; Summy 3,666; Weaver had 7,341; Reinochl had Warwick had given more plurality for Weaver than his plurality in the county. If the township could be excluded Reinsehl could be counted in. It was resolved to try it. All other devices failing, the presence of Dr. Roebuck in the room was seized upon as a pretext. The returning board, composed of a Stehman-Reinochl majority, lent themselves to it; cehl was declared elected and the board adjourned. But the Weaver men wouldn't stand it; and they threatened a revolt that would upset both Stehman and Reinochl. Whereat Stehman-with a lively recollection of experiences past-finding he was safely through, coaxed the Reinochl men to abandon their scheme. His friends, to save him, prevailed with Editor Geist to have the Weaver count-out abandoned and, upon assurances of future protection. Reinschl made a virtue of necessity; it was not until two days after the fraud was projected and executed in his interest that he repudlated it, surrendered the nomination to Weaver and started his third canvass for the office. The ghost of this transaction has arisen to plague him. AN OLD POLITICIAN'S VIEW.

One of the most experienced Republican politicians in the county, who has no special liking for either Kennedy or Reinceld, and who has generally trained with the Bull Ring faction, gives it as his observation that Major Reinebl,in transferring himself from the old New Era, anti-Cameron side, upon which he had for many years fought, to the opposition, has failed to carry with him any considerable part of the following he had in his efforts to defeat Senator ously opposing the election to Congress last fall of Mr. Brosius, the only soldier candidate, Major Reinochl antagonized and drove away from himself a considerable part of the soldier vote; and the fact that he countenanced and tolerated, if he did not Weaver in 1886, has evoked opposition to him in quarters where it cannot be quieted."

Meanwhile the political forces that have for some years past been gaining the mastery of county politics, have been gradually seeking and reaching a common under-standing. The influences that triumphed and the elements that coalesced when Weaver beat Reinochl in 1886; when Burkholder won in 1887, and when Brosius flayed both Eshleman and Hiestand in and H. R. Eelton. The last named is not in the fight. The faction lines are being 1888, do not propose to lie quiescent while district attorneys are nominated, post-offices given out and places in all the federal departments apportioned. "You will find," says this veteran, "that people who expect postoffices, department places, positions in the mint and custom house and railway mail clerkships had better get down on that side of the feuce where Brosius' friends stand-in almost solid support of Ken nedy."

DIED ON A TRAIN.

An Ohio Man's End Comes on Saturday Night Near Bird-in-Hand. A very sad death occurred on Saturday night on a train of the Pennsylvania railroad. The train was the second section of Western Express, which is due here at 11:10, but was late on Saturday. Among the passengers in a sleeping car was Daytor H. Townsend and wife, who reside at Martinsville, Clinton county, Ohio, about fifty miles east of Cincin-nati. For several years past Mr. Townsend had been a sufferer from consumption. Last September he and his wife went to the Bahama islands, hoping the trip would be beneficial to his health. They spent the winter at Nassau and started home week. They reached New York on Friday evening and took passage on the train for home on Saturday evening. Mrs. Townsend noticed after the train had left Philadelphia that her husband was sinking. Word was telegraphed back to Philadelphia by the trainmen and Dr. L. T. Bremermen, the company's physician at Downingtown, was notified to board the train at that place. The doctor soon saw that Mr. Townsend could live but a short time. He and Mrs. Townsend gave him

Owing to the illness of the coroner C. A. elled a jury consisting of H. W. Buckius, Harry L. Trout, Frank L. Hostetter, Wm. Huber. The verdiet was death from heart failure, the result of consumption. The body was then given over to Undertaker Townsend left with it on Pacific Express at 1:35. Although greatly worried over her husband's sad death the woman acted very coolly and looked after all of the arrange

The dead man was in the 60th year of hi age. He formerly resided in Cincinnati, but several years ago moved to Martinsville. He was a prominent citizen in his neighborhood and followed farming. He was also connected in some way with a college. Besides a wife he had four children, and he seemed very anxious to live until he got home to see them.

FOUND DIED IN A STABLE.

Thomas Girvin, a Horseman, Dies Sud denly Saturday Night or Sunday.

Thomas Girvin, a man who was em loyed attending horses in the stable of M. Bush, on West Grant street, in the rear of the Cooper house, was found dead on Sunday morning. The deceased, who was about 34 years of age, was partially par-nlyzed and was subject to heart disease. On Saturday evening he complained of pains about his heart. That was between 8 and 9 o'clock, and he was not seen again alive. He slept in the stable and when Mr. Bush went there about 6 o'clock in the morning he found his dead body. It was lying a the top of a little stairway in the western end of the stable. It was stiff and cold and he must have been dead for some hours. Coroner Honoman empanelled i jury, consisting of John A. Hampy, W. Marion, S. W. Haverstick, Philip Hess, and Henry Scheurenbrand, and a verdict of death from heart disease was rendered.

The deceased came from California originally. He worked for years for Fiss & Doerr in New York, and afterwards in Philadelphia. He came from the latter city to Lancaster with horses two weeks ago and secured employment with Mr. Bush. He was a single man and has an aunt in Philadelphia. His body was taken to the almshouse for buriat.

He was walking from his house to the barn when he fell over dead. The cause of his death was heart trouble. Mr. Albright was over 60 years of age, and was proprietor of the Red Lion hotel for a great many years. He was a highly respected citizen and an evidence of his popularity was shown at the last spring election. He was elected supervisor on the Democratic ticket although the township is largely Republican. He was always an active and influential emocrat. He leaves a family of two sons and three

THE DANMARK PEOPLE SAVED.

Over Three Hundre I of the Passengers Brought by the Missouri to Philadelphia.

Dispatches received from Lisbon, Portugal, on Sunday stated that the first officer and 42 of the Danmark's crew had arrived there from the Azores, and reported that when about 800 miles from Newfoundland an accident happened to the engines of the Danmark; the shaft was broken and the engineer was killed by the bursting of a steam pipe. On the next day the disabled steamer met the steamship Missouri, from London, for Philadelphia. The Missouri towed the Danmark until the 8th, when the latter seemed to about sink. At first the Missouri was only able to take aboard twenty of the Danmark's people, but after having thrown overboard a portion of her cargo, she found accommodations for all.

The Missouri then proceeded to the Azores, and left there the first and second officers and 320 passengers. She then continued her journey with 340 passengers and the remainder of the crew.

DEATH OF MRS. LAURA FRITCH. Called Awny at an Early Age-Consumption the Cause. Mrs. Laura Fritch, wife of George Fritch, died at the residence of her husband, No. 116 Laurel street, this morning, in the 25th year of her age. She was ill from consumption for several months, but she bore her sufferings with great patience and when she knew she could not recover she calmly awaited the summons that called her that other and better world. She leaves a husband, two small children and bereaved parents to moure her death.

Deceased was the daughter of A. Iske, a well known resident of this city. She took great interest in the festivals given by the Mennerchor and her talents always gave her a leading part. She was a general favorite in society and her death will be a great shock to her many young friends. Her devoted husband has the sympathy of the community in his sad bereavement.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday morning and services held Joseph's Catholic church.

Killed at Renovo. This morning the body of a young man of this county, who was killed by the cars at Renovo, arrived in Lancaster and was taken to New Providence. The unfortunate man was Harry Bleacher, a son of Michael Bleacher, who resides about a mile and a half west of New Providence. He went to Renovo several months ago and was working on the railroad until cut to pieces by the cars on Saturday. He was about 24 years of age and unmarried.

House Struck by Lightning. During the rain storm of Saturday even ing the lightning was very sharp and the thunder was terrific. The lightning struck the roof of John S. Breneman's house, 143 North Duke street. It was what is called a 'cold stroke" and did no damage beyond knocking a hole in the roof. The shock was plainly felt by the family of Miss Van Geisen, who lives next door. Mr. Brene man's house is not occupied at present, When the lightning struck it he was working in the rear part of the house and he WICHITA, Kas., April 22.-The first tre couches, arrived yesterday and there was not standing room in the conches. People filled the spaces between the care and filled the spaces between the care and clung to the steps. One enterprising boomer rode on the cow catcher. The crowd cheered him as the train entered the depot. There were about 1,400 people of the train.

The arrivals yesterday numbered a least 5,000. Of this number one-third wen South to reach the line of Oklahoms is order to be ready for the word "Go." ficers are greatly worried over the pros-pects of moving so many people. The day is bright and cool with the properts favorable for a large vote. Both parties have been active in the campaign and a full vote is expected. The day is a legal holiday, with the exception that certain business transactions relating to contracts, etc., will be valid, and the banks, exchanges and wholesale business house are closed. The poils opened at 7 a. m., and it is expected, from the simplicity of the ballot, that returns from the entire state will be completed by midnight. Following will be completed by indulgar. Pollowing is a copy of the proposed amendment:
"The manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquors, to be used as a beverage, are prohibited. The general court shall enact suitable legislation to enforce the provisions of this article."

All recent impartial canvasses and general opinion point to the rejection of the amendment, the principal interest being in the size of the majority against it.

Children's Day in Washington. WASHINGTON, April 22.—Easter Monda; is known as Children's Day at the White is known as Children's Day at the White House and in the spacious grounds surrounding it. To-day the infantile boomers, in imitation of their adult prototypes who are crossing the border into the promised land of Oklahoma, swarmed into the White House grounds, made their locations on the grassy knolls and proceeded to the Joyons occupation of rolling brilliantly dyed Easter eggs. The merry is sughter of hundreds of children rang in the sir; and hundreds of children rang in the air; and the pretty costumes of mothers and maids who came to keep a watchful eye over their rollicking youngsters rendered the some an attractive one, and one which the occupants of the executive mansion frequently appeared at the windows to admire. The merriment and pleasure of the occasion was enhanced by an order issued by Secretary Tracy requiring the Marine band to furnish music for the little ones during the aftermoon; and many impromptu dances were Totero, O., April 22.—The Blade will say this evening on the most unimposchable authority that Wellington R. Burt, of Saginaw, president of the Michigan Sah association, will sail on Wednesday next for Southampton, on the steamer Saals, to secure $10,000,000, by means of which, with the pool already formed in this country, the entire sail product of the United States will be controlled by the syndicate of which he will be the head. It is not the purpose of the proposed syndicate to force up the price of sait, the object being simply to reduce the operating expenses of the business, which can be done, it is claimed, to the extent of half million dollars a year.
