OBS INTELLIGENCER: I beg leave to through the columns of your paper no scire facias have been issued by a city solicitor to revive judgments on for the city of Lancaster except where scords in the prothonotary's office will . In addition I always notified the condants and terre tenants, or their cats and attorneys, before issuing. For the year 1888 seventy-nine liens are entered for taxes. On twenty-seven these I issued seire facias to collect, being those I thought ought to pay. I claim having any motive in issuing se seire facias for the sake of the atmesy fee, because in only a few of them I collect the attorney fee in the costs. THE GREAT KELLAR.

Astonishes and Pleases a Small Au-dience at the Opera House. Last evening Kellar, the wonderful agician, whose only rival is Herrman, agician, whose only rival is Herrman, speared in Fulton opera house. The talience was small, probably owing to the adden rise in prices; but it was composed the best people. The entertainment roughout was simply marvelous, and a audience was astonished. Kellar gened the entertainment by performing great number of mystifying tricks. He introduced his f gare "Parche" which introduced his f gare "Ps eho," which eans of cards answered the most diffi-questions. The Spanish Students of a number of beautiful selections red a number of beautiful selections were recalled time and again. Martha stein, the famous mind reader, was next reduced; her performance was wonderand the committee that met on the pleft perfectly satisfied that she could everything they could think of. Kellar and up the show by giving a series of mipulations in his mysterious cabinet. It is entertainment probably was the best the kind ever given in Lancaster.
