JACOB B. GOOD LOCKED UP

Constable Pyle Arrested Illm on a Bonch Warrant To-day.

Jacob B. Good was complained against some time ago for forcible entry and detainer, before Alderman McConomy. He refused to appear at the hearing or give ball for his appearance at court. The court a few days ago directed a bench warrant to issue for his arrest and it was pisced in Constable Pyle's hands for execution. He arrested Good to-day, and brought him to this city. Good accompanied the officer to the court house not expecting that he would be locked up. When he learned that he had to give ball or go to jail he became unruly and was disposed to resist the officer. At Duke and Grant streets be refused to go any further and Constable Pyle (called upon Turnkey Miller for assistance. Good was disposed to resist both these officers, but finally went along upon the persuasion of his friends, who were attracted to the scuffe. He was locked up at the station house to give his friends a chance to enter ball. to give his friends a chance to enter ball for him. If he fails to secure it by even-

Kellar's second Night.

Kellar, the great magician, had an audience last evening which was larger than that of the night before. The people were again mystified by his wonderful tricks and the mind reading of Madame Steen was wonderful although she was away off at one time. One of the committee that went upon the stage was Mr. John E. that went upon the stage was Mr. John E. Maione, esq. Mr. Steen picked up several watches in the audience which the woman, who was blindfolded on the stage, described, giving their numbers. He then returned to the stage and Mr. Malone asked him whether the woman could tell the num-ber of a watch if he (Steen) did not handle it first. Steen seemed to think Mr. Malone skeptical, and told him that the woman could tell the number of his (Malone's) watch in his pocket. He asked the woman and in slow tones she said "768." Steen, with a great flourish said "that is the number of your watch for a thousand dollars. Mr. Malone left him under that impressio but the number of the watch is 1.503 and the case 3,636. The Spanish Students came in for a big share of the applause.

Last night at a late hour a burglar at tempted to get into the house of Frank Dommett, baker, who resides on Mary Mr. Dommett's brother Henry, who resides with him, heard a noise, and upon going to the rear of the house found a man on the roof of the back building trying to effect an entrance to the window. The fellow also saw him, and jumped from the roof to another building and got away.

A peculiar noise like that of a burglar was heard about the residence of Francis Shroder, at Orange and Lime streets, late last night. Several pistol shots were fired by a member of the family, and the man is supposed to have fled, as the premises were searched afterwards but no one could be

The contract for erecting the new Pres-byterian chapel, which will be erected on the plot of ground between the church and Col. B. Frank Eshleman's residence, was given to John Adam Burger some time ago. Mr. Burger has broken ground and the building will be erected at once. It will be brick and of one-story 136 feet long and 38 feet wide with a main school room, lecture room, parlor and infant Sunday school room. The building will extend out in front as far as the Eshleman residence. There are very few bodies yet remaining in the plot on which the building will be erected and they will not be disturbed.

Charged With Assault and Battery. This morning John Hinerdeer, jr., son of John Hinerdeer, who resides on the Philadelphia turnpike, took a horse to the stable of Henry Weill to sell it.
