Dry Goobs.

We loved awhile, then went our way, And tears were all our hearts could say. We loved? You smile. Forgive me! No, We played at love.

And now we meet, and aktes are grey.
And our two hearts no more than they Keep trace of last year's fleeting glow,
Ah, which were best? I know not thou
(Like children, serious when they play)
We played at love.

Says Bishop Was in a Trance.

Considerable excitement has been caused in New York by the decisration of the wife of Mind Reader Bishop that her husband was not dead when the autopsy was performed on his body, but only in a cataleptic trance. She declares that when exhausted by the montal strain after performing his mind reading, he frequently went into a trance that lasted from twelve to forty-eight hours. Bishop died shortly after noon on Monday, or at least appeared to be dead. The autopsy was performed between 4 and 6 on Monday afternoon before his relatives had arrived there from Philadelphia.

Mrs. Bishop did not know that an autopsy had been made until she combed his hair as he lay in the lee-box Monday night and the comb caught in the incision made by the doctors in his skull. A friend of Bishop's also claims that he has known him to lie in a trance for two days, and he firmly believes that he was in that condition when his brain was removed for examination by the doctors. Says Bishop Was in a Trance.

He Hammered the Preacher. He Hammered the Preacher.

William Heiss, of Old Forge, Lackawanna county, didn't like Rev. J. H. King, a local preacher, who kept company with his sister. So on Monday evening Heiss secreted himself under a table in the parlor, and when King called he came forth from his hiding place and commenced to beat the preacher over the head with a hammer. Miss Heiss saved her lover from instant death by running between the two men; but King may be fatally injured.

Seemingly Eradicated With repeated and powerful doses of quinine, chills and fever, in some one of its various forms, springs into active existence again, often without the slightest apparent provocation. To extinguish the smouldering embers of this bostinate and recondite malady, no less than to subdue it when it rages flercely in the system, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is all sufficient. Hostetter's Stomneh Bitters is all sufficient. When every resource of the pharmacopoela has been exhausted against it in vain the Bitters conquer it—will remove every lingering vestige of it. Nay, more, the Bitters will protect those brought within the influence of the atmospheric poison that begets malarial disease, from its attacks. Disorders of the stomach, liver and bowels are among the complaints to be apprehended from the use of miasmachainted water. hended from the use of miasma-tainted water. These are both cured and prevented by the Bit-ters. Rheumatism, constipution and renal com. plaints, yield to its action.

"When lovely woman stoops to folly," and goes out in the snow without her India rubbers, the only art to cure her cold is to buy one bot-tle of Pr. Buil's Cough Syrup at 25 cents and take it. "Speak this speech, as I tell you, trippingly on the tongue." Say that one of the great ben-efactions of the age is a small bottle of Salva-tion Oil, the greatest cure on earth for pain. Only 25 cents.

Would Have Been Set Upon. Would Have Been Set Upon.

Had not Burdock Blood Bitters been a remedy of unquestionable merit they would have been set down upon by the public as thousands of medicines have been when their worthlessness was discovered. "Burdock Blood Bitters" have received unbounded praises from the sick, thus establishing their merit beyond dispute. For Epoch.

The transition from long, lingering and painful sickness to redust health marks an epoch in the life of the individual. Such a remarkable event is treasured in the memory and the agency whereby the good health has been attained is gratefully blessed. Hence it is that so many feel they owe their restoration to health to the use of the Great Alterative and Tonic. If you are troubled with any disease of Kidneys, Liver or Stomach, of long or short standing, you will surely find relief by use of Electric Bitters. Soil at 50c and 51 per bottle at H. B.
