SHORT, SHARP GAME. FOUR HUNDRED PERSONS WITNESS FINE BALL PLAYING ON FRIDAY AFTERNOON.

to Nothing Was the score By Which the Cubans Defeated Lancaster. another Contest To-day.

The Cuban Giants, the famous colored this season in Lancaster yest and succeeded in defeating the home club, There were about 400 persons on the ground, but this number would have been ch greater had it not been for the very threatening appearance of the weather up to the time that the game was more than half over. Although the me team was defeated the audience was delighted with the exhibition of playing given by both teams. Seldom has it been the fortune of Lancaster people to see a better game than that put up by the teams yesterday. Both went to work in carnest and on account of the sharp and brilliant fielding the game was over in less than an bour and a half.

The pitchers were Carroll and Whyte, and while both did good work the colored men seemed able to secure hits just when they were most needed, while the Lancaster had the bad luck to get them when they were not of much account. The Lancastor hit hard into the field, but everything seemed to go into the hands of their opponents. Selden, left fielder of the Giants, made a catch of a very difficult fly ball from Rigby's bat which otherwise would have been a triple. Collins also made a wonderful catch. McGettigan, Peak, Grass and Harrison did some great playing during the game. Three Lancasmen were thrown out at the home plate; and two of these happened in the ninth inning. The full score was as follows care of Dr. McIntyre, chief surgeon of the road. It was 11:25 p. m. when the accident occurred. The train was irraveling at a high rise of speed and most of the passengers had already gene to sleep, while the few re-maining awake were about to do so. There is a curve in the road about three miles west of sulfivan, and when this point was reached a sudden jolt and jar was felt all over the train. Everybody felt it and the people in the rear cars could bear the for-ward cosches ratiling and rambing over the ties and the crushing noise of cars being demolished. A creek is crossed by the road at that point and there is a steep entankment thirty feet high. Most of the passengers thought the train was going through a bridge and a feeling of horror chilled their blood. In an instant all the coaches except the two sleeping cars had been thrown from the rails. Teople were thrown about in the cars in and directions and some of them were thrown from the coaches and down the em-bankment, Walter Davidson, who travels for the Vestincheurs aff bridson, who travels

Another passenger on the same edge of the creek, with his feet in the water. Another passenger on the same coach was tossed from the rear end of the car to the forward end. The train proper was made up of a mail car, an express car, baggage car, a smoker, a ladies' car, a re-clining chair and two Pullman sleepers. Back of these sleepers were hitched five empty conches of the San Antonia & Aranzas Pass road, which had been picked up at some way station. The front truck of the first sleeper jumped off the track, but the rest of the cars remained on and the rear sleeper and empty coaches behind it never left the track. Fortunately there was no fires in any of the cars and the jolt extin-guished the lights immediately. Most of the forward cards were smashed into splinthe forward cards were smashed into splin-

The explanation of it given by the trainmen to the passengers was that the spikes and fishplates had been removed from the and fishplates had been removed from the rail at the curve, thus leaving the rail loose on the ties. The forward portion of the locomotive passed the place all right, but the tender jumped the track and was thrown part of the way down an embank-ment. A Missing Husband Appears. Down in Rohrsville, Md., nearly twenty years ago, resided Abraham E. Smith, son of Jacob E. Smith, now de-ceased. Abraham had a wife and daughter, the latter new grown to womanbood. For some cause an estrangement sprang up between Smith and his wife, and he left for parts unknown. Some four left for parts unknown. Some four years ago Jacob Smith, the father of Abraham, died, leaving an estate to be administered upon and divided among his legal heirs, of which Abraham was one. His family, believing him to be dead, pro-ceeded in a legal manner to divide the property. Under the seven-year absence law the death of Abraham Smith was proved in the orphans' court of the county, and letters of administration were issued to his daughter. Thus fortified she came in possession of a sum of money due her father from the estate of the elder Smith. Thus matters remained until a few days ago, when Abraham Smith appeared in Hagerstown, proved his identity and made claim to the money which he was entitled to from his father's estate. Smith made no effort to become reconciled with his wife and daughter, and after thus presenting his claim and leaving the same with Lis attor-ney for adjustment, took his departure on Verday. Jacob Smith, the father ney for adjustment, took his departure on Friday.

Secundi-E.H. Burkholder, A. Hollinger, J. J. Nisaley, S. G. Seyfert, W. H. Seibert. The committee on missions reported that classis has heard with great pleasure that the Second church in Harrisburg has ceased to be a mission, having grown externally and internally under the pastorate of Rev. G. W. Snyder to such proportions that it does not need aid. Classis also congratu-lates St. Luke's church at Lancaster in view of their preservity in having secured an of their prosperity in having secured an enlargement of their church, as well as spiritual growth of the congregation under the efficient pastorate of Rev. W. F. Lichliter. A committee was appointed to act in conjunction with Rev. D.C. Toblas to look after the interests of the Reformed church in Lititz. The afternoon session opened with prayer by Rev. M. H. Sangree. The Reformed church at Marietta was granted seventy-five dollars sustentation to begin with the installation of a pastor, One hundred dollars sustentation was granted to the Steelton mission. Eighty-five dollars sustentation was granted to the Maytown charge. Permission was given Rev. M. H. Sangree to visit such charges whose pastors gives permission, for the purpose of soliciting aid to build a church in Steelton. The committee on overtures reported on he flourishing condition of Franklin and Marshall college, the theological seminary and the academy, and commended these institutions to the support of the church and the community in which these institutions are located. These institutions are especithe home club's grounds in McGrann's ally suited to such parents who are anxious to educate their children under healthiest park, and there was quite a large crowd Christian influences. The intellectual standard is equal to any and superior to many of the colloges of the land. Elder G. W. Hensel addressed the classis on the increase of the endowment of the theological seminary.

Revs. E. N. Kremer, M. H. Sangree and Elder G. W. Hensel were appointed to solicit funds for the seminary within the classis. Committee on finance reported the treasurer's account correct, and announced the appointments on the charges for the coming vear. Rev. J. H. Pannebecker was elected treasurer for the eighth year. Classis will meet April 24, 1800, in St. Paul's church, Lancaster.

The report of the state of religion was read by Rev. J. M. Titzel, D. D., showing that the church is in a more flourishing condition than ever before. The increase of membership has been large and the benevolent contributions were very liberal.

A VERY LIVELY COMPSE. Oscar Shearer Discovered On Friday Walking With a Gripsack. Oscar S. Shearer, the husband of a Man-heim woman, who was supposed to have committed suicide by drowning himself near Reading, has turned up. His clothes were found near Penn street bridge, and the Reading authorities had the canal dragged for his body which was not there. On Friday afternoon the body was seen and recognized near Norristown. It was walking down the railroad track, carrying a gripsack and displaying a solled counte-nance, apparently derived from dusty rail-way travel. sination of Doctor Cronin-The story to Be Sifted.

CRICAGO, May 25 .-- A morning paper publishes a story which implicates a mem-ber of the Chicago police force in the takingoff of Dr. Cronin. The officer in question is Detective Daniel Coughlin, and the story blished is to the effect that on the morning of the day on which Dr. Cronin disappeared, Coughlin engaged at the livery stable not far from where Dr. Cronin lived, a horse and buggy which he said a friend of his would call for that evening; that the man did call and was given a white horse, similar to the one attached to the buggy in which Cronin was decoyed away ; that the time of going and the description of the man correspond minutely with the ap-pearance of the man himself; that Coughin subsequently cautioned the livery stable keeper to say nothing about the matter. Force is added to these revelations another passenger on the train. Both gentlemen speak with absolute certainty of its being Shearer. Mr. Wall stopped at Conshohocken and took the train back inform Mrs. Shearer that her from the fact that Coughlin was a member of one or more societies of which Cronin was a member and they were enemics. The matter was finally brought to the attention of Chief of Police Hubbard, who promises to probe it to the bottom.

The referred question : Should a young man join the Woman's Temperance Union ? was answered by Mr. Geo. McCulloch. His answer provoked a very spirited but interesting discussion. Many of the ladies spoke with much vigor in defending their beloved white ribbon society.

The following resolution was debated: Resolved, That more culture is afforded by the study of literature than by the study of mathematics.

Miss Ada Schiller and Mr. A. R. Rutt argued in favor of the affirmative and Miss Kate Wertz and Mr. A. R. Eshleman in favor of the negative. Both sides were well presented. The kind of culture given by each was made a prominent feature of the debate.

The reciter, Miss Alice Sedgwick, rendered her selection remarkably well.

The Page Weekly was read by the editress, Miss Mary Stevenson. The paper was bright, rich and valuable.

A Bootblack Throws a Stone Through Large Window Pane.

Last evening Frank Woods, a darkey bootblack, who is better known as "Mustard," because he is about that color, and another black boy named Book had a quarrel on North Queen street in front of Astrich's millinery store. They first began banging each other with their blacking boxes and then Woods ran across the street to the Franklin house. He picked up a stone and hurled it at his foe. It struck the pavement of Astrich's store and glancing off struck against one of the panes of glass in the front of the large window, smashing one corner of it. The boy was soon captured and taken to the station house by Chief of Police Smeltz. He was afterwards liberated, as the Astriches did not care to prosecute him. The window, which was a very valuable one, was insured with Bausman & Burns, and will have to be replaced by a new one. As but one corner of the pane is broken, much of it can be saved.

Custodian of the Public Building A Washington dispatch to the Philadel phia Ledger states that A, T. Slaymaker was to-day appointed by the secretary of the treasury to be custodian of the public building site at Lancaster, Pa.

Congressman Brosius was seen in reference to the above item. He says there is no such officer to be appointed; that he does not know who A. T. Slaymaker is and he thinks it is a mistaken announcement. The only officer to be named in connection with the public building is superintendent of construction, but that officer will not be appointed until the government is ready to begin the erection of the structure. He had a consultation with the secretary of the treasury a short time ago, and the information he received was that the drawings for the building would not be completed for three months, and the appointment of a superintendent of construction will not be made before that time.

The Mænnerchor Entertainment.

The Lancaster Macnuerchor will open its summer season with one of their delightful family entertaintments on Monday evening, May 27th. And although of comparatively new origin, these evenings have become very popular among the members; as it gives them an opportunity to spend a few hours very pleasantly with their families, to come in close union with each other. Surely one of the good features in the Mænnerchor is that one will always find friends there to have a social chat with ; and as these evenings are unceremonial, and pleasant entertainments in view, they are look forward to with delight. To give the young folks their full share of pleasure, the upper hall will be opened for dancing.

What the Stone Hunters Missed. Mr. Bechtold says that the street committee, on their recent expedition in search of stone, did not see the quarry that he offers to the city. The stone they did see oppo-site the old city water works he considers too good for the purpose. He agrees with Mr. McGrann's suggestion, that a section of street should be laid with stone from each quarry, and a selection made of the best wearing and least expensive. The quarry he offers is close by the old factory bridge, and only a mile and a quarter from the centre of the city. The stone is hard and is claimed to be very well suited for streets.

special United States Tax. Next Friday is the last day on which the special United States tax due by eigar manufacturers and liquor dealers can be paid to save the penalty. Thursday is a legal holiday the office will be closed on that day and to avoid a rush the payment of the tax should be attended to earlier in the week. To those who do not pay by Friday a penalty of fifty per cent. will be added.

Tried to Kill Herself.

Constable Pyle took Louise and Celia McCutcheon to the House of Refuge today. Louisa said yesterday that she would not go to that institution if she could help it, and rather than be sent there she at-tempted to kill herself. She made an effort to hang herself in the prison, and a second attempt in her cell at the station house. Both times her sister gave an alarm, and her life was saved. She made the attempts to take her life by hanging herself. She tied her handkerchief lightly around her neck, and her attempt at the prison was almost a success. At the station house it was found necessary to put handcutfs on her to prevent her injuring herself. She says she would sooner die than remain in that institution.

A Civil Causes a Criminal suit.

Charles I. Baker, a wholesale merchant, doing business at No. 234 Church street Philadelphia, Pa., had a business difficulty with Abram Hirsh and at the hearing today before Alderman Halbach judgment was rendered in favor of Mr. Baker for the full amount his claim. Mr. Hirsh after the hearing wanted to enter a criminal suit against Mr. Baker for selling goods without license before Alderman Halbach, but that magistrate refused to entertain the complaint. Hirsh then went before Alderman Barr and made his complaint. Baker entered bail for a hearing.

Another Walking Challenge.

There was considerable bitter feeling between the men who took part in the walking match at Mænnerchor hall this week, and the friends of Lawrence and Nolan on the last night each contended that their favorite was the better man. Since that there has been much talk, and to-day Lawrence sent a challenge to the INTELLIGENCES office offering to walk Nolan for $100. Lawrence says he is ready to post the money in any bank of this city, on condition that the walk commences peared. The shad fishermen and amateur anglers The shad fishermen and amateur anglers along the river unite in denouncing the black bass, the wolf-fish of the Romans, as the destructive cause of the failure to prop-agate successfully in these waters the valu-able food and game fishes in question. They assert that the bass is the rapacious and insatiate enemy of the other fish, which in the end it exterminates by devouring the young fry. They declare that the bass in itself is without flavor or value as food, and has only the one merit of fighting gamely against capture by red and line, and which quality makes it a favorite with the dilettante of the cities. They censure the state fisheries commis-sion severely for introducing this rapa-cious and worthless fish into the river, for the benefit of a small number of fancy anglers, and to the detriment of a great food-producing industry in which many thousands of people are interested, and they protest vigorously against the fur-ther introduction of the pest into the fish-ing waters of the region. g waters of the region.

Ing waters of the region. Perhaps the highest authority around Middletown, N. Y., on angling matters is Mr. Charles Mead, of the Goshen Democrat, the Nestor of the Orange county newspaper press. Speaking of the obnoxious bass, Mr. Mead says:

Mr. Mead says: "They are the voracious destroyers of all other fish in the waters where they get a foothold, and do not hesitate to swallow a catilsh, in spite of his ugly horns. I know of ponds and streams in Orange county that once afforded the angler rare sport in taking trout, perch, pickerel, sunfish and other choice varieties that have been well migh ruined for tishing purposes by stock-ing them with black bass. The worst of it is that one can rarely catch a bass, and when caught it is found to be an inferior fish for the table." fish for the table."

Rev. T. De Witt Talmage arrived in Baltimore on Tuesday morning under the im-pression that he had an engagement to lecture at Ford's opera house. As none of the committee who had invited him to lecture called upon him at the hotel, he took a walk to the opera house and was surprised to see that he was not billed, nor adverto see that he was not billed, nor adver-tised in the newspapers. Manager Ford was very much surprised to learn that Mr. Tagmage was to lecture that night. The engagement was not on the opera house date book, but it was noted on Mr. Talmage's lecture memorandum. "This is a ridiculous blunder," said the clergy-man, as it dawned upon him that he had traveled to Baltimore under the erroneous impression that he was to lecture for a business college, the prosident of which had written him for terms, but had made no contract.

Laura Bridgeman Dead.

Laura Bridgeman, who died yesterday in Boston, was one of the most remarkable women ever born on this continent. She was from infuncy deprived of sight, speech, hearing and sense of smell, and yet she learned to communicate her thoughts, and in time became not only an intelligent being but a useful toiler. She attracted the attention of Charles Dickens during his output of the second se dumb girl Mary Keller gets along very well in her darkness and silence, but Laura Bridgeman first showed the possibility of making headway against such difficulties

THE ECONOMITE SOCIETY.

Henriel and Jonathan Lenz, as the leader of the community, the former managing the finances and representing the society, are on the directory of several railroads. The most prominent female is Miss Ger-trude Rapp, the daughter of the founder of the society. This trio of very aged persons forms a curious pleture at the Sunday services of the society, Miss Rapp playing the organ and Mr. Henrici leading in the singing and other exercises. A number of persons claiming to be heirs-at-law of deceased members of the society believe that the organization is about to be disbanded and are preparing to enter claims for portions of the prop-erty. Inquiry develops the fact that the expectations of the claimants must, of ne-cessity, prove barren of results) as the runor of the intended dissolution is false. Attempts to secure a partition of the vast expectations of the claimants must, of the cossity, prove barren of results) as the rumor of the intended dissolution is false. Attempts to secure a partition of the vast estates of the society date back many years and have been of comparative fre-quency. Only one, however, the first made, was successful, and that was many years ago, when Count Leon forced Father Rapp to give him and the faction he headed a large sum of money, with which they seeceded and founded Phillipsburg, Beaver county. Since then the attempts have been through the courts and have invariably resulted in the defaat of the partitioners. In fact within the past war the supreme court of the United States has decided the question in favor of the society, practically determining the matter for all time. Under this decision so long as there is a single member of the society will be invested in him as the society will be invested in him as the society of the partition of the United States has decided the question in favor of the society, practically determining the matter for all time. Under this decision so long as there is a single member of the society will be invested in him as the society will be invested in him as the society of the odissolved by the death of all is members its property will, accord-to a dissolved by the death of all is members its property will, accord-to priment legal talent, rever to the state. The society recently purchased a bricky and real to acress of and at Leetsdale, Allegheny opinity. At least two men have been ad-misted to membership within the past five years, both of whom are under 59 years of age, and who, if they live to the ages ord-parily attained by members, are good for probation, but the organization is very on probation, but the organization is very on probation, but the organization is very on the admit many members.

Trom the Galveston News. One day last week, Mrs. Jerry Lacy, of Palestine, came to Taylor and drew $250 from the Taylor National bank on a check given by her husband, who was a freight conductor between Palestine and Taylor. The next day Lacy himself came in on his run, sent in his resignation and has gone abroad. NEW YORK, May 25.-Fire this me almost completely destroyed the ch and paint works of E. K. Baker, 37 run, sent in his resignation and has gone abroad. It is alleged that Jerry Lacy, several years ago, was married in Kentucky. He came to Texas, and two years ago married a widow from Arkansas, and has been liv-ing with her in Palestine ever since. It seems that he desired to join an order, and the investigation showed, it is reported, that he had been married in Ken-tucky before his Texas marriage. This came to the ears of his second wife, and she was disposed to save herself as far as possible by secur-ing all the money in sight. She asked Jerry for a check for the money he had in Taylor. He gave it to her with the proviso that the first one to reach the bank should get the money, and she accepted the conditions. Jerry came out on his regu-lar run, and Mrs. Lacy took the passenger and beat him to Taylor, took in the situation, and quietly dropped out of the game. 3rd street, Brooklyn. Loss, $35,000.
