A SONG OF KILLARNEY. Lakes of Killarney, one morn On my pipe of green holly I warbled away, While a blackbird, high up on the arbu

Give back my gay music with gushes of giec,

And turned just the whole
Of our fluting to folly,
And softly along
Through the myrtle and heather
The maid and hersong
Swept upon us together.

Twas an old Irish tale, full of passionate trust; Of two fathful lovers long laid in the dust. And hereyes as she sang looked so far, far away, She went by me, nor knew she went by, where I lay. And myself and the grass, And the little red daises

Should let our dear pass,
Only whisp'ring her praises,
Till the lass and her lay
Parough the myrtle and heather
Like a dream died away O'er the mountain together, Afred Percival Graves in the Speciator.

CALIFORNIA MARVELS. Four and a Half Tons of Grapes From One Vine.

The San Francisco Chronicle has the following: "We are not much on corn here lowing: "We are not much on corn here in California," said Seedsman R. J. Trumbull, of Sansome street yesterday, "but in all other products of nature we can beat the world. Of course you have heard of the big grapevine at Santa Barbara, which covers an area of three acres of land Then there is the monster rosebush at Santa Rosa. I remember when a boy I marvelled at the size of this floral plant. It grew an enormous height, and completely covered the house where it grow. During my lifetime here in California I have handled squashes running all the way from 150 to 300 pounds each. Watermelons I have seen weighing from 35 to 100 pounds. Beets are frequently known on this coast weighing all the way from 40 to 75 pounds. I remember one beet raised at San Rafael, which weighed about 80 pounds. Last fall I saw three enions the aggregate weight of which was meary 5 pounds. In the Santa Clara valley I have known of onions weighing from 14 to 23 pounds. Tomato vines frequently grow ten or twelve foet across, and I have quite often seen radishes that looked like big turnips."

I have observed specimens of the Humboldt potato which weighed from two to three pounds. It is not at all unusual to see cabbages weighing from 35 to 75 pounds. Some years ago a Mr. Fox, who lived down in the Santa Cruz mountains, raised a carrot of the white Belgian variety which weighed about 20 pounds.

The far-famed big grape vine at Montein California," said Seedsman R. J. Trum-rot of the white Belgian variety which weighed about 20 pounds.

The far-famed hig grape vine at Mentecito, near Santa Barbara, is owned by Albert Magee. The vine was planted about forty years age. The grapes are of the Mission variety. The parent stalk is 46 inches in circumference one foot from the ground. Where it commences to branch, three feet from the ground, its circumference is 63 inches. The vine yielded 44 tons of gurpes in a single season. The vine covers on area of 100 by 90 feet.

The Bot-tetter Stomach Bitter People Score Another Point. In the United States Circuit Court for the Southern District of New York, Judge Ship-man handed down an opinion a few days ago in the suit of the owners of the trade marks covering Hostetter's Stomach Bitters against Arnold Thelier and Cornell Thelier, the com-pounders located on Vesey street, New York City, in which it was decided that, although the defendants made use of their own names on the labels affixed to the bottles containing bitters prepared by them, yet as they were evi-dently designed to test the Mexico Live II. dently designed to imitate the Hostetter labels they were infringers, and a perpetual injunction was granted and an accounting of damages or-dered, together with the costs of the suit. It is the evident intention of the Hostetter people to protect their valuable trademark against all in-

SUPERFLUOUS HAIR
SUPERFLUOUS HAIR
on the upper lip, chin, throat and cheeks destroyed forever without pain, sear or trace by the Electric Needle operation by Dr. J. Van Dyek, Electro Surgeon, 40 North Eleventh street, Philadelphia. This is the only method in the world that destroys the roots so the hair can never grow again. Remember this (the use of depliatories, the tweezers, scissors and razor only make these hairs grow coarser, stiffer, darker and/more numerous), if you have hairs on your face you will carry them to the grave with you unless you have them destroyed by the Electric Needle. Dr. Van Dyek has advantages over all others in electric operating. He was the second physician in the world to perform this operation. He has operated for thirteen years, and the demand for his services has increased so that he has given up all other practice, and makes the removal of Superfluon Hair, Birth and Wine Marks, Discolored Scars, Moles, Wens, Small Tumors, Excrescences on the eye-lids, face and body. Enlarged Veins of the hose and fac, by the Electric Needle, an exclusive specialty. Superfluous hair is a sensitive subject with every refined lady, and the doctor observes the strictest privacy in every case, and never publishes certificates of cures. He numbers among his patrons many of outending, by the second property of the country. You can consult him with every condence. If you have this obnoxious growth of hair, be if ever so slight or the reverse, don't neglect it another day, but consult Dr. Van Dyek at once. Office and operating rooms, 40 North Eleventh street. Hours, 9 to 5; Suadays, 10 to 3. Note—Dr. Van Dyek, Electro Surgeon of Philadelphia, has been called to Lancaster to treat several society ladies, and can be consulted at the Stevens House, Parlors C and D. Lancaster, Pa., from Monday, June 24, to Saturday, June 29. Hours 9 to 5, and during this vielt can treat a number of new patients. Call promptly.
