The Good News Confirmed.

Superintendent Stewart, of the Lancaster Mining and Milling company, has written to the Lancaster stockholders from Durango, Colorado, in reference to the rich strike made in their mine. The vein struck is seven feet thick and contains high and low grade gold ore, part of it being black tellurium, which is of immense value. The uprise is now being rapidly pushed, and when finished drifting will be commenced, preparatory to taking out the ore. Mine owners who have seen the vein struck pronounce the mine very valuable and say it will bring profitable results to the owners.

Calvin S. Brice's Lively Boy.

There is a sensation in the town of Exeter, over the doings of Stuart M. Brice, son of Chairman Calvin S. Brice. He was a pupil of the Philips Exeter academy, and after the studies for the term had been closed, went to Cambridge to study under a tutor. On Sundays and holidays, lately, he has returned to the school and having plenty of money made a noisy time among his friends.

A few weeks ago Brice was told by the faculty that his visits must cease until the close of the term, as they were detrimental to the interests of the other students. Brice stayed away until last Saturday, when the great ball game between the Andover and Exeter nines was to be played. That proved to be a great temptation, and he came to Exeter in the afternoon, joined the crowd on the campus, and immediately became one of the leading spirits. During the evening parade it was Brice who rode on the highest seat of the leading tally-ho and led the cheers as the procession visited the residence of each member of the faculty.

Brice is a fair scholar, an athlete, and a general favorite among the students. It was generally believed that his disobedience of the order would be overlooked, but on Monday morning Brice was expelled from the academy. His diploma was withheld, and he was not permitted to take part in the class day exercises, notwithstanding his name appeared on the programme as class historian. The disappointment is very great, both to young Brice and his family. His mother and sister were on their way there to attend commencement, when he telegraphed them the news.

Of course the class of '89 are in sympathy with Brice, and as he was not allowed to read the class history at the regular exercises, the students afterward met in the lower hall, where he read it, and it was received with great enthusiasm and applause. The class of '89 elected Brice president, and voted to hold a reunion in Exeter during commencement week of 1891.

A Girl Cowhides a Woman.

Josephine, the sister of Madge Wickham, the violinist, of Goshen, Ind., dressed herself in boy's clothing, Tuesday night, and mercilessly cowhided an unknown woman who was on her way to a clandestine meeting with her father. Josie then read the riot act to the old man in great shape. He is a prominent doctor and a widower. The family is among the best in Goshen.

A Fine Set of Harness.

To-day a brand-new turnout, owned by William H. Fuhrman, the well-known butcher, of 223 North Mulberry street, made its appearance on the streets and attracted a great deal of attention. The harness worn by the pair of horses were turned out from the saddlery of M. Miley, on North Queen street, and they are among the finest ever made in this city. The style is something new in Lancaster, and they are very fine. They are mounted in nickel and on the hames are beautiful chimes of bells. The job is one that any establishment has good reason to feel proud of. The wagon, which is very substantial, was made by Norbeck.

DUFFY'S PURE MALT WHISKEY. POISONED WATER.

One of the leading surgeons in the Army, made the following characteristic remark: 'Water kills more soldiers than bullets." His meaning was, that soldiers who drank impure water, died by disease in greater number than those killed by bullets. The surgeon was right. Impure water, especially at this season, is a terrible cause of sickness and death. But the public say, what shall we do? There is but one sensible thing to do, and that is to purify the water by mixing it with something that destroys all poison or disease breeding germs, and nothing does this like pure whiskey. But it may be asked, where can I obtain pure whiskey? Professor Henry A. Mott, says, "the purity of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey is absolute, and should commend it to the highest public favor. There are hundreds of families that are drinking water constantly, and are kept in perfect health by simply mixing a little of Duffy's Pure Malt Whiskey in each glass they drink. It is a simple and sure preventive of Summer diseases and germ poisons, and is endorsed by the best people in the land. (5)
