Her Dress Was Aflame. There was a commotion at Broadway and Nineteenth street, New York, at 4 o'clock Monday afternoon, when a man stepped briskly up to a silver-haired lady and began slapping her vigorously on the back. The stranger used both hands and astonished and frightened her. When he had slapped her about half a minute he completed her amazement and terror by crying:

completed her amazement and terror by crying:

"Madam, you are on fire!"
Holding her by the arm with one hand he kept up the slapping with the other. A great crowd had gathered and big Policeman Leddy, of the Broadway squad got through and found that the energetic man had succeeded in subduing the flames in the lady's clothing. She was Mrs. Tooker, wife of Commodore Joseph H. Tooker. Her dress skirt and its drapery were destroyel! Mrs. Tooker was sent home in a coach. The flame which ignited the dress cume form a gasoline lamp set upon the sidewalk by employes of the Brush Electric Light company, who were engaged in repairing wires. Mrs. Tooker suffered from nervous prostration last night. She had not been able to learn who it was that came to her rescue. He had refused to give his name, and had walked away, slapping his hands as if they had been burned. had been burned.

Knighthood for Capt. Murrell.

On board the steamship Missouri in Baltimore on Monday afternoon a party gathered to honor Captain Hamilton Murrell. Harold Jackson, the Danish consul at Baltimore, in transmitting to Captain Murrell the insignia of the Danish knighthood said to him: "His majesty, the king of Denmark, commands me to represent him on this occasion, and to present to you the insignia of Knighthood of the Order of Dannebrog. His majesty also desires me to convey to you his most gracious thanks for your noble and heroic act." A number of Danes from Baltimore, Washington and New York were present, and as a tribute of their admiration for Murrell's herois m presented him with an immense oil painting of the scene of the transfer of the passengers and crew from the sinking steamer Knighthood for Capt. Sentenced to Ninety-nine Years. The case of John D. Shea terminated in St. Louis on Monday night in a verdict of St. Louis on Monday night in a verdict of guilty, and he was sentenced to ninety-nine years in the penitentiary. Shea killed Police Officer Doran in the street eight years ago. Various features of criminal proceedings against him were instituted, he fighting through the state courts and the United States supreme court on legal technicalities. He finally escaped from jail, and was two years ago discovered in the Pennsylvania penitentiary at Pittsburg serving a term for robbery. He has fought his case hard since his return to St. Louis, and will now give it up, having escaped with his life after being twice sentenced to be hanged.

The Nipsie Coming Home. The Nipsic Coming Home.
Word has been received at the navy department that the Nipsic, the sole survivor of the American fleet at Samoa, has started for San Francisco under convoy of the Alert. Temporary repairs were made before the start, which have, it is believed, rendered the vessel sea-worthy enough to undertake the voyage, which should be made in thirty or forty days.

Superfluous Hairs on the Upper Lip, Chin and Cheeks

PAINLESSLY AND PERMANENTLY

Destroyed by the Electric Needle Operation by an Electric Surgeon-A Popular Philadelphia Establish-Dr. J. Van Dyck, Electro-Surgeon, interviewed by the female correspondent of one of our leading fashion journals, in which she says:

--We have received numerous letters of inquiry from all parts of this country from ladies who are afflicted with that most unsightly and humiliating of all facial blemishes, (superfluous hair on the face) and who are exceedingly anxious to know if there is any sure method by which this obnoxious growth could be permanently destroyed, and before replying our editor determined to gain all the information that could be had on the subject, and appointed me to secure the required knowledge. I called on several druggists and asked them about the virtues of the various depilatories sold for this to keep them in stock; because they had calls for them. In selling them they knew they only only afford temporary relief. A druggist on Chestnut street told me there was an Electro-Surgeon in this city, Dr. Van Dyck, who permanently destroyed hair by Electrolysis (The Electric Needle Operation) and he could give me all the required information. I soon ascer tained that Dr. J. Van Dyck, Electro-Surgeon was located at 40 N. Eleventh street. I called at the above address, rang the bell, and was ushered into the Doctor's reception-room where I found several ladies waiting to see the Doctor; and to lend interest to the romance nearly all were heavily veiled. After being scated for a few minutes, a dear old lady, past sixty, motioned for me to take a seat along side of her on a sofa. She mays, "My dear, suppose you, too, have called to consult Dr. Van Dyck about these terrible bairs. I am so much older than you that I know you won' mind me speaking right out just how I feel. I can't tell you how grateful I am to the Doctor for what he has done for me. I suppose you will think a lady of my age a very foolish old woman for worrying about hairs on her face; but, indeed dear, you don't know how they have atmoyel me, and humiliated me. They have been the distress of my life and have caused me to shed many bitter tears. I have been extracting and cutting them for forty years. I only had a few scattering hairs at first. I cut them off and they increased and got darker, harsher and coarser, until my face was literally covered with a growth of coarse, stiff wiry hairs. I heard of Dr. Van Dyck, consuned him, and went under his treatment, and I can't tell you how happy I am over the results of his operating. All the coarse stiff hairs have been removed, and I am now having some finer hairs destroyed. Another lady had a growth of hair on her upper lip, quite a developed mousiache. A lady from Kausas City was undergoing a series of operations for a very disfiguring birth-mark involving all of one cheek; she could not speak with too much praise about the Doctor's skill. He had, up to that time, operated on about one-third of the cheek, and where he operated the skin looked perfectly natural. Another lady was paving tutt of hair deartoyed upon a number of moles on her face and neck and was having the moles on her face and neck and was having the moles on her face and neck and was having the moles on her face and neck and was having the moles on her face who came to the Doctor's operating come to have hair growing high upon his cheeks above the beard line destroyed. After a long wait I was invited into the Doctor's operating room. I found a comfortably furnished, bright, light and cheerful room. Lighted by two windows, and in front of each window is a comfortable, easy operating chair, like a parior rocker, and along side of each chair is a stand holding battery, instruments, etc. The Doctor very courteously invited me to be seated, and usked what he cou mind me speaking right out just how I feel. I can't tell you how grateful I am to the Doctor

I handed him my card, and said, "Dr. I am not here to be treated but to interview you for the benefit of thousands of readers. I want you to tell me all about this great discovery, this God send to so many afflicted ladies, and all you can about superfluous bair." The Doctor said: "Madame the discovery of this method for the permanent removal of hair is indeed a boon to thousands of your sex. Superfluous been to thousands of your sex. Superfluous hair, properly speaking, is an excessive, abnormal and noticeable growth of hair on the female face, seen most conspicuously on the upper lip, chin, under the chin, cheeks and between the cyclrows. Hair also grows superfluously on the forehead, neck, arms, hands and breast. Gentiemen are also annoyed by a growth of hair on the cheeks above the beard line, also on the nose between the cyclrows, and on the forehead and neck. Superfluous hair is surprisingly prevalent. We see it on the street, in the drawing-room and wherever ladies congregate. At least thirty-five of every one hundred ladies have more or less superfluous but sometimes during their lives. There are no two cases alike, some women have theroughly developed beards, some have a heavy are no two cases alike, some women have theroughly developed beards, some bave a heavy growth on the enly, others have it very heavy on chin and threat, others on cheek only, many have scattering coarse hairs, and a shade here and there on different parts of the face and neck." "What increases this growth, Docto-?" "Nearly every lady with this annoying blemish knows that the use of depliatories, plasters, wax, pumice stone, the tweezers, setser, razor, only make these hairs grow coarser, barsher, darker, suffer and more numerous, for by their use fine hairs are cut or extracted which in time make them grow heavy.

The only method known to science by which superfluous hair can be permanently destroyed is by the operation of Electrolysis (the Electric is by the operation of Electrolysis (the Electric needle process). Just step this way, please." Here the Doctor stepped over to an operating chair where his assistant, an able operator, was removing hair from the upper lip of a very pretty brunette about twenty-three or twenty. four years of age. The Doctor asked her if she would object to me witnessing the operation. Her reply was, "Doctor, I feel so grateful for what this operation has done for me that I don't care how many witness it." The Doctor says, "you see this very fine delicate flexible needle is firmly fastened in a neat insulated holder, which is attached to the negative cord of this Carbon Zink Galvanie Battery. This needle is painlessly inserted into the hair tive cord of this Carbon Zink Galvanic Battery. This needle is painlessly inserted into the hair foliicle alongside of each hair until the Papilla or Hair Gerin is reached, the electricity is then turned on, and the result is that the bair papilla (commonly called the root) is destroyed. The hair becomes loosened and is removed without the patient feeling it the least. This operation is a positive success, and I can positively assert that it never fails. By the same process I also perform the most delicate surgical operations, such as the removal of birthcal operations, such as the removal of birth-marks, moles, tumors, cancers, etc. Then to condense the merits of this operation you can positively assure the fair readers of your pa-per of the following facts: 1st. The Electric Needle never fails to per-manents destroy ber manently destroy hair. 2d. There is no pain, scar, schock, trace or injury.

3d. The time required depends upon the number of hairs to be destroyed.

4th. The presence of the patient at the of-Then Doctor you can positively assure me that every hair on a woman's face (even if she should have a thoroughly developed beard) can be destroyed forever?

Madam, I can positively assure a permanent cure in every case. I have cured cases where I have permanently removed 30,000 hairs—with the happiest results. I then said, "Dector, I am convinced by what I have seen and heard in your office that the Electric Needle operation as performed by you is the only method by which hair can be permanently destroyed. I thank you for your nfermation, and will not presume further on your valuable time, and our journal will cheerfully inform our enxious inquirers (a the subject, that this obnexious growth can be permanently destroyed by the Electric Needle operation, and will take great pleasure 1; telling them that this operation is skillfully performed by DR. VAN DYCK, Electro-Surgeon, 40 N. ELEVENTH ST., PHILA."
