The board of prison inspectors held their regular monthly meeting this morning and all the members are present.

WHEREAS, The county has been put to the expense of $3.70 per day for nearly a year, amounting to over $1,000; and

WHEREAS, The taxpayers and different parties, to whose notice the additional expense has been brought, think with me that it is useless, there being no law in Pennsylvania requiring such a watch; therefore, be it

Resolved, That the watch as now appointed be discontinued, and that the jail be run with the old regulations, and otherwise ordered by the court, or until some one produces authority for the continuance of the same.

UNFAVORABLE WEATHER.

Farmers Unable to Harvest Their Crops—Grain Rips and Mowers Stagnant.

The hobnob in the tree tops everywhere in the rural districts is now singing "What is Ripe?" The gaudily-plumaged songster is a philosopher, singing the truth. Wheat is brown, standing less erect than it did a week ago. The heads are long and well filled with the plumpest corn in the county. Rain is descending on the broad acres, and the husbandman sits upon his porch daily peering into the vault above anxious to witness the blue sun. So to again shed his fierce rays, the despondent farmer will have a lighter heart and a brighter countenance. The granger has his mower and reaper in good working order, and when he gets the chance will cause the sheaves to fall faster than corn in a grocer's tuff fruit slot machine.

There were few hours between rains during hay harvest, but the grass has been house. Some of the hay gathered may have been too moist. If that is the case it may heat and burn a few barns.

Corn looks vigorous and tobacco is in excellent condition. The wet weather forcing farmers out of their wheat fields allows more attention to be given to corn and tobacco.

Defrauded of Government. On Saturday Deputy United States Marshal Samuel Anderson, of Harrisburg, served papers on Hannah B. Hall, of Bainbridge, this county, in a suit brought by the government to recover $2,374.41, which it alleged the defendant fraudulently received from the government in pensions.

She claimed to be the widow of Hiram Y. Hall, late of Company F, Fifth regiment United States Artillery, who died in the Brooklyn hospital, N. Y., in 1864, of typhoid fever, which was contracted in the army. The alleged widow had one child and applied for a pension. On December 21, 1871, she received her first money and the payments were continued to her quarterly in sums varying from $24 to $30 until September, 1886, when she had received $2,374.41 and when the payments were stopped. Information was received at the pension department that Hannah Y. Hall was the widow of Hiram Y. Hall and the matter was thoroughly investigated. The pension officers claim to be in possession of facts which will show that Hiram Y. Hall was never married and never had a child. The case will come up to-day in the United States court in Philadelphia.

QUARRELED ABOUT BASE BALL.

A White Man Fights With a Black and Colored Men are Implicated with Long Clear Havana Filler, 30 and 40 boxes.

At a white man fight on Saturday night Harry Hostetter, a local ball player, and Richard Wollig, a young colored man who thinks he knows all about the great game, became involved in a quarrel while talking over the great sport, at West King and Mulberry streets. From the time they came to blows and fought around the street. Officers Oll and Stumpf heard the noise and ran to the spot to find both men on the ground. Hostetter was on top and was busy punching the darkey's head. The officers pulled them apart and started to take them to the station house. Oll had Hostetter and Stumpf looked after the crowd who walked along quietly. Oll had hold of Hostetter, but the latter asked to be let go and he would walk along. As soon as Oll loosened his hold Hostetter took to his heels and ran up North Queen street. He was chased up Orange street to Christian Brothers street, where he was caught. He was taken to the station house, where both were kept over Sunday. This morning the mayor made Hostetter pay the costs as it was shown that he was the aggressor, and Wollig was discharged.

Advance in Puddlers' Wages. The Commercial Union of Puddling mill firms in the Schuylkill valley will advance the wages of puddlers from $5 to $5.25 per ton. Among these firms are Potts Brothers and the Glasgow Iron works, at Pottstown, and firms at Lebanon, Pottsville and other places. Three dollars was the lowest figure at which puddlers have worked since 1874, and this advance in wages is due to the better tone prevailing in the iron market.
