ROSES AND ORANGE BLOSSOMS. Tilting, tipping, on dainty toes, A maiden climbs for a bright red rese; Breaking away from the net's control, Over her shoulders the ripe curls roll, An indoient stranger, sauntering by, Stands still to gaze with a startled eye; And, oh! the blush on her cheek that glows

Hath shamed the hise of that poor wild rose! The bud that June discloses July's hot breath will sere: Then hey for hardy roses

That bloom the livelong year. The last lone rose in the garden grieves, Dropping toearth its scentless icases, And far and wide o'er the russet land. The yellow stacks of harvest stands. But the blush on the maiden's cheek to-day Is bright as the rose of the ripened May, Though orange blossoms, faint and fair, Entwine the sheen of her ripply bair. The bad that June discloses

That bloom the livelong year!

A Servant Girl's idea.

From the Cincinnail Times-Star.

A story is told of a servant girl away out in Denver who was blissfully ignorant of the customs of any other country besides her own. One time a certain duke of England who was traveling in this country visited the servant girl's inistress, who was a lady of wealth and refinement. His was a lady of wealth and refinement. His grace, on retiring the first night, requested to be called early as he desired to snift the ozone of the morning breeze. Next morning the hostess called the servant girl to her and teld her to awaken the duke. "Tap on his door," she said, "and say: 'My lord, get up; the sun is rising," The servant, who knew nothing of titles, went to less lordship's room, and, after striking the door two or three resounding blows, said: door two or three resounding blows, said; "My God, get up, your son is gittin' up." The duke arose at once.

Old Mr. Widower had been sitting silently alone with Miss Autumn for fitteen minutes. Finally he spoke: "Miss Autumn, you are pretty—""Oh, Mr. Widower?"
"You are pret—""How can you, Mr. Widower?" "I started to say you were profit—""Oh, you horrid man, stop?"
"Condemn it all, woman," shouled Mr. Widower, rising and breaking for the door, "I wanted to say that you were pretty near as old as I am. Now, demme, I think you're twice as old."

I have had a most wonderful cure of sait rheum. For five years I have suffered with this disease. I had it on my face, arms and hands, I was inable to do anything whatever with my hands for over two years. I tried hundreds of remedies, and not one had the least effect. The doctor said my case was incurable. I saw your

Those who think this letter exaggerated may come and see me and find out for themselves. GRACE P. HARKHAM, North St. Charles street, Belle River, Ont.

In addition to my own case, my baby boy, then about five months old, was suffering with what I supposed to be the same disease as mine to such an extent that his head was coated over with a solid seab, from which there was a pus which was sickening to look upon, besides two large tumor-like kernels on the back of his head. Thanks to you and your wonderful CUTICURA REMEDIES his scalp is perfectly well, and the kernels have been scattered so that there is only one little place by his left car, and that is heating nicely. Instead of a coating of I must extend to you the thanks of one of my istomers, who has been cured, by using the Cucuna Remember, of an old sore, caused by a long spell of sickness or fever eight years ago. He was so bad he was fearful he would have to have his leg amputated, but is happy to say he is now entirely well—sound as a dollar. He rethat is heating nicely. Instead of a coating of scabs he has a fine coat of hair, much better quests me to use his mame, which is H. H. Cason, merchant of this place.

ROOTS AND SHOES.

We have just secured the "Agency" or For-Control" for Lancaster county of "The Celebrated W. B. Toulmin's Bicycle and Pedestrian Shoes."

These Shoes are made of Fine Gennine Kangaroo, are Scamless and Laced to the Tig which is raised and boxed, thus allowing the Large Toes to be free from rubbing, being a big improvement over the Old Style Soft Toe Shoe-The shoes being laced to the toes, does away with the circular seams which so often rub the feet, especially in hill climbing.

They are now being inade up to Our Special Order, in all widths and sizes, and will be here Monday, July 1, just in time for the Grand Bi-prize in the Fourth event, in morning's pro-

The Price Is $3.00 Per Pair. Which, when considering they are black and can be worn on the street, making a very neat and dressy appearance, will seem most reason-able. A sample pair can be seen in Men's Win-

The One-Price Cash House.
