

THREE GOOD MATCHES.

THE COLUMBIA GUN CLUB DO SOME SENSATIONAL WORK ON FRIDAY.

Members of Each in the Three Contests. Hoffman, Krueger, Fendrich and Broome Have the Highest.

COLUMBIA, July 27.—On Friday afternoon, on Millin's Island, the Columbia Gun Club held their regular weekly shoot, and the members did some of the best shooting in the history of the organization.

The shoot was indulged in by six of the members, and they acquitted themselves in fine shape. Three matches, two at single blue rocks, ten and fifteen birds each, and a double at twelve birds each were shot. The third match was the most difficult; the trap throws two birds each time in different directions, and it requires some neat shooting to break both the birds.

Hoffman, Krueger, Fendrich and Broome also performed the same feat in the third and more difficult match, making the excellent total score of 30 birds out of 37. In the three events Hoffman was used, and the number 189 was broken and only 35 escaped.

Table with columns for names (Hoffman, Broome, Fendrich, Krueger) and scores for different matches (FIRST-SINGLE, SECOND-SINGLE, THIRD-SINGLE, THIRD-DOUBLE).

THEIR PART IN A BATTLE. The 10th Regiment to give an Account of Their Part in the Battle of Gettysburg. Representatives of several of the companies of the 7th regiment met Col. H. A. Hambricht at Alderman Barr's office this morning. The object of the meeting was to compare notes of the part the regiment took in the battle of Chickamauga, so that a history of the battle could be written and forwarded to the department.

Those present at the conference were Col. Hambricht, Lieut. Col. Miles, John W. Keller and J. K. Barr, of company B; J. Halls Friday and E. K. Martin, of company E, and Captain Edward Edgerly, of company E.

Col. Hambricht was elected chairman and J. K. Barr secretary. It was decided to appoint a committee of two from each company, with Col. Hambricht, Lieut. Col. Miles and J. K. Barr to be additional members, to prepare an account of the regiment's part in that battle.

Following was the committee appointed: Company A, George W. Huffnagle, H. C. Gempeling; Co. B, John W. Keller, John B. Lebkicker; Co. C, U. L. Eckert, D. B. Keplinger; Co. D, J. S. McBride, J. D. V. Hazzard; Co. E, E. M. Boring, E. K. Martin; Co. F, S. E. Wisner, Philip Biesinger; Co. G, J. H. Marshall, Henry A. Ransing; Co. H, Ambrose Gable, C. S. Hubley; Co. I, Finley Edgell, George Greiner; Co. K, J. D. Gompf, Edward Edgerly.

It was decided to write to Maj. Geo. H. Davis, U. S. A., in charge of the war records report asking for time to properly prepare the report desired by the government.

The next meeting of the committee will be held at Alderman Barr's office at 7 o'clock on August 5th.

IS IT A MYSTERY? Fishermen Hook a Lot of Woman's Hair in the Conestoga.

Wm. H. Dorwart, Augustus Steinwandel and Charles Dorwart were out fishing in the Conestoga, at a point about three squares below the old factory bridge, yesterday, when they made a discovery which may solve some mystery. Charles Dorwart threw his line into the stream and the hook caught fast. He did not wish to break the line. William Dorwart got into the stream, dived down part way, and pulled on the line, which came up. Fastened to the hook was a bunch of human hair two feet in length. The three got a boat and poled around the spot but could not find anything. Afterwards the line was again thrown in and it became fast a second time. When it was drawn out there was another bunch of hair on it. On the end of the hair was a white piece which looked like the part of a scalp. On the bank of the stream near by a double headed fisher, such as is worn on a woman's hat, was found. The hair was given to the man who lives on R. A. Evans' farm and he said he would give it to the coroner. At the point where the hair was found the water is quite swift and it was so cold yesterday that it was impossible for a swimmer to remain long in it.

The coroner had not received the hair up to this afternoon, and he said he would take no action unless a body was found.

A Brave Act.

This afternoon one of the Hampey brothers stopped in front of C. E. Haberbusch saddler, in Centre Square, where a bride fitted on his horse, which was hitched to a new coupe, as soon as the old bride had been taken off the horse started to run. He ran across the square and down West King street at a lively rate, and bystanders thought a little boy, who was on the seat, would be killed. Hampey ran after the horse and catching him by the harness held fast to succeed in stopping the animal, as he never once relaxed his hold, and turned him completely around. Had it not been for the man's pluck the boy would likely have been badly injured or perhaps killed and the coupe wrecked.

DIED TOO SOON.

I. D. McKee's Opinion as to Independent Republicans. I. D. McKee, who was chairman of the Independent Republican state committee in 1882 said yesterday to a reporter for the Philadelphia Telegraph.

Recently I have received letters from gentlemen inquiring whether I did not think it would be a good time to organize an independent movement. We stopped out too soon. Had the Independents continued a year longer, we would have gotten all we contended for, and would have been to the advantage of the Republican party. There is as much now, if not more, to complain of about the nominations as there was in 1882. But the time is always a great deal of trouble in organizing an independent or reform movement. Time is an element. Somebody must give it, and many are willing to do it.

Formerly of Lancaster. Miss Dickerson, who figured prominently in the divorce case in California, in which $5,000,000 was involved, went to the Pacific slope from Lancaster county several years ago. She claimed to be Blithe's wife by contract, but it was shown that she was his mistress, no marriage having taken place. When the court decided against her she produced Blithe's will, which gave his whole estate to his daughter, 15 years old, with the exception of $200,000, distributed in small legacies.
