

A PAIR OF SCOUNDRELS.

LOUIS REIDENBACH AND EDWARD SANDERS ENLIGHTENING EDWORTH.

They Enter Several Hotels and Abuse the Proprietors—No Payment Offered for Liquor—Officers Fail to Find Them.

Louis Reidenbach and Edward Sanders, two tough young men of this city who have been in considerable trouble here in years past, have again gone on the rampage. The names of these young men are familiar to nearly every resident of Lancaster. It will be remembered that Sanders was convicted of murder in the second degree in causing the death of Mrs. Seymour in the eastern part of the city. He was sentenced on December 22, 1881, to the Eastern Penitentiary for eleven years and nine months. Two years ago, fortunately for him, he was released. When he returned to Lancaster many people, who had an idea that he had been punished rather severely, felt kindly towards him. Of late he has been going back to his old ways. He has been in several scrapes and only about three weeks ago was arrested for robbing John Kane, a young lad who had some money, and he foolishly enough to travel around with Sanders and spend it with him. There was a strong case against Sanders, but he and his friends succeeded in having Kane withdraw the suit and the matter was quietly hushed up.

So young men who are returned from better known years ago in this city than Louis Reidenbach. He was a member of the gang of fire-bugs that operated in this city along about 1879-80-81, burning all kinds of buildings. When he found that he was going to be arrested he fled the city and has never since been seen or acted on though an indictment was found against him charging him with arson, and is still hanging over him. Since he first left here Reidenbach has been back to Lancaster several times. Two years ago he came home sick and remained at his father's home six weeks until he recovered, although the police did not learn of his presence.

On November 13, 1882, a true bill was found against Reidenbach for setting fire to the blacksmith shop of James A. Reardon, then located on Church street, near East King.

The complaint on which the indictment was made was by Chief Deichler before Alderman McConomy and the offense charged was committed on November 14, 1880. A similar complaint was made by Frederick Miller before Alderman McConomy and the offense charged was committed on the one sent in by Alderman McConomy.

After the finding of the true bill a process was issued for Reidenbach's arrest, but he kept away from town. A week ago when it was learned that he had returned to Lancaster, he was arrested by Sheriff Burkholder and the deputized Policeman Deming, who knew Reidenbach well, to arrest him.

He came to Lancaster two weeks ago, the last time and soon fell in with old friends. Since his arrival he has been lying about under the nose of the watchful police, who either did not know him or did not care to arrest him. He boldly went into saloons and drank with the boys and soon after his arrival here he had to be carried home unconsciously drunk.

It was quite natural that two such men as Sanders and Reidenbach should seek each other's company, and on Wednesday they started out together. They were out in the neighborhood of the reservoir, where they are supposed to have had whisky. After getting drunk they came into the Mechanics Hall saloon at Plum and Chestnut streets, where they obtained drinks without paying for them and left. At Adam Snyder's stockyard hotel they were again with Sanders. The latter represented that his partner was a lumberman from Columbia, who had plenty of money. They called for a drink and after Sanders refused to pay for it, he called for another. When Cline would not give them more Reidenbach deliberately began committing a nuisance on the floor. Cline warned him, but he refused to listen, so the landlord knocked him down. Word was sent to the manager of the hotel and after a time Sergeant Hartley, with Constable Meringer, went to the hotel. When they arrived the men had left.

Mr. Cline thinks it was the intention of the men to rob him when they came into the saloon. They first tore down a map in the next room and then tried to force him to attend to it, but they refused to pay for it. They next went to the saloon and there they obtained drinks without paying for them and left. At Adam Snyder's stockyard hotel they were again with Sanders. The latter represented that his partner was a lumberman from Columbia, who had plenty of money. They called for a drink and after Sanders refused to pay for it, he called for another. When Cline would not give them more Reidenbach deliberately began committing a nuisance on the floor. Cline warned him, but he refused to listen, so the landlord knocked him down. Word was sent to the manager of the hotel and after a time Sergeant Hartley, with Constable Meringer, went to the hotel. When they arrived the men had left.

From Cline they left the place. They went across to Steich's store, where they took a handful of cigars for which they would not pay. Next they went to Gole's saloon at Plum and Chestnut streets, where they obtained drinks without paying for them and left. At Adam Snyder's stockyard hotel they were again with Sanders. The latter represented that his partner was a lumberman from Columbia, who had plenty of money. They called for a drink and after Sanders refused to pay for it, he called for another. When Cline would not give them more Reidenbach deliberately began committing a nuisance on the floor. Cline warned him, but he refused to listen, so the landlord knocked him down. Word was sent to the manager of the hotel and after a time Sergeant Hartley, with Constable Meringer, went to the hotel. When they arrived the men had left.

From Cline they left the place. They went across to Steich's store, where they took a handful of cigars for which they would not pay. Next they went to Gole's saloon at Plum and Chestnut streets, where they obtained drinks without paying for them and left. At Adam Snyder's stockyard hotel they were again with Sanders. The latter represented that his partner was a lumberman from Columbia, who had plenty of money. They called for a drink and after Sanders refused to pay for it, he called for another. When Cline would not give them more Reidenbach deliberately began committing a nuisance on the floor. Cline warned him, but he refused to listen, so the landlord knocked him down. Word was sent to the manager of the hotel and after a time Sergeant Hartley, with Constable Meringer, went to the hotel. When they arrived the men had left.

From Cline they left the place. They went across to Steich's store, where they took a handful of cigars for which they would not pay. Next they went to Gole's saloon at Plum and Chestnut streets, where they obtained drinks without paying for them and left. At Adam Snyder's stockyard hotel they were again with Sanders. The latter represented that his partner was a lumberman from Columbia, who had plenty of money. They called for a drink and after Sanders refused to pay for it, he called for another. When Cline would not give them more Reidenbach deliberately began committing a nuisance on the floor. Cline warned him, but he refused to listen, so the landlord knocked him down. Word was sent to the manager of the hotel and after a time Sergeant Hartley, with Constable Meringer, went to the hotel. When they arrived the men had left.

From Cline they left the place. They went across to Steich's store, where they took a handful of cigars for which they would not pay. Next they went to Gole's saloon at Plum and Chestnut streets, where they obtained drinks without paying for them and left. At Adam Snyder's stockyard hotel they were again with Sanders. The latter represented that his partner was a lumberman from Columbia, who had plenty of money. They called for a drink and after Sanders refused to pay for it, he called for another. When Cline would not give them more Reidenbach deliberately began committing a nuisance on the floor. Cline warned him, but he refused to listen, so the landlord knocked him down. Word was sent to the manager of the hotel and after a time Sergeant Hartley, with Constable Meringer, went to the hotel. When they arrived the men had left.

From Cline they left the place. They went across to Steich's store, where they took a handful of cigars for which they would not pay. Next they went to Gole's saloon at Plum and Chestnut streets, where they obtained drinks without paying for them and left. At Adam Snyder's stockyard hotel they were again with Sanders. The latter represented that his partner was a lumberman from Columbia, who had plenty of money. They called for a drink and after Sanders refused to pay for it, he called for another. When Cline would not give them more Reidenbach deliberately began committing a nuisance on the floor. Cline warned him, but he refused to listen, so the landlord knocked him down. Word was sent to the manager of the hotel and after a time Sergeant Hartley, with Constable Meringer, went to the hotel. When they arrived the men had left.

From Cline they left the place. They went across to Steich's store, where they took a handful of cigars for which they would not pay. Next they went to Gole's saloon at Plum and Chestnut streets, where they obtained drinks without paying for them and left. At Adam Snyder's stockyard hotel they were again with Sanders. The latter represented that his partner was a lumberman from Columbia, who had plenty of money. They called for a drink and after Sanders refused to pay for it, he called for another. When Cline would not give them more Reidenbach deliberately began committing a nuisance on the floor. Cline warned him, but he refused to listen, so the landlord knocked him down. Word was sent to the manager of the hotel and after a time Sergeant Hartley, with Constable Meringer, went to the hotel. When they arrived the men had left.

From Cline they left the place. They went across to Steich's store, where they took a handful of cigars for which they would not pay. Next they went to Gole's saloon at Plum and Chestnut streets, where they obtained drinks without paying for them and left. At Adam Snyder's stockyard hotel they were again with Sanders. The latter represented that his partner was a lumberman from Columbia, who had plenty of money. They called for a drink and after Sanders refused to pay for it, he called for another. When Cline would not give them more Reidenbach deliberately began committing a nuisance on the floor. Cline warned him, but he refused to listen, so the landlord knocked him down. Word was sent to the manager of the hotel and after a time Sergeant Hartley, with Constable Meringer, went to the hotel. When they arrived the men had left.

From Cline they left the place. They went across to Steich's store, where they took a handful of cigars for which they would not pay. Next they went to Gole's saloon at Plum and Chestnut streets, where they obtained drinks without paying for them and left. At Adam Snyder's stockyard hotel they were again with Sanders. The latter represented that his partner was a lumberman from Columbia, who had plenty of money. They called for a drink and after Sanders refused to pay for it, he called for another. When Cline would not give them more Reidenbach deliberately began committing a nuisance on the floor. Cline warned him, but he refused to listen, so the landlord knocked him down. Word was sent to the manager of the hotel and after a time Sergeant Hartley, with Constable Meringer, went to the hotel. When they arrived the men had left.

From Cline they left the place. They went across to Steich's store, where they took a handful of cigars for which they would not pay. Next they went to Gole's saloon at Plum and Chestnut streets, where they obtained drinks without paying for them and left. At Adam Snyder's stockyard hotel they were again with Sanders. The latter represented that his partner was a lumberman from Columbia, who had plenty of money. They called for a drink and after Sanders refused to pay for it, he called for another. When Cline would not give them more Reidenbach deliberately began committing a nuisance on the floor. Cline warned him, but he refused to listen, so the landlord knocked him down. Word was sent to the manager of the hotel and after a time Sergeant Hartley, with Constable Meringer, went to the hotel. When they arrived the men had left.

TESTING THE ELIXIR.

Dr. Hammond Tries It on a Deceitful Old Man With Great Success.

From the Washington Post. Dr. W. A. Hammond, the distinguished physician of New York, who has been permanently located in this city, is experimenting successfully with an elixir of life. When the doctor first heard of the discovery by Dr. Brown-Sequard, of Paris, of an elixir this named, his information of the character of the fluid said to produce an invigorating effect on the aged and decrepit and aged persons was so crude that he was forced to the belief that the report was either a canard or the experience of some of the world's statements that could be only explained by the fact of his dosage.

Since then he has received detailed accounts of the method employed by Dr. Brown-Sequard, and they impressed him so favorably that he determined to test the virtue of the elixir practically. The report of the experiment is given to the world on this side of the Atlantic stated that the youth-giving fluid was contained in a bottle of glass, and of a mixture of the heart, kidneys, liver, etc., whereas the fact is that it is made from the most delicate portion of every animal in existence, and is generally known for its life-giving qualities. The distinguished Frenchman secured his material from a pig. The doctor of Paris, who he believed to be superior to any other animal for the purpose to which he put it. This was an elixir, and was made of the pig, and adding water, distills an essence which is administered to the patient by a hypodermic injection.

The actual work of experiment by Dr. Hammond began a week ago, and he has pursued it constantly ever since. His subjects are old men who are decrepit to an extreme degree, and who are, in a word, dying. The elixir consists of an injection in the patient's leg every other day. The elixir is a simple matter, and has been used for some time, and has been found to be a most valuable medicine. The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

Besides the case mentioned, two other patients will be subjects for the elixir. The doctor states that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

The doctor states that he has already shown signs of returning vitality that seem incredible, and that he has been able to keep the patient from dying after the application of the elixir at first made. The doctor stated the facts of the experiment to a Post reporter last evening, and he will give a full report of his experiments in a future issue of the Post.

LAST DAY OF CAMP.

THE SERVICES AT THE LANCASTER GROVE TO END THIS EVENING.

Very Spirited Exercises on Wednesday. When a Dozen Penitents Were at the Altar—This Morning's Proceedings.

LANCASTER, Pa., Aug. 1.—But one day more and the Lancastrite camp of '89 will have passed into history. The last church service will be held this evening at 6 o'clock. This early hour has been set owing to the fact that in past years the late hour of holding the meetings has cut short and run far into the night, and the result was, many feel that this should be remedied, and so the change has been made. This afternoon at 1:30 the board of management will meet and elect officers for the ensuing year.

The meetings yesterday afternoon and evening were the most enthusiastic of the camp. The usual children's lesson was taught at 1:30 by Rev. Charles Roads, assisted by Mrs. Wheeler. The lesson illustrated was the "Road to Heaven." The illustration consisted of a number of railroads diverging from a central point and leading to different destinations. There was but one road to be taken, and that was the road to heaven.

The sermon of the afternoon was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

The evening service was preached by Rev. E. H. Passmore, of Tremont. His text was Matthew 16, 18: "I will give unto thee the keys of the kingdom of heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt bind on earth shall be bound in heaven, and whatsoever thou shalt loose on earth shall be loosed in heaven." The text was interpreted in a most interesting manner, and the sermon was well received by the congregation.

THREE TESTIFY.

OFFICIALS AT THE PRISON BELIEVE JAMES H. JACOBS TO BE SANE.

The Commonwealth Begins the Taking of Testimony Which Will Be Submitted to the Pardon Board.

The Commonwealth has begun taking testimony to present to the board of pardons in the Jacobs case. The board desire all the light possible on this case, and a large number of persons who have seen Jacobs and conversed with him since his incarceration will be examined before John W. Appel, now acting public defender.

The testimony of Rev. John Swank, moral instructor at the prison, Albert Smith, one of the death watch, who saw Jacobs daily for weeks, and Albert Murray, underkeeper at the prison, was taken on Wednesday.

All these witnesses are of opinion that Jacobs is sane. Testimony will be heard every day until all the witnesses, whose testimony can enlighten the board, is taken.

The Commonwealth is represented at these hearings by the district attorney and E. K. Martin, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

The hearing of testimony in the Jacobs case was resumed this morning. The witnesses examined were Isaac Eby, first underkeeper, Capt. P. L. Sprecht, first assistant warden, and the prisoner by R. Frank Esleman and J. Hay Brown.

THE JOHNSTOWN RELIEF FUND.

A Statement of the Money Received and the Disbursements of It.

At a meeting of the relief committee in Johnston on Wednesday, a statement of moneys in the hands of Governor Beaver was rendered, showing that Gov. Beaver has received a total of $2,000,000, and that of this $2,000,000 has been paid out, leaving in his hands to-day $1,553,017. Of this $1,553,017, $1,200,000 has been used for the payment of contracts or bills already incurred, leaving a net balance in the hands of the governor in cash of $353,017. To this fund the following amounts have been received:

Received from the Philadelphia committee, $139,000 from the Philadelphia committee, making $1,023,017 available now. There is also a small amount of interest from the Boston committee, as Gov. Beaver said he had never received anything from there.

The total fund, derived from Gov. Beaver from the following sources: Sent from Governor Beaver direct, $904,414; received from Mayor Grant of New York, $100,000; received from New York State, $400,000; received from Pittsburgh committee, $400,000; received from the Philadelphia committee, $300,000; total, $2,308,414.

Of the amounts appropriated and as yet unpaid, $63,028 has been paid to the relief committee, and $57,999 has been paid to the relief committee, leaving $5,029 unpaid. The total fund, derived from Gov. Beaver from the following sources: Sent from Governor Beaver direct, $904,414; received from Mayor Grant of New York, $100,000; received from New York State, $400,000; received from Pittsburgh committee, $400,000; received from the Philadelphia committee, $300,000; total, $2,308,414.

Of the amounts appropriated and as yet unpaid, $63,028 has been paid to the relief committee, and $57,999 has been paid to the relief committee, leaving $5,029 unpaid. The total fund, derived from Gov. Beaver from the following sources: Sent from Governor Beaver direct, $904,414; received from Mayor Grant of New York, $100,000; received from New York State, $400,000; received from Pittsburgh committee, $400,000; received from the Philadelphia committee, $300,000; total, $2,308,414.

Of the amounts appropriated and as yet unpaid, $63,028 has been paid to the relief committee, and $57,999 has been paid to the relief committee, leaving $5,029 unpaid. The total fund, derived from Gov. Beaver from the following sources: Sent from Governor Beaver direct, $904,414; received from Mayor Grant of New York, $100,000; received from New York State, $400,000; received from Pittsburgh committee, $400,000; received from the Philadelphia committee, $300,000; total, $2,308,414.

Of the amounts appropriated and as yet unpaid, $63,028 has been paid to the relief committee, and $57,999 has been paid to the relief committee, leaving $5,029 unpaid. The total fund, derived from Gov. Beaver from the following sources: Sent from Governor Beaver direct, $904,414; received from Mayor Grant of New York, $100,000; received from New York State, $400,000; received from Pittsburgh committee, $400,000; received from the Philadelphia committee, $300,000; total, $2,308,414.

Of the amounts appropriated and as yet unpaid, $63,028 has been paid to the relief committee, and $57,999 has been paid to the relief committee, leaving $5,029 unpaid. The total fund, derived from Gov. Beaver from the following sources: Sent from Governor Beaver direct, $904,414; received from Mayor Grant of New York, $100,000; received from New York State, $400,000; received from Pittsburgh committee, $400,000; received from the Philadelphia committee, $300,000; total, $2,308,414.

Of the amounts appropriated and as yet unpaid, $63,028 has been paid to the relief committee, and $57,999 has been paid to the relief committee, leaving $5,029 unpaid. The total fund, derived from Gov. Beaver from the following sources: Sent from Governor Beaver direct, $904,414; received from Mayor Grant of New York, $100,000; received from New York State, $400,000; received from Pittsburgh committee, $400,000; received from the Philadelphia committee, $300,000; total, $2,308,414.

Of the amounts appropriated and as yet unpaid, $63,028 has been paid to the relief committee, and $57,999 has been paid to the relief committee, leaving $5,029 unpaid. The total fund, derived from Gov. Beaver from the following sources: Sent from Governor Beaver direct, $904,414; received from Mayor Grant of New York, $100,000; received from New York State, $400,000; received from Pittsburgh committee, $400,000; received from the Philadelphia committee, $300,000; total, $2,308,414.

Of the amounts appropriated and as yet unpaid, $63,028 has been paid to the relief committee, and $57,999 has been paid to the relief committee,