ADDRESS, THE INTELLIGENCER, Lancuster, Pa.

LANCASTER, PA., August 3, 1889.

The Board of Health. Has it been definitely and positively etermined that Lancaster city is to be rithout a board of health? Is the saniary condition of the city to depend on energy and activity of policemen who stumble over piles of garbage and not see them? It is to be hoped that councils at their next meeting will take easures for the re-establishment of the board of health and make good their work by sufficient appropriations of The last board of health was composed of good, reputable men, but they could not have been expected to give their time and attention for nothing, and were powerless without money. Of course they handed their resignations to the court and the reproof which Judge Livingston administered to the city councils when he accepted their resignatious was a just one.

Now let councils begin again and do better. There can be no doubt as to the present and extreme necessity of such a anitary committee. Any one need only visit newly-opened streets and back alleys to be impressed with the fact that a large amount of sickness and disease must be generated from the heaps of refuse matter and garbage which are dumped there. In the western part of the city, although almost surrounded by dwelling-houses, Saffron lake still beams its broad expanse with its green and slimy surface, and nightly the frogs and mosquitoes hold high carnival.

It is not well to depend too much on the naturally healthful condition of our city. It is a poor economy which dispenses with the necessary care and oversight of the sanitary condition of our people. Should pestilence and fever break out in our midst the responsibility would, undoubtedly, be fixed upon councils for their criminal neglect. There are many garbage piles that ought to be removed, some stagnant pools of water that ought to be filled up or drained; many cesspools that are worse than nuisances; sewers that need constant repairs and are unhealthful. We say nothing of the numerous filthy cellars in which are generated the germs of diphtheria and typhoid fever. These a good board of health ought to have authority to examine. The city government owes this duty to its citizens. Their health is a more important matter than the nature of the material of the buildings. This is controlled by city ordinance, which prevents the erection of wooden buildings within certain limits. Let the councils make another and a better move in this matter at their coming meeting, and make an appropriation for a board of health. It will be well expended and will meet the approval of the best people of the city.

senator from Ohio is shaping itself. That gentleman the bitter tongue and rasping pen arrived at his home in Cincinnati last night and a monstrous reception will be given him to-day. With a condescension that springs rather from his more discreet friends than from the arrogant ex-rejected minister to Germany, an effort is being made to placate his numerous enemies. Many of them will have their anger appeased and will be rewarded by the vice-presidencies of the meeting being graciously bestowed on them.

The blatant Foraker will make the principal speech of the evening, and we imagine a listener with a keen ear sitting on the banks of the Ohio river at Pittsburg could hear the reverbations of his tones. How like an orator will this Ohio prodigy speak to-night for the election of his dearest friend! Foraker was always for Halstead for senator, of course. With his keen foresight and prophetic vision of course he knew that somehow in the mysterious dispensation of providence or of ministerial plums the vaffant Halstead would not get to the court of Germany. However, it will be no small job for Foraker to explain to his friend, ex-Governor Foster, how it is that he is now deserting him. And Foraker will have to paint McKinley and Butterworth in the very colors of the devil to satisfy the angry Foster that it is not so much fear of them as treachery to him. Let the eagle scream in Cincinnati tonight and let the joy of the Republican warriors of the Buckeye state, upon the return of their valiant cheiftain, be un-

Look To the Streets. Before final arrangements are consummated to improve several squares of North Duke street by the lay-ing of asphalt blocks, some understanding should be had as to what the Street Railway company will do to keep the thoroughfare in decent condition. At present and ever since it was built this railroad has been one of the chief causes for the disgraceful if not dangerous condition in this street. The track itself is seldom in such a state that it can be used for driving, and to turn in and out of it is wreck to vehicles, There is no good reason for this state of things except the parsimony or the negligence of the corporation controlling it, and they should not weigh against the rights of the public in the streets that the city has laid out.

It is to be hoped those interested in the scheme to pave the streets will exact some obligation from the railway company to do its share; or that they will at least resolve to enforce the existing remedies which thus far the railway company has seemed to ignore and defy.

Stehman, without regard to the convenience of the Republican politicians. With such a good chance to elect their nominee, the Democrats should pick out their best man.

The State Convention. The thing for the Democratic state convention to do, when it meets in Harrisburg on September 5th, is to make a sound platform and set a good man upon The thing for it to avoid is a senseless quarrel between would-be leaders or rival factions for what they call "supremacy" or prestige in the nominations next year. There is a chance for a Democratic state treasurer to be elected this year, owing to the disgust of the people over the weak Beaver administration, the revolt against the Quay domination and the suspicion that there is something wrong in the management of the state treasury which needs the exposure of a change in its direction. There is a demand in this state for ballot reform. The people are ready for it. The Democrats of the last Legislature were for it. The Republicans were against it. It would be a very good issue for a sharp state fight. We hope to see the Democrats make a plank of it. The Democrats may carry Pennsylvania on a state fight. They can do nothing better to get themselves into ENGLAND is having another royal visiter and it is no wonder the money grants are a matter of serious concern to the royal household. This visitor is a vast improvement on his predecessor, the beastly Shab from Persia, for it is no less a personage than the Emperor William of Germany. His visit is timely, made in order to witness the annual review of England's navy at Spithead. This imposing display of more than a hundred British war vessels will demonstrate to the German emperor that England has lost nothing of her naval superiority, and that she is determined to well preserve this bulwark of the nation. The emperor, after a reception given him by the British men-of-war, landed at Cowes and proceeded at once to Osborne, where, with due demonstrations of love and affect tion, he was received by the queen, h grandmother, who was awaiting him.

THE SUGAR BEET.

Berks County Farmers in Correspon-

Berks County Farmers in Correspondence With Claus spreckels.

The farmers of Berks county have been considerably agitated during the past few weeks over the sugar beet question. This has been stimulated by the visit through that section of C. A. Spreckels, son of the California sugar king, and others for the ostensible purpose of obtaining estimates on work for a duplicate of the Philadelphia sugar refinery, which is to be built at an sugar refinery, which is to be built at an early day.

The impression has gained ground that, with proper encouragement, Mr. Spreekels would build a sugar factory in that section. His son was accompanied to Reading by R. B. Gordon, general freight agent of the Philadelphia & Reading railroad, and Franklin Dandore and James Melly, brokers, of Philadelphia. Albert Thalheimer, a member of the Reading Board of Trade, wrote to Claus Spreckels as to the conditions upon which he would erect a sugar refinery. In reply Mr. Spreckels wrote that he believed that in a short time the raising of sugar beets would be one of the principal agricultural pursuits in this county.

The failure in the past to successfully No possible explanation can be made of the refusal of Lieutenant Governor Davies to issue a writ to fill the vacaney occasioned by Senator Stehman's death, except that the Republicans hereabouts do not want to be troubled with a primary election this fall.

The excuse is even werse than the oftense itself.

A primary election can be dispensed with. If the Republicans fail to nominate a candidate, the Democrats will supply the vacancy. The candidate for senator in the Fourteenth district who get themset votes at the next primary election will be the successor to Senator.

Mrs. Cleveland's Postoffice.

The Marion (Mass.) Social club has been holding a "Marigold Festival" to secure funds for the building of a club house, and ex-President and Mrs. Cleveland have been among its most active workers. Mrs. Cleveland has acted as postmistress and on Thursday established her office on the porch of Judge Abstin's house. A great throng of people stood before her all the afternoon, and the supply of letters was soon exhausted, so that Editor Gilder, of the Centary, and a young lady were impressed into the service, and wrote non-sensical notes throughout the remainder of the afternoon. A young man who crowded up to the window inquired for a letter.

"There is postage due amounting to 15 cents," said Mrs. Cleveland.

He harfied up a $5 bill.

"I can't change it," she said.
"Oh, never mind the change," said he, as gracefully as possible under the rather trying circumstances. He received his letter inclosed in a square linen envelope.

Mr. Cleveland arrived later in the afternoon. "Mrs. Clevelands appointment seems very popular," a gentleman said to Mrs. Cleveland's Postoffice.

noon. "Mrs. Cleveland's appointment seems very popular," a gentleman said to him, at which he smiled with apparent pleasure. The ex-president was besieged throughout the afternoon by pretty young girls, who offered whisk-brooms and knickknacks for sale, and one young lady pinned a big golden-topped marigold in his buttonhole. One of the most interesting features of the flar was an acrostic tournament, announced as conceived by the ex-president, who offered a prize of 30 cents for the worst acrostic on the word

The Eiffel Tower Pays.

From the Milwaukee Sentinel, The business at the Eiffel tower turns out to be immense. M. Eiffel calculated that when everything was in working order the gate money would be $5,000 a day. Since the litts have been in operation he is thought to have averaged more than this. thought to have averaged more than this. It costs a franc to enter the tower, two francs to get up in the lift to the second floor, and four francs to the top. On any one of the ordinary full price days more than 20,000 people have paid admission, and with the increased prices for those using the elevator, the entire receipts exceed $10,000. The original cost of the Eiffel tower, all included, was a little less than $1,000,000. The proprietor has to keep it in $1,000,000. The proprietor has to keep it in repair and hand over one-fourth of his gate money to the exhibition. It is estimated that it will be half paid for when the exhi-bition closes, and then it will remain cer-tainly three years more, and perhaps ten.

Let Us Hope This Is True.

From the American Analyst. Observation in public places gives satisfactory evidence that the use of eigarettes is rapidly on the decline. Whether this is due to the stringent laws passed in many of the states against selling them to minors, or that smokers have come to their senses and have taken warning from their own experience and the ununimous condemnation of smoking eigarettes by the medical profession, or whether the evil practice has begun to be looked upon as a discreditable to be to be provided in secret. vice to be only practiced in secret, we know not; but it is certain that, as com-pared with the past, very few cigarettes are now smoked in public. He sprang for his horse, but the animal became frightened and dashed off down the street. The robber ran to the corner, where he jumped into a hack and drove rapidly away, pursued by the police. He has not been captured. The diamonds are estimated to be worth $15,000.

Mysterious Jack the Peeper. Jack the Peeper, as he is called, who has thrown so many women into a ferment in various parts of Elizabeth, N. He invaded the residences of Mrs. Bergen of Bond street, Peter C. Bedlingston of 447 Livingston street, and John Gibbons of 900 Magnolia avenue. In each place he created a panic among the women, whose Greated a pame among the women, whose shricks aroused the neighborhood. At Gibbons' he met with a warm reception. Mr. Gibbons' son blazed away at him with a revolver as he fled through the yard. Five shots were fired at him, none of which, however, seemed to have any effect.

EVERY drop of blood in the system passes through both the kidneys and lungs many thousand times in each twenty-four hours. This explains why 52 per cent, of the patients of Brompton Hospital for consumptives, Lon-don, England, have unsuspected kidney disorder. If the kidneys were in a healthy condi-tion they would expel the waste matter or poisonous acid and prevent the irritation of the lungs. But if diseased they are unable to perform their functions. # LEVAN'S FLOUR

Still Holds the Fort.

We haven't the biggest mills in the world, but there is no better mill anywhere—at least there is no mill that can make better flour. So say thousands of people in this community, and we take their word for it. If you have trouble with your baking, this hot weather, you will perhaps discover that the trouble lies with your flour-provided you do not use Levan's Flour. If you are using that article, and still have trouble with your baking, perhaps it is because of the oven. It can't be the flour if you use Levan's!

Stour Kard is a bay, stands in hands and weighs about 1,200 lbs. Has always taken first premium at state and county fines. His colts are large and handsome, and five that have been sold averaged Silfabat an average age of one and a half years. He was taken right out of the stud and with very little preparation reduced his record from 2500, to 250, trotting three heats in 250, 231 and 250. He went a quarter in one of the miles in 35 seconds—a 2.29 gait—which shows his capacity if I could spare him long enough in the stud to be prepared for very fast work.

TERMS—$50.00 for a foal until his present book is full, after which he will stand at $55.00.

A JOINT ENCAMPMENT OF U. S. TROOPS AND NATIONAL GUARD, AT MT. GRETNA PARK.
Army orders No. 187, Division Artillery, Department of War, directs two troops of cavalry at Fort Meyer, Va., and three light batteries of artillery from Washington Barracks, Fort Adams, R. L., and Fort Hamilton, N. Y. harbor, to march to Mt. Gretna from their respective stations, arriving at the Park not later than Adgust 5th, and there go into camp in connection with the Cavairy and Artillery of the Nat'l Guard whose period of encampment is from Aug. 10th to 17th. After the termination of the loint encampment the Regular Troops will remain at Mt. Gretna for an indefinite period, for further artillery practice, thus affording additional attraction to Mt. Gretna each day during August. The Mt. Gretna Sarrow Gauge Railroad is finished and in successful running order, contributing in its way to the pleasure and enjoyment of a day at the charming resort.

The trains over this division consist of Obser-

The trains over this division consist of Observation Cars, affording an unobstructed view of the scenery en route. They pass in full view of the Milltary Parade Grounds, Lake Conewago, the State Gnard Rife Range, and over Horse Shoe Bend, gradually ascending until Governor Dick is reached, four miles distant. From the stately new observatory on Gov. Dick, thirty feet higher than the old structure, which has been removed, a sight may be obtained than which there are few grander—forty square miles of view being presented, and points in five different counties being easily discerned.
