A few days ago a resident of town found a copy of the Police Gazette, of 1886, which gives an account of a chapter in the life of Prof. Carl Von Weller. It will be remembered that Von Weller was the musical instructor of the Choral society and took a dose of morphine with suicidal intent a few months ago. The paper contained his picture and an account of his life in Jacksonville, Fla., where he figured as a foreign nobleman. The article also stated that he had a wife living in Wisconsin.

Rescued at Atlantic City. Rev. Father Lane, paster of St. Teresa's church, Philadelphia, and William E. Lant, of this city, were bathing in deep water at the foot of Pennsylvania avenue, Atlantic City, on Wednesday, when the venerable priest saw two young ladies, who were swimming still further out, suddenly disappear; one of them had become fright ened and sank, dragging the other down with her. Mr. Lant, who was nearest them, promptly went to their rescue and caught them as they rose to the surface, He knew he was unable to take them ashore, but he succeeded in keeping them affoat until Life Guard Gallagher arrived with his boat. When asked by their rescuers who they were they were profuse in their thanks, but positively declined to reveal their identity. They were recognized by people on the beach as Philadelphians, but nothing more was known of Visiting Sir Knights. A number of Knights of Mystic Chain who are attending the Knights of Pythias Grand Lodge, now in session, paid a fraternal visit to Stevens Castle No. 4, last evening. Speeches were made and a pleasant time was had. The visitors were cordially welcomed by the castle, and the time only sped too fast. The following were the visitors: Supreme Marshal Chas Taylor, Philadelphia; Supreme and Select ording Scribe, J. J. Davis, Pittsburg; District Deputy Select Commander H. Eirich, Castle 102, of the First district; District Deputy Select Commander D. S. Rettew, of Castle 126, this city; Past Commanders Probst, of Castle 146, Greensburg; Gimit, of Castle 101, and Henry Sachse, of Einbault Castle 82, Hazleton; Lieut, G. M. suffer, of 126, this city, and Vice Commander Brock, of Harrison 148, this city.

Visited New Holland.

Col. Henry P. Feister, the eminent printing machinery inventor and manufacturer, of Philadelphia, visited New Holland on day. He was on his way to join his family, who are spending the summer at the Ephrata Mountain Springs hotel, While in the village he called upon Hon. Geo. H. ck and Mr. Amos Rutter. Mr. Feister is best known to the scientific world for the improvements he has wrought in printing and other machinery, which has brought him a large fortune. He is an intellectual and noble looking man, and ms to have lost none of the pleasing personal qualities that he possessed when he was a schoolmate in this county many years ago. He was born in this county.

FIFTEEN DIRTY BOYS.

How a Party of Youngsters Assisted at the Reservoir Cleaning. The work of cleaning the east reservoir of mud is not as small a contract as many supposed and it is not yet finished by any means. The work of removing the mud was concluded to-day, but the whole inside will have to be swept and scrubbed yet. The place was well worth a visit while the mud was being taken out. On the north side of the reservoir a stairway was constructed, the steps of which led from the top of the bank to the bottom of the basin. The mud was all scraped or hauled to the bottom of this stairway, and then placed in buckets. On each step of the stairway stood a man and they got the mud to the top by passing the buckets from one to another. The mud was then placed in a long schute through which it was the buckets from one to another. run down the bank into a place made to receive it. The funniest part of the work was that done by about fifteen boys, whose ages range from 12 to 16 years. Each one row, and as the buckets were emptied they passed them back to the bottom of the reservoir. The place where the boys stood was rather slippery, and at times it was difficult for them to retain their foothold. The work they did was anything but pleasant, but it is likely that a dirtier lot of boys were never before seen together. They seemed to enjoy making themselves look badly, and when they thought mud was not coming sufficiently fast they would throw it upon each other by the handful, or slide down the dirt walled embankment. Their clothing, hats and even their hair was full of mud, yet all seemed to enjoy themselves hugely. How they will ever become clean again no one knows. Ever since the work was begun it has required the combined efforts of Superintendent Frailey, his employes and a police officer to prevent them from crawling into the fountain to wash and thus stop it up. When the backs of these men were turned, however, some of the boys eeks ago Austin Corbin, president of the Reading railroad, gave notice to the 2,500 employes of the Reading Iron com-pany, which was reorganized out of the pany, which was reorganized out of the defunct Reading iron works, that they could only expect to get back their old positions upon condition that they severed all connection with labor organizations all connection with labor organizations and agree to leave strong drink alone, especially when on duty. Up to Wednesday over 2,000 men had signed the agreement, and that morning the company's sheet mill resumed operations after being tille for six months. Dense volumes of idle for six months. Dense volumes black smoke ascending from five of the tall iron smoke stacks of as many pud-dling furnaces announced the welcome news to the residents of the lower section of Reading that the sheet mill of the iron company was again in operation. It took but a short time to put the furnaces to the white heat necessary to puddle iron, and the men went to work with a will. Two torns, day and night, have been ordered out, and between 70 and 80 men will be busily engaged until Tuesday or Wednesday next, when the full mill will go into operation, giving employment to 270 men and boys.

The puddle furnaces have been idle since February 26. By September 1 the com-pany's 2,500 men will be at work in every department. All the real estate that be longed to the old Reading iron works and actually not needed by the new company to carry on their works will be sold. The old company owned considerable property, from which no revenue was derived, but, on the contrary, was a burden, on account of the taxes having to be paid. It is exd that when the affairs of the old iteading iron works come to be settled, the dividend for distribution among the credi-tors will be about 40 per cent. The proceeds of the sale of real estate will be about sufficient to satisfy the judgment of the Reading railroad company and the accrued interest on the mortgage.

Arranging for the Future. Last evening the Chesapeake club held a meeting in the Stevens house at which there was a large attendance.

It was resolved to hold meetings on the third Wednesday of each month at which each member will be expected to pay a certain sum which will be used to defray the expenses of the trip of next year. It was also agreed to hold a banquet some time this fall, and a committee to make arrangements was appointed.

It was agreed to take next year's trip by sea along the Atlantic coast, going as far North as Boston, and a committee to look for a boat was appointed.

The following new members were elected, bringing the number up to thirty: A. B. Hassler, Dr. Ira Hiestand, George F. Koehler, V. P. Smith, Charles Heitshu, George Hambright and C. Gunzenhauser.

Visited Shiffer Council.

Last evening Captain Thomas G. Sample, of Pittsburg, a very prominent member of the American Mechanics, who is in town attending the sessions of the Knights of Pythias, was present at the meeting of Shiffler Council No. 177, of Mechanics, last evening. He delivered an address on the principles of the order, which was listened o with the greatest attention, and greatly enjoyed by the large number of members present. State Councillor J. P. Winower lso delivered a short address, as did Mr. Miller, a prominent member of the order from Eric

An Officer Injured.

Officer Levius Heiss, of the city police force, is now off duty and contined to the house, suffering from injuries. Several of his chickens flew into a neighbor's yard and he tried to get them. In crawling over the fence he tell and broke two of his ribs. Wellington Rhodes is doing his duty.

Walter Wentworth's Attraction. Walter Wentworth, the well known contortionist, has put a show on the road to visit the small towns, and it is a very deserving attraction. With a powerful lantern he will give views of the great flood at Johnstown which are taken from photographs made on the spot. Mr. Wentworth will also do his contortion act, which really is wonderful for such an old man.

Going to California, To-day Geo, Steinman left for New York where he will join a party of engineers, Among them are David Stauffer and Mr. Hilderburn, who are known here. Past Sachems of Red Men Admitted-Unwritten Work Exemplified. Last evening there was considerable stir among the Red men of this city as a number of chiefs of the Great Council were here for the purpose of flolding a special meet-ing for the admission of past sachems and the exemplification of the unwritten work. It was the regular meeting night of Metamora Tribe No. 2 and between 200 and 300 persons were present, including many members of other tribes.

After the regular business had been transacted the Great Council was called to order with the following officers: Great sachem, William G. Myers, Philadelphia great senior sagamore, John M. McCully. great junior sagamore pro tem., B. F. Hookey, Conestoga Centre; great chief of records, Thomas K. Donnelly, Philadelphia; great prophet pro-tem., M. J. Shaw, Philadelphia; great guard of the wigwam pro tem., Emanael Newcomer, Columbia; great guard of the forest, George S. Craighead, Philadelphia. Fifty-two past officers were admitted, after which the work was exemplified by by Messrs. Myers and Donnelly. At the lose the whole party adjourned to the day for the work and when it is finished saloon of J. A. Sprenger, where an elegant they will be flush. The mud taken from lunch had been spread and everybody enthe reservoir will be hauled by Contractor joyed themselves. Speeches, toasts, &c., enlivening the occasion until a late hour.

City Children Out Airing. On Seashore Express east this afternoon were three cars, in which there was one hundred and thirty-eight small children, who have been spending two weeks in the Comberland Valley. They were from New York, and had been sent out by the Tribune fresh-air fund. The little folks seemed to be delighted.

George Schoenberger's Escape. Chief Smeltz received a letter to-day from the sheriff of Wolworth county, Wisconsin, giving an account of the escape of George Schoenberger from the county jail. It is substantially as published in the In-TELLIGENCER. On the day of the escape Schoenberger received a draft for $500 from Lancaster, and an attempt to have the draft cashed may result in his capture.
