THE MARINE KNOCKS HIM OUT IN ROUND NUMBER THIRTY-TWO.

The Battle Occurs in San Francisco and Its Result Proves a Great Surprise to the Spectators.

SAN FRANCISCO, Aug. 28.—The fight last night between Jack Dempsey and La Blanche, the Marine, came to a sudden end in the 32d round when Dempsey was knocked out by a chance blow. Before that blow was given Dempsey scampel to that blow was given Dempsey seemed to have the Marine in his power and every one in the hall looked upon him as a cer-tain victor. The sudden termination of the fight was a great surprise. In the ninetcenth round Dempsey knocked La Blanche down and up to the thirty-second round with a few xceptions he had the fight all his own way. Even in the thirty-second round Dempsey forced La Blanche into a corner and pounded him unmercifully. They gradually worked to the contre of the ring and while Dempsey still continued to pound La Blanche's neck, the latter whirled around suddenly and caught Dempsey a terrific blow on the jaw and the "Nonpareil" went down like a shot. He fell heavily upon his face and blood spurted out upon the floor of the ring. Ten seconds went by staid intense excitement. Dempsey strug-gled bravely to rise, but before he had reached his feet, weak and staggering, the time had expired and the referee awarded the fight to La Blanche. [The result of this fight is the greatest surprise that has ever taken place in the pugilistic history of this country, but it appears, from the account above, that La Blanche only won by a chance blow. These men fought in March 1886, near New York city, when Dempsey won in thirteen rounds. La Blanche was dissatisfied over the result, however, and claimed to have been fouled by the "Nonpareil," the name by which Dempsey has been known for years. The Marine also claimed that he could have done better had the fight not been under London rules. The fight of last evening was with big gloves, Queensbury rules, for the middleweight championship and a purse of $5,000 to the winner and $500 to the loser. Since Demp-sey has been in the ring he has rapidly gone to the front. Last night is the first time that be has ever been bested, although he has figured in over a score of fights. He has been considered the best man of his weight in the United States, if not in the world, by the best informed sporting men. He was willing to go against anybody and he made Charles Mitchell, the heavyweight, afraid of him. In California, and in fact all over the country, the sports thought Dempsey had a walk over, and odds of $100 to $3 were offered on him as late as yesterday afternoon. The result of last night's meeting brings La Blanche to the front and is a damper on Dempsey.] AFFLICTED CATTLE.

There has been for some time a suspicion among cattle dealers that the herds of na-tive and Tayas cattle which same in the tive and Texas cattle which range in the territory were afflicted with Texas fever, but nothing definite could be learned. WANT IT ABOLISHED.

WANT IT AHOLISHED. The Southern States Move For the Re-peal of Tobacco Taxes. Washington Dispatch to Philadelphia Ledger. It may be asfely assumed that at the ap-proaching session of Congressa determined effort will be made to aboliah the tax on to-bacco in all its forms. The members from Southern tobacco growing states, without regard to party, are pledged to the aboli-tion, and may be relied upon to initiate a movement to accompliah that result. At the last session if will be recalled that Mr. Cowles, North Carolina, introduced a bill to abolish the tax on tobacco, and that by a vote of the House it was referred to the committee on appropriations, because it vote of the House it was referred to the committee on appropriations, because it was known that the ways and means com-mittee would not report a revenue bill in which provision was not made for reduc-tion in custom duties. A large majority of the House favored the Cowles bill. It was on the calendar with a favorable report from the committee on appropriations, and on the calendar with a favorable report from the committee on appropriations, and had the House been given the opportunity to vote upon the measure it would have been passed. This was defeated, how-ever, mainly through the agency of the speaker, who rofused to recognize Mr. Cowles or Mr. Randall, who, as chairman of the committee, had parliamentary charge of the measure to make the neces-sary motions to bring the bill before the House for action. At the coming session the tobacco men propose to make an effort to have the rules so amended as to prevent the speaker from arbitrarily determining to have the rules so amended as to prevent the speaker from arbitrarily determining what measures shall or shall not be taken up by the House. Further than this, the Republican members from Southern to-bacco-growing states will not vote in caucus for any candidate for speaker who will not agree to recognize a parliamentary movement to bring a repeal bill before the House.

In furtherance of this movement against In furtherance of this movement against the tobacco tax petitions are now being prepared in those states in which tobacco and fruit spirits are manufactured, ad-dressed to the members representing the several districts, praying they will spare no effort to secure the abolition of taxes on tobacco and fruit spirits. The preamble to the petition declares: "It has been the traditional policy of this forvernment to except to early a period.

"It has been the traditional policy of this government to resort to excluse taxes only as a war measure, and it has frequent-ly been resolved by the people, through their representatives in Congress, within the past 20 years, that the true principle of revenue reform points to the abolition of the existing internal revenue system, which was created to provide for the extra-ordinary expenses incident to a state of war, and the continuance of which in-volves the europoyment at the cost of milwar, and the continuance of which in-volves the employment, at the cost of mil-lions of dollars annually, of an army of assessors, collectors, supervisors, detec-tives, spies and others, previously un-known, whose presence is a perpetual and growing insult to the free spirit of our people."

growing insult to the free spirit of our people." The petitioners present their demands in the following plain language: "We, the petitioners, as Republicans and Democrats, are therefore agreed that the taxes on to-bacco and fruit brandy ought to be re-pealed as the first step toward the reduc-tion of Federal taxation. We have been thwarted for 20 years by an audacious use of the power of party caucus to stille our damands and shut the mouths of our rep-resentatives; and realizing, therefore, that we must, for a time at least, resume our character as sovereigns under the constitution, we repudiate the doctrine of implicit obelience to the decrees of a caucus, concerning which we find no doctrine of implicit obedience to the decrees of a caucus, concerning which we find no provisions in the constitution, and insist that, in the organization of the Finy-first Congress, you shall vote only for candidates whose views are known to be in accord with our own; and that, in all committees and on the floor of the House, you shall vote for measures demanded by your constitu-ents, and particularly for the abolition of the excise taxes on tobacco and brandy distilled from fruits, and for a bill to aid in the establishment and temporary support of common schools."

A DESCENDANT OF HAMILTON. BUCKEYE DEMOCRATS IN LINE He Falls Before Something Worse Than Burr's Bullet. Burr's Bullet. The identity of Mr. Hamilton, husband of the woman who stabbed her nurse at Atlantic City on Monday, is now thorough-ly established. He has received many telegrams from relatives. Before Justice Irving he testified that he was Robert Ray Hamilton, of the New York bar, thir-ty-eight years of age and the husband of the woman who did the stabbling, though he decl. bed to say how long he had been married. he decl ned to say how long he had been martied. Robert Ray Hamilton is a son of General Schuyler Hamilton and a great-grandson of Alexander Hamilton, who was killed in the famous duel with Aaron Burr. His family has ever been eminent in literature and politics. He himself acquired an en-viable reputation in political circles. In 1881, 1860, 1857 and 1858 he represented the Eleventh district in the Assembly, and was known as an active reformer. He was the leader of the Republican organization in the Eleventh assembly district up to two montas ago, when he resigned. — We was a graduate of Columbia college and Columbia law school and had a law office at 220 Broadway. He was a member of the Union League, University, Knieker-bocker and Tuxedo clubs and has an in-come of $20,000 a year. — Me wife is a beautiful woman, with a reputation as black as she was charming, and a temper that could not be surpassed. They first lived in New York at Mrs. Smith's boarding house. There she intro-duced him to Mrs. J. F. Swinton, a woman sixty-two years oid, whom she called "Mamma," and to Joshua Mann, who, according to the neighbors, was known as: "B". This was in January last. The Hamil-heged relatives hired the first floor of No. 11 West Fifteenth street, only a few doors below. At that time Mrs. Swinton's family consisted of hereiel, Mr. Mann, who is her son by her first husbaud ; a hand-some young girl named Carrie, whom she called her daughter, and an infant, which she son by her first husbaud ; a hand-sone young girl named Carrie, whom she called her daughter, and an infant, which she son by her first husbaud ; a hand-sone young girl named Carrie, whom she called her daughter, and an infant, which she son by her first husbaud ; a hand-sone young girl named Carrie, whom she called her daughter, and an infant, which she son by her first husbaud ; a hand-sone young girl named Carrie, whom she called her daughter, and an infant, which she son by her first husbaud ; a ha DATTON, O., Aug. 28 .- The Democratic tate convention was called to order at 10:15 o'clock this morning by Dr. Norton, chairman of the state central committee. PLENTY OF SMOKE.

The Great Excitement That a Stick Phosphorus Caused. Last evening an alarm of fire caused a great excitement over a little bit of damage. About 10 o'clock M. V. B. Keller and a friend were walking along North Queen street. In passing the drug store of John G. Kauffman they noticed smoke coming out of the cellar. The volume increased quite rapidly. An alarm of fire was struck from box 12 at City hall corner, in Centre Square and it was not long until the fire department was on the grounds. A stream of water was put into the cellar and the smoke soon cleared away. It was a rather peculiar fire, and it was caused by the upsetting and breaking of a bottle which contained water ar a stick of phosphorus. The bottle stood on a shelf immediately under one of the bulk windows. In the cellar, at times, there are a great many rats. It is supposed that one of the animals was nibbling at the cork in the bottle and in that way throw it from the shelf. When phosphorus is exposed to the air it makes a terrible smoke, and if it comes in contact with anything that is inflammable it will ignite it. Luckily there was nothing that would burn in the way of this and it smoked away. From the great amount of smoke the firemen were sure that there must be som fire and a considerable quantity of water was thrown into the cellar. Several oil ans that stood in the vicinity of the phosphorous were melted somewhat and a portion of the contents lost. Other goods were also damaged by too much dampness.

Oscar Groff the proprietor of the hotel, saw at a glance that they were as full as beer bottles, and told them they could get nothing at his bar. This angered the pair 50 that they proceeded to clean the house out. Mr. Groff sent word to Alderman cool and pleasant weather. The company Spurrier's office and the alderman with Officers Olt and Lehr went to the hotel. When Oit and Spurrier took hold of the elder Arnold he showed fight and attempted to use a knife, which he had drawn. The weapon was taken from the old fellow and he was lodged in the station house after some trouble. The younger Arnold made up his mind to give Officer Lehr, who took charge of him, some trouble. As they passed around a wagon Arnold broke loose and ran down Vine street. The officer followed him, but when he found he was not as fleet of foot as the young fellow he began firing his pistol. Arnold was finally overtaken and locked up. Alderman Spurrier will hear them.

His Twenty-first Birthday. Edwin J. Lundy, son of Officer Thomas Lundy at the Pennsylvania railroad, became of age yesterday. In the evening, at his father's house, No. 210 North Mulberry street, he entertained twenty-two of his young gentlemen friends. They amused themselves playing games, singing, danc-ing, &c. The young man received a beau-tiful gold watch as a present, and his young friends gave him a gold-headed cane with an appropriate inscription.

A Burglar's Slaver Set Free.

A Burglar's Slayer Set Free. James C. Smith, of Richmond, Va., for-merly of New Bedford, Mass., was dis-charged on a charge of murder on Tuesday. He had for some time missed articles from his junk store, and hid himself last Wednesday night in the store with a gun. He waited all night but no one appeared. On Thursday night a man came ha the window, and soon discovered Smith in hiding. When the burglar showed fight, Smith fired, but missed him. The second shot hit the burglar in the back and he died the next day. The burglar proved to be Robert Strong, colored, an old employe of Smith, who had recently been released from prison for stealing from Smith. Smith was arrested on a charge of murder, but the jury deabout noon and in the evening when Rev. E. W. afternoon to witness the contest between the Cross-Cuts and Razzle-Dazzle clubs.

These teams are from the southern end of the city, and the rivalry between them is very pronounced. They have played three games this season, the Cross-Cuts winning he first, and yesterday's match was confidentiy expected to result in their second victory. Neither side did the work they are capable of performing, but a few innings were pretty sharply contested. After Groff was disabled by being struck by a pitched ball, the Cross-Cuts' pitcher did not continue to deliver the ball in his
