Reading's New Coal Road.

The Reading railroad engineers have finished the proliminary work of the proposed extension into the Lehigh Valley territory. The main line from Summit to Drifton has been finally located, and, besides, lateral lines have been located to the several colleries operated by Coxe Bros. & Co. They number half a dozen.

When the project was first announced it

Co. They number half a dozen.

When the project was first announced it was supposed by some that the whole affair was simply intended for effect upon the Lehigh valley, which is building a line into the Tremont region. The location of the lateral lines to Coxe Bros. breakers has dispelled this idea, and it is now believed that the Reading is thoroughly in earnest. The main line is not long and would not cost much to build, and the laterals to the mines are also inexpensive. es are also inexpensive.

mines are also inexpensive.

The firm of Coxe Bros. & Co., is the largest coal producing concern not under the direct control of the railroad companies.

Their yearly output is estimated at from 1,300,000 to 1,800,000 tons per annum. All their collieries but two or three will be reached by the Reading's new line. At present the Lehigh Valley carries nearly all the firm's coal, but the Reading expects to capture one-half of the tide business, besides a good deal of coal destined for local points. This will add from 700,000 to oints. This will add from 700,000 to 00,000 tons per annum to the Reading's

A special meeting of the Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian church was held on Friday morning, August 20, 189, pursuant to a cell of the secretary. By invitation, the pastor, Rev. Jas. Y. Mitchell, D. D., was present.

Formal announcement was made of the death of Mr. Robert A. Evans, president of the Board, when after remarks by several of the mere beers, a committee, consisting of Chas. M. Howell and A. H. Peacock, was appointed to draft a suitable minute, expressive of the views of the Board; which minute was subsequently reported, accepted and adopted, and is as follows:

MINUTE.

The Board of Trustees of the Presbyterian church, in entering upon its records a minute touching the death of president, Robert A. Evans, would not be unmindful of the goodness of our covenant-keeping God, who, though clouds and darkness are round about His throne, still ruleth in rightcousness and doeth all things well.

To His praise, and for our comfort in the midst of present sorrowing, we recall the divine words: "Now no chastening for the present seemeth to be joyous but grievous; nevertheless, afterward it yieldeth the peaceable fruit of rightcousness unto them which are exercised thereby."

With gratified to our Heavenly Father we make mention of the fact, that well nigh sixty-five years ago, Robert A. Evans was born of Christian parents within the pale of this church, and was by them consecrated to God in the holy sucrament of baptism. From childhood he was interested in and identified with this church, and was by them consecrated to God in the holy sucrament of baptism. From childhood he was interested in and identified with this church, and was by them consecrated to God in the holy sucrament of baptism. From childhood he was interested in and identified with this church, and was by them consecrated to God in the holy sucrament of baptism. From childhood he was interested in and identified with this church, and wisher as a boy in the Sunday school, or a men, among the managers of the band, in the begut for the council chapel, and in his own unobtrusive way he met their wants, and his liberality ordered its building and secures its payment at completion. The Board joins, with the church, in regrets that the donor did not live to see it completed; and in the belief, that the many who will live to worship in the chapel, will never fail to honor the memory of him who made it the crowning act of a life of liberality towards this church. The Board wouldfremember with thanksgiving to God, that during the filness of our departed president, he was so free from bodily pain, and so restful in mind and spirit; and for the sweet testimony he gave that his trust and confidence for salvation were in Jesus Christ. It would also extend its warmest sympathies to the bereaved wife, and commends her to the care of him who can and will cause the afflictious of life to work out for his children a "firmore exceeding and stornal weight of glory."

Resolved, That the Board attends the foureral on Saturday, August 31, at 2 o'clock p. m., in a body, and by invitation of the family of the deceased, act as pail bearers.

Risolved, That a copy of this minute be sent to the wife of the deceased, act as pail bearers.

A Big Run On Stoves.

The fine stock of stoves, which Italiy Bros. & Raub are now selling, attracts great attention by the low prices asked for stapic goods. These stoves, heaters and ranges have not been hyrt by the fire, but they are selling away before market price to make room for a new stock. This is a bargain opportunity, which the thrifty housekeeper should not miss.
