formance—The People Pleased.

Last evening Hunting's circus opened in the lot at Vine and Mulberry streets.

Long before dark a crowd began to gather in that neighborhood and after the band, which by the way, is a very good one, had given a concert in Centre Square, there was a grand rush for the circus grounds. By the a grain rush for the circus grounds. By the time that the performance opened the canvas was packed with people. The manager of the show is very fair in his prices. He charges but 10 cents admission and 10 cents extra for reserved seats. Many shows of this kind charge ten cents at the door and this kind charge ten cents at the door and then try to get an exorbitant price for reserved seats. The entertainment given by the circus company was first-class in every respect. Everybody that attended was pleased and spoke in the highest terms of it. Many high-priced shows that have been here have not given as great satisfaction. The sets are nearly all good and they include the tight rope performance of El Nino Eddie, who is one of the best in the business, the slack wire walking of a young boy, trapeze performance of Mrs. Hunting, Prof. Austen's trained dogs, &c. The show is worthy of a large patronage during the remainder of the week.

Mr. Hunting complains very bitterly of his treatment in this city by several parties. He says that when his agent came here to bill the town he found that the boards were controlled by the lessees of the opera house. They refused to give him any room to put up his paper. He then ordered his agent to bill the town in another way. For this purpose one hundred boards, for lithographs, were purchased and after being covered they were placed around the central part of the town. When Mr. Munting arrived here he was able to find but a few of these boards. He says that the others were either carried off, destroyed or covered with paper advertising attractions at the opera house. Mr. Hunting says that the men who have charge of the advertising at the opera house are the ones who did this work and he has evidence in his possession to prove the charges. He does not know as yet what he will do in the matter.

IN COMMON PLEAS COURT.

Verdict For Defendant in the Suit Brought by Amos L. Eshleman. After all the testimony was heard in the suit of Amos L. Eshleman vs. Adam K. Witmer's executors, the court directed a verdict for the defendant. D. G. and G. Ross Eshleman for plaintiff; H. M. North for defendant.

The suit of John H. Bair vs. Margaret A. Herr and W. D. Herr, administrators of John Herr, deceased, and William D.Herr, was attached for trial before Judge Patterson this morning.

This is an action to recover damages under these circumstances: Plaintiff and defendants own adjoining tracts of land near Camargo. The defendants dug a trench on their property, and the water from the trench passed on the plaintiff's land, damaging it.

The defense was opened in the suit of Samuel Eshleman vs. Martic township on Wednesday afternoon. It was that the drain complained of by Mr. Esbleman was a natural water course for fifty years. It was claimed that when permission was given to Mr. Eshleman to close this drain and open another the right to close the new drain was reserved and the judgment of the supervisor was that it should be closed. It was held that no damages could be recovered for injury to the property of Mr. Eshleman caused by a natural water course.

DEATH OF JOHN HADDON.

His Brother at Hope, New Jersey, Sends For Ills Body.

John Haddon, who met with an accident at Mill creek on Sunday morning, and whose death was looked for ever since, expired late Wednesday afternoon at the county hospital. Coroner Honoman was notified, and accompanied by Dr. Bolenius he went to the hospital and held an inst. The jurors empanelled were Henry Wolf, Eugene Bauer, Lewis Lyne, Geo. P. King, Jacob Souders and Jeff E.

The testimony of the physicians was heard on Wednesday evening and this morning that of the employes of the railroad company, whose train struck Haddon. The verdict of the jury was that death resulted from cerebral apoplexy, caused by injuries received by being struck by a freight train near Mill creek. Superintendent Worst has received a telegram from a brother of deceased living at Hope, New Jersey, requesting that his body be sent there for burial

A reply was sent to bis brother stating that the body could not be shipped unless there were some one to accompany it and requesting him to come for the body, but up to the hour of going to press nothing further had been heard from him.

Death of Mrs. Emily Jordan. The death of Mrs. Emily Jordan, of Philadelphia, is announced as having occurred at Nazareth, Pa., on the morning of September 4th. Mrs. Jordan was well known in Lancaster among a large circle of friends. The deceased with two of her sons had been spending the summer at Nazareth, hoping that her health would be benefitted. About two weeks ago her illness took a decidedly serious turn. The deceased was the widow of the late Francis Jordan, of Philadelphia, a well known merchant, the house with which he was connected during his life time having been founded in 1783. Mrs. Jordan was a member of the Moravian church, a most estimable Christian lady, kind, benevolent and lasting in her friendship. Seven sons and two daughters survive her. The sons are John W. Jordan, Francis Jordan, jr., William H. Jordan, Aug. Jordan, of Philadelphia, Mr. Ewing Jordan, Gilbert Jordan, Germantown; Rev. Walter Jordan, rector of St. Stephen's P. E. church, Bridesburg; the daughters are Mrs. F. A. Tilge and Miss E. Jordan,

Two Accidents.

On Wednesday evening Mrs. Joseph Hendren, residing on East Walnut street, accidentially fell down a flight of steps, surtaining severe internal injuries. Dr. Kinard was called and he attended the lady. David W. Shertzer, grocer, at Lemon and and New streets, cut part of his thumb off with a hatchet he was using on Wednesday evening. Dr. Kinard also attended him.

They Should Be Removed. Complaint comes from persons in the northern part of the city that a pile of limbs, which were trimmed from trees, have been lying on Duke street above James, for the past three days. They occupy the space almost to the railroad track and should be removed.

BEGINNING THE FALL TERM.

Opening Exercises At the Institutions On College Hill.

The fall term of Franklin and Marshall college, the theological seminary and academy opened this morning at 10 o'clock. Prof. John S. Stahr, president pro. tem, conducted the opening exercises. After the usual morning prayer an address was delivered by George F. Mull, A. M., professor of English. His subject was "The Study of English Literature." Prof. Mull called attention to the necessity of a thorough course in English cessity of a thorough course in English as a vital part of a liberal education. commended this feature in Franklin and Marshall college as having long been an of his address he made a deserving reference to Prof. Wm. W. Nevin, who has for very many years been at the head of the department of English literature and belies lettres, which was well received by pro-fessors and students, nearly all of whom were at one time or another his pupils.

After the address, which was received with much enthusiasm by the large num-ber of students present, the different professors made announcements to the several classes; and to-morrow the recitations will regularly begin.

The institutions open very auspiciously.

There are in all about seventy accessions, being divided about as fol-lows: 35 to the college, 15 to the theo-logical seminary and 30 to the academy. This indicates a steady increase in t number of students and the friends of th institutions in Lancaster and elsewhere ca feel assured that the progress which the large accessions this year indicate will permanent.

H. M. Irvin, who graduated in the class of '88 at Princeton, and who was member of the celebrated foot ball team of 188 which won the championship by defeating Yale, is a member of the present junio class in the theological seminary.

Mrs. Lloyd E. Coblentz, who has bee visiting the home of her parents on th campus for a few days, returned to he home at Altoona this afternoon.

Death of Charles M. Atkins. Mr. Charles M. Atkins died suddenly i Pottsville, on Wednesday, Mr. Atkin was born in Chester county, on the 17th c March 1827, but spent his boyhood ar early manhood in Columbia, Lancast county, Pa.

He acquired his business education the same desk at which sat the late Thom: A. Scott. His first business venture we in the line of freighting on the Pennsylvania state road, and he became one of the leading freighters on that line and one the largest owners of rolling stock an barges. He went to Pottsville in 1853, an became the purchaser of the Fishback rol ing mills which were sold at sheriff's sal the owners, Messrs. Yardley & Co., baving become deeply involved. Mr. Atkins with his brother, Hanson, once commenced the enlargement of the works. The Pioneer furnaces were purchased, and a large iron ore bank in Cumberland county was made tributary to the furnace. A colliery at Gilberton was opened to furnish coal for the works. When to these four extensive plants had been added a complete equipment of rolling stock, the freighting business was gradually discontinued and the docks were closed up.

The furnaces were enlarged and rebuilt. their capacity being doubled five times in Mr. Atkins' ownership. Within late years a steel plant has been added. At one time there were over 5,000 names on Mr. Atkins' pay roll. Some years ago a company under the title of the Po tsville Iron and Steel com; pany was formed. Mr. Atkins was its president and held nine-tenths of the stock, the remainder being divided between his son, son-in-law and confidential clerks.

Left the Hospital. William Dreher, the Lebanon man who fell from a freight train at Manheim on Monday night and struck on his head, was able to leave the county hospital this morning. He went at once to the Penn rollin mill to see some friends and he was after wards met by an INTELLIGENCER reporter. He then stated that he did not feel well by any means, but was very weak and had a giddiness in his head.

The Lebanon Fatr. At the Lebanon fair yesterday there were not more than 1,000 people. In the race for county horses George Baney's Anule was first in 2:57, 2:57; and 2:54;. The 2:45 class was won by Butcher Girl, owned by H. Stoner, of Harrisburg, which mare is entered in several races here next week Owen P. Deeds' Little Mand was second and A. L. Sudden Death of Catherine King Miss Catharine King died suddenly early this morning at the residence of her niece, Mrs. Kate Steigerwalt, No. 33 North Duke street. Miss King had been suffering for some time from dropsy, but she was able to be about on Wednesday. She retired at her usual hour in the evening, and about midnight was stricken with apoplexy and died a few hours afterwards. Deceased was 81 years old, and a sister of George P. King of this city, and Solomon King, of Baltimore. Her funeral will take place on Sunday afternoon. The New Rattroad. The whole road bed of the new Delaware River & Laneaster railroad, from the Falls of French Creek to the Pickering Valley railroad, is being rapidly graded by a large force of men. Mr. George Potts, superintendent of the building of the road, was in Lancaster for several days last week and has returned to Falls of French Creek. Mr. William Noble was with him. Mr. Potts says it will most assuredly be extended to Lancaster. The work is being done by New York capitalists, of whom Mr. Nell MacDonald is the head.
