INCENDIARY FIRES.

THE OF WRIGHTSTILLS TERROR-STRICKEN RARLY ON SUNDAY MORNING.

Buildings Are Destroyed - Five bles and the Lockup in Ashes--Ar-

Columna, Sept. 9.—Wrightsville suf-ced from incendiary fires yesterday soming. Shortly before midnight the chup was fired and consumed. Many ns responded to the alarm, but the persons responded to the alarm, but the gre could not be controlled and the building was soon in ashes.

An hour later the villagers were again received by the burning of four barns belonging to George Shutter, Hiram Keller and Barton Budding. These building were destroyed with nearly all their contents. By herole work the live stock was saved.

The now steam fire engine did good service and prevented the flames spreading. Three hours later another alarm was soun 'sd. The barn of Dr. Thomson, of Thiladeiphia, was the next structure to receive the incendiary's torch. In a short many it was econsumed, little of its contents having been recovered.

While the Thomson barn was burning the suspicious actions of James Mc-linyre were noticed and Constable Wilson took him into custody. It is sa'd there will be evidence to show that he fired at least one of the barns. McIntyre, who is about 30 years of age, and an employe of the Wrightsville iron company, was taken before Justice of the Peace Moore yesterday morning and committed to the county fall at York.

The town was never before so thoroughly alarmed, and had there been positive evidence of McIntyre's guilt he would probably have been lynched.

The total loss will not exceed $3,000 with pritial insurance, but adjoining property was in peril, and only an abundance of water and lack of wind saved the village from serious conflagration.

Aid was asked from the fire department of this place. The Columbia hose carriage was taken across the bridge, but there was no need for the services of the firemen from this place.

OVERCOME BY GAS.

OVERCOME BY GAS.

Henry Rider, top-filler at St. Charles furnace, was overcome by gas on Saturday about 5 p. m., and narrowly escaped death. He was discovered by Samuel Freston, an employe, in an unconscious condition. He was removed to his home close by, and Dr. Mifflin attended him. He was sitk on Nonday from the effects, and is not working to-day.

The Columbia Literary club has adopted a plan of study for the coming winter which will prove very interesting to the members. The club meets fortnightly and members. The club meets fortnightly and is in a prosperous condition. Among the subjects for study are: The great events in the world since June 1, 1889, France of Louis XIV, the Empire of Brazil, the European Situation, the Revolution in France. Russia Past and Present, French Home Life and the Reign of Terror.

The public schools opened this morning for the fall term, with a very large number of papils present. The schools commence with every indication for a prosperous term.

Before the Mayor. This morning the mayor had several ustomers before him. One of these was James Burke, who was acting badly at West King and Water streets Sunday morning. He had been drinking and Officer Weaver ordered him away from the corner. Burke refused to go and Weave-undertook to arrest him. Burke resisted and fought hard. While the officer was putting the nippers upon him the prisoner tore his coat to pieces and damaged his pantaloons. He was taken to the station house just the same, however. The mayor postponed action in his case this morning and this afternoon Burke was discharged after paying for Officer Weaver's clothes and the costs.

Courad Nye, who was drunk and disorderly at the circus grounds, was discharged and allowed to go to his home in Mountville. Frank Isaacs, the dissipated showman, is still in the station house trying to get straight. West King and Water streets Sunday

She Wants Her Legal Share. Mrs. Robert A. Evans late on Saturday ncluded to decline the legacy left to her by her husband and has elected to accept what the law gives her. Being without hildren she receives under the law onehalf of the personal estate and the income of one half of the real estate during her life. Her share under her election will be much larger than she would have received had she accepted the provisions of the will. The conclusion she reached will not affect the specific bequests made by Mr. Evans to his relatives but there will be complications as to the real estate he has complications as to the real estate as the willed; since she will enjoy half the income thereof during her life, and the de-sees will take it so encumbered. A Contortiouist Married. Walter Wentworth, the well-known contortionist, will make his home, in Lancaster in the future. He was married recentby hev. Henry E. Cheeseman, of Cam-den, N. J., to Mrs. Mary Carpenter, widow of the late John A. Carpenter of this city. Mr. Weatworth has been giving stereoptican exhibitions through the county and will appear to-night at Rothweiler's hall. He has made dates for eight weeks, commenc-ius next Monday with museums through-chi the East.

The Woman Exchange. The Woman's Exchange will open in the large store room in Centre Square, which until recently was occupied by Charles H. Barr. Persons who desire to avail themselves of the advantages of the exchange, are requested to have their articles ready for the opening of the room. All kinds of specimens of woman handlwork will be kept on hand constantly.

For the Witmer Home. A number of ladies have offered their witness to the managers of the Ann C. Witner home, and will assist them with their needles. The managers now appeal to the public for material in the way of souse linen, such as toweling, mapkins, pillow case muslins, &c. The home committee will take charge of it when contributed.

He Talked Too Much. A party of young men were playing cards in a chicken coop in the eastern end of town yesterday and John Lawrence, who did not have a hand, kept "talking in" talling different ones how to play. This so caraged Charles Weaver, a young man about 19 years of age, that he struck Lawrence in the mouth with a saw which he packed up, cutting a terrible gash in his tongue. The injury had the effect of keeping his tongue quiet.

A Reporter's Presence of Mind. This morning a milkman named Bru-baker drove down Christian street towards baker drove down Christian street towards the Pennsylvania railroad. Just as he was about to cross the tracks the engine of the York accommodation backed up, going towards Dillerville. The horse would have been caught had it not been for Harry W. Buckius, the nimble reporter of the Examiner, who spoiled a big liten by catching him by the head and quickly backing him from the track, much to the astonishment of the driver, who had not seen the engine.

The fire which started in the cartridge factory in Antwerp on Friday has at last been extinguished. Several more corpses have been found, and the number of the dead will certainly reach 200. King Leopoid and the cabinet minister on Sunday visited the hospitals where the sufferers by the fire are being cared for. The arrest of M. Carvillain, the proprietor of the cartridge factory, has been ordered.

In a Terrible Condition. The road back of the reservoir is in almosts impassable condition. The mud taken from the reservoir was allowed to taken from the reservoir was allowed to remain there, and the rain of Saturday made it so deep that parties using that road were stuck. Several parties had to unhitch their horses and leave their vehicles in the mud. If this street is not intended for public use it should be closed. A few evenings ago a drunken man with a load o picnic was fast in the mud to his waist until rescued.

Hand Caught in a Press. J. L. Lyte, who has opened a job print-ing office over Long's Sons' drug store, had his hand caught in a press on Saturday and very badly injured. On the third finger of one hand was a large Masonic ring. This was pressed into the flesh to the bone and it was necessary for Ernes Zahn to saw it off. The next finger was also badly injured. Dr. Welchans dressed the based
