TWO HER ACCUSED OF SELLING LIQUOR CON-TRARY TO LAW.

Joseph Desch Alleged to Have Sold to Mors, and Henry Diggs Without License to Coons on Sunday.

COLUMNIA, Sept. 20.—For some time past mumber of colored people have been pur-having liquor on Sunday and as a result ghts would occur. Officer Wittick comchasing liquor en Sunday and as a result fights would occur. Officer Wittick commenced to look up the matter and ascertain who sold the liquor. Yesterday afternoon he arrested Henry Diggs, a well known colored man living in alley J, for selling liquor without a license and on Sunday. He was committed to jail for a further hearing before Squire Evans on Saturday. Sait was entered yesterday at the office of Squire Evans by Frank Wittick, against Joseph Desch, proprietor of the Farmer's botel on Locust street, for selling liquor to minors. Desch was arrested and given a hearing last evening. H. M. North, esq., appearing as his counsel. At the hearing, John Musser, a young man who says he is 19 years of age, testified that he purchased beer at Desch's saloon, and replied "yes" when asked if he was of age. On the evenin question he was not asked if he was aminor. The accused furnished bail for his appearance at court.

Last evening C, W. Cleggett, living on South Third street, awoke from his sleep and found a man lying in his kitchen. He sent for Officer Morrison, who found the man to be very drunk. He had opened a window and got into the kitchen to take a sleep. He was committed to jail for trial by Alderman Hershey for felonious entry. His name was Michael Berry, of Wrightsville.

Mrs. Essex's House Robbed by a Big Newfoundland Dog.

Newfoundland Pog.

The police in the Northwestern district of Baltimore are looking for a big Newfoundland dog that was found robbing a building, but escaped before the officers had an opportunity to draw a bead on him. He is not a common thief. Sergeant Sanders, who first discovered him at work, pronounces him an artist. The officer was standing at the corner of Pennsylvania avenue and McMechin street when he first way the dog. avenue and McMechin street when he first saw the dog. He had slipped out of an alley, and was carrying in his mouth a large bundle. The policeman gave chase, and, finding himself in close quarters, the dog dropped the bundle and disappeared up a side street.

The sergeant found in the bundle an em-roidered cushion, which he carried back with the view of returning it to its owner.

He met the officer on the beat and told him about the dog. The officer told him no one in the neighborhood owned a Newfoundland dog, and both came to the conclusion that the animal was a thier, and decided to watch for him. They had not long to watch for him. They had not long to wait. In half an hour he returned, but, as if scenting danger, suddenly turned and hurried away as fast as his four legs could

The officers then made an investigation of the house from which the dog had first emerged, and found the kitchen door as well as that leading to the dining room, wide open. It was still dark, and the funly were asleep. The house is occupied by Mrs. Essex, who was awakened by the officers.

When the gas was lit in the dining room

When the gas was lit in the dining room it was found that everything had been got together ready to be carried off. The carpet had been pulled up, and cushious and towels, in fact everything moveable, had been piled in a heap. Nothing had been injured, though.

Mrs. Essex at once discovered that far more hadbeen stolen than SergantSaunders had seen the dog carry away. A search was instituted and a number of shirts, handkerchiefs and other articles were found at a corner three blocks away. They had been taken out of a drawer that had been left open. No one in the house knew the dog.

The matter was officially reported at police headquarters by Sergeant Saunders. HERE'S BUSINESS FOR BLAINE.

An International Rooster Case That Might Be Referred to Hayes.

Might Be Referred to Hayes.

Trouble is brewing between the navy and the diplomatic corps.

In a boarding-house near the Arlington dwell a naval officer and his son, a bright little fellow, who has a great fondness for game fowls, and in the pursuit of this liking has collected quite a flock of very fine roosters. Next door lives a member of the French legation, who is a skilled musician and whose piano is seldom stilled. The crowing of the game cocks in the next yard distarbs his delicate nerves and he recently made a complaint to the lady of the house where the officer resided. He told her that he could no longer endure the nuisance, and should officer resided. He told her that he could no longer endure the nuisance, and should complain to Mr. Blaine.

The lady brought the foreigner and the owner of the offensive fowls together, and the former stated his case. When he had finished the little fellow thought a minute and then exclaimed, "I tell you what, if you will shut up on tuat piano of yours, I'll get rid of my rooster. Is it a go ?"

There the matter rests. The foreigner is considering the offer, and as yet has not made his complaint to the state department.

Officers Installed.

Last evening District Deputy Grand Patriarch W. F. Hambright, of this city, went to Marietta and installed the followwent to Marietta and installed the follow-ing officers of Marietta Encampment, No. 76, I. O. O. F.: Chief patriarch, Howard J. Ertsman; high priest, George H. Strohm; senior warden, Charles R. Laucks; junior warden, Dr. H. A. Mowery. Besides these a number of appointed officers were in-stalled.

The encampment has a membership of 39, and they have available assets amount-ing to $1,900.

Vacation of Ross Street. John I. Hartman, S. C. Slaymaker and William A. Morton, the viewers appointed to report as to the expediency of opening Ross street, between College avenue and the Ponnsylvania railroad tracks, met this morning. They went over the ground, heard the testimony of parties interested and decided to report to the court that the street should be vacated between the points above noted.

Mixed Colors in One Family. rather queer combination of colors was represented in one family that was seen at the Pennsylvania railroad station this forenoon. The father was a coal black and very ignorant looking negro, and his wife was white and rather fine looking. Their little girl was much whiter than the mother, and a small baby and a boy were black.

The City Night Schools. At the meeting of the night school committee, on Thursday evening, it was decided to open the night schools on Monday evening next. A new system goes into effect this year, which will be convenient to the patrens of those schools. There will be four schools instead of two, and their location is: Boys' schools at South Duke and German and Prince and Chestnut; girls' schools at Vine and Mulberry and Prince and Chestnut. As all the supplies are furnished to pupils there should be a good attendance this year.

Exceptions Dismissed. In the estate of William Ringwali, de-cased, the exceptions filed to the confirma-tion of sale were dismissed in court on ihursday afternoon,

It Was Not False Pretense. Michael Boos was heard last evening by Alderman Halbach on a charge of false pretense. The prosecutor was John F. Hahn and he alleged that Boos obtained from him some money to pay for old iron he had purchased, and not succeeding in buying the iron he refused to return the money. The alderman did not think it

The ambulance fund started by the In-THE ADDITION OF THE LINE STATE paper. All contributions will be acknowledged in these columns. The ambulance will cost two hundred dollars, and if 170 people are sorry to the extent of a half dollar each, the fund will be raised. Dimes

Open For Inspection. The rooms of the Young Men's Demo-cratic society will be thrown open for the inspection of ladies (who were unable to get there on the evening of the dedication), on Saturday from 10 s. m. until 6 p. m.

Soap for Everybody.

Samuel Clarke, the South Queen street grocer, had a big supply of Poppy Oil Soap at the county fair. The crowds there were not big enough to carry it away when opportunity was given. Any person visiting his store, near the Square, on Saturday will receive a cake. This s up will give satisfaction.

California in Winter.
While the eastern section of the country is wrapped in ice and snow, California abounds in fruit and flowers. Its "rainy scason" is by no means forbidding, but the pleasant part of the year, when the face of nature is fresh and most beautiful. It is the spring time of that favored land, for there is no winter. Thousands of cast-ern people find it a delightful haven from the frigid climate in the cast. Messrs. Raymond & Whitcomb announce a series of ten grand win-ter trips. Every party will travel on special time schedules, and in the finest of vestibuled Pullman palace trains. Dining-cars, with a form a part of every train. This means a de gree of luxury and comfort not otherwise at tainable. The passenger can exercise his own free will as to time and place of sojourn, and also in regard to the route and time of return He need not follow any programme beyond the outward journey, unless he so chooses, although he can secure a room at The Raymond for two months, if he desires, selecting the same in Philadelphia. There are many other advanrhinaderpitta. There are many other advantages scentred to the ticket-holder, which a circular of 192 pages fully sets forth. This circular may be had free by addressing Raymond & Whiteomb, 111 South Ninth street, under Continental Hotel, Philadelphia, Pa. Excursion parties will leave Philadelphia, November 14 and December 12.

A GREAT FEAST For Your Eyes!!

Is what many say of our Show Windows. We are proud of the many pleasant things which are said of the same. It is but the shell-of wifelhour great stock is the kernel. It is a kernel worthedigesting. Many have tried it since our establishment in 1854. Thirty-five years of good, housest business is a record which anyone can look at and be proud of. It is a case of the "survival of the fittest." Fittest in two senses of the word. As regards a fit person to make a fit such as we give. But a truce to hearing. In the seeing part we can show our

Persons who are in search of comfort should consider that a great deal of it is to be found in the kind of shoe they wear—an ill-fitting shos will put the whole body out of fix.

We have just received a very fine Ladies' Dongola Button in square toes, which we seil at $1.50, $2.00 and $2.25, but the $3.00 grade is immense and will give the most particular persons satisfaction. We have also received this week, another big lot of our Men's Celebrated $3.00 Shoe. This beats all other shoes at that price on the market.

School Shoes for the Children, strong and serviceable, at the lowest possible price. Don't be deceived by the advertisements of dealers who promise so much for nothing. Common sense will tell you that you don't get more than you pay for.
