

THE FIRST DAY'S RACES.

TROTTING AND RUNNING CONTESTS AT McGRANN'S PARK ON TUESDAY.

Miss McGregor and Sam Walton the winners. The spectators delighted with the exhibition of speed.

The two days full meeting for races, began at McGrann's park Tuesday afternoon, and considering the cold, blustery and altogether disagreeable weather the attendance was of good size.

The first race was the 240 trot for a purse of $200. The horses started there; Brooke Ludwig's g. Harry, E. H. McGonigle's b. m. Miss McGregor, Buch & Donogh's Billy D. Frank B. McGonigle's Querryville Boy and William Frazz's McDonagh.

In the first heat Querryville Boy had the pole, but Miss McGregor took the lead with the Boy second. The latter went to the front at a time, but broke at the half and soon afterwards McDonough forged ahead and took the heat with Miss McGregor second and Querryville Boy third.

At the start in the second heat Miss McGregor took the lead and although pushed by Harry and Querryville Boy to the end of the heat, McDonough was second most of the way around, but at the three-quarter's broke badly and fell to last place where he remained until the end of the race in second and Harry third.

Miss McGregor went to the front again in the third heat, and started there, although the race was very close at times. There was a pretty contest between Harry and Querryville Boy for second until the latter broke at the wire for the first time, they soon recovered.

In the home stretch they were close on the home stretch and did some good work to the finish. Querryville Boy was second together. Near the wire Harry, who was second, broke and began running and Querryville Boy's driver claimed second prize, but it was given to the grey. Time 2:42.

It was almost dark when the horses were called up for the fourth heat, which was by far the best of the races. The horses were given a good start and all were pretty well bunched for the first quarter with McGregor slightly in the lead and Querryville Boy second. Near the wire Harry was first around, the latter broke but soon recovered.

There was some beautiful trotting on the home stretch. They came under the wire with McGregor first, Querryville Boy second and Harry third. Time 2:48.

2-50 class trotting, purse $200. Miss McGregor, Harry, Querryville Boy, and William Frazz's McDonagh.

Running half mile, premium $100. E. H. Kaufman, Lancaster, Sam Walton, 2:11; Charles Edman, 2:12; Harry, 2:13; F. B. Stuffer, Reading, Ed. Hardy, 2:14; E. H. Miller, Dick Davis, 2:15.

The purses in the races were divided as follows: 50 per cent. to first, 25 to second, 15 to third and 10 to fourth.

An Electric Lineman Killed. Charles Edman, aged 40, a lineman employed by the Manhattan Electric Light Company, was killed in New York on Monday while repairing a wire in front of 155 Grand street.

Chattanooga Elects a Republican. The first election in Tennessee under the Australian system of voting occurred in Chattanooga on Tuesday in the municipal election. In this election every man known in the city, less money was used at the polls and there was less illegal voting than in any previous election.

How a Preacher Lost His Life. The people of Jerome, Indiana, resolved to have a "gas well display" on Monday night. To provide a grand torch a 60-foot 4-inch pipe was laid from the mouth of a powerful flowing well a 1-foot elbow being attached, and standing with the nozzle upright. Just when the torch was about to be pushed sideways on the ground, the gas, which was highly inflammable, burst the sixty feet of pipe around among the spectators, several of whom were caught.

Troubles Settled. The trouble between Abraham and Harry Hirsch and L. B. Clark and wife, which arose over the attempt of the Hirsches to put the Clarks out of a house for which they refused to pay rent, has been settled by two magistrates. Yesterday afternoon, before Alderman McConomy, the Hirsches were held on a charge of non-payment of rent, and the Clarks were preferred by Clark. After hearing the evidence the alderman concluded that there was not sufficient cause to warrant him in sending it to court, and he dismissed it. Alderman Deen was of the same opinion in regard to the charge of felonious assault brought by Harry Hirsch against Clark, and it was dismissed at a hearing last evening.

Funeral of A. Z. Ringwalt. The funeral of A. Z. Ringwalt took place this morning from his residence, No. 12 South Duke street, and was attended by representatives of the organizations of which he was a member. A committee of Monterey Lodge of Odd Fellows accompanied the remains to New Holland, where the interment was made.

Another Husband Finds His Case. Samuel Baumgardner, who was charged by his wife with assault and battery, has been acquitted by the jury. The case was heard by Alderman Hershner. Mrs. Baumgardner, the wife of whom who prosecutes their husbands, was agreed to the settlement.

RABBIT OF A BLACKBIRD?

IF CHRISTIAN HINKLE SHOT THE POORER HE VIOLATED THE GAME LAW.

The jury to decide which it was that he killed on the sixth of August in West Lampeter Township.

Tuesday Afternoon.—Upon the re-assembly of court at 2:30 o'clock the trial of Joseph Hinkle on a charge of shooting a rabbit on his farm in West Lampeter township, was resumed.

The defense called a large number of witnesses who were present at the hotel on the evening of the shooting. The witnesses were held and all testified that they did take place. In addition many of the defendant's neighbors testified that his conduct was in violation of the game law.

In instructing the jury Judge Patterson said there could not be a conviction in this case, because the commonwealth had failed to prove that Alderman Forney, before whom the deposition was taken, was an officer and commissioner, and an illegally appointed judge.

The jury returned a verdict of not guilty with costs. The case against Lincoln Wallis, a colored man, who was charged with shooting a Lincoln sleigh wagon, worth $5, belonging to Jacob Hostetter. It was argued by counsel that the case could not be made out, and the above disposition was made of it.

Wednesday Morning.—Court met at 9 o'clock and the jury in the Joseph Marks case returned a verdict of not guilty with costs for the state.

In the S. P. Harley felonious assault case the verdict of the jury was not guilty. The case was published as guilty in Tuesday's paper.

Christian Hinkle was put on trial for violating the game law in shooting a rabbit on August 6th. The case was argued by counsel that the case could not be made out, and the above disposition was made of it.

The defendant denied the offense charged. He testified that he shot a blackbird on that day, and that the bird was shot by who was with him when the bird was shot.

The jury this afternoon rendered a verdict of not guilty and divided the costs equally between the prosecutor, Elmer E. Plank, and the defendant, Christian Hinkle.

David L. Stoner, of Manheim township, was appointed guardian of the minor children of John L. Stoner, late of Manheim township, in place of Henry B. Hess, who asked to be relieved of the trust.

Justice Clark handed down an opinion reversing the court of Damocles in the case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The Supreme Court decides they must pay taxes on loans. Justice Clark handed down an opinion reversing the court of Damocles in the case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

The case of the commonwealth vs. Pennsylvania against the Lehigh Valley Railway company. The case was an appeal by the company from an order of the court of Damocles.

WANTED IN THE WEST.

A CHARGE OF ROBBERY AGAINST LOUIS REIDENBACH IN ELGIN, ILL.

Late on Tuesday afternoon Officer William Wittick, of Columbia, went to the county prison and served a warrant upon Louis Reidenbach, now confined there on a charge of arson.

Reidenbach is charged with having committed a large robbery in Elgin, Illinois, on November 14th, 1884. It is said that Reidenbach committed the crime under the name of Wilson Reidenbach. After the robbery he fled to the city of Elgin, Illinois, and was captured there by Officer Wittick.

Reidenbach, it will be remembered, was suspected of being a member of the gang of fire-burglars which operated in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

Reidenbach had been arrested in the West until last summer, when he was captured after he and Ed. Sanders had attempted to clean out the Park hotel, in New York City.

DEATH STOPPED THE PLAY.

An Actor Dies in a Theatre Ten Minutes After Leaving the Stage.

After the first scene of "Lord Chumley" at the Lyceum theatre, in New York, on Tuesday evening, Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

Charles E. Bishop, who was on the stage, died suddenly. The actor was found lying on the floor of the theatre, and was pronounced dead by the doctor.

NEW COURTS PROPOSED.

The Episcopal Convention's Plan For Church Trials—The Marriage and Divorce Canon.

In the Episcopal convention at New York on Tuesday the greater part of the day was devoted to what in clerical circles is regarded as one of the "burning questions" of the day.

Dr. Huntington introduced a resolution, which was referred to the committee on canon. It proposed the enactment of a canon making void the appointment of a woman of devout character and proved fitness as deaconess."

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

John H. Stoenberg, of Indiana, offered a resolution that there should be one archbishop for the United States, and that the executive head of the church, and four minor archbishops—one for the Eastern States, one for the Middle and Central States, one for the Western States, and one for the Pacific coast and one for the South.

KNIGHTS DRILLING.

THE PLUMED TEMPLARS GO THROUGH PRETTY EVOLUTIONS.

A Large Crowd on the Base Ball Grounds to Witness the Commanders' Contest—The Boy Knights Also Drill.

WASHINGTON, Oct. 9.—The features of the second day of the grand triennial convocation of Knights Templar was the exhibition drill, which was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which swept through the grand stand proved little discomfort to the numerous spectators.

The drill was given at the grounds of the Washington base ball club. Tempered as it was by the rays of the warm autumn sun, the chilly wind which