John Eaves, a workman at the Susquehanna rolling mill, met with a serious accident yesterday afternoon while at work. Eaves was walking under the elevated track for the carrying of iron to the public rolls, when one of the heavy pubeys fell from its position upon him. Tie pulley fell upon the man's head and he d opped to the ground as if shot. The ble w was so sudden and unexpected that Eaves was sudden and unexpected that Eaves was suddendard unexpected that Eaves was suddendard unexpected that Eaves was sudden and unexpected that Eaves was rendered unconscious, and for a shert time tought to be dead. He revived, however, and was sent to bis home where a physician attended him. He sustained an ugly cut almost two inches long on the back of the head close to the right ear.

The new saw mill, lately erected by

Mossrs. Byers & Co. on the river front, near the Susquehanna rolling mill, for the purpose of dispensing with the stray logs between Highspire and York Furnace, partly began operation yesterday. The large circular saw was started, and the manner in which lumber was turned out excited the admiration of many who visited the mill during the day. All the workmen are experts at the business, and the precis-ion with which they handle the work is ion with which they handle the work is wonderful. During the day the, to this locality, wonderful mill was visited by many people. It is understood that there is a possibility of the mill being a permanent thing for this place. The loss by flood to the large booms up the river in late years gives rise to this opinion.

The students of Frank-lin and Marshall college have organized a good team, as was shown by the work they done at Millersville on last Saturday. they done at Millersville on last Saturday. It is under the captainey of Mr. Irvine, formerly of the Princeton club, who is taking the greatest pains to make the men proficient. On next Saturday the team will meet that of the Bucknell University, of Lewisburg, and the Lancaster people abould turn out and encourage the home team by their presence. On Thanksgiving Day the team from Dickinson college, Carlisle, will be here and others will visit here before long.

Hurt on the Railroad.

William Ryan, a tramp, about 28 years old, was brought to Lancaster and taken to the county hospital at an early hour this morning. He was riding on a freight train which arrived in Columbia at an early hour this morning. He was sitting on the bumper of the car with his feet upon another when the cars suddenly came together with great force. He was injured and it was believed at first that his knees were knocked out of joint. When he was examined this was found not to be the case. None of his bones are broken and although he is pretty badly injured he is doing very well to-day. Ryan says his home is in Philadelphia and he was on a return trip from the West.

Walking to Her Husband.

Watking to Her Husband.

The only person who was in the station house this morning before the mayor, was a young woman who gave her name as Eldie Reilly. She applied for lodging last evening and stated that she had come from Mt. Hope and wanted to get to Wilmington, Del., where her husband was living. She had sent to him for money, but she did not wait long enough at Mt. Hope to see whether it came. She was discharged by the mayor and she scarted on foot for the state of Delaware.

SHE SAW THE INSPIRING SIGN. a Woman Who Lost By the Chicago Fire Was Comforted.

William Kerfoot, formerly of this city,

but now an extensive real estate agent of Chicago, stopped recently to see his folks in Lancaster. He was on his way from in Lancaster. He was on his way from E trope and related a funny incident of his return trip. When the great fire took place in Chicago Mr. Kerfoot resided there and his property was entirely destroyed. Scarcely had the fire been extinguished before Mr. Kerfoot had a small sign made with these words, or something to the effect, which he placed in the ruins: "Phoenix like we rise from the ashes and are ready for business again." On the same boat coming from Europe was a lady from Chicago who did not know Mr. Kerfoot. She began talking to another gentleman from Chicago, and during the conversation stated that she was from England, but was a resident of Chicago during the fire, and was in business for herself there. Everything was swept away from her and she was left almost penniless. She became despondent and felt like giving up. One day she was walking along the street when she saw the sign above mentioned. This inspired her with a new hope, and she resolved to try again. She was successful, and is now a prosperous business woman, and was on her way from England, where she had been to visit her friends. After she had finished the story the gentleman said, "Why the man who put up that sign is on this steamer." She said she would like to meet him and he put up that sign is on this steamer." She said she would like to meet him and he was hunted up. The lady and Mr. Kerfoot had a good laugh over the incident and be-came fast friends.

VISITING POLITICIANS.

Chairman Andrews and Candidate Boyer Meet the Ward and Township Bosses. Candidate Boyer and State Chairman Andrews arrived in this city on this after-noon's train from York. They dined at the Hamilton club, as the guests of G. C. Kennedy, E. K. Martin, Major A. C. Reineehl and County Chairman Dunlap, At 2 o'clock there was a conference at the rocms of the Young Republicans, to which the ward and township bosses had been invited; Chairman Andrews impressed upon the country politicians the necessity of getting out a full vote at the November

From the Pittsburg Dispatch.

There has been a shortage of natural gas in Pittsburg and Allegheny during the past two days, causing a suspension of work in a majority of the mills. The Phil-adelphia company and all the independent lines that draw their gas from the Murray-ville wells have been affected. Carpegie's Twenty-ninth street mill was forced to close down at 8 o'clock Wednes day morning, after making one heat with great difficulty. Two heats were made at the Upper Union mills, which are owned by the same company. Park Bross, who own an independent line, had great difficulty in running their works yesterday. The night turn were obliged to go to work at 12 o'clock, so as to finish before the gas played out. Clark's Solar iron works, the Sligo mill, Jones & Laughlin, Oliver & Robin-son, Chess, Cook & Co. and the Crescent son, Chess, Cook & Co. and the Crescent Steel company were forced to shut down without completing their usual day's this city, died at his home at Orange and Plum streets this morning at half-past two Plum streets this morning at ball-past two o'clock. Deceased was born in Germany, and was in the 47th year of his age. He came to America many years ago and for the past eleven years has been carrying on business at the place where he died. He had been afflicted with dropsy for six months, but was able to be about much of the time. He took his bed for the last time yesterday. He was a member of St. Anyesterday. He was a member of St. Anthony's church from which the funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon.

Arsente in Wine For the Mass. The Rev. James Kelly celebrated mass in the rink at Oneida, N. Y., on Tuesday, and took about two teaspoonfuls of the wine, when he was at once seized with great pain when he was at once serzed with great paid and a burning sensation in the stomach, which he regarded as symptons of poison-ing. A physician was summoned, who ap-plied the best-known remedies for poison. One of the parishioners went to Syracuse to have the wine in the bottle analyzed. Several tests were made, each disclosing the presence of arsenic in large quantities.
