Impressive Services On Sunday-Rev. J. F. Crouch Delivers the Dedicatory mon-Dr. B. F. Shaub Presches

Salumaa, Oct. 28.—The dedicatory services in the new M. E. church wore held yesterday. Though the weather was very inclement a fair audience was present at each of the services. The opening piece of music was sung by the choir under the charge of Prof. A. B. Kreider, which was followed by prayer by Rev. J. F. Crouch, presiding elder of the West Philadelphis district, the reading of the Scripture by Rev. O. R. Cook, of Wisconisco, who read part of the 6th and 7th chapters of 2d Chronicles. Rev. Shossmith, past of the church, then read from Hebrews x, 9-28. Then followed the dedicatory sormon by Rev. Crouch, taking for his text Nehemiah it, 6. He is a very able minister and was listened to with marked attention. He told how the people labored to build the wall around Jerusalem and their success, and portrayed in bright colors the duties of every member of the church, the work that was to be done and their duties as Christians in private as well as public life. After the sermon a collection was taken up and a handsome sum realized.

The afternoon services were also opened with music by the choir, followed by a hymn sung by the congregation, prayer by Hev. Shoesmith, after which Dr. Shaubread part of the 49th Psalms. He took for his text the second verse of the 87th Psalm: "The Lord loveth the gates of Zion more than all the dwellings of Jacob." He is a fine talker and preached a practical sermon. He said the thought of God is one of the most wonderful possessions that man has. He deplored the fact that the words of man, such as novels and newspapers of all kinds, are sought much more than the word of God. He explained what was meant by the gates of Zion and the dwellings of Jacob. "God is no respecter of persons much less places." His sermon abounded with many telling points.

The evening services began at 7 o'clock. Rev. A. H. Long led in prayer. Rev. O. R. Cook, of Wisconisco, took for his text Luke xxill, 8: "And when Herod saw Jesus, he was exceedirgly glad; for he was desirons to see him of a long season." He building which now adorns the place. Immediately after the sermon twelve persons were baptized and all the members on probation were taken into the church. Another collection was then taken up. Although the weather was very unfavorable and the same persons were present at all the services over $400 was collected, leaving a small debt, which can easily be paid.

The church is a frame structure 30x50, with a recess 6x12 and a gallery underneath, which are the class rooms. It is neatly furnished with carpet around the pulpit and matting in the sisles. The seata, pulpit and chairs were furnished by D. H. Engle, of Mt. Joy. It is heated by hot air in fact nothing was left undone that would add to the comfort of anyone. The church cost complete $2,300.

Fifteen years ago Rev. A. B. Shenkle, then pastor of the Millersville charge, began preaching in "The Hall" at Willow Street. During the centennial year a conbers, and soon after a church was built. After the resignation of the first pastor in 1887, Rev. D. W. Gerhard commenced his labors there. The congregation now ambers sixty members. The Sunda shool has on its roll the names of 19 persons. The missionary society numbers 59. The fifteenth anniversary has just been celebrated. Last Thursday evening Rev. J. M. Souder preached the sermon; on Friday evening, Rev. J. W. Meminger; on Saturday afternoon, Rev. J. P. Stein; on Sunday morning the communion sermon by the first pastor, Rev. A. B. Shenkle, on the text, "Hitherto hath the Lord helped us." On Sunday evening the present pastor delivered the anniversary sermon. The church was very beautifully decorated with flowers and plants, the figures 1874 and 1889 appearing in a prominent place. Great interest was manifested nent place. Great interest was manifested in these anniversary exercises. Although the weather on Sunday was very disagree-able the attendance was large.

Reformation Day at Christ Lutheran. Reformation Day at Christ Lutheran.

Reformation Day services were held in Christ Evangelical Lutheran church on Sunday. The pastor, Rev. E. L. Reed, preached an appropriate sermon in the morning. Text, Psalm 87; 1, 3. The evening service was a children's mission festival, conducted according to a printed programme setting forth in questions and answers the history of the Reformation and story of MartinLuther's life and work. Dr. R. K. Buehrle, the superintendent, conducted the service. Rev. J. W. The choir rendered excellent music both morning and evening. The Choral society of the church also sang a fine choras. The collection devoted to the cause of home missions in the Southern church was an excellent response to the appeal sent out by the superintendent of missions.

He Preaches His Last Sermon at Union Bethel Church. Union Bethel Church.

Rev. C. Price, who for four years has been pastor of the Union Bethel church, at Orange and Prince streets, severed his connection with that congregation on Sunday. He will go to Harrisburg, to which city he was assigned by the last conference of the church. Last evening Mr. Price preached the ferencel servent to a large and attentive his farewell sermon to a large and attentive audience. His text was from I Corinthians ii, 1 to 4, but more particularly from the second verse, "For I determined not Jesus Christ and him crucified."
After the services had been concluded, the congregation was asked to remain for a short time. Steve J. Owens, in behalf of the ladies of the Sunday school, then presented M. Peice with vessellent grayon nice.

sented Mr. Price with excellent crayon pic-tures of himself and wife, as mementoes of the esteem in which they were held.

Mr. Price left Lancaster for Harrisburg at 9:31 this morning, and the best wishes of his congregation and other friends fol-low him to his new field.

Installed as Pasto Rev. C. W. Hutsler, of Millville, O., the new pastor of Covenant United Brethren church, was installed on Sunday in the presence of attentive congregations. The theme of the morning was based on Heb. 2, I and in the evening on I Kings 6, 7. Rev. Hutsler is a young man of more than ordinary pulpit ability, uses few notes and is attractive in his delivery.

Proposed Union Service.

On Thursday evening there will be union service of all the Lutheran congre gations of the city at Trinity Lutherar church. Rev. Samuel Laird, a forme pastor of Trinity, will preach the sermon. The occasion of the union meeting is the celebration of Reformation Day.

FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL WIN.

FRANKLIN AND MARSHALL WIN.

The Foot Ball Club of This City Shut Bucknell Out at Home.

Owing to the approach of cold weather the game of foot ball has taken the place of base ball, and it seems to have become much more popular than ever. The peoply of Lancaster, and especially those of Franklin and Marshall college have good reason to be proud of the college foot ball team, which has been so successful in the few games they have played. Their friends were delighted recently when they played the eleven of Bucknell University a tie game here, but they have now much greater cause for rejoicing, since the team went to Lewisburg and defeated the Bucknell boys on their own grounds.

The game took place Satarday afternoon, and it was called promptly at 3 o'clock in a drizzling rain. Captain Irvine, of the Franklin and Marshall team, won the toas and took the ball, Captain Allen choosing the west goal. The ball was led off with a rush and although the home team played well by superior force Captain Irvine, of the opposing team, soon scored a touchdown and goal. Later on another touchdown was scered and time was called.

The second half showed stiff playing on both sides and the force of the opposing team was checked. They, however, succeeded in scoring a touch-down and goal. Their success was due to the strong rush line, few tricks being used. Score: Franklin and Marshall, 16; Bucknell, 0. Centre, F. M. Line: right guard, H. F. Harrold: right tackle, Thomas H. Krick; right rush, O. E. Nothstrein; left guard, A. Lobach; left tackle, G. V. Everett; left rush, B. Griffiths; half-back, William Irvine, Bucknell team—Centre, W. B. Pimm; right guard, A. R. Wyant; right tackle, E. S. Carson; left rush, P. Tustin; half-back, C. W. Allen; half-back, T. Heysham; quarter-back, J. Blackwood; full-back, Haterwell.

The Franklin and Marshall team arrived home at 3 o'clock on Sunday morning, having been away from home for two days.

The Franklin and Marshall team arrived home at 3 o'clock on Sunday morning, having been away from home for two daya. They were met at the Pennsylvania railroad by a large crowd of their enthusiastic students, who had heard of their success early in the evening, and their reception was a very varm one.

Capt. Irvine is highly pleased with the work of his team. Immediately after the first game with Buckuell, at McGrann's park, this city, he set about to strengthen the weak places and from the result of Saturday's contest he seems to have been quite successful. James Wiley, of this city, umpired the game with success, and the referee was Prof. Hulley, of Bucknell university. Among those from Lancaster who witnessed the contest were Stonebraker, Rupley and Waugaman substitutes, Campbell, manager of the team, Althouse and Mr. Theo. B. Appel, '89, assistant teacher in the Berwick, Pa, high school.

The next game in which the F. & M. club will take part will be against Dickinson college. The game will come off at Carlisle on Wednesday.

The Normal Literary Society. MILLERSVILLE, Oct. 28.—The regular meeting of the Normal Literary society. held Saturday evening, was especially interesting and successful. After the regular opening exercises Jacob Cressman, the retiring president, upon leaving the chair, delivered a brief but earnest and appropriate address. The new president, Charles McMullen, and the new secretary,
Miss Alice Tripple, were then inaugurated.
The special feature of the evening was an oration on the subject "Moral Greatness" by Henry N. Herr, of the class of '87. Mr.
Herr is teaching school in Lancaster county,
but found time to prepare a most excellent address for the benefit of his society and the students of his alma mater. The oration, although much longer than such productions usually are, commanded the closest attention and received the earnest appreciation of all present. The remainder of the programme consisted of the following: Instrumental solo by Miss Gertrude Westlake; essay, subject, "The Voyage of Life," by Miss Nellie Martin; recitation, subject, "The Three Lovers," by Miss Blanche McNeal; music by "The Diana Club," a club of ten young ladies, and a debate. The question that "Kindness is a more powerful instrument in government than fear" was discussed by Miss Edith Cassavant, Messrs, John Schroy and

Messrs, G. L. Hoff, Joseph E. Campbell and Jacob Cressman in the negative.

from the American vindication of those principles of freedom which animated the Revolution. The system of government in America combined that love of freedom, respect for law and desire for order which formed the surest elements of national excellence and greatness.

It was no extravagance to say that, although there were only two millions of people in the thirteen states at the time of the Revolution, the group of statesmen that proceeded from them were a match for any in the whole history of the world and any in the whole history of the world and were superior to those of any one epoch. Their fortunate appearance was doubtless due to well-regulated, muscular freedom.

BULLET HITS A BURGLAR

AND THE LEAD IS FIRED INTO HIM BY MOUNT JOY MERCHANT.

William Kuhns Discovers Joseph Hoffman Attempting to Enter His Store and Shoots Twice at His Visitor.

A shooting, in which a man, who was trying to break into a house, was seriously if not fatally injured, occurred in the town of Mt. Joy at a late hour on Saturday night or early on Sunday morning. William Kuhns resides on Main street in that town, and in the same building in which he lives he has a gun store where he does repairing and sells cutlery of different kinds. Mr. Kuhns was awakened at the time mentioned above by a noise down stairs which sounded as though some one was working at the window in the rear of the store. He quietly stole down stairs and saw a man working at the back window as though cutting out a pane of giass. Mr. Kuhns could plainly see the outline of his figure as it swayed to and fro. He stood watching the burglar working for a short time and seemed at a loss to know what to do. Finally he went up stairs and got his revolver, a weapon of 32 cafebre. When he came down stairs the man was still at work, and Kuhns watched him for 10 or 15 minutes. He then concluded to shoot for the purpose of frightening him. He fired two shots at the man who at once disappeared. Mr. Kuhns then retired to bed without going to see what effect his shots had taken.

About 3 o'clock in the morning Harry

About 3 o'clock in the morning Harry Frank and another young man were on their way home and were walking along Main street. When they reached a point near John Warfel's hotel, which is at least two squares from Kuhns' store, they found a man lying in the gutter. He seemed to have been drinking and said that he had been shot by a companion with whom he had quarrelled, and had a bad wound in the breast. The young men at once took the man to the office of Dr. Newpher, who was awakened by them. The man said his home was at Landisville and the doctor said he would not attend him until he was taken there. The boys then took the man to the office of Dr. James Ziegler and afterwards to the Exchange hotel, kept by Abraham Stone, where he was kept until this morning. Dr. Ziegler aitended the man's injuries severai times. He found that the ball had passed through his vest, about the top buttou, and struck the breast almost exactly in the middle. It must have glanced off the breast-bone and then passed around to the left side. The doctor probed for the ball but without success. Although the wound is a serious one it may not prove fatal. The man was brought to Lancaster this morning and taken to the county hospital by Constable Jacob Morton.

The burglar gave his name as Joseph Hoffman. He is about thirty-five years of age and above the medium height. He has a heavy brown moustache, is cleanly shaven, and is rather fine looking. His clothing are better than those of a tramp, and they consist of of dark, or rather lead colored suit, a light brown flannel shirt and a good derby hat. He is a German by birth, and spoaks broken English. This morning a reporter of the INTELLIGENCEN saw him at the hospital. He said that his home was at Lansdowne, Montgomery [county, and gave his version of the shooting, although he seemed to talk with a great effort, as he said he had much more pain to-day than yesterday. He said that he was in Mt. Joy on Saturday evening, and there fell in with a man that he had never seen before. They started ou the man had left. Miss Kuhns went to the Exchange hotel yesterday afternoon and to." a look at Hoffman. She positively identified him as the man who was in the store. It is believed that he was there then for the purpose of looking around.

After Constable Morton took charge of Hoffman he made a search of his clothing. He found one $5 bill, two ten cent pieces and a two-bladed knife. One of the blades had been broken off, and it had been pointed, so that it looked as though it might be used as a burglar's tool. No complaint was made against Hoffman for the attempted burglary by Mr. Kuhns, and the reason given for that was that the latter could not swear positively that he was the man who tried to get into his store. When man who tried took the man to the hospital, he notified the physician and Superintend-the constable took the man to the hospital, he notified the physician and Superintendent Worst that the man might have to be tried for burglary and they should keep a lookout for him and see that he does not get away. The officer then notified the district attorney of the case.

After the district attorney had been consulted in regard to the case, Constable Wittick, of Columbia, who is associated with Constable Morton in it, made complaint before Alderman Halbach against Hoffman, charging him with attempted burglary. The warrant was served upon Hoffman at the hospital by Wittick.

A glance at the court and prison records shows that Hoffman is an old offender. A man answering his exact description man answering his exact description served a term of seven and one half months in jail here during 1885 and 1886. He was then 33 years of age, weighed 157 pounds, and said that he was a native of Australia, although it is believed that he meant Aus-tria. On the pight of the 25th of June, 1885, he broke into the cigar factory of Henry S. Eberly, in Clay township, and stole a large lot of cigars. He was returned to the August court and after true bills had en found he p'ea led guilty to larceny and felonious entry.

On August 17th he received the above sentence and was set at liberty March 19, 1886. Constable Wittick arrested him on these charges, and that officer has an idea that Hoffman is the man who broke into the postoffice at Mt. Joy one night last week. Wittick went to Mt. Joy to make forther investigation this afternoon. further investigation this afternoon.

THE PIRSO NIGHT AT THE BAZAAR.

Attractions Provided By the Members of Christ Lutheran Church. of Christ Lutheran Church.

A bazaar for the benefit of Christ Lutheran church was opened in the Astrich building under favorable circumstances on Saturday evening. Notwithstanding the very inclement weather there was a good attendance; with good weather the large building would have been uncomfortably growded.

The first and second floors are used for the fair. These rooms have been tastefully decorated and present a handsome appearance. The fancy tables are filled with articles, both ornamental and useful, and they are offered at very reasonable prices. All were donated and that is why they are offered so cheap. Among the articles on these tables are many suited for holiday gifts.

The confectionery and cake tables have on thom everything of the best quality and at prices as low as they can be bought at any of the stores in the city.

The lunch table, located on the second floor, is well supplied with the delicacies of the season, and for a small sum a first-class meal can be had.

One of the features of the bazaar is the art gallery. This must be seem to be appreciated.

The bazaar is managed by the following executive committee: President, Prof. It.

The proceeds of the bazaar will be applied to the church building fund. The congregation has purchased from Mr. Iske and the Schaubel estate a lot of ground at the sorner of Manor, West King and Strawberry streets. It has a frontege of 105 feet, and extends in depth 100 feet. Part of the lot has a depth of 200 feet, but building lots will be sold from this portion. Strawberry street will be widened in the mear future, which will make the site chosen a very desirable one for a church. Work will be begun in the spring. A plan has not yet been adopted, but one will be ready by that time.

The bazaar will be open all of this week. It deserves and will no doubt receive a liberal encouragement from the many friends of the church in this city.

not been able to find his missing boy, but he recovered his spirits upon receipt of the above telegram.

Capt, Settley left Laneaster on Saturday morning, and the first information he received about his son was at Greenland. He followed the boy's trail to Soudersburg. There he learned that Ellwood had stopped at a farm house and asked permission to remain all night. The boy was questioned as to his name, where he came from and where he was going. He refused to answer, and was not allowed to remain there. The boy then walked to Paradise and went to the house of Jacob Wenger, carriage builder, and asked to remain all night. Mr. Wenger knew the boy, and told him he could stay. He told Mr. Wenger he intended going to Philadelphia, but did not say why he had left home.

After breakfast on Saturday morning, young Settley left Mr. Wenger's house. When Capt. Settley got to Paradise he learned that his son had been there, and also the road he travelled in going away from that village. He followed the boy to within a short distance of the Gap. There he learned that his son had stopped at a farm house, and asked for a piece of bread. The boy was at this place

Capt. Settley went to Philadelphia on Day Express on Sunday to bring his son home. He returned to Lancaster with the boy at 11:10. street, this morning, after an illness of three weeks from pneumonia. His health had been failing for several years, and when attacked with the above disease his system was weak, and from its inception there was but little hope of his recovery.

Mr. Geiger's life was a busy one. He was born in Berks county, near Geigersville, in 1809. When old enough he taught school, after which he learned the milling business with the late Issae Eckert, of Berks county. After he had thoroughly understood the business he went to Pottstown, where he managed a forge. His next residence was at Castle Fin, York county, as manager of a forge. Here he married a daughter of Rev. Samuel Parke. He also for a time managed a furnace in York county owned by P. & S. Small. From York county he went to Harford county, Md., where he built the Sarah furnace and operated it as a partner of the Smalls. He went from there to Baltimore county, where he built the Ashland furnace, which he ran with Edward and Joseph Patterson and the Smalls, of York, as partners. His wife died while he lived in Baltimore county and there he married his second wife, Miss Ann Beates, daughter of late Rev, Wm. Beates, of Lancaster.

About 1849 Mr. Geiger removed to Lancaster and bought the foundry property at the corner of Duke and Chesnut streets. He ran that for a few years and then sold out to Mr. Marshbank.

He next bought what is now known as the Pescock furnace, and operated it for a short time. In 1860 he suspended operations at this furnace and went to Blair county, Pa. There he repaired and managed a furnsce for H. M. Burroughes, of Philadelphia. This furnace was destroyed by fire and he then went to Hollidaysburg, and for two years operated a furnace for Wood, Morrell & Co., of Philadelphia. He also operated for a time the Bennington furnace in the southern part of the city for two years, when he sold that plant to B. B. Thomas. He also a year or two later sold his iron plant at Knoxville, Md., to Mr. Thomas.

In 1868 his health began failing and he devoted his entire attention to his extensive ore banks in Providence township, near the village of New Providence.

He moved to Quarryville, where he resided a number of years and then returned to Lancaster, where he lived in retirement to the time of his death.

He was active in the organization of the Quarryville railroad, and did more than any one man in securing subscriptions to the stock of that road. He was elected a director of the road when the first board organized and has held that position ever since.

He was a member of the Presbyterian church for many years.
