THE PARADISE U. B. CHURCH.

Sunday was the day set apart for the dedication of the Paradise U. B. church, near Clay. Services were held on Saturday evening in the German language by Rev. H. B. Spayd, of Shamokin, Pa. Sunday morning opened with a heavy rain and dark clouds. Rev. C. J. Kephart, president of Letanon Valley college, occupied the pulpit and presched an able and eloquent sermon in the English language. The dedication was postponed until the afternoon.

The dedication was postponed until the afternoon.

Rev. M. J. Mumma, presiding elder of the Harrisburg district, delivered an able discourse in the German language, at the afternoon service. The Lord's supper was then held. When this was over the effort to raise the money to liquidate the debt was in order. The cost was $2,816,16; amount subscribed, $2,039.57; the amount required was $776,59; $800 was asked for, and $876.91 was raised. As the hour was late the dedicatory exercises took place in the evening, after the regular services. Rev. Spayd again occupied the pulpit and delivered an able sermon in the English language. Rev. Kephart then formally dedicated the church to God and his service.

The carpets, furniture and other necessary articles were thus donated by Mrs. Eberly, Mrs. Weidman and Mrs. Erb.

Town a Bequest.

Letters of administration were granted some time ago on the estate of Samuel Charles, who committed suicide by hanging, at the county hospital, to Eli K. Mylin.

E. D. North, esq., Mr. Mylin's attorney, in his examination of the papers of decedent, found a will which disposed of his entire estate in a very unexpected manner.

Mr. Charles lived for many years in Arkansas and owned valuable real estate in Missouri and Kansas.

In the town in which Mr. Charles lived the following denominations had churches:

the following denominations had churches: Methodist, Presbyterian, German Re-formed, Quaker and Catholic, and he gives to each of these churches an equal part of Mr. Charles' wife died some years ago, and he leaves an only son. To this son he gives the same amount as to each of the churches.

Samuel Taylor, of Marysville, Missouri, is the guardian of this boy, and he retained John A. Coyle, esq., to look after the boy's interests. Mr. Coyle some time ago filed a cavest against the admission of the will to probate, on the ground that Mr. Charles was insane when he made it.

The will be offered to probate, probably to-morrow, and as Mr. Coyle has filed a cavest it will not be admitted until after argument is heard by the register.

If the will is set aside the entire estate will go to the son. It is estimated to be worth from $12,000 to $15,000.

Severe Accident to An Aged Lady.

From the Reading Eagle.

Mrs. Lydia Wilson, aged 67 years, of Reamstown, Lancaster county, met with a severe accident at the east end of the P. & R. foot bridge at the outer station. She came in on the Quarryville train and was met at the station by her granddaughter, Mrs. Ira Bickel. In descending the steps, Mrs. Wilson's heel caught, precipitating her to the bottom. She fell on her face, and, it is thought, sustained a fracture of her nose. Her right arm was also injured. She was taken to the residence of Mrs. Bickel, 535 North 11th street, and a physician called.
