"Medicine" Given by the German "Doctors" Under a Chemist's Secution

The INTELLIGENCER'S exposure of the raveling doctors on Wednesday has been merally commended.

generally commended. A patient of the English and German doctors went to them for extarrh. They demanded six dollars in advance, and gave him two bottles of medicine of which he was to take twenty drops daily. This was eleven days ago. Samples of the medicines given to this patient were secured by the INTELEIGENCER and sent to Professor Schiedt, the chemical expert of Franklin and Marshall college, for analysis. The prefessor reports that one bottle contains ironand spirits of mitre, the other an extract of opium and iron, also sogar in order to conone bottle contains ironand spirits of ndire, the other an extract of opium and iron, also sugar in order to con-ceal the taste. Neither of these medicines will hurt and neither of them will do much good. A physician of standing said that neither of these medi-cines would have any effect on catarrh. The doctors continue in business with their card board signs and no namies dis-played, as before the INTELLIORNEEL'S ex-posure. They have not registered.

Has a Villata Triumphed ? The notorious Dr. J. Milton Bowers has The notorious Dr. J. Milton Rowers has come to the front again in San Francisco, in a suit to recover insurance on the life of his wife, whom he was once sentenced to death for poisoning. Bowers spent four years in the county jail, and at last owed his escape to the suicide and con-fession of Benhayon, his brother-in-law, who declared that he himself had done the poisoning. There was a strong suspicion that Bowers caused the death of Denhayon and forged the confession in order to save . Cent and forged the confession in order to save his own neck, but, although there was a sensational trial of Dining, a suspected book agent, who had been intimate with Benhavon, nothing could be clearly proved. The result was that the supreme court gave Bowers a new trial and the proved. The result was that the supreme court gave Bowers a new trial, and the state refused to press the case, as convic-tion was hopeless. Bowers had sceured $17,000 in insurance on his wife's life, in five beneficiary companies. Two of these have since collapsed, so he will recover only $11,000. The companies will pay the money without contest, as Bowers has a strong case. Such is the prosaic end of what is one of the most sensational criminal cases in the annals of California.

VAIN CRIES FOR HELP AT SEA. Signs of a Collision Discovered Twelve

Miles North of Barnegat.

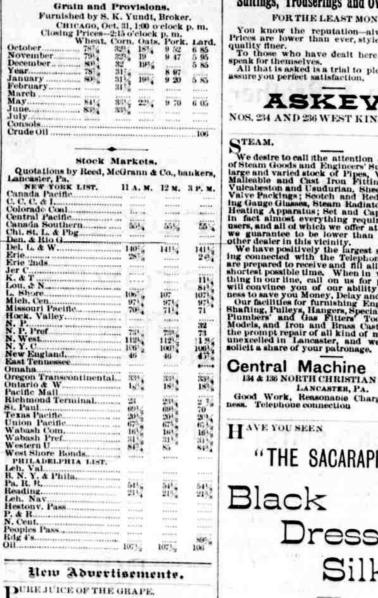

Capital H. Williamson, of the New York ing L. Luckenbach, arrived at Norfolk, Va., on Wednesday from New York. He reports that on Monday evening, when about twelve miles north of Barnegat and three-quarters of a mile from the beach, he heard some one crying out for assistance When hailed the reply came back that they were drowning on a spar. He told them he would try to rescue them. He heard the men once or twice again, but the voices then ceased. Casper had sur then ceased. The ug in a few moments ran into a lot of wreckage, which looked as if there had been a collision, and in the floating stuff were a dark painted eighteen foot schooner's yawl and a taffrail with turned stanchions.

Yawi and a tairrait with turned stanchions. Captain Williamson remained around the spot for half an hour and hailed the men from time to time, but heard nothing more and proceeded to Norfolk.
