OHIO.

TUESDAY'S BATTLE

THE DEMOCRATS ELECT FIVE OF THE SIX GOVERNORS.

IOWA AND OHIO CAPTURED

Republicans Lose These Strongholds By Narrow Margins.

MASSACHUSETTS IS CLOSE.

Mahone Snowed Under By More Than 30,000 Majority.

ABBETT ELECTED IN NEW JERSEY.

NEW YORK'S STATE TICKET GIVEN GOOD SUPPORT BY DEMOCRATS.

Boyer Defeats Bigler For Treasurer.

Democrats Make Quity Heavy Gains In Many Counties of Pennsylvania-Philadelphia Contributes 40,000 to the 62,000 Plurality Secured For the Republican Ticket.

Ten states held elections on Tuesday. Six elected governors, and five of them are Democratic-Abbott in New Jersey, McKinney in Virginia, Stone in Mississippi, Campbell in Ohio and Boies in Iowa. Republicans elect Brackett in Massachusetts.

Henry K. Boyer has been elected treasurer of Pennsylvania by a plurality of more than 30,000. The unofficial returns show the following pluralities:

Table with 4 columns: COUNTY, Republican Majority, Democrat Majority, and Margin. Lists results for various states including Adams, Armstrong, Bedford, Berks, Bradford, Bucks, Cambria, Carbon, Centre, Clearfield, Clinton, Columbia, Crawford, Cumberland, Dauphin, Delaware, Elk, Fayette, Forest, Franklin, Fulton, Greene, Huntingdon, Indiana, Jefferson, Juniata, Lackawanna, Lancaster, Lehigh, Luzerne, Mifflin, Monroe, Montgomery, Northampton, Northumberland, Perry, Philadelphia, Pike, Potter, Schuylkill, Snyder, Sullivan, Susquehanna, Union, Warren, Wayne, Westmoreland, and Wyoming.

A comparison of the vote of Tuesday with that of 1887 shows there were marked Democratic gains in a majority of the sixty-six counties. Philadelphia's big Republican vote is as surprising as the falling off of Allegheny county.

THE CONTEST IN NEW JERSEY.

Abbett Chosen Governor by a Plurality. Returns from all of the twenty-one counties of New Jersey place Leon Abbett's majority for governor at over 8,000. Hudson county gave him about 3,000 and Essex 1,000 majority. The Democrats have 39 assemblymen and the Republicans 21, a Democratic gain of 7. The Senate stands 19 Republicans to 10 Democrats, a Republican gain of 1, giving the Democrats a majority of 16 on joint ballot, a gain of 11 over last year.

MAHONE'S WATERLOO.

The Virginia Democrats Turn Out and Have an Easy Victory. Virginia has repudiated Mahone and his administration backers by a large majority—probably 50,000. The Republican counties, both in the black district and in the western portion of the state, where there are few negroes, have gone over to Mahone, but the colored people and the independent white Republicans refused to support Mahone. The General Assembly will be Democratic by a two-thirds majority. This sweeping victory, which has made the Democrats wild with enthusiasm, is attributed to an intense dislike of Mahone and his methods, and to the uprising of the intelligent white people against the domination of the negroes and the unscrupulous politicians whom Mahone has surrounded himself with. Governor Lee attributes the result to the 'blocks of five' and other methods sought to be introduced by Mahone and Quay and to the loyalty of the people of Virginia to their principles.

Richmond was carried by Democrats by 5,300 majority, a gain of about 3,500 over Cleveland's majority.

The election passed off very quietly in Richmond, with unimportant exceptions, and reports from various parts of the state show the same condition generally. Dispatches have been received from nearly every county in Virginia, giving official and unofficial majorities. From these reports McKinney's majority in the state is variously estimated at from 30,000 to 40,000. Forty counties and cities contribute 20,000 to this result. The Legislature will elect by Democraticism.

MARSH'S SUCCEEDS A MAN.

A crowd went to General Mahone's house in Petersburg on Tuesday night with sky-rockets and fire-works, when the general came out with a shotgun and fired into the crowd in his yard, wounding one of them named Herbert Harrison in the thigh.

President Harrison was sworn out and General Mahone arrested and carried to jail, but only remained a short time, when he was talked out. There was great excitement for while, but Mahone is now at home and the tumult subsided.

President Harrison paid very little attention to the scattering dispatches from Virginia, although at the cabinet meeting the probable results of the elections were canvassed and their effect on the administration discussed. Blaine being significantly silent when the administration's Virginia policy was up. But after dinner the president had the returns, as they came in, brought into the library, and with the members of the cabinet who had dropped in. The president and most of the members of the cabinet (Blaine being the chief exception) discussed the possibilities of the result in Virginia. They seem to have taken Mahone's promises at par, and to be surprised at his failure to resign them.

The John Bull people seem to be breaking the 'Solid South,' and therefore looked at his efforts with far more interest than he exhibited in those of any of the Republicans. It is thought that Mahone will control the Virginia delegation in the next national convention. Harrison really seemed to be disappointed in the result in Virginia. They seem to have taken Mahone's promises at par, and to be surprised at his failure to resign them.

Senator Barton, who conducted the campaign, utilized every opportunity to bring out his reserve vote. Mahone has helped him by bringing Quay's money and the black backs, and so got them to the polls. Mahone has contributed $100,000 in money from the national committee. Half of this, the Democrats say, he has yet. Of the other $50,000 his workers pocketed, the Democrats say, at least one-half, Mahone will make the fight for the Senate to succeed Daniels. Although he is not governor of Virginia, he has an absolute and unrivaled boss of the Republican party of Virginia.

NOTHING TERM FOR FORAKER.

Cincinnati Rolls Up a Big Majority for Campbell—Legislature Democratic. An unusually large vote has been polled throughout Ohio for one year, and the returns indicate a close contest for governor, with the chances favoring the defeat of Campbell and the election of Foraker. In Cincinnati leads to the belief that Campbell will be elected by a small plurality. There is reasonable ground for the belief that the losing candidate will also show a large vote. At least one-half, Mahone will make the fight for the Senate to succeed Daniels. Although he is not governor of Virginia, he has an absolute and unrivaled boss of the Republican party of Virginia.

UNIFORM GAINS OVER THE STATE PROMISES BOIES' ELECTION.

Returns from nearly every part of Iowa show the Democrats gaining in some precincts amounting to landslides. Burlington gives 1,500 Democratic majority, and Des Moines will raise it to 2,000, a net gain of 500. The two years ago, a roll county reports a Democratic gain of 700, a gain of 500. The Democratic gain in the town of Cherokee is 150. The Iowa returns come in about they will carry the state by 7,000. The Republican headquarters insist that the strong Republican counties have not yet reported.

NEW YORK'S BIG MAJORITY.

New York City gives the state Democratic ticket a majority of 70,000, which secures the state for the Democracy by a large margin. The city has made large gains in the assembly.

NO CONTEST IN MISSISSIPPI.

Mississippi had but one ticket in the field, and elected a Democratic state ticket headed by John A. Bristow for governor and a Democratic Legislature.

MASSACHUSETTS REPUBLICAN.

In Massachusetts the Republicans elect their state ticket, headed by J. Q. A. Brackett for governor, by reduced majority. The Legislature will have a large majority of Republicans.

MARYLAND IS IN LINE.

In Maryland, Baughman, Democrat, is elected governor by about 1,000 majority. The Democrats elect the mayor of Baltimore by a big majority. The Legislature is safely Democratic. Democrat will succeed in the State Senator Wilson.

CAMPBELL ELECTED.

Ohio Refuses to Give Joe Foraker a Third Term as Governor. Philadelphia, Nov. 6.—Advices to hand from Ohio, Iowa and Massachusetts at ten o'clock this morning show that the result of the election in those states is still in doubt.

In Ohio, however, the indications are that Campbell (Dem.) is elected governor over Foraker (Rep.) by a small plurality. The Iowa returns come in slowly, but those received show strong Democratic gains and there is a probability that these gains if kept up in parts yet to hear from will result in the election of Boies (Dem.) for governor.

While the vote in Massachusetts is close it is generally believed that Brackett (Rep.) is elected governor by a small plurality. Seven hundred and sixty-five votes places in Ohio outside of Cincinnati give Foraker 123,717, Campbell 119,086, Helwig 6,948. The same districts in 1887 gave Table with 2 columns: Candidate Name and Vote. Lists candidates for Mayor, Councilmen, and School Directors with their respective vote counts.

Foraker 121,223, Powell 109,021, Sharp 6,200.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6.—The footing of the Hamilton county vote, with seven precincts to hear from, give the following results: Foraker, 32,010; Campbell, 30,533; Campbell's plurality, 7,648. The detailed vote shows an almost unbroken falling off in Foraker's vote from the rest of the ticket in all precincts. In Cincinnati he has a plurality in only eight of the 30 wards.

This morning returns have been received from 218 of the 219 voting precincts outside of Cincinnati, showing the vote for Foraker, 136,753; Campbell, 131,516; Helwig, 6,783. The same in 1887 gave Foraker, 134,100; Powell, 119,809; Sharp, 7,124. This shows a gain for Campbell of 979 to a precinct. While this ratio is a matter of chance it still gives some data for estimate. It has been almost constant between 6 and 9. At the lower rate it would give Campbell enough to insure his election. The Republicans find some consolation in the theory that the township to hear from being mainly rural ones will not show so large a preponderance, but the ratio would have to be brought below 5 to the precinct to give Foraker a chance.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A special dispatch from Columbus, Ohio, says: Allen W. Thurman has sent the following: COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 6. To Hon. GROVER CLEVELAND, N. Y., Governor Foraker has surrendered all the Republican flags in Ohio.

Eight hundred and fifty-nine polling places in Ohio, outside of Cincinnati, give Foraker 146,518; Campbell, 141,390. Helwig 7,255. In 1887 the same districts gave Foraker 143,403; Powell 128,830; Sharp 7,878.

COLUMBUS, Nov. 6.—An extra edition of the Dispatch, (Ind.-Rep.) claims that the official vote of the state will be necessary to determine whether Foraker or Campbell is elected governor of Ohio.

It is generally believed here that the Legislature will show a Democratic majority, but this the Republican committee does not concede.

CINCINNATI, Nov. 6.—Incomplete returns from all counties in the state except 29 give Campbell a plurality of 4,725. The 26 counties not heard from gave Powell, Dem., in 1887, a plurality of 170. The outlook from these figures is that Campbell's plurality in the state is about 8,000.

COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 6.—Only meagre additional returns had been received at either the Republican or Democratic headquarters up to noon to-day. These give nothing definite as to the result, which is evidently very close on the state ticket and the Legislature, with the probability that Campbell is elected. Chairman Conner, of the Republican committee, at noon said they did not concede the state to the Democrats and expressed a desire to await further returns before giving out an estimate further than to say the Legislature is in doubt. Chairman Neal claimed a majority of ten on joint ballot early this morning for the Democrats, but is now not so certain as to the result. It may require several days to settle all doubts as to the General Assembly.

THEY GIVE IT UP. COLUMBUS, Ohio, Nov. 6.—The Republican state committee at one p. m. concedes the election of Campbell and admits that the Legislature is Democratic in both branches. Governor Foraker has telegraphed his congratulations to Campbell with as much cordiality as could be expected from a defeated candidate.

COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6.—At one o'clock this afternoon Governor Foraker sent the following telegram: COLUMBUS, O., Nov. 6. Hon. James E. Campbell, Hamilton, O.: To the full extent that forfeited candidate can do so with propriety, allow me to offer my congratulations and assure you it will give me pleasure to extend you every courtesy I can show you in connection with your inauguration and the commencement of your administration. (Signed) J. B. FORAKER.

IOWA DEMOCRATIC. DUBUQUE, Iowa, Nov. 6.—The Republican state committee concedes the election of Boies, Dem., for governor.

DUBUQUE, Iowa, Nov. 6.—The Herald (Dem.) has returns from 35 counties; one-third of the state giving gains for Boies (Dem.) of 13,000. If this ratio continues, the Herald claims Boies will have 1,000 plurality.

CHICAGO, Nov. 6.—A dispatch from Des Moines, Iowa, to the Herald, (Dem.) says: The Republican state committee concedes the election of Boies, from 5,000 to 8,000 plurality. The committee claimed victory for Hutchinson when the polls closed, but gradually came down in its estimate from 15,000 plurality as the returns came in until at last the result became so plain that they were forced to acknowledge their candidate beaten.

Later returns show the election of entire Democratic state ticket by a majority probably exceeding 10,000. Boies seems ahead of the balance of the ticket.

A dispatch from Des Moines, Ia., to the Tribune (Rep.) says: Returns have been received from nearly half of the state. They show a net Republican loss of about

THE FORMER GIVES BOYER A PLURALITY REACHING NEARLY SEVEN HUNDRED.

But the County Does Not Show Its Former Strength—Very Little Interest in the Contest on Both Sides.

The quietness that prevailed at the city polls when the city papers went to press on Tuesday was maintained up to the close. The aggregate vote polled in the city was only 8,977, which is only about 60 per cent of the vote in the city. As there was but one name to count on the state ticket returns soon began coming in and the Republicans were jubilant over their big majority in the city.

As the returns came in from the country and showed greatly reduced Republican majority there was great rejoicing in the camp of the anti-Quay faction. Those Republicans construed the small majority into a rebuke of Quay for his bosom in running Republican politics in the state. They are encouraged by the light majority in the county to make a determined fight against Quay's slate for state officers next year.

The returns were shown from the newspaper offices, but there was little interest taken in them. The news from Virginia, New Jersey, Ohio, and New York did not please the Republicans, and the Examiner did not show it on their bulletin board, although it put out every district in the county it received.

The election in this vicinity was the quietest in the history of the city. The committee of both parties lived up to the agreement made not to use money, except in the Second ward, city, where teams were run all day and money used to corrupt voters.

Following is the vote for the state ticket in this city and county:

Table with 2 columns: DISTRICTS and Vote. Lists districts and their respective vote counts for the state ticket.

Every county heard from shows Democratic gains. The few additional returns received this forenoon show still heavier gains than at first calculated. No one here either Democrat or Republican has any doubt of Boies' election. Chairman Dunn of the Democratic state committee, sends a dispatch here from the headquarters at Des Moines dated at 10 o'clock this morning stating that the committee are certain that Boies is elected by a safe plurality.

DES MOINES, Iowa, Nov. 6.—Noon—There is but little change in the election situation this morning as returns are coming in very slowly. At the Democratic committee the claim is confidently made that the state has gone Democratic, but the Republican committee claim to be equally certain that this is not the case. The Register (Rep.) at this hour says the last report shows Republican gains and claims that Hutchinson is elected by a plurality of about 2,000.

A BIG CUT IN MASSACHUSETTS. The Republican Majority Reduced to a Small Figure. Boston, Nov. 6.—With the city of Quincy and 23 towns missing the totals of yesterday's election are as follows: Brackett, 123,621; Russell, 117,523; Blackmer, 13,253. The political make-up of Legislature, according to these returns, is: Senate 30 Republicans and 8 Democrats; against 32 Democrats; House: 157 Republicans, 70 Democrats, 13 to be heard from; against 180 Republicans, 60 Democrats this year.

BOSTON, Nov. 6.—Eleven towns are still to be heard from, but the vote of the state. The total, with these towns lacking, is: Brackett, 124,748; Russell, 118,202; Blackmer, 14,129.

Figures From Virginia. NORFOLK, Va., Nov. 6.—Further election returns received this morning indicate that this Congressional district was carried by the Democrats by two thousand majority, a Democratic gain of 8,300.

STANTON, Va., Nov. 6.—Augusta, Rockbridge, Rockingham, Alleghany, Bath and Shenandoah, the heart of the White district, give McKinney a combined majority of 4,200. These same counties in 1887 gave Cleveland 516 majority.

RICHMOND, Va., Nov. 6.—Returns received from two-thirds of the state show a large Democratic gain in every section. The gains now exceed 30,000 over the vote of 1887, with losses less than 200. The Democrats will have two-thirds majority on joint ballot in the Legislature.

GAINS IN NEW JERSEY. JERSEY CITY, Nov. 6.—Later returns from various portions of New Jersey indicate increased Democratic gains. Leon Abbett's plurality for governor is now believed to exceed 10,000. The political complexion of the state Senate is still in doubt and hinges upon Atlantic county. The assembly will consist of 38 Democrats and 22 Republicans.

The Legislature Retained. BALTIMORE, Nov. 6.—Latest returns from throughout the state indicate that the Democrats will have a majority in the state Senate and House of Delegates, but not so large as is the last Legislature. A Close Vote For Judge. WEST CHESTER, Pa., Nov. 6.—All the districts of the county heard from unofficially at one o'clock to-day give Hemphill a majority of twenty-nine. It is conceived by both parties that the result can only be determined by the official count.

THE DAILY REPUBLICAN. BOYER'S APPARENT PLURALITY. PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 6.—Careful estimates from every county in Pennsylvania, give Boyer (Rep.) a plurality over Bigler (Dem.) of 62,255. Philadelphia county gives Boyer a plurality of 41,000 against 16,252 for Hart for state treasurer in 1887.

Outside of Philadelphia county there shows a Democratic gain of 9,758, as compared with 1887, when Hart had a plurality of 45,245.

NEBRASKA REPUBLICAN. Returns from Nebraska indicate a Republican majority of 18,000 to 20,000. Election Notes. Chapin (Dem.) is re-elected mayor of Brooklyn.

COLEBROOK FURNACE DISASTER.

The Number of Dead Increased to Seven. The Accident Unavoidable.

The extent of the accident at the Colebrook furnace on Monday night was more serious than at first supposed. Instead of five fatal cases, the number now number seven, Enoch Eisenhower, who was fearfully burned, having died on Monday forenoon. The dead now are: Wm. Snyder, who leaves a widow and one child; Sam. Snyder, leaves a widow and one child; Henry Fortig, who leaves a widow and one child; Harry Bohr, single; Enoch Eisenhower, 37. Bennett, who died soon after being taken out. He was burned all over the body. The injured and missing are: John Bohr, burned at hands, legs and back, not seriously injured, wife and child. Enoch Eisenhower, hands and face; has a wife and children. John Bohr was being hoisted by the crane, and escaped over the roof of the casting house, only slightly singed. Zine Heller, who was passing near at the time, was caught being hoisted by the crane and his clothing set on fire. He was but slightly burned.

Coroner Ristenbatt held an inquest Monday afternoon. The jury returned a verdict that the accident was unavoidable, that the furnace was well constructed and that no one was to blame.

John Spangler, one of the workmen, gave an intelligent account to the jury of the accident. Said he: "I was with the men all day. I was standing about 20 feet away from the furnace when it happened; I saw the fire fly and the pavement blown up and ran away; saw nothing dangerous about the place; the furnace was well constructed, and being dangerous and worked the same as at any other place; it made considerable noise, and the flames struck up high; the workers on the machinery and those who broke the iron with a big ball of iron, weighing between 1,200 and 1,300 pounds; nobody said anything about the place being dangerous until the morning after the veteran furnaceman of Lebanon, testified that the accident was unavoidable.

Robert H. Coleman, the millionaire owner of the furnace, testified that the men having been faithful employees, their widows and children would be amply provided for. One of the men killed was found on his hands and knees in the molten metal, and it was found necessary to cut away the slag to extricate him. The hoisting shaft is a complete wreck. The damage to the furnace is $15,000 at least. It may be necessary to blow out the furnace to make the necessary repairs.

MAURICE DU PONT'S IRISH BRIDE.

His Marriage a Great Blow to the Proud and Aristocratic Family. Hubert Cassidy, telegraphed to Wilmington, Del., tells what he knows concerning the Irish bride of young Maurice Du Pont. In 1882 Cassidy was employed in building the house of Lord Valentia on Valentia Island, the eastern terminus of the first Atlantic cable. Near by was the home of Patrick Fitzgerald, Cassidy's father, and he frequently saw the young girl pass on her way to the convent at Killarney, one of the finest schools in Ireland. She was then about 17 years of age, and was accompanied by her father and several hundred acres, and was considered well to do. Lottie had visited the Queen's hotel at Philadelphia, which was frequented by some relatives, and in a spirit of frolic had gone back of the bar on one or two occasions to play barmah.

The publication of Maurice Dupont's marriage has been a great blow to the pride of the proud and blue-blooded family of which he is a member. They are his father, and he is believed to be a member of the family and he is believed to be a member of the family and he is believed to be a member of the family.

THE LANCASTER LIEDERKRANZ. They Will Celebrate Their Tenth Anniversary and Have a Fine Time. The Liederkranz singing society con-templates holding a grand festival (popularly known as a song festival) on Monday evening next, the 11th inst., to commemorate its tenth anniversary. At the regular monthly meeting, held on Monday evening it was unanimously resolved to celebrate this event by the execution of July, the society having been founded on July 4, 1879. An executive committee consisting of Aug. E. Kohler, Philip Stump, E. Lindner, and Dr. Joseph A. Albert, G. W. Freitag, Ernest Rohm and Charles Bauman was appointed to arrange all necessary matters, and as early as possible to be left entirely to the executive committee. The estimated expense will amount to probably $2,500, which will be more than covered by the receipt of the three days' festival, should the weather be at all favorable. It was further agreed to invite the Lancaster Mennerchor, the Harmonie Mennerchor of Reading, and the Artiller Mennerchor of Baltimore to participate. Several other singing societies from abroad will be asked to participate, a selection of which is to be left entirely to the executive committee. The Mennerchor of this city has already promised a hearty cooperation and will lend a helping hand whenever possible, having gained considerable experience in this line by previous occasions.

Incendiarism in Mt. Joy. The people of Mt. Joy were startled last night over the repeated attempts to fire the buildings, which are situated in the lower part of the borough, and were fortunately occupied by Roots plow works. About 8 o'clock a fire that had been kindled in one of the rooms was discovered, and extinguished. Later in the evening and before 11 o'clock two more attempts of the same kind were made, but they were also discovered and extinguished in good time to prevent any great damage to the buildings. The fires were started with kindling wood, and there is no doubt that the persons who applied the matches had intended to destroy the property. The perpetrators of the crime are unknown as yet.

Roger H. Kirk Dies. Roger H. Kirk, aged 75, of Oxford, died on Monday. He was for many years a resident of Pleasant Grove, his county. He leaves three children to mourn his loss, namely: Levi B. Kirk, who lives on the homestead at Pleasant Grove, Dr. Lewis H. Kirk, who resides at Wakefield, and Miss Mercy A. Kirk, who resides with her father at the time of his death.

WEATHER FORECASTS. WASHINGTON, D. C., Nov. 6.—For Eastern Pennsylvania: Fair, till Friday morning; no change in temperature, westerly winds becoming variable.

Officers Elected for Leo Society. At the meeting of Leo society held on Tuesday evening the following were elected officers for the ensuing year: President, J. S. Miller; secretary, Thos. F. McMillan; treasurer, F. Hemeny; standing committee, Northwest ward, Chas. V. Wacker, B. J. Kress; Northeast ward, Geo. W. Miller; Southeast ward, Wm. Hemeny; Southwest ward, Leonard Gans, Philip Fisher.

Runaway in Mt. Joy. Mr. Alfred Swisher, who resides near Robinson, had an ugly runaway in Mount Joy last evening. The wagon, which was driven by Swisher, was with him was Miss Franz, who is totally blind, and his wife. When they reached the railroad crossing on the main street, the horse frightened at a hand cart that passed. He ran upon the pavement in front of the Red Lion hotel and tore a shutter from the building. A wheel was broken from the wagon, but the horse dashed across the railroad track and ran into a house on the other side. Swisher was thrown out of the wagon and had his nose broken, and was severely injured. The wagon was very badly wrecked. After the accident the team and Mr. Lintner were taken to the house of Simon Snyder, and that gentleman drove the folk to their home. To-day Mr. Lintner and his wife are believed to be hurt more than was at first supposed. Both are confined to bed and Dr. Shenk is attending them. Mrs. Swisher has a large and ugly lump on the side of the head and both she and her husband are covered with bruises. Strange to say the only injury to Miss Franz was a slight bruise about the face, which was caused by the breaking of her glasses.
