LADIES'

A SONG OF THE SEASONS

ing yearling the falling leaves in melancholy tone;
ling the hary days of autumn, with its color
brown and sere,
And the breezes that through Jeafler
branches mone,

would sing the coming winter and its shroud of cold, white snow, Because it seems the proper thing to do; "d anticipate the terrors of the Frost King's reign of woe, For all the other poets do that, too, they can do it better-much better the

oan I;
And so I'll leave it to their practiced art,
Let them for summer's glories like hard-worked
bellows sigh;
Like Mary, I will choose the wiser part. For the glowing days of autumn, I enjoy them one and all; Their gurnered stores are just the thing for me, And winter has 110 pleasures that make other Joys seem small. In met, I like all see - n: as they be.

When Winter comes with drift of snow, And makes the frozen hills his throne, The merry sleighers come and go— When winter comes with drift of snow And fields and rivers makes his own.

The merry sleighbells ring wild tunes, The firelight shines with cheerful glow, Who sighs for pleasures that are June's When merry sleighbells ring wild tunes And merry sleighers come and go?

The season light with Joyous glow, And kindlier feelings have new birth Mild Christmas cheer and Christmas mirth, (For then a Savior came to earth), Oh, who would bid King Winter go!

In a melancholy measure I'm resolved I will not sing, ough autumn fade the green leaves from the wood; And I'll vow the snows of winter are just th proper thing,

Each season, as it comes to man is good.

—Robert Simpson, in Oil City Derrick.

This age presents the greatest boon, Salvation Oil; it cures so soon.

When Christmas came with its good cheer, its fun, and its merry-making, we used to deprecate its colds, but that was iong ago, before the days of Dr. Buil's Cough Syrup. Now it is very different. A new era has dawned on a sandigreat and small, little and tall, merry men all, are happy.

No matter how advanced in life, Good teeth in either man or wife Or maid are a rich prize; And those who would the gift preserve, From SOZODONT won't swerve. Should they at all be wise.

The Fruit of Violence.

In no case is the folly of violence in medication more conspicuously shown by its fruit than in the effect upon the intestines of excessive purgation. The stomach and bowels are first painfully griped, then the latter is copiously, suddenly and repeatedly evacuated. This is far beyond the necessities of the case, most unnatural, excessively debilitating. The organs are incaracliated from resuming their function. natural, excessively debilitating. The organs are incapacitated from resuming their function with normal moderation. An astringent is resorted to which reduces them to their former condition of inaction. To this monstrous and harmful absurdity, Hostetter's Stomach Bitters is the happy alternative. It relaxes gently, naturally, sufficiently, it diverts bile from the blood into its proper channel, it insures healthful digestion and complete assimilation. It is a complete defense against malaria, and conquers rheumatism neuralgia, nervousness, Ridney and bladder trouble.

Special Notices.

Is Consumpion Interrable Read the following: Mr. C. H. Morris, Newark, Ark., says: "Was down with Abscess of Lungs, and friends and physicians pronounced me an Incurable Consumptive.
