LANGASTER, PA., November 13, 1889.

A Blooming Chrysauthemum. Our postmaster general is a notable sak of nature. No one will incline to ank him as an ordinary man. He is n emanation of the ready made clothng business, and the most remarkable me that it has produced. He evolved rom it into the wholesale dry goods and us business and from that ascended into the national cabinet. But he is also a religious teacher and the orator and director of the Bethany Sunday chool. All these are possible and homogeneous occupations, as this example proves; but not many have successfully compassed them about.

And our postmaster general has not done it without difficulty. There is a marked idiosyncrasy of the ready made clothing business that has clung to him through all the evolutions of his life; and it is a destinct inability in narration to observe the distinction between the true and the false. This is a failing which it is not supposed that the re-ligious teacher should show. The general terstanding is that the manager of a Sunday school should be a worshiper of the truth ; more so, at least than the ready made clothing dealer is supposed to be.

This seems to be the impression of Senator Wade Hampton, who tells Mr. Wanamaker that the story of Ananias and Sapphira should be made familiar to his Sunday school and intimates quite clearly that it is one to which Mr. Wanamaker himself has not given proper attention.

The senator says that the postmaster general told him a few days ago that he would not remove the postmaster at the senator's home until his term had expired and that he would consult the enator about his successor; whereupon the latter hied himself placidly to his Mississippi shooting box, only to learn as soon as he reached there that the Columbia postmaster had been removed and his successor appointed.

The senator suggests that the post-master general did lie to him, and that this is not well in a postmaster general and Bethany's boss. But the opinion of the senator may be rash. There may have been circumstances beyond his control which brought the postmaster general and the Bethany teacher in position upon the same track going different ways; in which case collision and the collapse of one of the engines at least was inevitable. This collision has been often observed to occur in Mr. Wanamaker's Sunday school and mercantile career; and it has been a standing wonder how the store advertise-ments and the Sabbath lectures were able to come concurrently from the same source. But the feat has been steadily done, and has marked Mr. Wanamaker as a man of remarkable power, versatility and conscience.

nd as Providence has smiled upon him and elevated him to the president's cabinet, and invited the president's wife to his home and secured the coming out of his daughter under her distinguished auspices; and has spread the wings of the American eagle and the folds of the American flag over the whole Wana-maker establishment, it must be conreded that the anointment is a testimony to its worth which the world is likely to accept, Senator Wade Hampton and like grumblers to the contrary notwithstand-

The recent occasion upon which the postmaster general and his chief as-distant, Mr. Clarkson, assisted at a Bothany meeting, whereat the post-master general delivered divers ad-dresses of great length and beauty, has served to impress upon the public mind more than ever the abounding talents and virtues of Mr. Wanamaker. When we read how he had told his scholars of the sins of Absalom and how he tore off the flowers of a chrysanthemum bush, with each statement of a sin of Absalom. until only the bare stalk was left to represent Absalom's naked worthlessness, we wondered and shuddered. Clarkson was there to hear what Wanamaker said. Wanamaker and Clarkson were together in the council of Quay, and they knew how they had come to be postmaster generals, where they tell fibs to senators and others and cut off Democratic postmasters' heads by the hundred every day. Wanamagathered the bag of money and Clarkson helped Quay to put it where it would do the most good; and here they were, mourning together in Bethany over Absalom's sins, and the bare stalk that was left of him after all the flowers of his sins were plucked. But what a revelation it was of the Wanamaker mind! The sins were the bright flowers, and the man with the sins plucked from him was the barren stick. Wanamaker and Clarkson evidently do not purpose being barren sticks, but hold on to the sinful flowers of their adornment.

Russell Harrison on Montana. Russell Harrison says that he has made a thorough investigation of the reports of frauds in Montana, and that in the precinct over which there has been ch discussion, Democrats backed by the Northern Pacific railroad, tried to prevent the casting of any Republican votes. He says, "I know that officials of the railroad stood at the polls all day and threatened every employe with dis charge who would not vote the Demo-eratic ticket." He fails to say how he knows this, and as he was not there he may be doubted. In fact the son of the president must be doubted, for he goes on to say that the frauds were so glaring that the local canvas-sing board threw the district out the state board after careful investigation did the same thing. Now he must know quite as well as every reader in the East who has followed the sws that the county canvassers acted a six affidavits three of which were orwards shown to have been altered offer signing; that when the case came to trial the Republicans abandoned the charge of fraud, and made the contest on a triffing technical point that the judges of election had not signed the re-turns properly; that the court decided in favor of the Democrats and ordered the district counted and that the Re-publican state board of canvassers in de-fiance of this decision rejected the pre-cinct and quickly adjourned to escape the serving of a mandamus by the Demo-crats. All these things are rather old news in the East and must be familiar to Russell Harrison, of Montana, but neither he nor any one else has ventured to dispute the facts.

can be silenced by a counterchage of inimidation by Democrats in league with the great railroad company of the North-west, built by Republican land grants. It won't do, Prince Russell! Before cryor easy stairways. ing "wolf" again your party must explain the false cry just recorded. At first the cry was Republican votes cast and not counted, now you want to make it intimidation of the voters, but the accusing echo of the first libel rings back and you cannot escape it. It must be known by all fair men throughout the land, that by forgery of affidavits, defi-ance of the court and desperate trickery, Montana has been seized for the president, and accepted by him with unseemly haste. THE Hatfield-McCoy feud in West Virginia goes on its way uninterrupted. A band of McCoys a few days ago called a man and his wife to the door of their cabit and treacherously murdered them both. There seems to be little or no dissatisfaction with this state of things, though if anything like it should be discovered Pennsylvania there would be public in-several hundred belligerents. THE New York world's fair fund is climbing so very slowly now that even the great metropolitan dailies are despondent. Chicago is far ahead in the race for the fair.

dignation enough to stop the feud if it took the whole state militia and the arrest of

THERE seem to be dangers even in the subway system of electric light cables. In Paris lately the horses passing along a square of one of the main streets which was paved with wood began to jump about like a frisky lot of goats. The police stopped all traffic on that street which was soon cleared, all teams quickly taking refuge in side streets. It was found that one of the electric cables placed under the thoroughfare, and leading to a lamp-post, had become disarranged, and, coming in contact with the damp wooden pavement, the horses received slight shocks.

THE INTELLIGENCER invites comparison between its reports of the teachers' institute and all other reports published. ---

The steadily increasing popularity of Laxador, the "golden" remedy, with dyspeptics and persons troubled with indigestion is simply phenomenal. Price only 25 cents. At all druggists.

It makes a person feel sad to hear a crying baby, suffering probably from some slight pain which could be easily relieved by the use of Dr. Bull's Baby Syrup, which is for sale at all drug stores.

" Not Bulk, But Business !"

"Not Bulk, But Business!"
Is the way a Western man put it in expressing to a friend his complete satisfaction in the use of Dr. Pierce's Pieasant Purgative Peliets. So small and yet so effectual, they bid fair to supplant entirely the o'd style pill. An ever-ready remedy for Sick and Billious Headache, Billioussess, Constituation and all blood disorders. Mild in action, wonderful in effect! Put up in vials, convenient to carry. Their use attended with no discomfort! These sterling merits account for their great popularity.

MERCURIAL RHEUMATISM. MERCURIAL RHEUMATISM.

Mr. J. C. Jones, city marshal of Fulton, Arkansas, writes: "About ten years ago I contracted a severe case of blood poison. The leading physicians of the city were called in, and they prescribed medicine after medicine, which I took without affording me any relief. I also tried mercurial and potash remedies, with the same unsuccessful result, but which brought on an attack of mercurial rheumatism that made my life one of untold agony. After sufering four mon hs, I gave up all former remedies and commenced taking Swift's Specific (8, S. S.) After taking several bottles, I was entirely cured and able to resume work. I con-INHERITED SCROFULA.

Swift's Specific iS, S, S, cured my little boy of hereditary screenials, which broke out all over his face. For a year be had suffered, and I had given up all hopes of his recovery, when at length I was induced to use S, S, S. After using a few bottles he was entirely cured. HOODS SARBAPARILLA.

What Is Catarrh

"For several years I have been troubled with that terribly disagreeable disease, caterrh. I took Hood's Saraaparilla with the very best results. It cured me of that continual dropping in my throat, and stuffed-up feeling. It has also helped my mother, who has taken it for run down state of health and kidney trouble. I recommend (Hood's Saraaparilla to all as a good modicine." Mrs. S. D. HEATH, Putnam, Conn. Catarrh is an inflammation of the mucous membrane, and may affect the head, throat, stomach, howels or bladder. But estarrh of the head is the most common, often coming on so gradually that it has a firm hold before the nature of the trouble is suspected. Catarrh is caused by a cold, or succession of colds, combined with impure blood. Its local symptoms are fullness and heat in the forehead, dryness in the nose and back part of the throat, and a disagreeable discharge from the nose. When the disease gains a firm hold and becomes chronic, it is "This cartifies that I was cured of a bad case of catarrh by Hood's Sarasparilla two years ago." Wm. H. Novm, East Jefferson, Me.

Very Dangerous

being liable to develop into consumption. The eyes become inflamed and red, there is throbbing in the temples, ringing noises in the ears, headache, capricious appetite, and sometimes loss of sense, of smell and hearing. Hood's Sarsaparilla is the remedy for this ever increasing malady. It attacks at once the source of the disease by purifying and enriching the blood, which, as it reaches the delicate passages of the mucous membrane soothes and rebuilds the itsaues, giving them tendency to health instead of disease, and ultimately curing the affection.

The pioneer music dealer of Lancaster city once more to the front. We point with pride to our past career of nearly twenty-five years in the music trade in this city. The public must judge as to whether it has been an honorable one. With implicit confidence we ask your support. The instruments we now represent are as familiar to you as the streets of this city, viz: Decker Bro.'s Pianos, Haines Bro.'s Pianos and Mason & Hamlin Organ.

Special attention will be given to our small ware department, which will be the largest and finest in the city.

Consider well before you make your purchases whether it will not be to your interest to consult one who has had a life-long experience in a business, of which the public know comparatively little; one who can and will honestly give you the benefit of his long experience.

For past favors we thank you, for future support we trust you.
