The Driver Thrown From the Wagon an afally Injured-The Team Stopped By a Fire Alarm Pole at Orange.

On a dull day that noble animal, the Lan caster horse, usually turns up with a good teem to help the reporter out. Just before more excitement in Prince street than a circus would cause. Horsee Schepp, who lives at 48 North Water street and employed at B. B. Martin's coal yard, was driving a soirted horse down Prince street. The silmal was hitched to a wagon, without a bed, on which was a rather heavy piece of tunber. After the horse had crossed the railroad, at Sener's coal yard, he frightened at a shifter that was pulling and snorting up and down the tracks pushing cars about. The animal started to run and Schepp loat control of him. The stick of lumber began bouncing around on the wagon and that only made the horse run the faster. He passed down the street at a great rate of speed and Schepp could do nothing with him. In front of Joseph Altick's house, No. 123, on the street, Schepp was thrown off the wagon. He landed upon the pavement. The wagon struck a pine tree box, smashing it to pieces, and the horse then took to the pavement, on which he remained some distance, run ning at the top of his speed and knockings asmall piece off the step of Richard McGrann. At McCleery's drug store, at the corner of Orange street, the horse ran between two poles, one of which belonged to the city fire alarm. The wagon struck both poles and the shafts were broken off, while it was otherwise badly damaged. The wagon was thrown upon its side and one wheel was in the air spinning like a top for a time after the horse fell. The horse fell with tremendous force in the gutter and it was believed by many that he had been killed. As soon as the harness was loosened he got upon his feet and it was found that he had only been scratched and cut a little.

After Mr. Schepp had been thrown from the wagon the wheels passed over him. A number of persons ran to his assistance. He was found to have received an ugly cut in the back of the head and two in the face. His eyes were almost swelled shut, and he was covered with blood, presenting a horrible sight. At first it was supposed the runaway it cannot be used for striking alarms now. Persons who have occasion to call the fire department in that neighborhood can go to No. 26, at Chestnut and Market, or 16, at West King and Water.

Last night George Carr was badly beaten at the Western hotel, at Orange and Water streets, which is kept by Conrad Schaeffer. At a late hour he was attended by Dr. Eberman, who found a number of ugly cuts in his head and one of his cars almost cut in two. Carr said that Schaeffer struck him on the head with a club, and he was bleeding like a stuck pig. It is said that Mrs. Schaeffer did not want to see her husband play the game alone, and she struck Carr with a board that had a nail in it. The excuse the couple give for using the man excuse the couple give for using the man up is that he came to their home and tried to run it. If Mr. Carr ever entertained that idea he did not know the house, as he is well satisfied now.

The Foot Ball Game. The Foot Ball Game.

The Franklin and Marshall foot ball team will play the Dickinson team at McGrann's park on Thanksgiving Day. A close contest is looked for, as both teams are hard at work practicing for the game. The Franklin and Marshall team, under the direction of Capt. Irvine, is practicing almost every day, but is considerably inconvenienced by the rainy weather which we have had lately. Dickinson has the advantage over Lancaster's team in this, as that team has a gymnasium in which they can exercise on rainy days.

Georgia's Farmers Disapprove the Proposed Union With the K. of L.

There is much dissatisfaction among the members of the Farmers' Alliance in the state of Georgia over the action of president Livingstone in establishing fraternal relations with the Knights of Labor at their recent meeting at Atlanta. At the regular meeting of the Inter-County Alliance, formed of the counties of Clark, Oglethorpe, Madison, Gwinnett and Jackson, the mut r was vigorously discussed, one member voicing the sentiment of all in saying: "I have not seen a member yet who favors the scheme. There is no connection between the two organizations and there can never be any sympathy or affiliation. To begin with, the Knights of Labor admit negroes to their order, and in some lodges the officers are equally divided between whites and blacks, and they are required to address each other as brother.

"This is too much like social equality to suit us Southern farmers, and it will be a serious blow to the Alliance to form a coalition with the Knights of Labor. In many of the Northern cities their ranks are filled with Socialists and Anarchists, which we do not tolerate or countenance. The farmers have their sown work to do and mission to fulfil, and have no business mixing with other organizations. I believe the scheme was coneccted for political and mission to fulfil, and have no business mixing with other organizations. I believe the scheme was concected for political effect, and the Alliance does not propose to be a stepping stone for any office-seeker. The Alliance is a white man's organization and does not propose to be drawn into affiliation with any society that admits negroes."
