HURT IN A RUNAWAY.

ry Bradley and His Son Narrowly a pes Death Wednesday Evening.

COLUMBIA, Dec. 5.-A serious runaway ocurred last evening in the lane near Noroccurred last evening in the lane near Nor-wood, in which Henry Bradley, a butcher, of Kinderhook, and son, aged fifteen years, were badly hurt. The man and son were driving through the lane, when a dog be-longing to Mrs. James Myers, ran at the horme. The animal became frightened and started to kick the wagon to pieces. He kicked through the dasher and broke Mr. Bradley's right leg; also causing a severo hemorrhage from a ruptured artery. The boy tried'to check the horse, but wasthrown over the dasher and fell violently to the ground. He sustained a concussion of the brain and was delirious all night. He was badly disfigured about the face by falling on the rough ground. Dr. Livingston gave them the proper attention and both are im-proved this morning. The horse in Mart. Smith's baker wagon ran off yesterday afternoon, slightly break-ing the wagon before it was stopped. The horse of Dr. C. F. Markel ran off this morning, running several squares. The wagon was upset and somewhat broken. The harness was torn and the horse had his legs skinned. The Palestrina society met yesterday afternoon at the residence of Mrs. F. A. Bennett, when the theme discussed was "George Frederick Haendel." Miss "endrich read a paper on the "Life and Works" of the composer, Miss Sneath on the "Use and Development of the Orstorio" and Miss Sourbeer gave inci-dents in the life of Haendel. CHARLES WILCOX INJURED.

The Young Man Makes a Narrow Escar

From Being Killed. This morning Charles Wilcox, a youn tobacco man of this city, met with an acc dent in which he made a very narrow escape from losing his life. He desired t dent in which he made a very narrow es-cape from losing his life. He desired to go to his father's warchouse, which is along the Reading railroad in the north-western part of the city. He boarded the train which left King street at 7:16, intend-ing to jump off when the train neared the Harrisburg turnpike crossing. After the train had crossed the Mulberry street bridge it began running rather fast down the grade towards the crossing. Mr. Wilcox jumped off and was thrown a long distance, landing upon a lot of stones. After the train had gone by he was assisted into house near by. He was bleeding from a number of cuts about the face and head. Dr. W. Kinard was sent for and Mr. Wilcox was removed to his boarding house at Duke and Wainut streets. The physician found that the left knee was badly cut besides being braised and sprunded. There was also a bruise on the right side of the face be-tween the ear and eye. There was a cut on the bridge of the nose and one of the masal bones was fractured. A cut on the head produced a slight concussion and Mr. Wilcox's body was covered with bruises, although fortunately no bones were broken. although broken,

THE NEW HOLLAND RAILROAD. A Large Number of Italians Put to Work

Upon It.

This morning there was considerable atir at the Pennsylvania railroad passenger station, over the arrival there of ninety Italians who came here to work for Keller & Crossen on the New Holland railroad, The men were brought here from Punxsu-tawney, on the Bells Gap railroad, where they have been working in charge of Cronin, a boss, and G. Delpi, an interpreter. The train was very late reaching this city, and the men spent some time about the station where they attracted much attention, as they were a curious looking lot of people. Nearly all were well and very warmiy dressed. Quite a number of them wore dressed. Quite a number of them wore estrings of tremendous size and some of them had accordeons and other musical instruments, which they played, and seemed very happy. All their baggage, which included truths and packages of every conceivable kind, were loaded on four omnibuses, which were filled, and hauled to New Holland. The men, with their boss, walked to that place and as the drove of swarthy looking fellows passed through the streets they were closely ob-the drove of swarthy looking fellows passed through the streets they were closely ob-served. Work, which was commenced on this road the day before Thanksgiving, at the point where the Downingtown branch stops, has been progressing very well. Up to to-day about fifty men were at work and the force which was put on to-day will push things along much faster. There is not much heavy work on the road and the deepost cuts are in the neighborhood of Hel-ler's church and within two miles from Lan-canter.

The contractors have orders to push the work as rapidly as possible as far as Bair-ville. It will be difficult to tell when the grading will be completed, as much de-pends upon the kind of weather that the contractors have this winter. It is believed that the rails will be laid on the entire road by functer.

A Turnplke Made Free.

A Turnpike Made Free. The court of Lackawanna county has is-sued its decree abolishing the toil-gates and toils on the Providence and Carbon-dale turnpike, in accordance with the find-ing of the viewers awarding $12,000 dam-ages to the company, and the road has been opened to public travel free of any charges. This road passes through Price-burg, Dickson City, Olyphant, Blakely, Peckville, Winton, Archibald and Jernyn, all prosperous mining towns north of Scranton, and the citizens of each place are arranging to hold jublices in celebration of Queen street. arranging to hold jubilees in celebration of Death of a Former Lancaster Lady.

W. F. Hambright, station master of the ennsylvania railroad, received a telegram Pennsylvania railroad, received a telegram yesterday afternoon that his sister, Mary C., wife of Dr. Thomas C. Fahnestock, of Walhalia, North Carolina, was very sick. Later another telegram came bringing the news of her death. What the cause of her death was is not known here and it is be-lieved to have been sudden. The deceased was the daughter of the late Adam F. Hambright and several of her sisters and brothers reside here. Her husband is a brother of H. R. Fahnestock, of Steinman's store, and formerly resided here.

Killed His Father and Himself.

Rifled His Father and Himself. People of Nazareth, Pa., were shocked on Tuesday on learning that Wm, Hoffe-ditz, who went from there to Butte, Mon-tana, last May with his son Arthur, had been shot dead by the latter a few days ago, and that his son afterward sent a bullet through his own brain. Reverses in busi-trees made the son insance. ness made the son insane.

Made an Assignment.

Peter II. Leininger and wife, of Brecknock township, made an assignment of their property to-day for the benefit of creditors to Levi Shirk and P. B. Good, of the same township.
