

THE CHANGE OF OFFICERS.

FOOTMASTER GRIEST ENTERS UPON HIS DUTIES ON SUNDAY. All of the Letter-Carriers, Except Fred Fisher, Remains in Service--Mr. H. E. Slaymaker Given a Present.

The transfer of the city postoffice was made on Sunday from H. E. Slaymaker to Maj. Ellwood Grist, the newly appointed postmaster, and today everything is working along smoothly. After the post office had been closed on Saturday evening the work of making the transfer was commenced, and by the time the window delivery at half-past eleven o'clock was made under the new administration. Everything was in the hands of the new postmaster, and all of the letter-carriers and all of the clerks are at work the same as they were under Postmaster Slaymaker.

A Pleasant For Mr. Slaymaker. A very pleasant event in connection with the retirement of Postmaster Slaymaker from the postoffice took place on Saturday evening, when the clerks and carriers made him an appropriate and interesting evening at the postoffice men called at Mr. Slaymaker's store on East King street, during his absence, and with them came Postmaster Grist, the newly appointed postmaster, and today everything is working along smoothly.

A LECTURE ON ORATORY.

Hon. Daniel Dougherty Entertains an Appreciative Audience Saturday Evening.

Daniel Dougherty, esq., the famous orator, lecturer and lawyer, of Philadelphia and New York, arrived in Lancaster on Saturday from Baltimore, where he had been lecturing and attending a very brilliant social reception tendered to him. The young men of the Philadelphia Association of Franklin and Marshall colleges, in whose lecture course he appeared here, had the honor to entertain him with a brilliant and discriminating audience of 8 p. m. The glee club sang a bright little song and was deservedly applauded. Mr. Dougherty introduced Mr. Dougherty, who is unknown in a city to which he had been a visitor, and of whose people he had been a visitor, and of whose people he had been a visitor, and of whose people he had been a visitor.

Mr. Dougherty's last appearance here was in the campaign of 1878, when he delivered a fierce philippic against the Cameron dynasty, which was so warmly received. He had made his address on Saturday evening, and the use he makes of his lecture course is a most interesting one. In personal appearance and movement in the resonance and thorough command of his voice, in elegance of diction and in force of action, Mr. Dougherty has lost nothing; and his presence and delivery are as impressive and forceful as ever.

SENTENCED TO BE HANGED.

MRS. DILLARD TO DIE FOR COMPLAINT IN HER HUSBAND'S MURDER.

She Weeps While the Sentence is Pronounced--An Effort to Save Her From the Gallows to Be Made.

Easton, Pa., Dec. 9.--Mrs. Margaret Dillard, who together with her paramour, Wm. H. Bartholomew, was convicted of the murder of her husband on the night of September 6, at Beersville, was this morning sentenced to be hanged. The sentence was pronounced at the time of Bartholomew's trial, for her testimony against him, an effort will be made to have her sentence commuted to imprisonment for life.

Mrs. Dillard wept bitterly while the sentence was being pronounced. She was carried by Mr. Aug. Beck, of this city, dedicated to the memory of Burke Witmer, who was shipwrecked in the Mediterranean more than thirty years ago. He, as well as his mother, Mrs. Ann C. Witmer, were natives of Lancaster, and in the will of the latter there was a bequest made to the establishment of a home for widows and maiden ladies. This provision of the will has recently been carried into effect. The home is located in the extreme western corner of the city, and is a comfortable and well equipped building. The inmates are like one happy family.

Then near by is St. Joseph's hospital, a Catholic institution, in charge of the Sisters of Charity of the Holy Family. It is now in the full tide of prosperity and success. Like our own Harrisburg hospital, the good it does can hardly be estimated. It is a great blessing to the community at large to see that such institutions do not languish for the means of their maintenance. The Young Men's Democratic Association of Lancaster has recently moved into their new quarters on Orange street. The building is a fine specimen of modern architecture, and is well equipped with all the modern conveniences. The association has a large number of members, and is a most interesting and useful organization. BAR ASSOCIATION MEETING. A communication for Uniformity in Certain Important Laws. A annual meeting of the Lancaster Bar Association was held in the library room of the court house this morning, with President H. M. North in the chair.

A communication was read from the secretary of the National Bar Association, in which uniformity was recommended in laws as to negotiability of promissory notes, acknowledgments of conveyances and the several other matters. The communication was referred to the committee on legislation.

The secretary was directed to draw an order for $15,000, the assessment due the National Association. The following officers were elected for the ensuing year: President, H. M. North; vice president, D. G. Foster; secretary, J. W. Appel; treasurer, D. McMillen; board of censors, Hiram B. Swarr, M. Brodus, H. C. Brubaker, W. U. Hensel and A. F. Hostetter.

Files in Snow. A week since (writes a correspondent of a Glasgow contemporary), in the company of a friend I made the ascent of Benmore from Cranlich. We found the cone well powdered with snow, which got deeper and firmer as we ascended, and the yellow rocks and the snow of 600 feet of the top we came upon a solitary fly, quite dead, but which had evidently been very recently in the full enjoyment of life. The snow was not so deep as we found five or six more, some alive and some dead, but higher still, and within a few feet of the top we were surprised to find hundreds of them. Death of Squire John Eckman. John Eckman, a well-known citizen of Strasburg township, died at his father's residence on Duke street, on Sunday evening, December 7, at the age of 70 years. He was a native of Pennsylvania, and was a member of the Reformed church at New Providence on Sunday evening. The deceased was born in the neighborhood where he died. He was a painter by trade, and for years carried on that business quite extensively. He was a member of the Reformed church at New Providence, and was a member of the burial society of that church. He is survived by a wife and ten children.

Heid For Court. This morning Charles S. Yeager, proprietor, and John V. Snader, editor of the Ephrata Review, had a hearing before Alderman Barr on the charge of libel preferred by David G. Martin, of Martindale. The charges were that the Review had published in their paper a local stating that the prosecutor had cruelly beaten his daughter, which is alleged to be untrue. The case was referred to court.

Sued for $10,000 Damages. B. F. Davis and H. M. Houser, attorneys for David G. Martin, of Martindale, entered a writ for damages against Charles S. Yeager and John V. Snader. These parties are publishers of the Ephrata Review, and $10,000 are claimed for libelous publication for which they were referred to the criminal court by Alderman Barr to-day.

CHAPEL DEDICATED.

Impressive Services at the Lutheran Sunday School Chapel.

The chapel of the Evangelical Lutheran Sunday school of Emmanuel was consecrated Sunday afternoon in the presence of a large congregation. The clergymen participating in the exercises were Revs. Reed, Hoover, Fry and Houpt. The services were opened with the introit of the above named ministers, which was followed by the congregation singing the Gloria Patri. After the maintenance of the collected and scriptural lessons were read by Rev. Mayner, and this was followed by the reading of a selection from the Bible. The Apostles' Creed was recited by the congregation, and the act of consecration was performed by Rev. Houpt.

The choir of Grace Lutheran church with Miss Seliger organist, sang an anthem appropriate to the occasion, the admittance of the Holy Spirit, by Rev. Reed. Hymn 283 was sung by Rev. Hoover. The prayer was read by Rev. Hoover, and the benediction pronounced. The full committee on ways and means is as follows: McKinley, Burrows, Hayne, Dingley, McKenna, Payne, La Follette, Gear, Carlisle, McMillin, Breckinridge, of Arkansas, and Flower.

A NUMBER OF MURDERS.

AN OLD WOMAN KILLED BY A NEIGHBOR WHILE TRYING TO ROB HER.

She Died After Naming the Man Who Stabbed Her--The Murderer Arrested--Several Other Tragedies.

CINCINNATI, Dec. 9.--What appeared to have been a deliberate murder for robbery was committed last night about midnight in the house of an old woman, who lived on 1150 Butler street. She was a well-to-do woman and was known to have purchased bonds which she had placed in a safe in her house. About midnight Mrs. Byrne, who lived in a neighboring house and full bleeding on a floor gasping: "John Smith did it, he tried to rob me." She died soon afterwards. John Smith, who lived near the house, was arrested in the act of fleeing. He was a well-known character in the neighborhood and had a long record. He was charged with the murder and is now in jail.

Several other murders were reported in Cincinnati. One man was killed in a street fight, and another was killed in a bar. The police are working hard to catch the perpetrators. The community is in a state of alarm, and the police are on high alert. The murders have caused a great deal of concern among the people of Cincinnati, and the police are doing their best to maintain order and catch the criminals.
